'UPGRADING' OF BUILDING URGED

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

Here is one we missed — a possible 5 per cent municipal tax on local and intra state telephone charges. Many taxing bodies are usually looking for additional revenue no matter where it comes from. We regret that the legislature made such a tax possible.

We have been tipped off that some PTA groups are being indoctrinated with a state income tax bug. It is our guess that in any such action the PTA would be cutting off its own nose if it gives its support to such action by the state legislature.

The taxpayers in this area have been very kind to their appeals for additional school taxes. The school needs a continuation of that kindness.

A municipality needs a legal expert to handle annexation matters as much as a sick man often needs a medical specialist. We are referring to the acumen of Jack Siegel, attorney of Arlington Heights, who recently saved a much needed annexation for that town that included a high school site.

Arlington Heights Park District will probably release to Mount Prospect Park District a 113 acre industrial district that it had previously annexed. We approve such reciprocity. It is a lot different than when Des Plaines, regardless of a gentlemen's understanding, invaded virgin Mount Prospect territory to benefit a developer.

Will our Supreme Court go so far as to outlaw our silver currency because "In God We Trust" appears on many silver coins and some of the green backs? We can understand why those words have been taken off the $2 bills dispensed at race tracks. Perhaps nobody is expected to pray for race track winnings.

We still believe in God and the currency of our nation.

We see that Elk Grove will soon also have its own bank. We suppose that banks at shopping centers cut time for the shopping wife to cash her husband's pay check.

Cupid has been outlawed at the Racine office of Johnson Wax. A receptionist told us there last week that her firm does not think that wives should help support the family. Employees lose their jobs on the day they become brides.

The receptionist admitted that she was looking for a new job so she possibly could support a husband.

We say "thank you" to the many people who phoned us after last week's column that mentioned our birthday. When 96 of our employees gave similar birthday congratulations as they picked up their cake and ice cream we were surprised at the size of this newspaper family.

We have never met so many Brother Editors in one room as we did Monday noon when Randhurst held a press preview of the new shopping center. There was not a Chicago daily or weekly newspaper in the area which was not represented.

Again, a school district has "bagged" a sizable amount of unassessed realty property in Elk Grove. The direct beneficiary is of course School District 59 and which also includes the high school district. The amount involved is over $7,000,000.

As this column goes to press we have read this week's Fence Post. Usually it is only when people get really mad they take the time to voice their disapproval by a letter to the editor. It is a lot different this week. There are six letters saying nice things about OUR paper and only two which take us to task.

Now, we feel better. We appreciate all eight of the letters and the 75 per cent rating we received this week.

EIGHT COLLEGE STUDENTS who have spent the last year touring Latin America in this amphibious vehicle, called a "duck," stopped last weekend at the home of Bob Borchard, 723 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, a good friend of one of the group. Here Borchard is shown greeting Tom and Dan Tworey, two of the travelers.

Set Hearing On Zoning Law Change

A public hearing Aug. 29 will consider an amendment to the Arlington Heights zoning ordinance requiring a special use permit for automobile service stations and for drive-in businesses.

These activities are now permitted in the B-2 general retail districts without any special permit.

Drive-in businesses are defined as those where persons are served in automobiles, such as a bank, restaurant, refreshment stand, and the like.

TRUSTEE NORVAL Stephens suggested the proposed change. He said there appeared to be a danger than the general retail districts in Arlington Heigts would become "overloaded" with gas station and drive-in businesses, detracting from the over-all worth of the affected retail areas.

Stephens said the special use provision would permit the plan commission and village board to control drive-in uses and prevent "overloading."

The public hearing will be held by the plan commission, at 8 p.m. in the temporary village hall at 315 N. Highland Ave.

Good Pupil 'Enrolled' Second Time

Ron Carda, 326 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights, was directed to attend the traffic safety school held Monday nights in Rolling Meadows Bowl after he was found guilty of a traffic violation by Judge Richard A. Ahlgren of Elk Grove Village.

Carda went to the school and was a wonderful pupil. He scored 100 in both the preliminary and final exams.

Last week the school learned that Carda was enrolled again by Judge Robert C. Buckley of Arlington Heights. The reason: driving too fast for conditions.

To Enter Candidate

Peace Group Tells Bid for Congress

Dissatisfied with the Major Political Party candidates of Congress in the 13th District, Voters for Peace, an organization devoted to political action on a "peace" platform, announced this week it will stump for its own candidate.

He is Prof. Robert Cosbey, an English instructor at Roosevelt University, Chicago.

Mrs. Kenneth F. Montgomery of Northbrook, chairman of the 13th District chapter of Voters for Peace, said she expected Cosbey to file for the Nov. 6 General Election next week. She said "severtal hundred" signatures are still needed for nomination petitions.

THE NEW political group was organized last May in Chicago. Its headquarters are at 343 S. Dearborn, Chicago.

"Our primary purpose is educational," said Mrs. Montgomery when asked by a Paddock reporter if her group expected to win. The party's sole platform is "peace," she said.

She emphasized that party leaders had interviewed both Donald Rumsfeld, the Republican candidate, and John A. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, and were "dissatisfied with their respective stands on cessation of nuclear testing and the fallout shelter scare."

Professor Cosbey, 48, is married and lives in Evanston.

School Boundary Decision Stands

A tug-of-war that found parents of public school children in a six-square block area about evenly divided on what school they wanted their children to attend ended Monday night when the Arlington Heights School Board declined to change its last decision.

Consequently, children in the area bounded by Clarendon, Ridge, Olive and Chestnut will attend Ridge School. One group of parents wanted them to attend the new Olive School.

SUPT. RALPH Clabaugh, after an investigation, found that safety problems due to absence of sidewalks would be equally great no matter which school was designated.

Joseph F. Faner, school board president, then said that if the board were to change its decision, it would be inviting a large number of petitions from all over the district for a change in attendance boundaries.

The board will restudy the Ridge-Olive situation again in a year.

Report Given By Committee

Upgrading standards for all Arlington Heights residential districts has been proposed by a committee which has been studying revisions to the village zoning ordinance.

The committee is composed of Charles S. Catlin of the Plan Commission, chairman; Harold Klingner, of the Board of Local Improvements; Leo Mueller, Plan Commission secretary, and Matthew Brost.

The committee report, made by Catlin at last week's plan commission meeting, covered larger lot area requirements, increased lot frontage at the building line, and a new zoning category.

The committee proposed the following:

R-1 single-family residential—Lot area to remain at 15,000 square feet, but building line frontage to be increased from 90 to 100 feet.

R-2 SINGLE-FAMILY — Lot area up from 10,000 square feet to 12,000; building line frontage increased from 75 feet to 85 feet.

R-3 single-family — Area from 8,750 square feet to 9,100; building line frontage to stay the same at 70 feet.

R-4A—A new classification, for one-family dwelling units in a row not to exceed four units, with 3,000 square feet of land required for each unit.

R-4 TWO-FAMILY — The proposal is for 3,750 square feet per unit, as compared to 3,000 square feet now required.

R-5 apartments — Area per dwelling unit to be increased from 2,100 square feet to 2,500.

R-6 apartments — Required land area to remain at 1,800 square feet per living unit, but the classification to be confined to the downtown area.

CATLIN SAID the committee would continue to report periodically to the plan commission, giving its recommendations in "doses" small enough for the commission to assimilate and discuss. He asked that a portion of coming plan commission meetings be set aside to discuss the recommendations.

After the plan commission has discussed and agreed upon zoning changes, a public hearing would be scheduled.

'Dog Days' Here for 2 Residents

Cool August weather this year doesn't add up to the traditional "dog days," but the dogs in Arlington Heights don't know it.

One of them bit 5-year-old Peter D. Grote, 905 N. Fernandez, in the seat of the pants last Thursday.

ON SATURDAY, as Henry Hinneberg, 838 N. State Rd., was walking a few blocks south of his home, a dog belonging to J. A. Roth, 624 N. State Rd., rushed out and tried to bite him.

Thanks to some fancy footwork by Hinneberg, the dog only ripped his pants.

Man Injured In Fire Is Recovering

An Arlington Heights man who was badly burned in a gas station fire has "improved rapidly," a Lutheran General Hospital spokesman reported.

Earl Spahr, 33, of 939 N. Haddow, was burned Aug. 7 when an explosion started a flash fire in the service station where he was working at Golf and Greenwood, just outside Des Plaines.

Firemen from Des Plaines, who were first on the scene, reported that Spahr was cleaning the service area floor with "non-inflammable" material when the explosion occurred.

Cold Hurts Pools' Use

Cool weather has driven down attendance at the two swimming pools maintained by Arlington Heights Park District.

Swimmers using Pioneer pool in July totaled 38,893, compared to 39,619 a year ago. At Recreation, this July's attendance was 22,555. Last year it was 39,888.

William G. Appleby reported that this July was the coolest in 35 years, and in addition had one inch more than average rainfall.

Dog Trials

Almot 200 pure-bred dogs will compete in the fifth annual trials of the Northwest Obedience Club to be held beginning at 9 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 19, on the grounds of Prospect High School on Foundry Road in Mount Prospect.

Slate Football Registration

Registration for Arlington Heights Little League football will be at Recreation Park fieldhouse from 6 to 10 p.m. Friday.

All fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders in the village are eligible. (AF

Plane Is Lost Over Suburbs

Steve Finney of Winnetka reported to Arlington Heights police Sunday night that his radio-controlled model plane had been lost somewhere over the northwest suburbs.

He described the model plane as orange with blue trim, about three feet long, and with a wingspread of three to four feet.

Fire Doused

Arlington Heights firemen extinguished a blaze in an electric clothes dryer at the Herbert Ducey resident, 31 N. Waterman, last Friday.

Hacking Away

Park Board in Work Meeting

At a long meeting Tuesday night, Arlington Heights Park Board members hacked at the jungle of tasks which must be cleared to make the $395,000 expansion program a reality.

They began with the architects, clearing many details connected wtih swimming and bathhouse improvements at Recreation Park, and the new maintenance building at Pioneer Park.

Then they passed an ordinance setting Sept. 11 as the date for sale of the $395,000 bond issue.

IN ADDITION to the usual advertising, the board will send information on the bond issue and the status of the park district to several hundred security dealers and banks, in an effort to get as many bids as possible.

The board also passed this year's tax levy ordinance.

The total levied is $227,583.62, compared to $214,453.53 last year. Because of increased assessed valuation in the district, no increase in the tax rate is expected, and there may be a slight decrease, Charles K. Bobinette, the board's attorney, predicted.

THE INCREASE in the amount levied can be accounted for chiefly by the costs of paving around Olive Park, the purchase of a station wagon, and the cost of a new plan of policing the parks.

The board also directed Charles Cronin, president, and Tom Thornton, park director, to approach St. Viator High School with a suggestion that the high school pool be used for a family swimming program next winter, to be organized and run by the park district.

Looking toward the future again, the board discussed the possibility that part of the land of the Nike base might be surplus, or become surplus. It directed that a letter be sent to Sen. Paul Douglas, inquiring about the possibility of the park district acquiring or leasing part of the land if it should no longer be needed by the government.

IN OTHER actions, the board:

—Approved purchase of a new boiler for Pioneer Park fieldhouse from Hans Jensen & Sons at a cost of $3,325 installed.

—Directed the attorney to prepare an annexation ordinance for 36 lots west of Dryden Avenue between Marion and Olive Streets in the Hickory Meadows subdivision, and annexed nine lots on Thomas Street and one on Palatine Road which are completely surrounded by the district.

—LISTENED TO the reading of two letters of complaint, one deploring the lack of checking facilities for personal articles at the parks, and the other alleging inadequate supervision at the Pioneer wading pool.

The board decided ti would be impractical at present to provide checking facilities. The second complaint will be investigated.

POLICE INTERVIEW witnesses who saw Minneapolis-bound express train hit and kill 23-year-old Carol Bichler at Dunton Street and the North Western tracks in Arlington Heights Wednesday morning.

Train Kills Woman, 23, Wednesday

Carol Bichler, 23, an employe of Magnus Farm convalescent home, was killed instantly when struck by an express train at Dunton Avenue and the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks at 10:47 a.m. Wednesday.

Miss Bichler and a friend, James Morris, 37, also an employe of the convalescent home on Central Road, went past the lowered pedestrian crossing gates and ran across the tracks. Morris narrowly escaped death.

HE TOLD POLICE that he and Miss Bichler intended to spend their day off work in Chicago. They were going to catch a train for the city at the Arlington Heights station.

Morris said he thought the train would stop.

Miss Bichler's home was in Wisconsin.

Consider Request For Disannexation

A committee of the Arlington Heights Park Board will consider the request from Mount Prospect Park District that it disannex the Charles Bruning property and adjacent land on Central Road so that Mount Prospect can take it in.

In its letter, Mount Prospect argued that the property owners received their services from that village and wished to be part of the Mount Prospect district. The letter said it was desirable that park district boundaries coincide with village boundaries.

THE ARLINGTON Heights board also received a letter from Arlington Heights Park Manor home owners, urging that the Bruning and adjacent property be kept by Arlington Heights.

The Bruning and Park Manor areas both were annexed in a referendum held in April, 1961. Since the industrial area has no voters, the Park Manor vote carried for annexation to Arlington Heights by a decisive majority.

The letter from Park Manor said that residents voted for annexation because of the tax advantages the industrial property would bring to Arlington Heights Park District, as well as because they wanted park facilities.

Sherwood Opposed To Zoning Change

Sherwood Improvement Association will oppose the request to switch 31 lots and portions of others in the subdivision from the highest residential zoning, R-1, to R-2.

A public hearing on the request will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 29, at the Arlington Heights village hall.

The public affairs committee of the Sherwood association will meet soon to plan its course of action, according to Nat Burfeind, 1130 N. Harvard Ave., chairman of the committee and a lawyer.

THE REQUEST for rezoning was made by M. Wrobel, who said he was the contract purchaser of the lots. Wrobel is represented by attorney George L. Shapiro, 33 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

R-1 zoning requires 15,000 square feet per building site, whereas R-2 zoning requires 10,000 square feet.

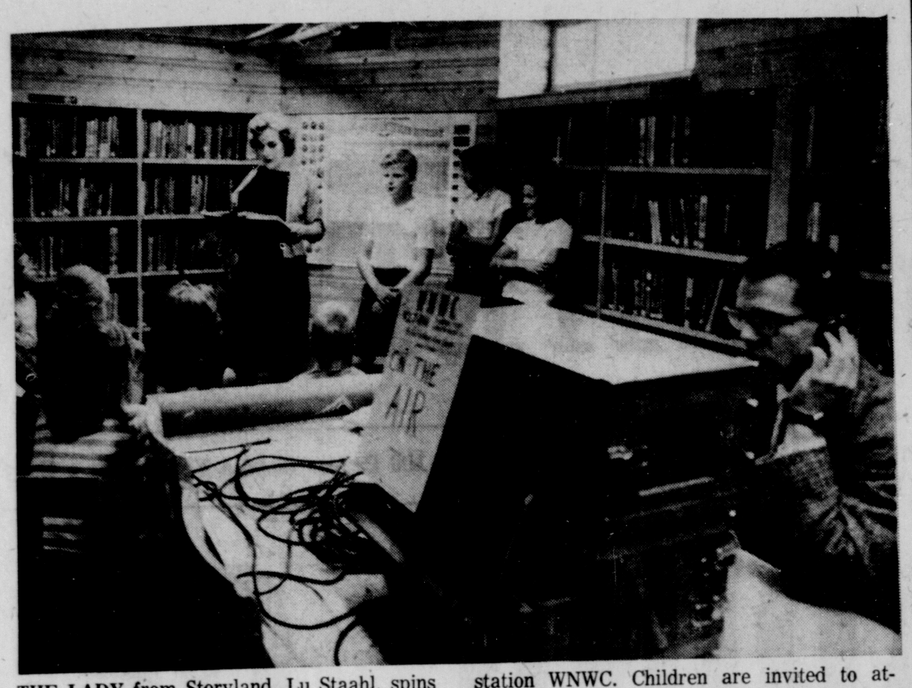
Ask Blood Donations For Sister

An Arlington Heights woman has appealed for blood donations to help her 13-year-old sister who was critically injured when struck by an auto on her birthday last July 20.

The girl, Madeline Louise George, of Des Plaines, has been in Holy Family Hospital since the accident, in which she suffered compound fractures of both legs and injuries to her arm, shoulder and head. The accident happened on Golf Road near the Golf-Mill shopping center.

Her sister is Mrs. Kenneth Kuenstler, 951 N. Haddow, said that persons wishing to donate blood may call the Holy Family blood bank, CYpress 9-2281. (A



THE LADY from Storyland, Lu Staahl, spins her tales Wednesday mornings in the children's room of the Arlington Heights Public Library, where they are put on tape, and broadcast at 11:45 a.m. Sundays over FM station WNWC. Children are invited to attend story hour at the library, then hear themselves on tape the following Sunday. Mrs. Staahl is a teacher at Windsor School and a dramatic coach.

MR. AND MRS. RAY Becker learned about Comas, the village in Peru adopted by Arlington Heights from Miss Peru, Gracelia Barreto who moved to the United States from Lima, two years ago. Becker is director of promotions for the fair for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, sponsors of the annual event. (A

Needy Youth Aided By Negro Comedian

DETROIT, (UPI) — Twenty-one Negro boys from Chicago shook hands with Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh last Saturday and visited major points of interest in the city as guests of comedian Dick Gregory.

Gregory met the youths at Chicago last fall in conjunction with the Chicago Youth Development Project and promised them he would bring them to Detroit if they were good citizens and remained in school.

THE YOUTHS, from needy families and broken homes on Chicago's south side, got another promise at the same time from Gregory.

He told them he would help them through college is they stayed out of trouble and studied diligently.

Gregory, performing at the Elmwood Casino in nearby Windsor, Ont., said "I'm going to keep my promise, too. I spent a rough youth in the slums of Chicago and I know what it is like."

Mrs. Ester La Marr, executive secretary of the Detroit Commission on Children and Youth, lauded Gregory for his action.

"These boys know someone is interested in them now, and in their future," she said. (A14

OK Subdivision

A one-lot subdivision of the 25 acres purchased by A. O. Smith for a research and office building was approved last week by the Arlington Heights Plan Commission. The land is bounded by Golf, Algonquin and State Roads. (AF

Seeded Players Top Net Tourney

The number one seeds in all divisions of the first annual Mount Prospect closed Park District Tennis Tournament were winners Sunday in final matches played at Lions Park.

The tournament, which drew over forty entries, was judged a success and a good indication of tennis interest in Mount Prospect by Chuck Morrison, park district tennis instructor.

The champions and their winning scores are as follows:

Women's Singles

Yvonne Foley beat Carol Fountain 6-3; 6-1

Bob Gewecke beat Larry White 6-4; 2-6; 6-4

Men's Singles

Bob Sir beat Vic Hardt 6-1; 6-3

Men's Singles

Bob Sir-Dick Rine beat Bob Gewecke-Tom Gewecke 6-3; 6-1

This week brings to a close Park District tennis instruction by Morrison to children and adults of Mount Prospect.

Budget for Schools Is Approved

A budget for 1962-63 totaling $2,256,610 was approved by the Arlington Heights Elementary School Board after the required public hearing.

Only three persons attended the hearing, and none of them had any questions or comments on the budget.

The budget compares with a total appropriation of $1,979,060 and total expenditures of $1,974,800.74 last year.

BECAUSE OF an increase in the total assessed valuation of District 25, it is expected that the district's tax rate will decline from $2.0165 per $100 of assessed valuation to approximately $1.97 on bills which will be mailed next spring.

The budget estimates total receipts for this fical year at $2,260,000 as compared with total estimated receipts in the 1961-62 budget of $2,075,769.88. (AF

Transferred To Macomb

State Police Trooper Joseph A. Wojcik, who lives at 939 N. Kaspar, Arlington Heights, has been transferred from state police district 3 to district 14, headquartered in Macomb, effective this Thursday.

Joseph E. Ragen, Illinois public safety director, made the announcement Tuesday.

STATE POLICE district 3, Chicago, and district 4, Blue Island, have been the center of a continuing investigation coming after allegations of payoffs by truckers to policemen for overweight vehicles.

During the investigation, Ragen has announced several demotions, resignations and transfers. He also has asked the State Police Merit Board to dismiss 21 policemen. (AF

Suburb News of the Week

ELK GROVE — Tax rate for Arlington-Prospect high school district 214 will drop next year despite opening of the new Forest View High School, and a continuing program of top level teacher salaries. Heavy increases in assessed valuation throughout the district is cited as the major reason for the tax cut.

MOUNT PROSPECT — Randhurst, the $21 million shopping center located at Rand, Foundry and Euclid in Mount Prospect, opens today (Thursday) with a gala celebration including marching bands, ribbon cuttings and speaches. World's largest shopping center under one roof, Randhurst will benefit Mount Prospect with an estimated $500,000 in sales tax revenue annually.

ROLLING MEADOWS — Rolling Meadows city council is resigned to acceptance of the latest plans for the segment of relocated Route 53 between the Tollway and Kirchoff Road, although there is some disappointment that a wide-sweeping half cloverleaf at Algonquin Road takes about 45 lots in the city's newest subdivision. The city requested access at Algonquin, but had anticipated a more modest plan. A state highway representative told the plan commission some of the cty's requests could not be met because of federal regulations which control a highway which enjoys federal financing.

PALATINE — Suit will be filed against Palatine Township Justice of the Peace Francis E. Kelly for failure to grant changes of venue to the prosecutor in village cases, the Village Board decided Monday night. Trustees also voted to forbid further use of Village Hall premises by Kelly on village cases.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — John McLaughlin, chairman of the police and fire commission, asked for the ouster of Police Chief Mark Orlick at last Thursday night's village board meeting. McLaughlin said he was not speaking as chairman of the commission and that he had nothing personal against Orlick.

SCHAUMBURG — The Lions Club is getting ready for its Second Annual Chuck Wagon Jamboree which is scheduled for August 24, 25 and 26. The club is bringing back nickle beer.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Committee studying zoning ordinance revisions propose upgrading standards in all residential districts, from highest single-family areas through apartments.

WHEELING — The village and Arlington-Prospect High School District 214 are considering a proposal to each pay half the $40,000 cost of a sewer line to the site for the proposed Wheeling area high school just outside the village. It had been hoped the Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District would have extended its interceptor sewer system to the area by the scheduled opening of the school in September, 1964. After indicating yes, the district later said no, necessitating the $40,000 local expenditure.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS — Elementary School District 23 will break tradition by opening its school the Wednesday rather than the Tuesday following Labor Day weekend. (B8

Site of 500 Mile Feature

ELKHART LAKE, WIS., (UPI)—A total of 800 miles of national championship sports car racing is on tap at Road America Sept. 8-9.

The feature 500 mile race for the big modified cars of classes C-D-E-F & G with points counting toward Sports Car Club of America Ratings, will be held on the 9th.

A total of 300 miles will be covered in 10-15-and-20 lap races on Saturday, the 8th.

This will mark the sixth year the 500 mile feature race will be run at Elkhart Lake. Car registration and safety inspection will be run at Elkhart Lake. Car registration and safety inspection will be held on Sept. 7-8 at the Sheboygan County Highway Garage.

Subdivision Committee

A proposed subdivision of 21 single-family homes on about six acres on Kensington Road east of Dryden Avenue was referred last week to the plat and subdivision committee of the Arlington Heights Plan Commission.

The builder, Anthony Giannini of Prospect Heights, sought unsuccessfully last spring to have the property rezoned for multiple-family dwellings.

After he was turned down, he determined to go ahead with single-family homes, and hired Eugene Baughman, who is the village's planning consultant to help him map out the subdivision.

The plat and subdivision committee will report at the Aug. 22 meeting. (A

MASTERS OF THEIR ART AND CRAFT

If you are confused by the artificial designs confronting you today, the irrational mixtures of many periods, the seeming lack of direction in contemporary home furnishings today, you will greet, like a breath of fresh air, the wedding of beauty and practicality that is modern Scandinavian design. Where pattern is created subtly by contrasting wood grains with joinings you can barely see as table and chair frames seem to flow out of one piece of wood to become "usable sculpture." If you have wondered what it is about Scandinavian design that has captivated so many of us, come in and see some of our imports. You will find over 7,000 sq. ft. of delightful room settings displaying nothing but fine contemporary furnishings and if you have a problem with your home or would like some guidance stop in and talk it over with our interior designers.

You are invited — in connection with the International Trade Fair — to our own "Import Fair" — a special exhibit of Scandinavian craftsmanship and new furniture and accessory designs — from August 2nd thru August 18th.

Record Enrollments Seen for Catholics

Record enrollments in 534 Catholic schools in Cook and Lake counties for the coming school year were predicted this week by Rt. Rev. Msgr. William E. McManus, Superintendent of schools of the Archdiocese of Chicago.

He said total enrollments in Catholic grade schools, high schools and colleges in the area are expected to reach an all-time high of 380,001, or 2.5 per cent more than the 370,855 enrolled in the 1961-62 school year.

ELEMENTARY school enrollments in 435 parochial schools are expected to rise to 290,231 from 286,282 last year, an increase of 1.4 per cent.

To keep pace with this growth Msgr. McManus said, 95 elementary school classrooms will be added, including those in three new suburban parochial schools.

High schools will expand enrollments by 5.9 per cent, to 68,500 as compared with 64,692 last year. Among the 93 archdiocesan high schools are five which will be accepting students for the first time. Two of the five are in the northwest area.

Six Catholic colleges and universities in the two-county area of the Archdiocese are getting set for a 7 per cent increase in their student bodies. Enrollments are expected to grow to 21,270 from 19,881 a year ago.

Msgr. McManus commented on the statistics noting growth of the Catholic school population is a reflection of a continuing pattern of massive expansion to meet the demands of Catholic parents.

"During the last five years, our elementary and high school enrollments have grown 15 per cent, and there is no end in sight," he stressed.

HE SAID Catholic elementary schools in the area will add 120 teachers to their staffs and high schools will add 150. He noted an increasing proportion of lay teachers on school staffs. Less than two-thirds of those teaching in the Catholic schools are members of religious orders.

New grade schools opening in September are St. Emeric, Country Club Hills; St. Kieran, Chicago Heights, and Our Lady of Ransom, Niles.

One of two new northwest area high schools, Carmel High of Mundelein, will enroll its first class of 195, all freshman boys. With an ultimate capacity of 1,600, the new school will also accept girls beginning in September, 1963.

Resurrection High School will transfer its 700 girls in September to new quarters at 7500 W. Talcott Ave. The new northwest area school building allows for an eventual enrollment of 1,040.

Other new high schools are Hales Franciscan High (boys), 4930 Cottage Grove, Chicago; Queen of Peace High (girls) and Mother Theodore Guerin High (girls). The two girls schools will be located temporarily in Stickney and River Grove, respectively.

In addition, three high schools will open newly-expanded facilities. They are Cathedral High, 751 N. State St.; Notre Dame High (girls), 3000 N. Mango Ave.; and Trinity High, River Forest. (B-8

OK Pay Hike For Teacher Substitutes

Substitute teachers will be paid $20 a day—a raise of $2, the Arlington Heights Elementary School Board decided Monday.

Joseph F. Faner, school board president, said he thought a raise would be enough, but dropped his objection to $20 when Supt. Ralph Clabaugh said administrators in the area had generally agreed on $20 and Arlington Heights might appear penurious if it paid less.

"We don't give the substitutes an increase every year," Clabaugh said, "and it's not an easy task."

The board also voted to raise the pay of teachers of homebound children from $5 an hour to $5.50. Clabaugh explained that the teacher is not paid for time of preparation and for travel to and from homes. (A

Apartment Conversion Denied by Zone Board

A request to build apartments on the first floor of a building in a commercial area of Arlington Heights was refused last week by the Zoning Board.

Proposed was an eight-apartment addition to the building at 1302 W. Northwest Hwy., four apartments to be on the first floor and four on the second. The building now contains offices on the first floor and apartments upstairs.

TESTIMONY WAS heard on three occasions by the Zoning Board. The petition was originally presented by John F. Hoover, attorney with offices at 1312 W. Northwest Hwy. At the second hearing, A. G. Scheele, attorney with offices at 11 S. LaSalle St., Chicago, announced that he and Henry Weber had purchased the interest owned by Hoover.

Scheele proposed to meet off-street parking requirements by leasing parking space from the VFW, whose hall is to the west. He said such a lease helped provide required parking for the adjacent Princeton House apartments, which he and his associates also owned.

Cold water was thrown on this proposal when John Heidemann, 1017 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights, appeared at the third hearing representing the VFM, and said the VFW board of directors had voted to allow no further parking on their lot.

HEIDEMANN said the Princeton House owners had not paid the rental. Scheele said the rent would be paid.

Scheele argued that some of the offices in the present building remained vacant, while there was a waiting list for apartments. He said the west part of Arlington Heights did not need offices, but showed demand for apartments.

The Zoning Board said, "The evidence indicates that the high vacancy (of the offices) may be and probably is due to inefficient management and unduly high rental rates."

THE BOARD declared that the zoning ordinance ban on first-floor apartments in the commercial areas is " a very important protective measure to prevent the indiscriminate conversions of B-2 areas into high-intensity multiple residential areas."

The board also said the apartment plans did not provide enough land area or floor area per unit, nor enough side yard.

Annexed Land Set For Zone Hearing

A rezoning hearing will be held Sept. 5 on land recently annexed to the south part of Arlington Heights.

Included in the hearing will be property in the vicinity of Forest View High School and Algonquin Road belonging to E. L. Trendel, builder; the trailer park property at the northeast corner of State and Golf Roads, and the animal hospital at the southwest corner of the same intersection.

ALL THESE properties were covered by pre-annexation agreements with the village, under which future rezoning was agreed upon. (All property annexed automatically comes in as R-1, the highest residential category.)

Various parts of the properties have been designated for B-1 limited retail business, B-2 general retail business, R-3 single-family residential, and R-5 apartments. (A

Paris Songs Featured at French Cafe

Shari Lynne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crittenden, 311 S. Dunton St., Arlington Heights, will provide the entertainment today and Friday at the grand opening of the LePetit Cafe in the new Randhurst Shopping Center, Rand Road and Route 83, Mount Prospect.

Miss Lynne, who is a senior at Arlington High School, will sing the songs of Paris in French twice daily during the opening of the French decor coffee shop.

ACCOMPANIED by Max Loick of the Arlington School of Music, she will entertain from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 7 to 9:30 p.m. each day.

Miss Lynne has been studying music for several years and has appeared as a vocalist with the Ronnie Rogers band. (B-8

English Scouts Spend Month Visiting Area

Seven English Boy Scouts and an adult leader are spending 30 days as the guests of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, in a unique exchange program set up by the Boy Scout international bureau. At the same time seven Explorers and Senior Scouts from this area are spending 30 days in England. In all 100 boys from each country are participating in the exchange.

The English Scouts have been living in the homes of Mount Prospect Boy Scouts while they tour the business, industry, educational and cultural sites in the Chicago area. Mrs. William Bischoff, 4 N. William, was assisted by Mrs. Myron Morehous, 515 N. Eastwood, both of Mount Prospect, in arranging the tours and the local transportation.

THE VISITORS left for a two week campout at the Northwest Suburban Council summer camp at Wild Rose, Wisconsin, after living for 10 days in the homes of M. H. Taylor, 200 S. Owen; George Peterson, 609 S. Emerson; Peter W. Peterson, 701 See Gwun; A. William Swanson, 102 N. Elm; Millard Yount, 412 N. Fairview; Irwin Meyer, 115 S. Elm; and William Bischoff, all of Mount Prospect, and Robert Knuth, 584 King Lane, Des Plaines. They will return from their camping trip August 25 and fly back to England August 29.

Outside the realm of Scouting the English Scouts were particularly impressed with the size and diversity of Prospect High School and the speed with which an American mother washes and dries a complete laundry, according to Anthony Burkitt of Hertfordshire, England, leader of the English contingent.

PRIOR TO moving in with the Mount Prospect families the Scouts hiked the Lincoln Trail with Explorer Post 82 of Morton Grove and toured the Lincoln shrines in the Springfield area.

This has been a test exchange and the enthusiasm demonstrated by the visitors and their American hosts indicates that it will be repeated in the future. The American contingent will return to O'Hare Field the same day the English Scouts take off for home. (B-8

Greetings are extended to new residents John and Catherine Freismuth, 1937 Evergreen, and their children, John, 12, Cathy, 10, Karen, 7, and Susan, 4, who hail from St. Clair Shores, Mich. The three eldest children are having their annual vacation with their grandparents in Wheeling, W. Va., and will return to the Vista after a 3-week stay. John is a product engineer for Sterling Automotive.

David and June Hansen, 2013 Evergreen, and their children, David, 14 and Gary, 11, are newcomers who moved here from Columbus, Ohio. David is regional manager for Clark Equipment Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ester and Daniel McDermott, 1946 Lilac, and their children, Daniel Bryan, 7, James Scott, 4, and Diane Lynn, 1½, are new residents from Detroit. Daniel is sales manager for Alloy Steels, Inc.

FLYING BY JET to Seattle was the beginning of an exciting sojourn for the William Sniders, 1908 Jonquil. They stayed with Helen's parents while taking in the Seattle World's Fair. Their two older children accompanied them on an 8-mile hike to the glaciers of Mt. Rainier where their weariness was rewarded by an exciting panorama of color. They visited Ross Dam where they viewed Ross River, which extends into Canada, and had a leisurely boat ride on the Skagit River which proved to be another pictorial jaunt.

Noreen Heinz, 1958 E. Elmwood, invited 10 neighborhood children to a swimming party last Wednesday. Their mothers surprised Noreen by arriving with the kiddies and bringing refreshments for the entire party.

Sue and Charles Ridgeway, 1917 E. Lilac, celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary Aug. 11 at the Seven Countries Inn, Wheeling.

Michael Psaras, 1706 E. Lilac, had a belated 6-year-old birthday party Aug. 8. Randy Coombs and Mike Peters were victors in the games conducted by Mike's mother, Carol.

MARLENE and Robert Kostka, 1727 E. Rosehill, vacationed at the Casa Blanca, Miami Beach, where they spent their honeymoon two years ago. They left young Robert Michael with his grandfather while they reminisced in the sunny South.

While on vacation, John Wojtal, 1942 E. Elmwood, took his son, Michael, and father-in-law, Walter Anderson, fishing at Channel Lake. Michael, 4½, caught all of the fish caught by the party of three—a true "fish story."

Roy Kim Weinberg, 1927 N. Maple, had a sixth birthday day party Aug. 8. His grandparents, the Warren Swigerts of La Grange, arrived later that day to help carry on the celebration

Hank and Carol Stafford, 2017 E. Lilac, had a ninth wedding anniversary dinner party at the Milk Pail, Elgin. The Ronald Yeaters of Mount Prospe ct joined them for the occasion. (A—G

Bunton Elected to Charity Chapter

Mrs. Helen D. Bunton, 317 N. Windsor Drive, Arlington Heights, has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Cook County Chapter of the National Foundation, it was announced this week.

Mrs. Bunton served as Arlington Heights campaign chairman during the 1962 March of Dimes drive for funds in the fight against crippling diseases.

She also headed the Mothers March in Arlington Heights last January.

THE COOK County Chapter is undertaking a new program of sponsoring special care clinics for patients suffering from birth defects and juvenile arthritis.

The exemplary care units, as they are to be called, will assure patients of expert medical evaluation and treatment and will be established this year within Chicago area hospitals and medical institutions.

They will be conducted in the medical team approach introduced earlier by the Chapter in polio treatment centers.

Mrs. Bunton also is district hospitality chairman of the Junior Women's Club of Arlington Heights and sergeant at arms of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club. (A

Grace Youth Group to Visit Zoo

In the next two weeks, the youth of Grace Lutheran Church, corner of Euclid and Wolf Roads, Prospect Heights, will be visiting Brookfield Zoo and the Nature Center.

On Sunday, Aug. 19, the Luther League will leave immediately following the worship service to spend the rest of the day at Brookfield Zoo. Members are asked to bring their picnic lunches to church with them.

One day during Vacation Bible School, which will be held at Grace from Aug. 13 through Aug. 24, a trip will be made to the Nature Center at Euclid-Lake Road and Milwaukee Avenue. The theme for this year's Bible School is "Let's Get Acquainted with God," and on this trip the children will study the different plants and animals in their natural habitats.

Q. Do you go along with the custom of men keeping their hats on in the corridors and elevators of public buildings?

A. Yes, if the elevator is crowded he is more considerate in keeping his hat on, which takes less room than holding it in front of him. As to public corridors, I see no practical reason for his not keeping his hat on his head if he wishes.

'Flexible' Candidate

Rumsfeld Campaign in Continuous Activity

The diversified activities of Republican nominee Donald Rumsfeld in recent days demonstrates that, in Illinois' 13th district, a Congressional candidate must be flexible.

Beginning last January, Rumsfeld has bent his efforts to meet and talk with as many voters as possible before the Nov. 6 General Election.

This week his activities took him from an apartment house canvass in Chicago's 50th ward to a parade and carnival in Bartlett.

In Bartlett Sunday, Rumsfeld rode in a parade sponsored by the Bartlett Fire Department.

ON SEPT. 2, Rumsfeld will attend the Hanover Township Regular Republican picnic. Also on that date Rumsfeld plans to attend events scheduled during Wheeling Days in Wheeling.

On Aug. 14, Rumsfeld spoke at a coffee held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Plote, Rolling Meadows. He was then the guest of Dr. Justin Fleischmann at his home in Palatine, and at a meeting of the Illinois Medical Political Action Committee held at Northwest Hospital that same evening.

Rumsfeld volunteers from Wheeling Township, under the chairmanship of Thomas H. Hanlon, Arlington Heights, are spending Saturdays making a door-to-door canvass in the 50th ward of Chicago. Chief object to the canvass is recruitment of workers for the Republican slate in November, and Hanlon reported that an average of four volunteers has been signed up in each precinct so far covered.

CANVASSERS from Arlington Heights include Leroy Nelson, Donald W. Hillenmayer, Roland Ley, William Heinrich, William Platte, Eugene Schlickman, Albert Miller, Frank Callaghan, John White, and Joseph Tolson.

Other volunteers are Edward Groth, James Pfister, and Fred Porter from Buffalo Grove, and Russell Glave, Prospect Heights.

Hanlon said that the canvass will continue for two more weeks, and asked that volunteers call him at CL 9-3337.

In his first statement of the fall campaign, Rumsfeld charged that excessive power concentration in the hands of the administration is strangling our form of government.

AT A MEETING of the advisory board of the Women's Republican Club of New Trier Township Aug. 13, he said:

"The issue in this election is whether or not we are going to allow the paternalistic programs of the present administration to be voted into law at the next session of Congress. These programs are being advanced by a small group of faceless men who are evidently calling the shots for this administration.

"Wherever I have spoken, in recent months, I have seen the constructive, conservative programs of the Republican party enthusiastically acclaimed."

"THE IMPRACTICAL and wasteful schemes being promoted by the Democrats threaten to smother us as individuals; to stamp out the tested American principle of self-reliance.

Rumsfeld paid high tribute to Marguerite Stitt Church, retiring Congresswoman in the 13th district. He said that Mrs. Church has "always been in the forefront of the battle for individual freedom. Her voting record proves her deep faith in our basic American institutions and in her firm resistance to a dictatorial, federally-controlled economy." (B8

Special Problems Hearing

Delegates from 12 associated communities in the Northwest Municipal Conference met Wednesday at Park Ridge to prepare for a special problems hearing next month.

Palatine Village Manager Robert E. Hollander, Conference secretary - treasurer, explained the meeting concerned community problems.

HE SAID next month's hearing at North Aurora, sponsored by the Illinois Municipal League, is planned for consideration of possible legislation. The League is soliciting comments and suggestions from communities around the state.

Northwest Conference members are Arlington Heights, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Barrington, Barrington Hills, Des Plaines, Park Ridge and South Barrington. Each community is entitled to two voting delegates, usually village officials, at each Conference meeting. (B-8

Congratulations To Ten-Book Readers

By BETTY AINSLIE

Congratulations to all the boys and girls who completed reading 10 books thus making themselves eligible for the puppet show treat yesterday. Just bet you discovered some wonderful fictional companions for the summer, and hope you'll keep this planned reading habit going even though the contest is over.

Found out a few interesting things about the adult taste in books at Arlington Heights Memorial Library. Mrs. Mary Lee Ewald, head librarian, kept a spot check of the circulation figures and came up with this percentage listing of books read.

Seems of course that fiction leads with a super 48 per cent which includes all types of fiction, mystery, western, and just plain novels.

About 11 per cent select books of history and this is boosted a little by school assignments.

Literature, story collections, etc., have about 7 per cent of the readers. Biographies 7 per cent. Science and useful arts—the "how to" books claim about 6 per cent of the readers. Social studies total 6 per cent, fine arts 5 per cent, natural science 3 per cent, psychology 3 per cent, religion 2 per cent and journalism and languages tying at 1 per cent apiece.

This check helps the librarian pick the books you seem to enjoy most.

A good many books are good stories, but somehow never do make the best seller list. Some you might enjoy for just good reading are:

"Blow Negative" by Edward Stephens. A really humorous, rather rough, he-man tale of submarines and the lives and loves of the men who run them. Stephens can be a little wordy at times but he's so downright funny in many places that you'll enjoy this book to the end.

If you haven't added Alistair Maclean to your list of favorite authors, you'd better try a few of his books so you can read what I mean. He is an excellent master of the suspense novel and his writing is big and powerful, compelling you to never miss a word.

His latest is "The Golden Rendezvous" and lives up to the blood-and-thunder reputation of the author. This is the same author who made a name for himself by writing "Guns of Navarone"; however I do believe his other novels are even better. So try him for a book you'll never put down until finished.

"The Sound of Bow Bells" by Jerome Weidman, author of "I Can Get It For You Wholesale," again shows a bit of East Side New York life. The book takes a bit of struggling to get going, but his style is good and the characterization in a story about Sam Silver and his Jewish origin is thoughtful reading.

Elizabeth Cordell has written a book called "The Toy Sword" which has a background of London and Portugal for its story of a young man and his rather strenuous engagement to a beautiful girl.

Elizabeth Siefert always writes an easy reading enjoyable book and has many medical novels to her credit. Her latest is called "Honor of Dr. Shelton" and deals with this problem of juvenile delinquency.

Speaking about medical novels, "The Dynasty" by Charles Knickerbocker is a rather frank psychological study of a family of doctors seen through the eyes of a rather vague main character.

Crest, the story teller and hero, never does really seem to settle the problem of whether to admire or dislike the Parkingdale dynasty, but at least you can follow the story easily and bone up on a little genuine medical knowledge written by this doctor.

Anyway stories on doctors and medicine hold a certain fascination even if the story line is rather weak.

"The Movie Goer" by Walker Percy takes place in one action-packed week of the Mardi Gras carnival in New Orleans. A story which flaunts the idea that we humans like to watch life at the theater; to see it as a movie-goer rather than to take the harshness of the world and really live our own life—I'm not sure exactly what he means either.

Catherine Gavin has written a new historical novel called "Cactus and the Crown" which is about the life of Maximilian Von Hapsburg and his wife Carlotta as they lived their lives as Emporor and Empress of Mexico. A nice way to learn a bit more about history painlessly, and a real must for those who enjoy historical fiction. (A

Rehearsals For Variety Show Start

The Talented Teen Club of Arlington Heights has been busy with rehearsals for the variety show it is giving at Pioneer Park this Thursday Aug. 16, at 8 p.m. "This performance," says Mrs. Ray Studstrup, director, "is a musical which will take you on a summer tour to various vacation spots."

The program will be free to the public and the teens who will entertain are: Melanie Seyler, Mexican hat dance; Judy Fuqua, song; Carole Dormal, Indian dance; Kimberly Schmidt, piano; Barbara Settle, Hawaiian dance; Larry Wright, comedy and song; Barb Rucker, monologue; Sue Johnson, dance, and Jim Hallet, baton.

All Talented Teens are urged to visit the club's workshop which is held every month. Interested teens may call 392-4142. (A

Make Switch To New Dial Phone System

Sunday is "D-D-D Day" for Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows and Prospect Heights, announced G. W. Kaucher, Illinois Bell Telephone manager.

NOT STUTTERING, Kaucher referred to Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) being instroduced at 2 a.m. Sunday—an ideal time since most phones are resting quietly on the hook.

If an emergency call is in progress at that time, the cut-over to the new dial service will be delayed until it is completed, the manager assured.

The new service means all customers with CL 3 (253), CL 5 (255), CL 9 (259) and 392 telephone prefixes will now be able to reach any phone, in telephone Area 312 (Chicago and suburbs) by dialing the number.

LONG DISTANCE points, outside telephone area 312, may be reached by dialing the distant three-figure Area Code, then the number.

"This means that some 77 million telephones throughout the United States and Canada are just a few spins of the dial away," Kaucher said.

COMMUNICATIONS maintenancemen Norman L. Bronson (left) of 1127 N. Phelps, Arlington Heights, and R. E. Lovett of 105 Grove, Fox River Grove, check entries for accuracy on the tape made by the Automatic Message Accounting machine in the Arlington Heights exchange. This amazing machine keeps track of customer's dialed long distance calls and marks who made them, what numbers in what cities were called, what time and date they were made and how long they lasted. AMR

He reminded that only station-to-station calls can be dialed direct, and that operators will continue to handle person-to-person, credit card, emergency and any other calls requiring special assistance.

PREPARATIONS for the cut-over have been handled by the local telephone team, which includes manager Kaucher, wire chiefs Charles H. Vetter and Donald N. Wagner, chief operator Mrs. Frances Bauman and dial service chief Mary Jane Dwyer.

Over the last several months, they have made sure that all equipment necessary for DDD has been installed and thoroughly tested in the Arlington Heights exchange at 106 W. Eastman St.

Personnel have been trained in the new procedures that accompany DDD.

A group of men stand in readiness to handle the actual switch-over—a job that requires expert handling and timing to assure that every telephone will function correctly.

IN THE last few days all customers have been mailed a dialing guide, which explains DDD service, and an Area Code handbook, which lists the codes for many communities throughout the nation.

Additional information is contained in the front pages of this year's telephone directory.

"Our service representatives will be glad to answer any questions customers may have about their new Direct Distance Dialing service," Kaucher concluded.

Pastor Gets Specific in His Prayers

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — The Rev. Dominic Lydon, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church here, Tuesday added a little something when he said the invocation for the city council meeting.

The Rev. Lydon said during the invocation, "Dear Lord we hope this council will consider the installation of a traffic light at 18th and South Grand streets."

The busy intersection is near the parish's school.

Birch Literature in High School: Charge

EAGLE RIVER, WIS. (UPI)—A three-member committee is looking into a charge that ultra-conservative pamphlets recommended by the John Birch Society have been introduced into the Eagle River High School library.

Ben Tuttle, chairman of the school board and a member of the Birch Society, named the committee after the charge was leveled by Everett Hoover, a former school board member who was defeated at the last elections.

TUTTLE SAID he himself had recommended two years ago that the school subscribe to "National Review," "American Opinion," and "Human Events." The three publications have been described as ultra-conservative in their views.

School Principal Win Abney said the publications were added to give students a chance to "acquaint themselves with the conservative viewpoint."

Abney said there are no liberal publications in the library as "far left of center as the conservatives are right." He added that the "Saturday Review" might be added, but he said he does not know of any liberal publications "quite as definite and pronounced" in the liberal field for high school students.

Comedy Scheduled For Shady Lane

The Shady Lane Farm Playhouse, Marengo, will present "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath" by Cyrus Wood from Aug. 21 through Sept. 2.

This delightful comedy concerns a professor who is well grounded in academic matters, but has little footing in the field of lively living.

He is shortly made aware that the bees are for the birds and that neither have anything to do with what makes the world go around, namely a charming female. By the end of the play, the professor has learned more about women than many a lad who has spent a whole wife-time on the subject.

THE LEADS ARE played by Dale Benson, Bette Lieb, and Vivian Brown. Single performances are given Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Sunday. There are two shows Wednesday and Saturday.

The playhouse is located three miles west of Marengo on route 20. For information and reservations, call 815-568-7218. (Bill

'61 Tax Books Open During Collection

Word has been received by Marjorie Annen Carter, collector of Wheeling Township from Bernard J. Korzen, county collector, that the 1961 warrant books will be made available to the township collectors during the collection of the second installment of the 1961 taxes.

These books will be open to the taxpayer each day at the collector's office at 712 E. Kensington Rd., Arlington Heights, beginning Aug. 20 through Sept. 1.

COLLECTION of taxes are now being made at the Arlington Heights National Bank during regular banking hours.

Taxes can also be paid at the Mount Prospect State Bank on Aug. 20, at the Wheeling State Bank and Trust Company on Aug. 27, and at The Bank of Arlington Heights on Aug. 18 and 25.

"Help support Wheeling Township by paying your taxes locally," urged Mrs. Carter.

Chuck Percy To Address GOP Club

Charles H. Percy, chairman of the board of the Bell and Howell Co., will be featured speaker tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. at the monthly meeting of the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club.

The meeting will be held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Yale Avenue and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

PERCY, who served as chairman of the 1960 Republican National Platform Committee, has played key roles in Republican fund raising activities in Illinois, being instrumental in organizing the United Republican Fund in this state.

All residents of Wheeling Township are invited to hear Percy speak. (ACM

Industry's Eye Is on Northwest Area

No End Seen To Expansion

by LEE SECHLER

Last in a Series

Business and industry are on their way to the northwest suburbs.

The march has started and will continue for a number of reasons; the die is cast and the people need to be served.

Shopping centers are springing up on corners where weeds once grew near the edge of a farmer's crop.

That same field now shows a crop of cars and people coming and going in search of food, clothing, taking the dry cleaning in, etc.

INDUSTRY is searching out locations and placing roots into the virgin area of the northwest suburbs.

Many influences determine the location of new industry—most of it being light manufacturing.

Changes in the design of plants to include off-street parking and landscaped grounds is just one of the reasons for their moves.

The location of the working force and social anl psychological influences play a role, too.

THE DESIRE of executives living in northwestern and northern suburbs to locate plants nearer their homes comes to light more and more.

Transportation brought the people to the suburbs. Transportation, people and proper zoning — the availability of land—have worked together to bring business and industry where it does not exist.

Randhurst Shopping Center which opened today is a good example of business coming to where the people are.

LOCATED IN Mount Prospect, the merchandising center huses a number of the finer stores which have their home stores in Chicago.

It has been predicted that many more such shopping centers — all featuring big-name downtown stores — will be developed throughout the northwest suburbs by 1980 to better serve the people living here.

Covering 100 acres, Randhurst has been described as the architectural forerunner of the weather-controlled city of the future.

TEMPERATURE of the center which is contained under one roof is cooled or heated to 72 degrees the year 'round.

The Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission has estimated that 40 per cent of the jobs of Northeastern Illinois will be located in the suburbs by 1980.

Light manufacturing has seemed to have found the northwest suburbs to be an ideal home.

MANY HAVE already purchased lots on which to build and locate in the future.

Others are searching for existing industrial parks because water and sewer facilities have been installed and are waiting for them.

Since the Centex Industrial Park in Elk Grove Village opened in 1957, some 70 firms have either built plants or have them under construction.

AN ADDITIONAL 30 have purchased sites for construction for a total of more than 100 firms.

Elk Grove Village was built on what was at one time only farm land by the Centex Construction Company of Dallas, Texas.

Most of the light manufacturing is located in the northwest suburbs while heavy industry is still in the south, pointed out a representative of the Northern Illinois Gas Company.

IT WAS explained that the heavy industry was located where it is because of natural resources, something which is not a real concern for light industry.

It is more important for the light manufacturing plants to be located near the work force and other firms which they serve.

Roads and expressways play an important part in the life of these firms. Both facts can be found almost anywhere in the northwest suburbs.

ARLINGTON Heights, the Village of Schaumburg and many others in the area are doing their best to lure industry into their land, Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg are in need of industry to help them bear the school tax load. Both areas support the schools through property tax. And they are not alone in the northwest suburbs.

Utilities are very interested in what the future of the northwest holds for they must plan today to serve the business and industry that will move into the area tomorrow.

COMPANIES, like people, need phones, gas, and electricity — to name a few things.

Illinois Bell Telephone Company estimates that the Arlington Heights exchange will have 66,885 residence and business phones by 1970. (Mt. Prospect, Rolling Meadows and part of Prospect Heights comprise this exchange).

The telephone company figures for 1960 show 33,037 residence and business phones for the same area.

A TREMENDOUS increase in personal income is projected for people in Northern Illinois by 1975.

Income from manufacturing wages and salaries will increase in Northern Illinois from just over 5 billion dollars in 1957 to 9.7 billion dollars in 1975.

The basic occupational structure of the area will remain about the same in 20 years as it is now, but it will expand.

IT ALMOST goes without saying that the number of people engaged in agriculture will go down.

It is not hard to predict that business and industry will come to the northwest suburbs and be here in force when 1980 comes into being.

The hard part is to know where it will locate and how much.

The Northern Division of Northern Illinois Gas Company reports that from 1960 to 1961 148 new companies located in the area.

HOW MANY will locate today? Or tomorrow?

It's a calculated guess.

Areas work against other areas to lure business and industry into industrial parks and near the people.

Elbow room and low cost of land many times are just not enough to bring in the companies.

AGAIN, long-range planning is a key to the problem.

Planning commissions must cope with today while casting an eye to the future of the village they represent.

No resident wants to have a factory on top of his $30,000 home. He came to the suburbs for freedom, too.

Each village in the northwest suburbs has set aside land for business and industry. Each is trying its best to attract not just any, but ones which will add to the community.

TWENTY YEARS from now, if everything keeps changing as expected, the northwest suburbs will no longer exist.

The area will be urban and the problems of today will be exchanged for a new set.

Today's plans will have been revised to meet new needs of the area.

People will be looking elsewhere for freedom. Business and industry will follow.

And the story will begin again.

Progress is a very important product with concrete results in Suburbia—Its Future.

People, land, planning, transportation, business and industry must all be interwoven.

Too much of one and not enough of another spells trouble.

PICTURE TUBE LIFE

by ED LANDWEHR

The news that a TV picture tube replacement is necessary is comparable to finding out that the family car needs a motor overhaul. Still, 1 out of every 8 TV owners will face this situation within a year. 3½ years is the average life span. And then the question comes up, "Should we buy a new tube or a rebuilt one?"

We handle both types at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights and they both have substantial guarantees and are satisfactory. The answer to your question will depend much on the age of your set and the size of the tube. And most important, you'll want efficient installation of it for a good picture.

Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 for this kind of service, or any form of electronic maintenance. We have the most modern electronic instruments for fast and efficient upkeep. Our work and tubes are always guaranteed.

Big 'D' Foods Is Now Open

Big "D" Foods, located with the Shoppers World store in a new shopping area on Rand Road west of route 83, held its grand opening Wednesday. The celebration will run through this week.

John Carmitchell, store manager, and Bob Roberts, the market manager, have invited the public to attend the celebration.

They said that Big "D" Foods was a brand new concept in food merchandising, comparing it to discount operations in hard and soft goods. The store offers quality foods at discount prices, based on volume selling.

THE NEW store has all of the "newest" in super market conveniences, according to the two spokesmen. The colors are designed for eye appeal, and the lighting is designed for ease in shopping. The store is air conditioned, and features seven check-out counters and one express lane for fast service.

Fresh and frozen bakery products are available in the Mary Lord Bakery Department.

The parking lot holds 800 cars. (B-8

Predict City Victory

GOP Pinning Hopes On Taxpayer Revolt

(UPI) — Cook County's new Republican chairman sees a "revolt" by Chicago taxpayers as an opportunity for the GOP to win a Chicago election for the first time in three dozen years.

Hayes Robertson, who took charge of Cook County for the GOP three months ago, said the city's voters rebelled against Major Richard J. Daley when they rejected a proposed bond issue during voting in the April 10 primary election.

Robertson told UPI in an interview that a "substantial number of citizens voted against the bond issue but did not vote in the Democratic primary.

"The number who voted against the bond issue only, added to the Republican vote, would mean victory at the city level," he said. "The revolution that started in April will continue in November and we'll have a winner.

"AND I WOULDN'T be surprised if a great many of the Democratic party faithful will migrate to the Republican party because they can't take it anymore," he said.

"The issue today in Cook County is taxes — high taxes," Robertson said. "The people finally have gotten to the point where they have all the tax increases they wanted."

Robertson, who predicted correctly that former Gov. William G. Stratton could not win reelection in 1960, said his biggest problem is feuds within the party in Cook County.

"Step number one is to get the whole team pulling in the same direction," he said. "We're in the campaign for the party. This is a new concept at the county level."

ROBERTSON has concentrated on rebuilding the county organization from the precincts up. He launched a drive for a loyal precinct captain in every precinct possible, with provisions for watching precincts dominated completely by the Democrats.

The county organization and the Republican Citizens League have been cooperating in the removal of Republican election judges who voted in Democratic primaries, Robertson said.

He also said plans have been made to spot check precincts to insure that GOP canvasses were carried out.

"It's going to be harder for the Democrats to steal this election (Nov. 6) than it has been for many, many years," he said.

Arlington Greens

The Arlington Greens Community Association will sponsor the annual street dance tomorrow evening, Aug. 17, at the Beverly - Hickory corner. All residents and their friends are welcome to join in the fun, beginning at 9 p.m.

The James Nelson family, 800 E. Oakton, ended a 9-day vacation trip last Wednesday. Niagara Falls was first on their list of places to see, and then into Canada for one-day stops at Quebec and Ottawa for more sightseeing. Around the Georgian Bay to Sault Ste. Marie and Mackinac brought them homeward.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coward and daughter, Joan, 1142 N. Dryden, returned home last week from a vacation trip to Michigan. They enjoyed a 5-day visit with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Coward at Port Huron and another five days with the grandmother, Mrs. Anna Johnstone at Ellsworth. The annual family reunion picnic was held during their stay and the Cowards joined the 50 or so relatives attending the Sunday gathering. A side trip for Joan was a day at Beaver Island near Charlevoix as guest of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Hickox of Big Rapids who were vacationing in the area.

TWO PARTIES observed the sixth birthday of Nancy Peternumber of relatives attended a dinner party given for her. Her son, 701 E. Olive. July 29 a afternoon party last Wednesday was attended by Kim Ahrenberg, Barbara Langhenry, Connie Johnson, Sharon Schick and the Gildemeister girls, Margie and Linda. The backyard treasure hunt yielded lollipops "growing" in the lawn and party favors "flowering" in the shrubs.

A farewell luncheon was hosted by the Gildemeister girls for Nancy on Monday—moving day for the Peterson family. Residents in the Greens for the past nine years, the Petersons moved to North Hickory Avenue in the neighbor subdivision of Hickory Meadows.

The Robert McLeans, 1104 N. Belmont returned home last Friday evening from a 2-week vacation trip. Their first stop was the Detroit area, for a 3 day visit with a niece and family, the Glen Rices of Royal Oak. Niagara Falls was their next stop for a day of sightseeing before going to Corydon, Pa., for a brief visit with the Justin Jones family. Visiting an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Riemann in Pittsburgh, for another four days brought them to the last five days, which they spent visiting the A. C. Dyers in Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Members of the Canasta Club enjoyed their semi-annual evening out last Wednesday. Enjoying dinner and the performance of "Heavan Can Wait" at O'Hare Theatre were Sylvia Damiano, Marie Duxbury, Kay Warman, Helen Foreman, Lil Woehlck, Kay Hedberg, Mary Lou Wotruba and Dorothy Swoboda.

THE AL Puccetti family, 1105 N. Douglas, enjoyed a week of camping in Wisconsin's Door County, Peninsula State Park was the site they chose for their initial venture into outdoor living. Fishing and water skiing at Nicolet Bay and sightseeing in the Ephraim area added to their summer fun.

The Pete Johnson family, 709 E. Olive, motored to Derry, Pa., last Thursday to attend the second marriage of her father, Matthew Whalen, to Mrs. Agnes Hunt. Brothers, sister and children of the groom from California, Massachusetts, Michigan and Illinois were among the guests attending the ceremony last Saturday morning.

Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eck of Chicago were guests at the dinner party celebrating the first birthday of David Woehlck, 112 N. Pine Court, last Sunday afternoon.

The Ben Zaborowski family, 1209 N. Hickory, ended their 3-week vacation last Friday. The first week they enjoyed cottaging at Lake Long near Delavan and another week of sightseeing at the Wisconsin Dells area preceded a motor trip around Lake Michigan to Mackinac for more sightseeing. Travelling along the Michigan shore brought them homeward.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Lundell, 1163 N. Hickory, hosted a cookout dinner party last Saturday evening. Gaily colored lights gave the patio a festive touch. Guests included the John VanDiggelens, Bud Andrews, Al Radcliffes, Dick Averills, Dick Steffens, Harry Gerrards, the Howard Schicks, Michael Folk and Miss Denise Olson. (A

HASBROOK HAPPENINGS

Preparing the steaks for the party-going people on Patton Avenue for their block party on August 4 were Bill Robinson, Bill Haupt and Bob Walsh. Chairmen for the event, which proved to be fun for all ages, were Bill and Doris Robinson. Their assistants were Bill and Lillian Haupt.

For a "Swing Along" with Ella Fitzgerald, the Ed Nolans, John Sheas and the Jim Ryans, all of Lynwood Avenue, went to Ravinia, where they enjoyed a picnic supper and a musical evening.

Speaking of the Ryans, they and their children, Jimmy and Joan, spent four days with friends, the MacKimms, on their farm in Orland Park.

Attending the recent party to celebrate Jimmy Ryan's fourth birthday were Fred Holloway, Bobby O'Brien, Beth Barratt, Darryl Koelper, Tommy Nolan, Theresa Melroy, Vicky Nolan, Nancy MacKimm and John Popineau.

THE SCOUTING family, the Dale Nyebergs, 910 W. Thomas, are home from a 10-day Wisconsin vacation. Dale took his wife, Lee, their children, Steven, Larry and David, and a group of area scouts on a camping trip to Wild Rose.

One might refer to Brian Green, 1532 N. Kennicott, as the fellow with the "bad breaks." He's home now from Northwest Community Hospital with casts on both fractured arms. Brian came home on his sixth birthday.

In spiet of the inclement weather, everyone seemed to have a good time at the picnic Tom and Marge White, 1832 N. Patton, planned for eight couples at Bunker Hill Grounds in Chicago. Neighbors Jane and Erny Hilgenkamp and Georgia and Stu McDaniel were among the guests.

The McDaniels recently played host to Stu's sister, Belle McDaniel of Chicago. She spent a week with them at 1824 N. Patton.

THE INFANT daughter of Guy and Jane Anderson was baptized Julie Ann on July 29 in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, Palatine. Serving as godparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Schaber of Peoria.

The patio party Dorothy and Lee Dolack, 1542 N. Kennicott, scheduled for August 4 started outdoors, but ended up with the guests warming up in the living room. Among those attending the "out and in" affair were a dozen guests from Hasbrook and two from Winston Park.

John and Bea Drolshagen attended their high school class reunion August 4 in Wauwatosa, Wis.

Next door neighbors on Lynwood, Curt and Bonnie Swinehart and their children, Rex and Sheri, have returned from a 2-week vacation in Barberton, Ohio, with Bonnie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Langguth. Among their activities, Rex rated fishing the best. He now has 18 notches on his fishing pole.

JOAN SLATTERY, 901 Lynwood, took her youngsters, Charles, Susan and Michael, to visit her mother, Mrs. Charles Coghlan in Milwaukee, for four days. Then her mother and a niece, Linda Fiedler, came back with them for a week's visit.

New neighbors to be welcomed to Hasbrook are Connie and Bob Nelson with Debbie, 2½, and Scott, 18 months old. They have moved to 1809 N. Kennicott from Oceanside, Calif.

Visitors in Hasbrook from downstate were Don Balsover's parents, who visited at 1817 N. Patton for a week. While here they went to the Trade Fair and also took their grandchildren to Hawthorn-Mellody Farm. (A

Booming Success

Honky-Tonks Serve Up Soda Water with Kick

ST. LOUIS, (UPI) — Police are keeping an amazed watch on the booming success of four places which serve synthetic liquor and near beer and employ B-Girls with impunity.

The places, located in a honky-tonk section not farm from the Mississippi River, serve the non-intoxicating beverages with no liquor license and with complex immunity to liquor laws. They need only a merchant's license to operate.

WAITRESSES solicit drinks from customers and there is no law to prevent it.

A detective sampled one drink which is called peppermint schnapps and said it tasted like sugar water.

Police have run across at least one man who became psychologically intoxicated after visiting one of the places. He appeared to be dead drunk when police found him after he had been held up.

POLICE LEARNED he had frequented one of the places and had been drinking there several hours.

They took him back to the place, where he was informed he had consumed little or no alcohol. Instantly, police said, the man "sobered up." (B8

Eastwood Events

Sincerest sympathies from their neighbors are sent to two Lincoln Lane families who recently have been saddened by death. Mrs. Olga McHugh of 206 Lincoln Lane died two weeks ago Tuesday and was buried the following Friday in Edens Cemetery. Mrs. McHugh was the aunt of Mrs. Kenneth Behm and had been residing with Eunice's mother, Mrs. Harriet Woldhausen at the Lincoln ave. home, which is just next door to the Behms.

The same week the Robert House family was called to Oak Park by the unexpected death of Mr. House's sister, Miss Priscilla House.

Guests at the Jack Mutti home have been Roger and Terry Niemiec, 14 and 11-year-old sons of friends of the Muttis from Beverly Hills in Chicago. A trip to the International Trade Fair was on their entertainment agenda, and for company the Muttis took along Susie and Johnnie Heitz, their son Jackie, and a friend from Barrington.

The Muttis recently enjoyed a pleasant evening at the Martinique. After dinner there with friends, they saw June Havoc star "In Any Language."

DINNERS, SHOWS and sightseeing trips into Canada were vacation pleasures for Mrs. Irene Beauchamp when she recently visited her son and his family, the John Majors, in Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

Since returning home, Mrs. Beauchamp and her daughter, Virginia Heitz, have been guests of their neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Scharlau, for luncheon at the Mill Race Inn. Mrs. Scharlau's daughter, Nora Lowenstien and granddaughter, Susie, completed the party. After luncheon the ladies shopped and browsed at "The Little Traveler."

For the first time all 11 members of the George Farrell family of N. Hickory Ave. were able to vacation together. It took two cottages at Bailey's Harbor to house them all. Besides swimming, fishing and sightseeing, the Farrells took a boat trip from Gill's Rock to Washington Island.

Many of Mrs. Mae Petersen's neighbors shared in her Aug. 4 birthday fun. For the occasion Mrs. Helge Johnson invited a group to her summer home at Lake Kegansa, near Madison, Wis. for the weekend. The John Haslans, Bill Kaspers, George Brinkes, the Lerches and Mr. Petersen comprised the party.

THE MISHAPS that occurred on the Herman Mells' western vacation can be attributed to their Friday, the 13th departure. The Coulter Guest Ranch, near Rifle, Colo. was the destination of a group of friends who have been vacationing together for the last five years. One of the couples was overtaken in Denver and informed of the death of a relative, necessitating their flying back to Chicago. Another couples' car couldn't make the mountain ascents and had to return to Denver for repairs. The owner of the ranch was kicked suffering broken ribs, and Mr. Mell sustained back injuries! But all in all they had a fine vacation with ideal weather at the phoneless, isolated ranch near the Utah border.

Mrs. Mell particularly enjoyed the two 25-mile rides rounding up cattle from eight to 10 different herds, and watching the cowhands brand the calves.

Mr. Mell's Saturday birthday was spent at the Arlington race track with neighbors, the Stewart Schultzes, Dick Kozakiewiczes, Jack Andersons and Norman Hoyms. As a birthday treat the Schultzes entertained the group for cocktails and dinner and surprised Herman with funny gifts.

FOR BOBBY EVANS seventh birthday on July 29 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, took him and a group of his playmates to the Museum of Science and Industry. Bobby has recuperated nicely from his unusual recent swimming accident, but must be kept under observation for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans, with Bobby, Carol and Dick, had a delightful four-day stay at Lake Lawn. As he is too young for resort pleasures, baby Billy didn't vacation with his family.

Volleyball, swimming, water skiing, biking and many parties highlighted Virginia and Dick Vlaches week-long stay at Portage Point Inn at Onekama, Mich. The Vlaches spent their honeymoon here 17 years ago and this is their 12th trip back to the Inn. They had a reunion with 15 couples from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana who they have met at the Point over the years.

ON THE Wednesday before Dick and Virginia left for their Michigan vacation they dined with friends at Allgauers before attending the Benny Goodman concert at Ravinia.

Sympathy is also sent to the Baier and Eiserman family on the death of Mr. Eiserman's mother of St. Joseph, Mich. The Eisermans formerly of N. Dryden now reside at Windy Acres in Beloit. (A

Tell Of Four-Point Fitness Program

A four-point plan of action has been developed by leaders of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America for its new "Fit for Tomorrow" program to be launched this fall.

The plan was characterized as a simple one by Harold English of Barrington, President of the Council, who hailed the work of the council's Health and Safety Committee.

THE PROGRAM of action, according to English, calls for:

—A medical check-up of every boy, preferably by his family doctor, to determine his need for exercise. This will help the leader and parent to determine each boy's fitness program according to his abilities;

—Physical testing based on five tests chosen to determine fitness needs. Standard used was developed by physical education authorities. Each boy finds out what he can do in comparison with others;

—Individual exercises at home and vigorous activities on hikes, on camping trips, and at Scouting meetings are Scouting's answer to boys' physical development needs; and —Periodic retesting will show what improvement has been made and the need for further physical development. Measuring progress is a vital part of this plan. At a regular time, once a month or more often, each boy takes the physical tests again.

"SCOUTING JOINS hands with parents, schools, churches adn synagogues, and all institutions and organizations interested in young people," said English, "to assure that our common goals are accomplished."

"Fitness and physical development in America have always been related to teamwork," English continued.

"Boys," he added, "like to do things together, whether it be hiking, skiing, baseball, mountain climbing, camping, football, or water sports."

These and other Scouting activities help boys keep up the training they need for the neighborhood ball team, the freshman squad, and varsity or intramural sports.

"We feel that vigorous action in our 310 Scouting units," English said, "and in thousands of others across the nation is the answer to the challenge of improving the fitness of youth."

New 'Avanti' Car Is Displayed Here

Arlington Motors, 1020 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, has announced that it will have the first public showing in this area of Studebaker Corporation's new "Avanti" automobile, an all-new model of sophisticated design.

The Avanti, whose name means "Forward" in Italian, features "power-disc" brakes on the front wheels, a "Jet-Thrust" V-8 engine that is also available with a supercharger, and other high-performance characteristics.

EASY ENTRANCE and exit is emphasized in the interior, along with steering and riding comfort. The car's body, made of fiberglass with a unique reinforced design, includes a built-in steel roof safety arch.

The Avanti is the brainchild of Sherwood H. Egbert, president of Studebaker Corporation.

Area dealer W. D. Curtis of Arlington Motors recently attended a service training school for the new car in South Bend. His dealership also sells the Lark and Hawk. (BB

VIRGINIA TERRACE

August's avenues open wide for incoming visitors and returning vacationeers.

The "wild West" provided the background for Darrell and Francine Elder's vacation this year. The Elders, who live at 1334 N. Chicago, spent more than a week in Denver, where they visited with Francine's brother and family, the Larry Joe Pools, and enjoyed side trips to Colorado Springs and an overnight lodge stay at the Rocky Mountain National Park, in addition to visiting famed Central City, where Darrell tried his luck at panning gold. Son Darin spent his holiday visiting with his grandparents, the P. F. Pools in Springfield.

Dick and Ruth Randle, 1448 N. Yale, report of their July vacation spent with daughters, Janice, Joyce and Carol Jean, and son, William, at Rhinelander, Wis., where they enjoyed the usual summer vacation pursuits.

JACK AND BETTY Kenny, 1301 N. Chicago, spent last week entertaining Betty's sister, Mrs. Margaret King, and sons, Ronnie and David, who were visiting from St. Louis.

Last Monday, Joan, daughter of Charley and Lucia Fleming, 1400 W. Clarendon, celebrated her third birthday with an afternoon party. Guests included Joan's sister, Pam, and playmates, Nancy and Bobby Ostler, with Andrea and David Twilling.

A three-day trip to South Bend kept Marguerite and Hal Cates, 1334 N. Yale, busy last week. Along with their children, the Cates visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrett, and enjoyed splashing in their private pool. Upon their return, Marguerite and Hal hosted a family get-together for the Solon branch, when they entertained 22 people at a back-yard cook-out last Saturday.

NEIGHBORS Bob and Rae Martin, along with children, Sara and Brian, were invited to help celebrate Susie Denson's third birthday last Sunday, at a family party hosted by Jeanne and James Denson, 1608 N. Oakton.

Fishing, swimming and boating were the highlights of the recent vacation enjoyed by Bruce and Sandy Mullins, 1415 N. Illinois, along with children, Michael, Kevin and Marianne. They spent a week in Wisconsin at Birchwood Lodge, near Manitowish Waters.

and Arleen, and his sister,

A double celebration was held last Sunday for James Murphy, who was one year old, and his parents, Jim and Janice, 1326 N. Chicago, who had been married four years. Hosted by James' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Zanetto, in addition to his aunts, Adele Gail.

BELATED baptism news comes from Paul and Irene Pedersen, 1216 N. Chicago, who had their son, Eric Paul, baptized in St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church in Palatine June 24. Godparents, Jerry Burke and Mrs. Geraldine Kuehna, both of Chicago, joined several other members of the family at a celebration dinner which followed the ceremonies.

The Terrace bade farewell this week to Ray and Kathy Mitchell, who moved from 1334 N. Race, to their new home in Connecticut. Another couple to move East this week was Jim and Norma Elf, former residents of 1223 N. Race, who will be spending some time in Everett, Mass., before they settle permanently near Jim's new place of employment in New York City.

A festive get-together with school friends last Saturday afternoon marked the seventh brithday celebration of Hall, son of William and Donna Stratton, 1219 N. Wilke Road.

RECENTLY Karen and Bob Murphy, 1314 N. Illinois, spent several days vacationing at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton, followed by a trip to Milwaukee, where they visited friends, and spent time sightseeing and watching the Milwaukee Braves. During their holiday, Karen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Modory entertained grandchildren, Donna, Mary and Mike, at their home in Kenosha.

Following their return home, the Murphys entertained out-of-town guests, the Roger Williams of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, for a few day's visit. To round out the social calendar, they held an August 5 birthday celebration of son, Mike, who was one year old. Guests included his grandparents from Kenosha, his uncle, Bob Brandsen, and his aunt, Laurie Brandsen, both of Chicago.

The next birthday celebration was held last Saturday in honor of daughter, Donna, who was six-years-old. Guests included Leslie, T. J. and Debbie Bang, Michael Bade, Laurie Martin, Steve Pircher, Kurt Lichtblau and Sandy Steed of Hasbrook. The grand finale of birthday entertaining occurred Sunday, when the Murphys hosted a combination dinner party for Donna and Mike, with aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy and cousins, John and Peggy, attending.

ANOTHER vacation report comes in from Pat and Bill Catsakis, 1232 N. Race, who recently spent two weeks visiting with Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hering in Browns. While there they celebrated son, Daniel's fifth birthday, with guests including aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dukes and his cousin, Paul Wright. An interesting sidelight occurred during their trip when the Catsakises drove to Kentucky to tour Mammoth Cave and the national park in that area.

A combination family get-together and birthday party was hosted last Sunday by Angela and Emil Piscopo, 1325 N. Race. The birthday celebrant was their 4-year-old niece, Nancy Jean Caputo, and guests included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caputo, with brothers, John, Sam, Tom and Bob; her uncle and aunt, the Frank Caputos, along with cousins, the Charles De Carlos and family friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. Burke.

Another family get-together was held in the Terrace last week when James and Mary Lou Charleston, 1333 N. Chicago, entertained Mary Lou's sisters, both of whom are Dominican nuns. Sister Laurentia and Sister John William were en route to their respective teaching positions, having spent the summer in study at St. Joseph's in Rensselaer, Ind.

RECENTLY Debbie Husted, 1610 W. Olive, entertained with a breaking-in-new-sleeping bags slumber party for three of her fellow Scouts, Linda Donath, Nancy Sorensen and Linda Fluhrer. Before the girls departed for their 12-day stay at scout camp in Edgerton, Wis., last week they were again feted at a luncheon party, hosted by Betty Sorensen, 1406 N. Chicago. Additional guests were Jean Millhouser and Linda Cech.

A Sunday supper was held to mark the seventh birthday of David, son of Jo Anne and William Herndon, 1333 Wilke Road. Guests included his brother, Wayne; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nixon of Chicago; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Nixon with cousin, Lynn, of Elk Grove; and another aunt and uncle from Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nixon with cousins, Mark and Ellen.

Another Terrace camper, Claire, daughter of Hazel and Taft Lowell, 1246 N. Yale, returned from a week's stay at the Campfire camp in Wisconsin recently. The Lowells left

When the Arlington Marlins Scuba Divers held their annual outing at Washington Island, Wis., last weekend, one of the most enthusiastic members attending was Robert Post, 2105 E. Park. The group chose this particular locale because of the presence of sunken ships in the harbor, so the trip was rewarding for the diver in the family, and for Mrs. Post who does not dive, it was a weekend of fun and relaxation.

Laura Post, better known as "Peachy," was 5 years old Friday and was wished a happy birthday at a family dinner before her parents left on their trip. In addition to her brothers and sisters, guests were the children's grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte Post, who was doubling as baby-sitter, and great-grandmother, Mrs. Florence Molt, both of Evanston.

THE LYLE LONGRIE family, 429 S. Forrest, are back home after spending two weeks in Los Alamos, N. M., visiting Mrs. Longrie's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ebert. The days were crowded with side trips to places of interest, canyons, natural amphitheaters and Indian villages, each more fascinating than the previous one. Marcia, Mark and Keith were especially taken with an Indian ceremonial dance in which Marcia and Mark joined, dancing on either side of an 8-year-old Indian girl. Mrs. Longrie's mother, Mrs. Mary Karkocki of Elmwood Park, accompanied the family and enjoyed the trip as much as anyone.

Marcia's eighth birthday fell while they were away and was marked at a dinner party at the country club.

When Mr. and Mrs. Al May, 509 S. Prindle, laid plans for their vacation they decided to drive to Greenville, Ala., to visit long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Jones. The two couples then drove to Panama City, Fla., where they took up quarters in adjoining motel suites and spent the next five days relaxing, basking in the sun and deep sea fishing. Most of the catch consisted of king mackerel but the most memorable was a barracuda.

After returning to Greenville with their friends. the Mays continued on to Dayton for a few days with friends there, arriving home Wednesday of last week.

Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest, is a well traveled young man. Within a week after returning home from a vacation in Indianapolis with friends of his parents, he was on his way to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Davis in La Porte, Ind.

MR. AND MRS. William Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, were hosts at a cocktail party and buffet for college friends and business associates last Sunday. Between 50 and 60 guests attended and tables were set up in the garden as well as the recreation room.

Deneen Houser was honored at two parties celebrating her sixth birthday, Aug. 7. On the afternoon of that day a party was given for Judy Revor, Linda and Cindy Christiansen, Marie, Debbie and Lisa Grafitti, Debbie and Johnny McCartney, sister, Debby, brother, David, and cousin, Kathy Kamins of Montreal, Canada.

Last Sunday, Deneen, daughter of the Thomas Housers, 416 S. Waterman, was again feted at a barbecue dinner attended by her grandparents, the senior Thomas Housers of Chicago, the Charles Ochsenhirts of Des Plaines, an uncle and aunt, the James Housers, and godparents, the Ralph Scotts of Chicago.

Eighteen-month-old David Houser was receiving his share of the limelight too. Last Saturday he was rushed to the emergency room of the hospital after swallowing a tack. Recent X-rays show the tack is still present and David is due for another trip to the hospital for more "pictures."

Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest, were Rev. and Mrs. Rudolph Jonson of Cambridge, Ill. The Jonsons are house guests of Mrs. Hermanson's mother, Mrs. John Olson of Evanston.

MRS. RON Rold, Jeff and Roni Jo, 433 S. Gibbons, are back home rested and tanned after spending three weeks in Wild Rose, Wis., with Mr. Rold's mother. With the Rolds at the cottage were friends, Mrs. Leo Holz and her children, Dawn and Steve.

Welcome house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill, 505 S. Gibbons, last weekend were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Toedter of Crivitz, Wis., who were here to attend a wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons, had such an enjoyable vacation last year that they returned to the same spot again this summer. They are just back from two weeks spent at a cottage in northern Minnesota, near Big Fork.

The Ehlen girls, Carol and Kathy, enjoyed a ride around the lakes in a float plane and the whole family spent a day in Canada where Mrs. Ehlen visited for the first time a member of her family who is past 80 years old.

Much of the time was spent fishing, Ed's best catch being a 4½ pound largemouth bass, which is entered in a seasonal contest, although Ed reports he is not too optimistic about winning a prize.

MR. AND MRS. Don Rice, with Don and Jeff, 440 S. Prindle, spent part of their vacation in Pittsburgh, where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sturm. More of the time was spent at a summer cottage near the Pennsylvania-Ohio border, which served as a meeting place for as many family members as could get away. An air of family reunion prevailed the whole time and the Rice family returned home last Thursday feeling they had enjoyed a great many visits just staying in one spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 517 S. Prindle, also chose to go "home" to visit family and friends this summer. First they drove to Saginaw, Mich., to see Mrs. Smith's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steeves. After a few days there the next stop was a cottage at Green Lake, Mich., to swim, golf and renew old friendships. Then on to visit Mr. Smith's brother, Lloyd, and wife who live north of Sarnia, Ontario, in a home directly overlooking Lake Huron.

The Smiths' younger son, Paul, was with his parents on the entire trip, but Dick, a college sophomore who is employed for the summer, was unable to join them until the second week.

The Louis Leistikow family, 512 S. Forrest, joined the outdoor lovers this summer and spent their vacation on a camping trip in Maine and up into Canada.

THE IDEA appealed to son Tommy but not to "Grandma" Carnahan who chose to be dropped off at Jackson, Mich., where she visited another daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hendrickson and her family. After two weeks of camping, Tommy spent two more weeks in Jackson with cousins, Marcia and Lee, and returned to Arlington with his grandmother last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, 412 S. Forrest, with Lisa and Michael, are back home after spending their vacation in Corning, N. Y., where they stayed with his parents. Since Corning is home to the Morgans, they enjoyed seeing old friends and took advantage of a trip to Keuka Lake to go swimming and sailing.

Congratulations on her 16th birthday, Aug. 7, went to Donna Dwyer, daughter of the James Dwyers, 516 S. Forrest. Donna received the best wishes of her family that evening at a small informal party, and at the same party was toasted by friends, Joyce Holm, Gary Cook and Skip Dunnom. (A

WHAT PRICE GOOD HEALTH?

You just can't put a price tag on good health. Next to religious faith, your health concerns your daily living most. Without it, life can be miserable.

Then, why gamble with your health when sickness attacks it. This is no time to try out dubious remedies or look for medicine bargains. Place yourself under the care of the physician in whom you have faith and get your medicines from the pharmacy you personally know.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Registration, Fees Opening on Monday

Registration and fee payments for students of Arlington-Prospect High School District 211 will start next Monday, Aug. 20, and continue through Friday, Aug. 31.

Fees will be collected at Arlington High for both Arlington and Forest View students. Prospect High students will register at that school.

General fee for each student is $12. Student insurance at $2.50, the yearbook at $4.50 and an athletic season pass at $3.50 are optional extras.

IN ADDITION to the general fee, students in certain subjects such as art, home economics or science pay extra fees for special materials. These fees range from $1 to $4.

All freshmen and all students new to District 214 must present a completed medical examination form at the time of registration. Fees will not be accepted from students who do not bring the form, school officials said.

Students who wish student insurance must present a signed insurance form at the time of registration.

SCHOOL OFFICES will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday. Saturday hours will be 9 to 11:30 a.m.

To avoid long waiting periods, school officials have set up an alphabetical registration system which they "suggest" students follow. Under this system students with last names beginning with A through E are asked to register August 20, 21 and 22. Those with names beginning with F through M are scheduled for August 23 and 24.

August 27, 28 and 29 are designated as registration days for students with names beginning with N through R. The last two registration days on August 30 and 31 are slated as S through Z registration periods.

THE FALL sports programs start Wednesday, Aug. 22, with the first practice sessions for varsity, junior-varsity, frosh-soph and freshman teams for all three schools.

Students going out for fall sports are asked by school officials to pay fees on August 20 and 21 so that insurance will be in effect at the time they start practice.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Although the automobile has long been the favorite whipping-boy (and well it might, of course) of safety experts, a fact that escapes the attention of many people is that the home is rather a close runner-up in the source of fatalities.

Most of the household accidents are falls. Poorly lighted and unstable stairs contribute to most of the falls. The spilling of hot drinks is the major cause of burns among children.

It seems that it behooves the householder to make periodic inspection of wiring and appliances, stairs, the storing of poisons and inflammables and other potential hazards.

Once the householder gets the safety angle squared away and starts on redecorating, that's where PALATINE PAINT & GLASS CO. comes in. Paints, wallpaper, glass and a hundred and one other products and supplies are available at low cost at PALATINE PAINT & GLASS CO., 9-11 N. Bothwell. Phone FL 9-0954.

Everyone is Rushed as Labor Day Approaches

One of the surest ways to start a donnybrook these days is to say, "Before y'know it, Labor Day'll be here." Kids at camp, kids visiting favorite relatives and kids in general are hurtingly aware of it — parents of college freshmen-to-be and September brides-to-be are frantically aware of it. So we won't be the ones to remark that Labor Day is just around the corner.

The coming holiday might be one of the few times in recent months that the James Yates family will be intact, if only briefly. There was one day last week, the first this summer, that all the Yates children were home together at 903 N. Vail, so everyone celebrated their rare togetherness and three August birthdays in one swell swoop.

A dinner in downtown Chicago and seeing "Sound of Music" marked Bruce's 16th Aug. 8 birthday, and brought Doug and Deborah early congratulations. Doug reaches the "today I am a man" milestone today and Debby, who returned from camp just in time last week, will be 11 years old Aug. 26.

AS DEBBY entrained at Hickory Hills Camp in Wisconsin with half a trainload of fellow campers, her sister, Susan, a counsellor at the same camp, was boarding a different section of the same train to complete the family reunion.

Susan has since returned to work and will finish out the summer counselling at a YWCA camp in Burlington, Wis. She'll return home for a Labor Day Week breather before taking off for Madison and the beginning of her first year in the University of Wisconsin. Mom will wait for her breather until Doug's return, later in the month, to his studies at Northwestern University.

Susan's counselling at Hickory Hills was officially and pleasantly interrupted for two weeks while she attended the annual Girl Scout Round-up, held this year at Button Bay, Vt. The bay is so-called because of the abundance of buttonlike stones on the beach. Susan reports that the supply was so drastically reduced by 10,000 stone-collecting Girl Scouts that the place is now known as Buttonless Bay.

ALSO BUSILY coming and going this summer are the Norman Tucker children, Michael and Debby, who have occasionally stopped at 911 N. Gibbons to unpack and repack and renew their acquaintance with Mom and Dad. Michael is now in Columbus, Ind. at the end of his second week with his grandparents, the H. F. Lemleys, and asking can he please stay one more week.

Debby is home, presumably to stay, after several weeks of commuting between here and the Michigan home of her best friend, Randi Sauter of Birmingham. Randi came here for a week with Debby, then both girls flew to Birmingham and eventually Mrs. Sauter drove them here again so that they could have one more week together.

THE JACK Kellers returned to 512 W. South Saturday after their annual two weeks at a lakeside resort in Boulder Junction, Wis. As per a custom of several years' standing, they reunited there with six other families, now old friends, to enjoy all the vacation fun with them.

Kathy and the daughter of one of the families enjoyed their reunion so much, in fact, that Kathy was allowed to remain with her friend until yesterday when their vacation ended.

Kathy's sister, Rosalie, also came home yesterday after seven weeks at Camp Osoha. The camp is near enough to Boulder Junction so that Mom and Dad could visit their camper during their Wisconsin stay.

The Sam Clark family returned to 608 S. Walnut early last week from their annual two weeks in Douglas, Mich., accompanied by the daughter of Glen Ellyn friends, the Don Davidsons, with whom they traditionally vacation. Each year the Clarks' daughter, Kristin, and her friend, Sandra, find that the time together is too short and this year solved the dilemma with Sandra's week-long stay here.

MRS. GARY Vance and son, Karl of Longview, Tex., left here Sunday after a summer-long visit with Mrs. Vance's parents, the Barnard Birds, 122 N. Forrest. Karl, not quite 1½ years old, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Frame of Kansas City, Mo., mutually enjoyed a getting-to-know-you-again session the previous weekend when Mrs. Frame was a visitor here in her daughter's home.

The reluctance of Sunday's farewells to the Vances was balanced, happily, by the welcoming home of the Birds' other daughter, Daneille, who has been in Northwest Community Hospital. Daneille, an avid and expert young horsewoman, underwent knee surgery and will recuperate, at home and horseless, for several weeks.

Now visiting at 122 N. Forrest to see for herself that Daneille is doing well is Grandmother Bird who arrived this week with her other son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Bird of Corpus Christi. They are just back from a vacation trip to their former home town, Portland, Ore., and a tour of the Seattle World Fair, and will remain here the rest of the week.

THE CHARLES Baker family, 19 N. Pine, came home last Wednesday from a 10-day vacation that began in Ann Arbor where Kathy attended University of Michigan orientation sessions for two days. The family next spent a day with Karen, who, this summer remained in Detroit to work when her sophomore classes ended at Wayne University.

She'll return to her studies in the Detroit school shortly after Karen begins her first year at the University of Michigan Sept. 10. From Detroit the Bakers went to Door County for a week of summer-resort fun and relaxation.

The Thomas Obermayer family vacationed last week at Boot Lake in Park Falls, Wis. and returned Saturday night to 1212 N. Mitchell to report, "the kids caught the fish." Dad wet a line now and then, too, but since he was after the big ones and it was the little ones that were biting, he's not bragging. He's not complaining either, though, since the week offered lots of sunning, swimming and loafing opportunities.

TWO ARLINGTON Heights families have recently returned from their first visits to Las Vegas, each enthusiastically in favor of the town. The families do not know each other, neither was aware of the other's presence in Las Vegas, and, contrary to most reports that start this way, they did NOT run into each other anywhere.

The Harry Goluses, 1103 N. Mitchell, spent three days of a 3-week vacation at the popular Stardust Hotel, then went on to the West Coast. In San Francisco they were primarily on a sightseeing jaunt and in Los Angeles they combined sightseeing with visiting relatives and friends in the area. It was a totally fine vacation with the three days in Las Vegas rated special raves and the comment, "It was our first time there, but it certainly won't be the last."

These sentiments were echoed verbatim by Mr. and Mrs. John DeLoncker, Wayne and Diane, and Mrs. DeLoncker's mother, Mrs. Rose Hansen of Morton Grove, who enjoyed 18 days in Las Vegas at the famed Thunderbird Hotel. They attended many of the shows and night club acts, and report that they have to rely heavily on the word, "fabulous" to describe the Eddie Fisher-Mimi Hines-Phil Ford show, Pat Boone, the French Revue and "Bye Bye Birdie."

Diane is almost totally at a loss for words regarding her visit to the Tropicana where the favorite of teenagers, Paul Anka, appeared. It was Pat Boone who captivated everyone, however, when he casually stretched the DeLonckers' autograph request into a 20-minute visit with them in his dressing room.

A LAKESIDE cottage and fine boating, swimming and fishing made the Charles Wrobels' vacation delightful, but young Chris' surrender to a virus chopped their two weeks short. Mr. Wrobel and Jerry stayed an extra day to take care of the inevitable vacation-end details after the rest of the family went whizzing home Thursday to take care of Chris. Now that the vacation is done for, so is the virus and everything's fine at 616 W. George.

Debbie Helmbold was 13 years old Tuesday and queen of the realm that evening at a family barbecue party that included her grandparents, the Charles Schwaeders of Chicago. Just like a member of the family and part of the party at 646 S. Dunton was Debbie's friend, another local Debbie named Deehring.

VISITORS last week in the Howard Hansen home, 730 S. Mitchell, were the hosts's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hansen and Cary of Minneapolis. They all attended the International Trade Fair in McCormick Place and spent additional days seeing other points of interest in Chicago.

Recent weekend guests in the Bruce Ostermick home, 126 N. Forrest, were friends from Ripon, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Keith. Monday the senior Mrs. Ostermick arrived from Milwaukee to bring grandson, Van, back home after a 4-day visit with her, and she enjoyed an overnight stay before returning to Milwaukee.

Her departing was followed by the arrival of New Orleans friends, the Erwin Aden family who will spend the rest of the week here. By way of introducing the Adens to some of Chicago's cultural and scenic attractions, the Ostermicks, also formerly of New Orleans, enjoyed a few of the sights for the first time themselves.

The Frank Halama family, 825 S. Highland, returned Sunday from a 9-day motor trip to and through Colorado, enjoying the scenic wonders all the way. During their weather-perfect tour, they visited Estes Park and Colorado Springs, and drove to the top of Mt. Evans. According to Mrs. Halama she "but it was wonderful."

Mr. and Mrs. Muran also report a recent visit in Indianapolis with longtime friends and former Arlington Heighters, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stefanik. They returned with abundant greetings from the Stefaniks to their many other friends here.

AN OUTDOOR barbecue supper party Saturday night in the Henry Taylor backyard at 1201 N. Dunton highlighted the weekend visit of Mrs. Taylor's sister and brother-in-law, the Ellsworth Beemans of Buffalo, N.Y. Among the several Chicago family members here for the reunion was Mrs. Taylor's and Mrs. Beeman's father, Edward Whitney, who had been visiting with the Beemans.

Richard Klages, on 2-week leave from his station at Quonset Point, R. I., arrived here Saturday and is catching up on his sleep and Mom's home cooking at 1135 N. Dunton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Loechl, 1213 N. Dunton, returned Sunday from a week in Seattle that combined business with the pleasure of visiting the world fair. During their absence, three of their children kept Grandpa and Grandma Loechl from getting lonesome in Elkhorn, Wis. and another decided it was a good time to visit a Chicago aunt.

All segments of the family reconvened here Sunday night with the exception of Miss Chrissie who will be in Wisconsin at Camp Hickory Hill until next Monday.

MR. AND Mrs. James Warriner, 601 E. Fairview, have had as their guest for several weeks, Mrs. Warriner's mother, Mrs. Lula Foster of Seymour, Ind. Mrs. Foster returned home Thursday with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Story, who visited the Warriner home. Neighbors and other friends were present to wish the Andersons a "bon voyage." They are soon leaving for England and a tour of the other European countries.

Another of the Andersons' daughters, Peggy, flew home from Washington, D.C., for the weekend and had as her houseguest Polly Fehlman, Director of Admissions at Augustana College in Rock Island.

Also present to wish his parents an enjoyable vacation was their son, Peter, and his guest, Miss Jan Francio of Gibson, City.

Other guests were the Russell Calvins, Clyde Ferrys, the Willard Neus, Richard Mandtts, the Richard Phillips and Ray Ericksons.

MR. AND MRS. William Ball, 454 Banbury, were hosts at a supper and swim party Sunday for members of Arlington Heights center of the Infant Welfare Society. The Balls included husbands of members as their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ballard, 407 E. Rockwell, had as their weekend houseguests, friends from Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Frosty Ferren.

The Charles H. Oestmann family, 320 S. Burton, are home from a 3-week vacation in the northwest. They went by train to Seattle, where they were guests of Mrs. raesOne'tnm guests of Mrs. Oestermann's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, with whom they took a 10-day sailing and salmon fishing trip in the Canadian waters off Stewart Island. Before returning home, the Oestmanns spent four days at the Seattle Worlds Fair.

Another Scarsdale family returning from a vacation in Seattle were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Berlin, 503 E. Grove. The Berlins and their four children flew to Seattle and spent two weeks visiting both their parents, the E. E. Berlins and Mrs. Genevieve Quinn. Included in their stay was a visit to the fair, and a salmon fishing trip for Mr. Berlin while Mrs. Berlin visited friends and relatives in the area.

MR. AND MRS. Raymond Erickson, 601 S. Burton, and their three children returned Wednesday from a 6-week vacation in California. Mr. Erickson accompanied his family to California and then left for a 3-week business trip to Sidney, Australia, while Mrs. Erickson and the children remained with her sister, Mrs. John McStarrin, in Palos Verdes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Skinner, 721 S. Beverly, have as their houseguest, Mr. Skinner's sister, Mrs. Mabel Miller of Chicago, who has just concluded a 3-month cruise through the South Seas, including a visit to Australia, New Zealand, Tahaiti and a month's stay in Hawaii.

Last Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner were hosts to 44 guests at a barbecue, from 4:30 to 10:30. Guests included members and their families of the 390th Anti-Aircraft Battalion, which was having its 15th annual reunion at the Park Ridge Inn. During the reunion, one of the members, Charles Montgomery of Elk Grove and an employee of the Arlington Heights post office, was elected second vice chairman of the Battalion.

MRS. DONALD Strathearn Jr., 720 Bristol, and her children, Don and Julia, spent the past five days in Brookfield, Wis. visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown. Don remained with his grandparents for a longer visit.

Frank O'Connell Jr. 516 S. Belmont, and a young Arlington Heights friend, Edward O'Gara, left Wednesday for a motor trip to the East Coast. They plan to tour through some of the eastern states, including New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey, and to visit relatives along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heintz, 888 Bristol, recently returned from Iowa City where Mr. Heintz underwent ear surgery. This past weekend, they had as their guests, Mrs. Heintz' aunt and uncle, the senior James Polites and the junior James Polites and their daughter, Cynthia Anne of Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton, 627 S. State, their daughter, Shelley, and nephew, Brooks Bauske of Arlington Heights, recently flew to California where Mr. Sutton underwent two weeks of navy training at Treasure Island, and Mrs. Sutton and the children vacationed at nearby San Manteo. During her stay in California, Mrs. Sutton visited the James Wickens family in Menlo Park. Mrs. Wickens, who formerly lived in Scarsdale, sends regards to all her friends here.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Ross, 341 Bristol, returned Sunday from a 4-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ross of Fort Mitchell, Ky. Their two sons, David and Richard, accompanied them, and they enjoyed getting acquainted with a young cousin, Bill Ross of Dallas who was also visiting his grandparents.

Mrs. Louis Shafland of Ames, Iowa, spent the weekend in Arlington Heights visiting her daughter and family, the Lester Schreibers, 123 S. Brighton.

The Gale Oberlins, 201 S. Dryden, and their children, Dewey and Christine, spent the month of July, vacationing at Sturgeon Bay in Door County.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 S. Windsor, were in Baltimore recently where they attended a Counter Intelligence Corps Convention. Afterwards, they left for the New Jersey seashore, where they were joined by Mrs. Jurco's sister, Mrs. Peter Lucchesi and her two children for a 2-week vacation.

THE GEORGE H. Jirgals, 428 S. Windsor, spent the weekend in Springfield visiting their son, George's, fiancee's family, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaughnessy, and made last minute preparations for the wedding of Mr. Jirgal and Miss Lois Shaughnessy Aug. 25 in St. Joseph Catholic Church of Springfield.

They attended a luncheon and surprise personal shower for Miss Shaughnessy at the Georgian Hotel Tearoom, with only family members present, among which were her mother, grandmother, seven sisters, a sister-in-law and Miss Marianne Jirgal, who will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding.

The Jirgals concluded their stay in Springfield with a visit to the State Fair and the Horse Show held in conjunction with the fair.

Mrs. Walter Strobel and Mrs. Robert Wright gave a miscellaneous bridal shower Wednesday evening in the Strobel home, 1319 Mayfair, in honor of the former's niece, Miss JoAnne Metz, who will be married Sept. 1 to Charles Royston of Toledo in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

Miss Catherine Gard returned home to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gard, 336 S. Windsor, Wednesday after spending the summer with her aunt and uncle, the John Astroms at Mackinaw City, Mich.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Elaine Winter, 632 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, will be sorry to learn of the death of her brother, Wilbert Schroeder of Des Plaines, who died Aug. 1 in his home. Sympathies are extended to his father, August, and his brothers and sister.

Run Off Seven Make-Ups

Seven make-up games were played in the Classic 16-inch Softball league last week.

The important game, of course, was between Garden Liquors and Sigwalts to determine first place.

GARDEN LIQUORS came out on top 14-7.

In their other game, Liquors defeated Pure Oil 15-1.

After their loss to Garden Liquors, Pure Oil posted two victories by beating Meyer's Dairy 9-8, and winning over Hofbrau by virtue of a forfeit.

In the remaining games Matics defeated the Pioneers 22-7, and the Strats won over the Turfs 11-8.

Bob Scuba won over Meyer's Dairy, but no score was turned in.

Remodeling of Tennis Court Lighting Complete

Tom Thornton, Director of the Arlington Heights Park District, announced this week the completion of the remodeling of the Recreation Park tennis court lighting.

The remodeling which cost $3,866.00 consisted of replacing the old incandescent lights with new high intensity "Quartz Lites."

Because of the limited number of tennis courts and the steadily increasing interest and participation in tennis by the adult residents of the park district, the new lighting will provide new opportunities for play after business hours, and help solve the problem of over crowding of the courts on weekends.

THE NEW lighting is controlled by coin meters set to give 60 minutes of lighting for 25 cents. Thornton said the coin meters were installed to eliminate the need for an attendant at the courts, and to help defray the cost of the current.

The Park District tennis facilities consist of three lighted courts in Recreation Park, four lighted courts in Pioneer Park and two unlighted courts at the Dryden Park School. In addition to the Park District courts the Arlington High School maintains eight unlighted courts that are available to the public.

The Park District is planning three new lighted tennis courts for Hasbrook Park, which will be completed by next spring.

Mark Motors to Meet 45th Tonight

Mark Motors and the 45th Artillery, still carrying hopes for a possible championship, will square off tonight (Thursday) at 7 o'clock at Recreation Park in a makeup game of the Arlington Park District's Classic 12-inch softball league.

A victory by Mark Motors would boost them into a tie for second place with the soldiers. The Bravo Braves currently hold first place in the high-flying league with a 6-1 standard.

In competition last Sunday the Bravo Braves whipped the 45th Artillery 3-1; Mark Motors stopped Hasbrook Hawks 8-6; and Griffith Insurance routed the Cardinals 17-7.

Jim Goebbert pitched for Mark Motors in the 8-6 victory with Ron Webber supplying the long blow, a home run. Chuck Bencic was a standout on defense at second base.

In Griffith Insurance's victory George Creswell turned in impressive performances both on the mound and at bat.

George scattered six hits and personally drove across five runs with a single, double, and home run.

Three more games remain to be played on the league schedule.

Bill Lutz Claims 500-Lap Classic At O'Hare Oval

Thirty-two year old Bill Lutz, formerly of Louisville, Ky., but now of Melrose Park, went nonstop to win the first annual O'Hare American 500 lap stock car classic before a capacity crowd Saturday night at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds.

O'Hare now returns to its regular weekly schedule which includes modified stock cars on Friday, new car races with Lutz and many other midwest stars on Saturday and Sunday and Golden Chariots with men and women racing Wednesday. Cadet late models are an added attraction with chariots a bonus treat Sunday. First race is always 8:30 p.m.

DRIVING A 1961 Chevrolet, Lutz scored the most important win of his 10-year career after a stirring and grueling duel with current O'Hare point leader Erik Johnson of Highland Park who was forced to give in during the late stages of the race when his right front tire blew out twice.

Lutz encountered no troubles. He used the same four tires for the entire 500-lap, 125-mile test. He started with 32 gallons of gas and finished with less than one gallon remaining. Thirty cars started the race with 18 still running at the finish.

After Lutz and Johnson came, in order, Butch Linden of Buffalo Grove, Neil Houston of Des Plaines, Gene Marmor of Schiller Park and Bob Urban of Highland Park. Time of the race was two hours, 32 minutes and 37.13 seconds.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Celebrating her parents' 45th wedding anniversary by a family reunion in Ohio was the highlight of the vacation trip for Mrs. Vernon Jensen, 935 N. Kaspar. The Jensen family made the trip to honor Rev. and Mr. James R. Love of Madison and the reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Jensen's brother, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Love in Ada, Ohio. Also present were her sister and family, the Clark Lords of Akron. Last week Julie Jensen marked her third birthday with a family celebration.

Ridge Parkers planning fall calendars have a chance to become part of two neighborhood organizations. Looking for regulars or substitutes are the bridge group. Interested couples should contact the Ed Laws at CL 5-4290. Mrs. Law is not only scheduling bridge but also packing as well for Ralph, who leaves for college in two weeks. He's been honored by an invitation to participate in early track events.

Bowling fans can join the Ridge Park Bowlers League by calling the Dick Andrews, CL 3-8854, or Bert Van Duzers, CL 3-7866. Marge and Dick Andrew have been accepting congratulations on the safe arrival of Robert John, considerably ahead of schedule. Marge enjoyed having her mother, Mrs. Amelia Gregory, with them since May. Mrs. Gregory left this week for Long Beach, Calif.

NEIGHBORS and friends send best wishes to David Petersen, son of Rev. and Mrs. John Petersen, now convalescing at 944 N. Kaspar after surgery in St. Joseph Hospital, Elgin.

Birthday congratulations go to Karen Daughtry, daughter of the Wallace Daughtrys, 715 W. Elm, now 7.

A "doll" birthday cake made by her godmother, Mrs. Frank Kieca of Ridge Park was featured at Monica Schlickman's third birthday party. Mrs. Kieca made a sponge cake, put the doll in the center and frosted the cake to be the skirt of the doll. Monica's parents, the Gene Schlickmans, entertained the Kiecas at a barbecue at 712 N. Fernandez.

"Snakes and bugs and mosquitos," says Mrs. Guy Scalzitti, describing the family's camping experience on the way to Sylacauga, Ala. The Scalzittis have returned to 836 N. Fernandez after more than two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Tom Williams.

Overenthusiastic gardener Christopher Bone raised his hoe Monday. Brother Bobby walked under the blade, and neighbors cooperated in an emergency room trip for stitching.

Two parties helped Patti Rosheger celebrate her third birthday. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rosheger, 807 N. Kennicott, she welcomed her sisters, Pam and Penny and guests Sheri Argust, and Janet and Joyce Mills. That evening the Roshegers entertained friends and relatives in Patti's honor.

WELL WORTH a trip to Lincoln Park Conservatory, in Norma Barnes' opinion, is the unusual flower show featuring formal and informal gardens.

The Eugene Barnes picnicked at Lincoln Park Zoo Sunday after a company outing at Riverview.

A week in Bermuda gave the Dick Surettes, now home at 1004 N. Kaspar, an opportunity for motobike riding, swimming and a relaxing vacation. Ricky, Barbie and Tommy stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Surette and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Burnap, both of Leominster, Mass. During their visit Barbie celebrated her second birthday.

Snowballs in July and a trip to frozen Iceberg Lake made their vacation memorable for the Ed Elste family. Their nephews, Jack and Douglas Paupa of Palatine, joined Craig in the 11-mile hike in Glacier Park and enjoyed the Black Hills and Deadwood, home of Bill Hickok. The boys counted 37 bears in Yellowstone, and the Elstes came home to 716 N. Fernandez via Wyoming, the Tetons and Nebraska. Currently, Craig is staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elste, at Turner Camp in Fox River Grove. He was unexpectedly surprised by winning the popularity contest there and being honored with a crown and parade.

Birthday wishes were given to Andrea Polites, now 8, by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Economou of Chicago, brother, Jimmy, and cousins, Star, Pamela and Angela, at a family gathering Saturday. Andrea's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Polites, 944 N. Salem.

Two grandmothers arrived to welcome Mary Kelly Harrington, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrington, 1212 W Northwest Hwy. First to visit was Mrs. R. E. Given from Ripley, Tenn. Now staying with the Harringtons is Mrs. Pauline Hazlewood, from Humboldt, Tenn.

NINE DAYS in Philadelphia gave the James Gallagher family a chance to see sisters, brothers and parents. They visited Mrs. Helen Dillin andd Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher. Evelyn, Kathleen and Jimmy enjoyed the train ride—until they passed over the same Pennsylvania Railroad tracks where the baseball train had gone into the Susquehanna, less than 24 hours after the accident. They are home again at 625 N. Kaspar.

Greenfield Village and a ride on the steamboat Suanne were features of vacation for the Marshall Gray family, 1011 N. Princeton. They stayed at the Dearborn Inn and test-drove a Lincoln in the Ford Rotunda. Lynn Gray celebrated her ninth birthday at lunch with Debbie Warejcka.

August has been a busy month for the Glen Rubenking family, 948 N. Fernandez. They spent a week at a cottage in Palisades Park, Mich., with Barbara's parents, the L. D. Kindreds of Beason, and sister, the C. W. Nicholsons of Macomb. Marla Rubenking spent last week in Beason with her cousin, while Marissa was at the Nicholsons. Friday the Rubenkings expect Debra, Kathy and Chipper for a week while their parents vacation in Pennsylvania.

August 6 they entertained the Charles Parvin, of Arlington Heights, the Raab Sechrists, Mrs. Bernard Welch and daughters and her aunt, Miss Benson, all of Rolling Meadows at a backyard barbecue. The next day Mr. and Mrs. William Froehlig joined them for the evening.

FROM SHERWOOD

Jill Giuliani, daughter of the Chester J. Giulianis, 1314 Watling, who becomes the bride of John P. Kennedy Saturday, has been honored recently at several parties. Dinner parties were given by Robert Moody of Plum Grove, and Betsy King and Marcia Born in the King home. Wednesday's luncheon at Rolling Green Country Club was given by Pamela Haslam and her mother, Mrs. John Haslam. Thursday's luncheon at Old Orchard will be given by Sally Jansen of Bethesda, Md., one of Jill's bridesmaids.

The Harold Miller family, 1102 W. Clarendon Road, have enjoyed a houseful of company. First to arrive was Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. W. B. McCormick of Bellefountaine, Ohio. Her daughter and family, the George Ours of Columbus; the Miller's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oakley and Julia Ann; and the Miller's nephew, the A. L. McCormick family of Bellefountaine, have been recent guests here.

Moving Thursday are the Rober E. Getter family of 1220 N. Harvard. Mr. Getter, an executive with Armco Steel, has been transferred to Middletown, Ohio. (A

Bus Transportation Poses Problem for High Schools

High school bus transportation continues as a necessary, but unwanted, problem for both Arlington-Prospect District 214 and Palatine-Schaumburg District 211.

The two districts appear to take opposite stands in finding solutions.

Current pressure has been on both school districts to provide bus service for students living less than 1½ miles from high schools in "dangerous" or non-sidewalk roads.

The 1½ mile limit for free bus service is designated by the state in its policy of subsidizing transportation only for students living more than 1½ miles from a school.

With the opening of District 211's new frosh-soph school on Quentin Road last year and District 214's new Forest View High on Goebbert Road the pressure by parents mounted.

Both schools are located in farm-type areas. Both are surrounded by narrow, gravel roads with limited shoulders and no sidewalks. Parents in both areas claim the roads are dangerous for students walking to school, particularly in winter when snow compels children to walk on roads.

Last year when pressure mounted for bus service or sidewalks at the new frosh-soph school, Palatine-Schaumburg board members unsuccessfully sought county aid in constructing walks along Quentin Road.

This year they have agreed to subsidize bus service for freshmen and sophomores in the 1½-mile area, requiring a $10 per semester fee for transportation. "Pay" students are able to ride regular school buses provided room is available. For others a special bus is provided.

For the past two months Arlington-Prospect board members have heard groups of parents, officials of community and homeowner associations, elementary school officials. The latest groups to appear were representatives of Elk Ridge Villa headed by Joseph Stecker and Arlington Gardens with Warren Loiselle as spokesman.

To all, District 214 board members have given courteous attention and then firmly explained the district policy of not providing free transportation in the 1½-mile area. School officials stress a "pay bus" at the rate of $5 per month is available for students living in the 1½-mile zone. They point out that this service takes the question of children walking to school out of the category of safety to one of economics.

"IT ISN'T the safety of children that is the question," one school board member noted. "It is the simple question of free bus transportation." Another board member stated. "The availability of bus service to all students, even if some have to pay a fee, eliminates the 'safety' plea."

Last Monday, District 214 reaffirmed this policy in spite of strong pleas by member Charles Fyfe of Elk Grove for free transportation at the Forest View school only. He called the roads in the area of the school, particularly State Road, as the worst roads in the county.

As the matter now stands, children living within 1½ miles of all District 214 schools must walk, rely on their parents for private transportation or pay for bus transportation.

Among the complaints voiced by parents on the "pay bus" situation is that a special bus is used for this service. Under this system a student living a few blocks from a school may ride a bus for 45 minutes to an hour in a circular route before finally getting to the school.

THE PRESSURE for free bus service close to schools is a new experience for both school boards. Both "old" schools in the two districts are located in well-settled village areas with ample sidewalks. With the rise of school enrollments and construction of schools in more rural areas, the problem has grown.

When District 214 opened Prospect High several years ago there were no sidewalks in the school area. There are now walks on Foundry Road near the school, but children still must walk along traffic-clogged Elmhurst and Rand Roads in the 1½ mile zone.

ADDITIONAL problems on bus purchases, maintenance, garage facilities and parking areas face both boards. Arlington-Prospect has a contract with the Cook County School Bus Co. for service. After almost two years of zoning hearings and court litigation the bus company and school district finally were successful in zoning a parcel of property on Busse Road as a bus terminal.

Palatine-Schaumburg operates its own transportation system. In five years the bus operation has grown from eight buses to 26 this fall. With the rapid growth school officials this year have hired a full-time bus manager, a mechanic and are studying the rental or construction of garage facilities.

While both school boards appear to have different views on bus service, they share the common feeling. As one Arlington board member stated this week, "If we didn't provide any transportation this whole situation wouldn't arise and we could concentrate on educational matters as we should."

Earnings of State Rise $1 Million

SPRINGFIELD, (UPI) — Monthly earnings of Illinois state treasury funds rose over a million dollars in July for the first time in history, State Treasurer Francis S. Lorenz reported Monday.

July earnings were $1,111,716. July's increase over June resulted from many factors, Lorenz said, including transfer of securities investments to take advantage of changes in the market.

The $1,111,718.78 earnings figure includes $276,125 interest on bank deposits and $835,591 return on securities investments.

A rare dissatisfied customer: He says our drive-up windows (all six of them) are too short. We've apologized. Told him we have more drive-up windows than most any bank. And that they're just right for all our customers but him. Didn't impress him. Said he deserved the same considerate service our other drive-up customers get. We did the next best thing. We opened a drive-up roof. If we ever get a mole for a customer we'll open a drive-down tunnel. In the meantime, keep in mind that our present drive-up windows (all six of them) are just exactly right for you. Another exceptional service from Citizens, the exceptional bank.

DONNING THEIR SUNDAY best chapeaux, quintet of purebred dogs considers wagon transportation for the big show coming up Sunday, Aug. 19, when Northwest Obedience Club stages its fifth annual obedience trials to be held on the grounds of Prospect High School, Mount Prospect. The public is being invited to the all-day show to witness, first hand, the results of obedience training. More than 200 dogs from the Chicago area and the Midwest are expected to participate. (A-14

Licensed Trial

Obedience Dog Show Slated for Aug. 19

A "doggone" good show of educated pure-bred canines will be held on the grounds of Prospect High School, Foundry Road, Mount Prospect, Sunday, Aug. 19, when the Northwest Obedience Club of Suburban Chicago holds its fifth annual AKC licensed all-breed obedience trial.

Dogs, judged simultaneously in five rings, will be shown in the Novice A and B, Open A and B and Utility classes. A tracking test will be held on the Becher Hungerford Estate, Cuba Road, Barrington, on the same day.

ROUTINE IN the novice classes includes heeling on and off leash, stand for examination, recall and long sits and downs.

The open classes add jumps and retrieving exercises while utility, for the more advanced dogs, includes scent discrimination and hand signals.

In the tracking test, a lost item will be traced by the dog over a previously laid out trail through heavy brush.

Recognized as one of the largest shows in the country, the trial boasts nearly 200 entrants coming from Illinois and the surrounding states. Prizes in th. form of trophies and ribbons number more than 100 for the high-scorers.

Members of the Northwest Obedience Club, who train in Palatine weekly, are inviting the public to witness the dogs' performances. Judging will begin at 9 a.m. and free parking is available. Plate dinners as well as barbecues will be sold in the school cafeteria. (A14

Medical Bill Probe Asked

— Illinois Auditor Michael J. Howlett has called for a joint investigation by the Illinois Public Aid Commission and Illinois Medical Society into medical payments for public aid recipients.

Howlett, a member of the IPAC, said a probe by his own staff has raised the question whether recipients are getting the best medical attention and whether the taxpayers are getting full value for their dollar.

"Records of the auditor's office show 20 per cent of what is paid for public aid goes for costs of medical care," said Howlett. "This is much higher than the national average for the general population."

HOWLETT SAID the population of the country spends only 6.3 per cent of consumer dollar for medical care and the difference between it and the 20 per cent figure "indicated to me we should review our procedures."

Howlett suggested looking into closer screening of patients, more adequate procedures for checking and verifying vouchers presented by doctors and druggists for payment and the possibility of making it mandatory for the IPAC to give permission before recipients go to a doctor.

Howlett said one Chicago physician received $7,011 for 2,000 office visits and 1,990 patient injections during one month and another receiving $5,472 for 1,243 visits and 962 injections the same month.

DURING ANOTHER month, he said, a Rushville doctor received $1,199 for 365 calls and 156 injections and two drug stores in the same town filled 783 prescriptions as a cost of the IPAC of $2,627.

"When a doctor presents a bill showing more than 100 recipients visited his office in a single day, it leads one to wonder if each was given thorough examination," Howlett said.

Ask 'Dry Feeding' of Cows Due to Fallout

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Dairy farmers in the Eau Claire area have been asked to "dry feed" their cattle as a precautionary measure against possible harmful radiation caused by recent nuclear tests.

Harold Olson, Spring Valley, Wis., representing the Twin City Milk Producers Association, said dry forage which has been stored 21 days or more is considered uncontaminated. However Olson said there is no current danger in milk.

IN MILWAUKEE Health Commissioner Dr. E. H. Krumbiegel said there is no danger that milk coming into the Milwaukee market will reach harmful radiation levels.

Krumbiegel said that for the present, at least, recent high in the air nuclear tests showed very low levels of radioactive materials. Aggregate samples from dairies in the Milwaukee milk shed for July showed only 20 micromicrocuries. A micromicrocurie is a measurement of the level of Iodine 131, a radioactive material.

The level of minimum tolerance for radiation in milk is 36,500 micromicrocuries a year.

DR. WALLACE Lawton, Minneapolis, a member of a Minnesota Advisory Committee on Radiation, said the level now in the Twin Cities area has reached 33,000 micromicrocuries.

He added that fallout from the recent Russian tests could reach the Twin Cities in about 15 days with certain wind directions. (A14

Citizen Support of Court Reform Hailed

(UPI) — The chairman of the Committee for Modern Courts said Tuesday that citizens' response to the court reform blue ballot judicial amendment to the state constitution "is surpassing all past blue ballot campaigns."

James Rutherford, chairman, said campaign committees already have been formed in 90 of the states 102 counties, and that heavily populated counties like Cook, Lake, DuPage and Kane counties have several committees. These four counties have 56 citizens committees working for passage of the amendment, Rutherford said.

A SIMILAR judicial article submitted to the voters in 1958, missed receiving the required two-thirds majority by only a few thousand votes.

"The 1958 defeat has made us keenly aware of the very hard work required to stir public recognition of the opportunity to improve our system of justice that is offered by the blue ballot," Rutherford said. "A two-thirds majority is a tough

THE COMMITTEE for modern courts represents more than 65 business, labor, farm and civic organizations backing the blue ballot judicial amendment.

Rutherford said the only opposition to the proposed amendment has come from the justices of the peace and police magistrates whose jobs would be abolished if the amendment is adopted. (A14

Clark Appeals Tax Delinquency Case

(UPI) — William G. Clark, Illinois Attorney General, has filed a petition for leave to appeal an Appellate Court ruling that justices of the peace cannot act in suits for personal property taxes.

Clark said the petition was filed with the State Supreme Court on Saturday.

The Appellate Court decision stemmed from a Will County case. Frank H. Masters Jr., Will County State's Attorney, assigned 25 cases for the collection of personal property taxes to justices of the peace June 8, 1961.

THE TWO justices — Robert R. Berchar and George E. Sangmeister — refused to issue summons against the defendants named in the suits.

Clark said if the Appellate Court ruling is allowed to stand County Court dockets will become clogged with personal property tax cases against delinquent taxpayers. (A14

C&NW Plan

Railroad to Offer Tickets by Mail

(UPI) — Commuters soon will be able to ride now and pay later under a new credit system planned by the Chicago and North Western Railway.

F. V. Koval, director of commuter services, said the railroad will offer a ticket-by-mail program beginning with October monthly tickets.

UNDER THE PLAN, tickets will be mailed automatically about the 25th of each month to the rider's home or office along with a billing statement. Commuters will have until the 10th of the next month to pay for the ticket.

Koval said this was the first time to his knowledge that a railroad has sold commuter tickets by mail and with a 10-day credit included.

"For the regular daily commuter, the plan eliminates the annoyance of the first-of-the month rush to buy his ticket or standing in long ticket lines," he said. (A14

Independent Voters Make Endorsements

George H. Watson, chairman of the Independent Voters of Illinois, announced at a press conference last week the first endorsements of his organization for the November election.

Elroy C. Sandquist Jr., Republican candidate for Cook Count Judge, and Richard B. Ogilvie, Republican candidate for Sheriff were endorsed by the IVI.

ALSO ENDORSED were Democratic incumbents: Edward J. Barrett, County Clerk; Bernard Korzen, County Treasurer; Robert Jerome Dunne, Probate Judge; and Anthony Girolami, Probate Court Clerk.

"The office of Cook County Judge will receive our particular attention," Watson stated. "It is this office which has jurisdiction over the election machinery of Chicago and therefore has ultimate importance in all elections."

WATSON, WHO is dean of students and professor of political science at Roosevelt University said that "Sandquist's excellent legal background and his outstanding administration of the State's Attorney's civil division from 1957-1961 indicate that his election will result in high standards in the County Court and will help to restore public confidence in the electoral process which was severely damaged as a result of the 1960 vote frauds."

"The Sheriff can also play an important role in protecting the sanctity of the ballot box," Watson continued. "More important, the election of Richard B. Ogilvie will be vital in curtailing the operations of the crime syndicate through the prevention of illicit and illegal activities in the county.

IN ADDITION, we have confidence that Ogilvie will bring about marked improvements in the administration of the County Jail."

"In our opinion Sandquist and Ogilvie have unusually good qualifications for the positions they are seeking, and because the offices of County Judge and County Sheriff are in need of competent administration," Watson continued, "these two offices will receive major emphasis in the IVI campaign."

"Barrett, Korzen, Dunne and Girolami have been good administrators of their offices and deserve reelection," Watson concluded. (B8

All-Digit Phone Numbers Debated

Few Gripes Greet Switch

by BOB CUMMINS

Northwest suburban residents appear to be reasonably happy with all-digit telephone numbers, although some West Coast objectors are fighting it tooth and nail.

The system was introduced a year or so ago by telephone companies all over the country. The reason was that, because of population growth, the phone companies were running out of two-letter combinations which traditionally started a person's phone number.

In telephone conversations with all-number customers, selected at random from the phone book, the following opinions were obtained.

MRS. JERALD W. Milligan, 1414 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, said: "At first I thought I thought I would never remember. But I haven't had too much trouble. It's worked out fine."

Robert L. Hall, son of Leland J. Hall, 240 E. Ardmore, Roselle, said: "I think it's a lot more convenient. For me, it's a lot easier to memorize."

Mohawk, Buffalo Grove, who has all numbers, said, "It seems easier to remember, especially with area codes. I like it."

On the other side was Roy V. Marzano, 36 Somerset Lane, Schaumburg, who declared: "As for myself, I don't like it. The words and letters were more distinctive and easy to remember. I have a hard time remembering my own number."

Mrs. Richard W. Andrews, 802 S. Maple, Mount Prospect, reported, "I have to think twice before giving someone my number, I was so used to the letters. But I'm getting used to it. It's all right."

"It's worked out fine for me," said Mrs. Eugene E. Key, 196 Hillcrest Blvd., Hoffman Estates.

Some combinations of numbers are easier to remember than others. They may have a lilt to them. Or the same digit may be repeated in easy-to-remember groupings.

SUCH A NUMBER, 255-5099, was assigned to the Robert L. Gorrings, 1120 W. Hawthorne, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Gorring said, "We had no trouble getting used to it. It's an easy number. If we had another, it might be different, but we like it."

Another number with lots of bounce to it belongs to the Donald G. Gravdahls, 1017 David Drive, Bensenville. The number is "seven-six-six . . . seven-six . . . eight-six." Mrs. Gravdahl says she likes it, but when she repeats it to persons they are at sixes and sevens.

The West Coast opposition includes the formation of an "Anti-Digit Dialing League" in San Francisco, whose leaders include Dr. Jack Block, a psychologist at the University of California, who said that tests had shown that people were not capable of remembering seven digits, but could remember an exchange name and five digits much more easily.

SOME ANTI-DIGIT dialers in the San Francisco area have taken a dig at the phone company by referring to A.T.&T. as "2.8. & 8." and its subsidiary, Pacific Telephone, as "7224342 835374663."

An even more determined opponent is a Los Angeles suburban lawyer, James J. Oppen, who has sued for an injunction to stop the seven-number transition.

His chief argument is that the new system wipes out an advantage to him of having an "extended area service" and a special number for clients who call him from downtown Los Angeles.

Oppen claims his Los Angeles callers recognized the exchange name as being toll-free for them, but won't get the point with numbers, and therefore will be less apt to call him.

THE TELEPHONE companies, in both areas, have restated their basic case for all-digit dialing: that there is no other way to provide numbers for an expanding population and increasing demands for telephones.

Telephone engineers say all-number calling should provide enough numbers to last at least through the year 2000. By that time, we all should be tired of talking. (A-14

For Commuters

Mail Credit Plan Is Slated by Railroad

One of the traditional annoyances of train commuting—the frenzied first-of-the-month rush for tickets and long ticket lines—may soon be a thing of the past for regular commuters of the Chicago and North Western Railway.

Details of the railway's latest innovation for regular commuters—a ticket-by-mail credit plan—were announced to riders Tuesday. The ticket-by-mail plan, applications for which are now available at all ticket offices in North Western's suburban territory, will start with October monthly tickets.

F. V. KOVAL, director of C&NW commuter services, explained that the road's monthly "flash" tickets under the new plan will be mailed automatically about the 25th of each month either to the commuter's home or office. The ticket will be good for the subsequent month. Accompanying the ticket will be the billing statement which the commuter would mail back to the railroad with his payment by check or money order. However, the commuter will have until the 10th of the month to mail in his payment, thus receiving ten days' credit.

"FOR THE REGULAR daily commuter the plan eliminates the annoyance of the first-of-the-month rush to buy his ticket or standing in long ticket lines," Koval said. "A subscriber to the plan escapes the problem of forgetting to buy his ticket on the first of the month. We remember for him."

Koval explained that the new plan offers flexibility to the changing needs of commuters. When a commuter receives his monthly ticket via the mails, he may indicate on the billing statement if he does not need a ticket for the next month. The railroad would observe this instruction and would not mail a ticket for that month.

The application forms now available at all C&NW suburban stations are postage paid. Commuters need only to fill out the simple form and drop in the nearest mail box. October monthly tickets would be the first they would receive.

KOVAL SAID that this is the first time to the railroad's knowledge that commuter tickets will be sold by mail and with a ten-day credit included. "The system of buying now and paying later has long been accepted in other types of business," he said. "Under the ticket-by-mail plan the North Western is applying modern merchandising techniques to its suburban service."

The new plan is one of two innovations the North Western has recently placed into effect to enhance the attractiveness of its suburban service. Effective August 1 it started a six-month experiment with new "bargain special" off-peak fares of ten-ride tickets at from 30 to 40 cents per ride. During the experiment these will apply for rides on off-peak trains between Chicago and a number of "inner-belt" stations of up to 13 miles from Chicago. The "bargain special" fares, which are less than half the regular fares, are honored on all North Western suburban trains except the week-day rush hour trains arriving in Chicago between 7 and 10 a.m. and leaving Chicago between 4 and 7 p.m.

Koval said if the experiment is successful in terms of attracting more passengers and revenue to the off-peak trains, consideration will be given to establishing low "bargain special" fares to the more distant suburbs. (B8

County Clerk Urges School Registration

Edward J. Barrett, Cook County Clerk, has urged all parents who will register children for school next month to come in, or write, to his Bureau of Vital Statistics, 130 N. Wells St., Chicago, in order to avoid the last minute rush.

"Inasmuch as our Bureau handles birth certificates, not just for children born in Chicago, but for those born in all the suburban areas of Cook County as well," Barrett said, "we have the most complete and comprehensive set of records in Chicago."

BARRETT said that if the parents cannot come in to the officee, they can mail in their request.

Particulars, on written requests, should include the name of the child, date of birth, maiden name of mother, and relationship of the person placing the order.

Delivery, by return mail, can be made in 48 hours.

Under the law, a fee of $1.00 is made for the search. Money orders should be made out to County Clerk, Edward J. Barrett, and mailed to him at Vital Statistics Department, 130 N. Wells St., Chicago 6, Illinois.

Annual Summer TB Check Half Complete

The annual summer survey to find unsuspected cases of tuberculosis has passed the half-way mark. During the first nine weeks of this 17-week health check, 53,229 residents of suburban Cook County have taken advantage of this free X-ray service.

The summer survey is sponsored by The Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District and the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County (the Christmas Seal agency).

Residents need not go to their own neighborhood unit to get an X-ray. If the unit has left their community, they may go to any unit that is convenient. Unit locations and unit hours are arranged to serve as many suburban Cook County folk as possible.

Monday, August 20, a mobile unit will arrive in Elk Grove for a three-day survey. It will locate outside the I.G.A. Store, 49 Park Lane. X-ray hours Monday will be 10:30 a.m. — 5:30 p.m Tuesday hours will be 2 - 9 p.m. Wednesday hours will be 10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

THE UNIT will move on to Hoffman Estates, Thursday, August 23. It will be stationed at the Shopping Plaza, Higgins & Roselle Rds. Thursday hours will be 10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.; Friday hours will be 2 - 9 p.m.

Wheeling will have a three-day survey beginning, Monday August 27. A unit will be located outside the Walgreen Drug Store, 303 E. Dundee Rd., Monday and Tuesday. X-ray hours will be 12 noon - 7 p.m. both days. The unit will move on to National Tea Co., Dundee Rd. at Route 83, Wednesday, August 29. X-ray hours will be 12 noon - 7 p.m.

Thursday and Friday of that week the unit will X-ray outside Jewel Food Store, 9 E. Camp McDonald Road, Prospect Heights. X-ray hours Thursday, August 30, will be 10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.; Friday hours will be 2 - 9 p.m.

THE HOFFMAN Estates Jaycees will provide the volunteer registrars serving at the unit in Hoffman Estates. William Zeeb, 144 Hilcrest Place, chairman of those serving these two days reports the following will be on hand to register X-ray applicants: Mrs. David Basch, 150 Hillcrest; Mrs. James Boyer, 318 Milton Lane; Mrs. James Daccardo, 275 Bedford Rd.; Mrs. Donald Daly, 278 Flagstaff; Mrs. Michael Filus, 156 Edgemont; Mrs. Neal Galvin, 301 Flagstaff; Mrs. Harold Gillespie, 110 Douglas Dr.; Mrs. Carl Johnson, 270 Flagstaff; Mrs. Robert Kroll, 298 Milton Lane; Mrs. Earl Leggett, 133 Evanston; Mrs. David Lord, 281 Flagstaff; Mrs. David Powers, 154 Hillcrest.

Mrs. Joseph J. Behm, 241 S. Milwaukee Ave., Wheeling, who will be chairman of the registrars serving at the Wheeling unit reports the following will serve from the Ladies of the Lions: Mrs. Ernest E. Zorges, Box 450, Rte. 1, Prairie View; Mrs. Nick Branden, 559 N. Wolf; Mrs. Gerald Stevenson, 168 E. Center; Mrs. Frank Byer, 423 Mora Ave.; Mrs. Eino Rajanaki, N. 6th Str.; Mrs. Arthur Miller, 125 N. Wolf; Mrs. Harvey Tonn, 29 West Hintz; Mrs. Edward Gieske, Jr., 295 E. Walnut; Mrs. Gerald Stevenson, 168 E. Center; Mrs. Willy Neecker, N. Milwaukee Ave.; Mrs. Henry Mayer, 400 N. Milwaukee; Mrs. Joseph Behm, 241 S. Milwaukee; Mrs. Frank Byer; Mrs. Sam Vazzano, 419 Marvin; Mrs. Richard Lindahl, 777 Wayne Pl.; Mrs. Arvid Ohmann, 202 S. Wheeling; and Mrs. Fred Cargill, Box 100, Wheeling P.O.

GOP Committee Backs Heitman As Trustee

Republican committeemen representing the 50th Ward and the North Shore Townships which make up the 13th Congressional District, have endorsed Fred Heitman of Glenview for nomination as a member of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois in the event Governor Kerner calls a special election for the vacancy which exists there.

COUNTY Commissioner, William N. Erickson, Evanston GOP committeeman and chairman of the 13th District Committee, said the decision was unanimous.

The matter was discussed at a luncheon meeting held in the Bismarck Hotel in Chicago.

"Of course we do not know for certain that there will be a special election called to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Harewood," Erickson stated. "However, it is our intention that the delegates from the 13th District will cast their votes at the Republican State Convention, Aug. 24, for Fred Heitman in the event that such a special election is called."

HEITMAN, former Northfield Township Republican Committeeman, has served as a member of the Governor's Commission On Higher Education, under Governors Stratton and Kerner.

A graduate of Northwestern University, he is vice president of the Northwest National Bank and has been active in civic and community affairs.

In Republican slatemaking earlier this year, Heitman sponsored the candidacy of Richard B. Ogilvie for Sheriff of Cook County and has played a prominent part in Ogilvie's campaign for election to this office. (B8

by Robert E. Hood, Assistant Farm Adviser

The recent drug problems with humans has again caused some concern about insecticides used by farmers in the production of the vital food supply.

The use of chemicals has helped to provide the consumer with a higher quality product. Vegetables on the market today must be free of insect damage. The housewife demands it.

In 1867, a brown-and-yellow striped bug called the Colorado potato beetle invaded the United States and threatened to wipe out the potato crop. It was the latest in a series of insect plagues which were becoming progressively worse for the American farmer — even causing the abandonment of some agricultural areas — but it produced a turning point in man's long and losing battle with the bugs. Using Paris green and other arsenic compounds, the farmers managed to bring the pest under control and, in the process, started an insecticide industry which now grosses over $300 million a year.

The same year and the same insect produced the first dire prophecies of mass poisoning from poisoned foods and the first gloomy forecast about which such practices could lead to.

Today the Colorado potato beetle is still the best known and the most destructive of the 25 potato pests (the farmers only won the battle in 1867; against insects, they seldom win the war); but a more sophisticated agriculture has substituted DDT for Paris green as its number one weapon against the insect.

And the successors to the prophets of nearly a hundred years ago are still confidently predicting mass poisoning with each new chemical which is developed (including DDT, now the favorite target for forecast of impending doom). But while the farmer has brought most insects under at least partial control, in the process multiplying his production, the prophets have been less successful: In 95 years they have not had a single example of mass poisoning to show as a successful prediction.

Nor are they likely ever to have one. As agriculture and the agricultural chemical industry have grown, so have an elaborate and extensive system of protection and controls which have made it impossible for a farmer even to have access to a chemical which could be a mass poisoner.

The system embraces the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare, State agricultural agencies, universities in every State where farming is a factor in the economy, a network of independent laboratories, and the companies which make and sell the chemicals.

$1 MILLION TESTS: Getting a new product through this inspection system takes at least six years and costs a minimum of a million dollars — often $2 or $3 million — and assured that it can be marketed and sold only after its residues are proved harmless.

In recent years the term "residue" which merely means any by-product of the chemical left on the plants, has come to have a dreaded meaning to the public and, in turn, has made testing of such residues more complicated and more costly than the development of the chemicals themselves. It has produced volumes of safety legislation, most notably Public Law 518 (the Miller Bill), and has been responsible for the creation of specialized scientists to study residues.

Oldest and most elaborate of these facilities is at Riverside, California, where the University of California maintains an elaborate two-story laboratory, equipped with some of the most costly and complicated gadgetry used in agriculture, and a staff of a dozen chemists who devote their full efforts to lab residue testing along with an even larger group of cooperating entomologists who study the problem in the field.

By the time a material has been through the comprehensive testing program at Riverside, the scientists know a good deal more about it than the man who invented it; a Federal clearance based on their findings is a better bet than money in the bank. Since the lab was started in 1935, not a single one of its studies has ever been rejected by any regulatory agency.

The final approval for the use of a new chemical rests with the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who prescribes safe levels of tolerance to protect the public health, and the Secretary of Agriculture, who certifies its usefulness. But their decision on a manufacturer's petition for clearance are based on the qualified, independent studies made in the testing labs across the country.

Each year, hundreds of new and promising compounds are turned out by chemical manufacturers but few of them ever reach the stage of a petition for clearance. The residue and safety studies are so long and so expensive that only the major companies can afford to introduce a new material and even the industrial giants take a long before embarking on the necessary investigation of the materials which their laboratories have created. Army Engineers Pay Honor to Suburb Man

Accomplishment in his position as chief of the Chicago Army Engineer District's planning and reports branch brought honors as well as material reward to an Arlington Heights man recently.

He is George B. Wesler, 332 S. Derbyshire Lane who was presented with a certificate for sustained superior performance and a cash reward of $300 at a ceremony held recently. Col. J. A. Smedile, district engineer, made the presentation.

ARMY ENGINEER George B. Wesler, seated, 332 S. Derbyshire Lane, Arlington Heights, explains the Army Engineer plan for deepening Chicago harbor and the Calumet harbor and river to accommodate fully-loaded ocean cargo vessels to Col. J. A. Smedile, Chicago Army District Engineer. (A Wesler was cited particularly for his "exceptional effort and exemplary leadership" in directing completion of complex survey reports on schedule for major harbors in the Chicago District.

These reports involved engineering and economic analyses of various plans for deepening the harbors to provide depths commensurate with Great Lakes connecting channels and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

HE HAS BEEN chief of the planning and reports branch of the Engineering Division since 1955. He held a similar position in the Milwaukee District for four years prior to its consolidation with the Chicago District in 1955. He has been with the Army Corps of Engineers since 1939.

Born in Buffalo, N.Y., Wesler completed high school there. He attended the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology and the University of Arizona, graduating from the latter with a B.S. degree in civil engineering.

He spent some time on topographic mapping in the west with the U.S. Geological Survey and was with a copper mining firm in Chile for three years before joining the Army Engineers.

HE HAS BEEN engaged primarily in water resources development, including navigation, flood control and beach erosion, since that time.

He is a registered professional civil engineer and a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

He and his wife, the former Lois Graf, of Milwaukee, are parents of two children. The daughter, Georgianne, is a sophomore at Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., and the son, Hugh, 15, is a sophomore at Prospect High School. (A Congratulations, Randhurst!

We take this occasion to salute Mount Prospect's newest and most exciting evidence of growth — Randhurst. We are impressed with this triangular shaped world's largest indoor temperature-controlled shopping area which is virtually a city in itself.

We offer this salute with the sincere wish that Randhurst merchants will be as happy with Mount Prospect as we are. This is the community in which we had our modest beginning five years ago and in which we have experienced our steady growth.

We know that the Randhurst officials will find this a friendly community. And we have no doubt that Mount Prospect will benefit from this gigantic shopping center which is another adjunct to a diversified village which has outstanding advantages of homes, business and light industry.

Yes, there's new evidence this week that Mount Prospect is a better place in which to:

Muu Muus, Sarongs, Leis–Features of Newcomer Luau

Muu muus, grass skirts, sarongs and Hawaiian shirts were the order of the day at the luau dance held by the Arlington Heights Newcomers Club recently at Salt Creek Country Club. Couples were greeted at the door Hawaiian style by committee members and their husbands with leis and kisses on each cheek.

Dave Faden's band provided the music and the highpoint of the evening was the "hula with a twist." Several mixer dances were scheduled to acquaint new members and guests with other club members. A midnight buffet followed the dancing.

IN CHARGE of the dance was Mrs. Richard Wood, assisted by Mrs. Dean Sanderson, Mrs. B. L. Snyder Jr. and Mrs. James Glenn.

Summer at the beach was the theme of the club's monthly luncheon Aug. 8 at Villa Venice Restaurant. Cocktails on the terrace were followed by lunch and cards.

Bridge prize winners were Mrs. Raymond Givern, Mrs. Donald Kjerland and Mrs. Lawrence Papke. Prizes were also won by Mrs. Harvey Weclen and Mrs. Al Simonson for canasta and Mrs. Edward Dudek and Mrs. Clarence Nast for pinochle. Mrs. Laddie Janda was the earlybird winner.

All newcomers with less than 18 months residency in Arlington Heights are invited to join the club. Further information may be obtained by contacting the membership chairman, Mrs. Robert Chadderden, Cl 3-2623. (A

No Changes in Fees For Public Schools

Student fees and book rentals for pupils in Arlington Heights public schools will remain unchanged the coming school year.

The fees approved Monday by the school board are:

Industrial arts (sixth grade), $2.75; industrial arts (seventh and eighth grades), $3.50; homemaking (sixth), $2.75; homemaking (seventh and eighth), $3.50; towels (sixth, seventh and eighth), $2, and kindergarden juice, $5.

SUPT. RALPH Clabaugh explained that $14,101.80 was collected in fees last year and $11,837.09 was spent. He said he could not recommend reductions, however, because the new bookkeeping system did not reveal which fees were producing the surplus. He said the administration would have these answers next year, and could recommend some reductions if more money was still being collected than needed.

The book rental fees will be: first and second grades, $5; third, fourth and fifth grades, $7.50, and sixth, seventh and eighth grades, $8. (A

Subdivision Plat OK'd by Planners

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission last week approved the plat for Georgetown Manor subdivision of 31 lots on about 10 acres on the north side of Oakton Street, approximately 165 feet east of Dryden Avenue.

Robert Siman Jr., president of Erecta Inc., 5724 Diversey, Chicago, said the firm plans to build a colonial-type community of houses costing $26,000 to $27,000.

ERECTA INC. will give $6,100 in lieu of dedication of land for public purposes. Of this sum, $3,200 will by paid before construction begins: then the firm will pay $100 per lot as building permits are taken. The installment payments will total $2,900 because houses are already standing on two of the 31 lots.

The plat will now go to the Village Board for final approval.

Gently Shaped Styles

Fluid is the season's line, and softly feminine, at that. In knit suits which will be a traveler's delight, the new brightened navy is bound to go over big. The skirt is a sheath, the jacket boxy and collarless while the tank top overblouse makes for comfort and ease.

Look for novelty woven cottons in suits, too. The jackets have easy lines with soft rounded collars and wide, three-quarter sleeves. The skirts will be easy and relaxed though trim.

Helen's Favorite:
Sampan Salad
(Serves 4-6)

1 No. 2 can cling peach slices
2 cups diced cooked turkey
½ cup coarsely chopped celery
1 3-ounce can chow mein noodles
Dressing

Chill and drain peach slices. Place in large bowl with turkey, noodles and celery. Gently toss with dressing: ¾ cup mayonnaise blended with ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon soy sauce and ¼ teaspoon salt.

Roomy cape shapes are very popular now and will be later too. They are roomy but adhere gently to the body, with soft fabric as well as lines.

Feminine moods for evening are the fashion theme. These are often done in prints, cut low with full, gathered skirts. Most of these have jackets.

Vivid flower printed poplins for the all-weather coat are popular. Fitted tops and softly gathered skirts make these very becoming for either rain or shine.

Little hats as well as large ones are popular. One of the most captivating is the circular crown dressed with a puff of a veil.

this week's patterns... BY AUDREY LANE

Dainty Trio

The Halo Hat

Dress Pattern No. 3242. Dainty Trio. It's a very wise idea to make these dainty aprons in your spare time. They will be like money in the bank when you need a gift to give in a hurry. No. 3242 comes in one size. Aprons take from 1½ to 1¾ yards 35-inch fabric, plus trimming.

Needlework Pattern No. 1009. The Halo Hat. If you must wear a hat—and would prefer not to—the halo is the answer. Wear it, wash it, starch it over and over and it will look like new each time. Pattern No. 1009 fits all head sizes.

Send 35c for each dress pattern, 25c for each needlework pattern (add 5c for each pattern for third class mailing and 10c for each pattern for first class mailing.) to AUDREY LANE BUREAU, BOX 1490, New York 1, N.Y.

Being Thankful

"What hath God wrought!" — Samuel F. B. Morse

THESE were the words of the first telegraph message, sent by a grateful inventor who had achieved a personal triumph.

How many of us ever take the time to thank God for the blessings which come our way? When success comes along, are we grateful: Or, do we shout, "Look, see what I have done!"

Grownups sometimes are amused to hear children at prayer. Children thank God for everything. It is shameful that their elders are not equally thoughtful.

If we but take the time to count our blessings, we can see the goodness of God in so many ways.

Pray at the church of your choice this Sunday.

Q. How are oysters and clams on the half-shell properly eaten?

A. Hold the shell steady with the left hand, and using the oyster fork, lift the oyster or clam whole from the shell. Dip it into the cocktail sauce and eat in one mouthful. Oyster crackers may be dropped into the sauce, extracted with the oyster fork, and eaten.

From Agnes Meidel, Scottsdale, Pa.—A cold crisp early Autumn Day is selected to making Apple Butter down on the farm. However, preparations are made the day before;—apples (Rambo's) picked, wood gathered for the fire, boiled down cider made at the Local Cider Press, crocks of various sizes, copper kettle, stirrer, (8 ft. long handle, paddle with holes to make the butter smooth) washed and sterilized, the family gathering around the kitchen table with paring knives, pans, apple peeler to begin the snitzing of apples (Penna. Dutch-cutting apples into small pieces.)—If the operator of the peeler day dreams now and then; he peels the apple to the core. Early morning: kettle hung on the metal frame, a bushel or more snitzs apples, water added to boil the apples till tender; then adding the cider; fire started and begin stirring continuously to prevent scorching, changing with members of family at recent intervals till late afternoon or butter formed a scum on top. If the wind shifted you had an eye full of burned wood smoke. Spices (cloves, cinnamon, brown or granulated sugar) added accordingly to taste desired;—tart taste add more cider then sugar.

Finished product poured in crocks; lids placed on crocks, sealed with brown or white paper dipped in melted lard, stored in the pantry corner cupboard for winter usage and to give for Christmas gifts to City Relatives or to welcome new neighbors.

Today:—Apple Butter can be purchased at our Local Super Markets through out the year with less effort.

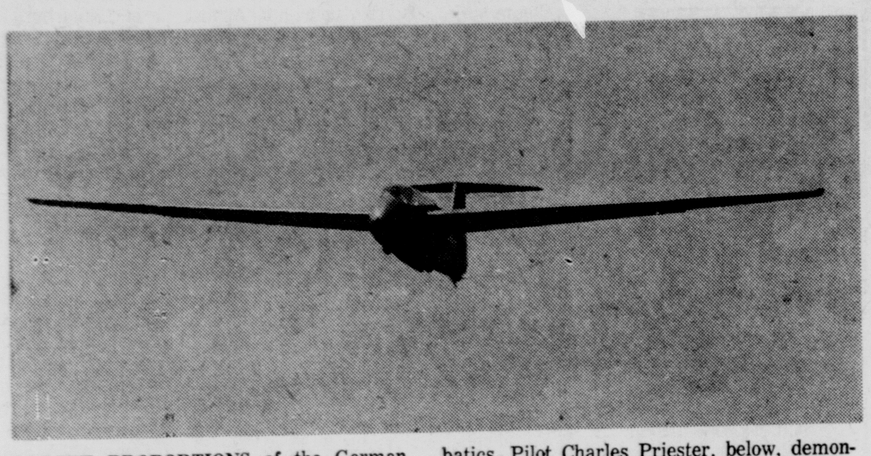
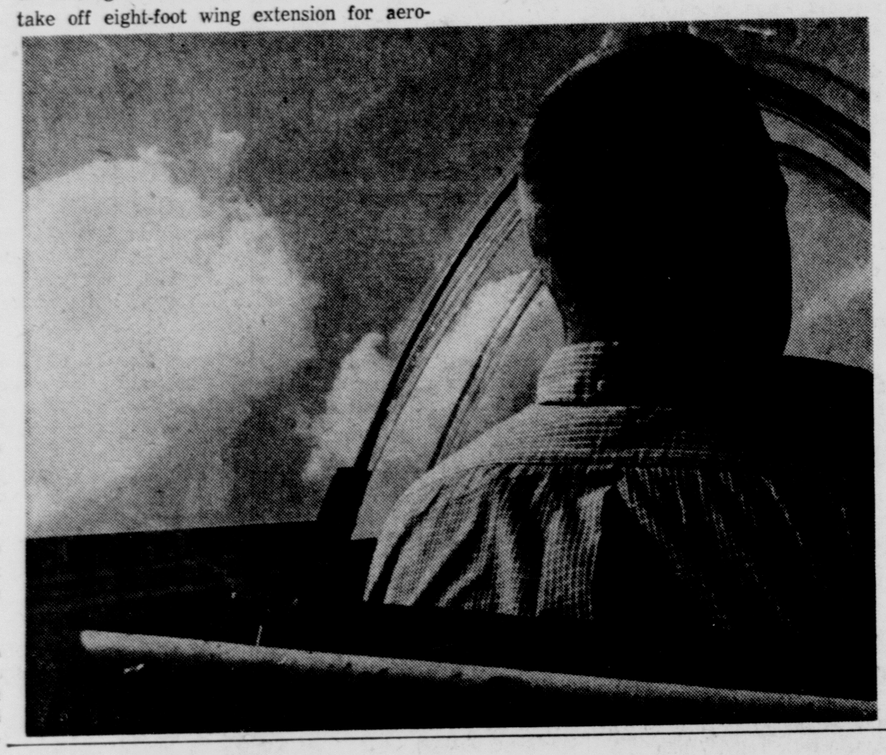
Suburbanite Unveils Unique New Airplane



BIRDLIKE PROPORTIONS of the German RW3 Multoplane give it great freedom in the air. With the engine on it is a trainer; turn off the engine and the plane glides and soars; take off eight-foot wing extension for aerobatics. Pilot Charles Priester, below, demonstrates the qualities of the unique plane, owned by George J. Priester Aviation Service at Pal-Waukee Airport. (A14



Test Flight Shows Off Versatility

by JIM CARNS

The engine quieted to a throaty whisper and died. It seemed as if everything else — the ground, the clouds — were moving, but not the plane.

"The power is off now," Charles Priester said above the shrill whistle of wind through a vent in the canopy. On the ground the plane's ant-sized shadow darted across plowed fields, giving an indication of speed.

It passed cars and trucks on the nearby highways, distorted itself on silos and barns and trees.

About 2,000 feet in the air, the plane, a German RW3, suspended itself on long slender wings. Priester started the engine for another climb, breaking in on the wind's domain.

THE PILOT said something inaudible above the noise of the engine and then raised the nose of the plane toward the clouds, only to drop it again towards the ground seconds later.

The sleek, self-powered glider accelerated towards the ground. Trees, houses, fields, lakes swept into and out of sight through the plexiglass canopy.

Then up again--then in tight circles descending to the ground—then a fast, effortless flight over Pal-Waukee airport and an equally effortless landing.

BACK ON THE ground Priester explained a bit about the airplane. The technical name is RW3 Multoplane. It measures 24 feet from nose to tail. From wingtip to wingtip it is over 50 feet.

Or, for aerobatics, eight-feet sections come off each wing, reducing the wingspan to 34 feet.

But the plane is unusual in many respects besides removable wing sections. The Porsche-powered propeller is in the tail; the fuselage, excluding the tail, is only about six feet tall.

THIS WAS THE first plane of its type in the United States and the first German plane imported after World War II, according to Priester.

Charles is the son of George J. Priester, who operates Pal-Waukee Airport and Priester's Aviation Service at the junction of Palatine and Milwaukee Roads near Wheeling.

The plane arrived in the United States about two and a half years ago, but it was not until about a year ago that it was licensed for flight by aviation authorities.

Priester calls it a wonderful plane—safe as they come—but it was the first of its kind and of such different design that it got a thorough testing before approval.

THE ORIGINAL idea for buying such a plane, according to Priester, was to use it for a trainer and eventually to produce it locally as an agent for the German company.

It is still used for training, but the production idea has faded becuase of costs and another use—photography— has come to the foreground.

"It is the best plane I know of for aerial photography—bar none," explains Priester. Pilot and passenger sit tandem fashion close to the nose; the wings are set far back, and the canopy can be removed to make way for a camera and mount.

The Priesters' unusual airplane has been used for ABC and CBS news photos and many other aerial assignments in the Chicago area.

THE PLANE'S big merit, though, is still its unique coupling of normally separated qualities. It is a glider that doesn't need a tow-plane to get off the ground. Nor does it need the proper wind to take it back to the home field.

Take off the wing extensions and it becomes a fast, skyborne, mechanical acrobat.

There are other RW3's in the United States now, but very few; and private pilots still use the sleek silver glider at Pal-Waukee both as trainer and pleasure craft.

No wonder it is a strange illusory feeling, that of slow descent to the earth—as if the plane were sliding on a long string with one end somewhere in the heavens and the other draped over the horizon. (A-14

Q. What amount of tip should be given to the porter who has carried one's luggage to or from a train?

A. Twenty-five to fifty cents, or according to the number and weight of the luggage.

Q. I should like to know the proper approach to a friends who insists upon blotting her lips on my best linen napkins when dining in my home. This leaves a hard-to-remove red imprint on the material?

A. You can hardly speak to her about it. But in the future furnish paper napkins (there are any number of attractive designs on the market), or get busy immediately after the meal with some lipstick remover.

Tremendous Fire Power

Citizens' Committee Asks Pause in Nuclear Arms Race

ST. LOUIS, (UPI) — A prominent Citizens' Committee on Nuclear Information has suggested that Russia and the United States pause in the nuclear race since both countries already have the power to destroy each other.

"Instead of the tremendous effort to stay 'ahead' in nuclear military power," the committee said, "It would suffice to remain not too far behind."

The committee said "If this conclusion were accepted by both major nuclear nations — and there are strong indications that it has been accepted by the U.S.S.R. — the major motivation for the nuclear arms race would be eliminated."

The citizens' committee, founded in 1958 by Washington University and St. Louis University scientists and laymen, is dedicated to making known facts about nuclear energy and its effects better and more widely known.

THE COMMITTEE, in a 20-page booklet released Thursday, Aug. 9, said this country presently has a nuclear weapons capability which is at least 50 times greater than required to destroy the urban civilization of any major nation on earth.

"Even if most of the nuclear fire power were to be directed against a possible opponent's military installations it would take the diversion of only a small fraction of the nuclear capability to destroy the opponent's cities," the committee said.

"The accumulation of such a tremendous nuclear fire power offers no guarantee whatever that one's own cities will not be laid waste in a nuclear war."

The committee said that nuclear weapons technology has created a situation where the military has lost its capability to protect the nation physically against a crippling attack even by a much inferior nuclear power.

THE COMMITTEE noted that the family fallout shelter boom "has long since collapsed."

"Nevertheless, as long as a danger of nuclear war remains, the question of civil defense will be with us."

The committee said "The myth that by secrecy one can prevent another nation from catching up with one's own weapons technology was deflated by the rapid Russian build-up of nuclear war capability."

"It is known that the Soviets spend about as much on military programs as the United States," the committee said. "It is also known that their engineers and scientists compare well in competence and numbers to ours.

IN EVENT OF a war, under present conditions, the committee said states the size of Missouri would require only in the order of 100 megatons each in surface burst to kill the great majority of the population from radioactive fallout.

"Attacks of this order could be expected on states which are hosts to widely spread military installations, even if cities were not to be purposely attacked," the committee said.

The committee said nuclear explosives "are cheap and available to the major nuclear nations in practically unlimited quantities."

The committee said "The arms race is presently centered on the problem of delivery of nuclear explosives.

"Military defense technology is lagging behind offensive technology by a wide margin," the committee said. "This happens at a time when the enormous explosive energies of thermonuclear weapons would require almost 100 per cent effectiveness of the defense in order to protect the nation from a devastating attack." Annual Paddock Golf Tourney Sunday

Sports

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

AL GRIFFITH, MANAGER and pro at Golden Acres Country Club, will have both a sentimental and professional interest in the 13th edition of the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament.

As host pro for the links spectacular Sunday, Al will try to remain impartial in his evaluation of the competing teams, but he wouldn't shed any tears over one of the five Golden Acres entries walking off with the coveted first prize.

Al also will follow with interest the efforts of the crack Colt Restaurant outfit of the Old Orchard Scratch league, the division that produced 1961 champion Webber Paint. Griffith was one of the original founders of the Scratch league.

Established in 1954, the now-thriving division which competes at Old Orchard Country Club is believed to be the only one of its kind in existence. The leading amateur players in the area — the class of the weekend "duffers" — make up the Scratch loop with Paddock tourney entry Colt Restaurant carrying only a 13 handicap into Sunday's action at Golden Acres.

Griffith walked off with medalist honors in the 1956 Paddock meet while playing for Cork & Bottle of the Scratch league. Although his squad failed to win the team championship, young Griffith posted a gross 73, net 69, both tournament bests.

Going even further back into the past, Al may be remembered as a crack member of Arlington High's first golf squad in 1946. As a senior, Griffith captured medalist honors at the Illinois High School Association's district meet at Mount Prospect Country Club.

AL GRIFFITH OF GOLDEN ACRES

After serving in the United States Armed Forces for two years, Al entered Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington from where he graduated in 1953. While at Wesleyan, he was a member of the varsity golf squad.

It was at Wesleyan that Al met his wife, the former Shirlee Haagele. The couple currently lives in Hoffman Estates with their son Jeffrey, 9, and daughter, Leslie, 5.

COACHES AND PLAYERS IN high school and college football, warns the American Medical Association, should observe special precautions during workouts in excessively hot and humid weather in late August and early September to guard against heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

In the early phases of practice it's advisable to make a gradual adjustment to activity in hot weather, and necessary to adjust salt and weather intake to the weather conditions.

"The old idea that water should be withheld from athletes during workouts has absolutely no scientific foundation," says the medical organization. "In fact, such restriction, by depleting water in the body, can lead to heat exhaustion. During exercise in the heat, it is essential to replace the water, hour by hour, lost by perspiration."

Gulping large quantities of water is not recommended. Half a glass at a time is advised.

Salt also needs to be replaced daily, particularly during the first week of exercise in heat. Extra salting of food within bounds of taste is preferable to taking salt tablets, which may prove irritating and not be adequately absorbed.

Coaches are advised to observe athletes carefully for signs of lethargy, inattention, stupor, awkwardness, or unusual fatigue. Symptoms of water and salt deletion may include headache, nausea, hallucinations, and weak or rapid pulse.

Recommended are careful medical history and checkups before the start of practice, morning or evening workouts during hot weather, rest periods of 15-30 minutes during workouts of an hour or more in the heat, graduated practice schedules, and white, loose, comfortable clothing.

WOODY HAYES, head football coach at Ohio State, recently addressed the Football Writers Association of America and concluded his speech with this note about newspapers.

"Chief Justice Warren was on a plane with me coming back from the Rose Bowl. I was amazed at his knowledge of sports. I asked him how he could be 'up' on sports.

" 'I read the sports pages first thing in the morning,' " he said. " 'They are a story of man's achievement. I don't always have time to read the front page or the rest of the paper — anyway, it's usually the story of man's downfall.' "

Usher in 1962 Grid Season

Football Workouts to Open Wednesday at Area Schools

Football practice for members of the Illinois High School Association officially gets under way on Wednesday, Aug. 22.

Some schools will issue equipment and arrange to have players take their required physical examinations at an earlier date but under the rules of the Association, no school may organize or practice its team before the second Wednesday preceding Labor Day.

Players must have engaged in a minimum of ninety minutes of actual field practice on each of fourteen days preceding the first interschool game or scrimmage, and no school may play its opening game earlier than Friday, Sept. 14, this year.

THESE RULES were adopted by the members of the Association for the protection of the players and to promote equality in competition among the schools.

This fall approximately 500 high schools belonging to the IHSA will participate in football.

Area high schools reflect a variety of outlooks as they prepare for the opening of practice.

Arlington High has several veterans back, but needs to plug some important gaps if it entertains any hope of finishing among the elite of the always-powerful West Suburban Conference.

LEADING THE returnees for coach "Bus" Ormsbee's outfit will be halfbacks Ken Layden and Jerry Totzke who finished 1-2 in rushing last fall. Layden piled up 458 yards in 70 carries as a junior and scored five touchdowns.

Of major concern for Ormsbee will be finding a quarterback capable of effectively engineering the attack. Jim Ewart is up from the sophomores and could be the answer.

Prospect, under a new head coach, J. O. Jackson, faces the 1962 campaign without its top four ground gainers and leading scorer, but with two seasoned quarterbacks.

BRUCE ANDRISE, Mr. Everything in 1961, has departed via graduation and he took with him 1200 yards gained rushing over three seasons. Replacing Andrise will be a herculean if not impossible task.

Jackson does have two quarterbacks returning in Bob Gerrard and Ken Groh, but he's also faced with filling some vital positions before the season opener.

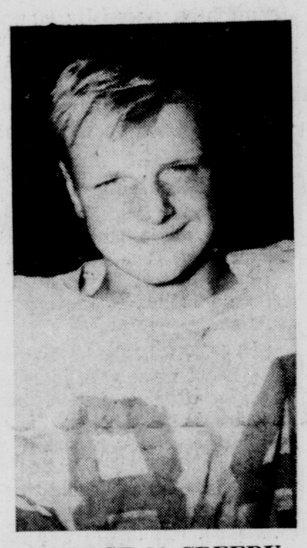
Palatine High, under Charley Feutz, lost All-Stater Andy Merutka among others, and faces a rebuilding year with only two lettermen returning.

JERRY OLSON and George McCreery head the returnees with McCreery, a defensive whiz in '61, expected to be called upon offensively too this fall to take up the slack created by Merutka's graduation.

Juniors will play a big role at Palatine with last fall's sophs sporting a creditable 5-2-1 standard.

Coach Bob Scott's Forest View Falcons, a newcomer to Paddock's sports coverage this fall, will field a definite question-mark aggregation with strictly a junior-varsity schedule in football.

ONLY TIME will tell how the Falcons will shape up in athletics for the 1962-63 school year.



GEORGE McCREERY

KEN LAYDEN

St. Viator's Lions of Arlington Heights, author of a 5-2 record last fall in frosh-soph competition, will move into varsity action this year as a three-year school.

The Lions open on Sept. 14 against St. Francis de Sales and will play a non-league schedule in football despite being a member of the new Chicagoland Prep division.

COACH MICKEY Lile's Lake Park Lancers were hit hard by graduation, but enough talent returns around which another strong squad could be built.

Heading the returnees is Larry Gates, who was an all-conference choice and the leading Lancer ground-gainer. Fred Picket is an able quarterback and will have a couple of rangy targets in Rich Roll and Rod MacRae.

Bob Appleby's Fenton Bisons also suffered severe graduation losses, but Bob has a talent of making the most with what he has on hand.

Quarterback Harlan Krafft is back to lead Willowbrook in what could be a creditable campaign. The Warriors lost some good boys via graduation, but were 3-4 on a junior-varsity level and several of those performers will be in line for varsity berths.

York High's Dukes, another new member of Paddock's extensive sports coverage, finished second on a varsity and frosh-soph level in the West Suburban Conference last year.

COACH ALEX Naidenovich lost four all-league regulars on the varsity, including all-state halfback Wayne Strauch, and will be pressed for a repeat of his solid '61 finish.

CHECKING OVER the prizes for the Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap golf tournament are (l. to r.) Bob Paddock, promotion director who formed the meet; Sports Editor Bob Frisk; and Assistant Sports Editor Dick Gottsegen. The tourney, scheduled for Sunday at Golden Acres Country Club, is strictly a team affair with a trophy to the winning unit and medals to members of the first, second, and third place outfits. A dozen golf balls will go to the low individual net player, regardless of how his team finishes.

Golden Acres Site of Play

It's tourney time again!

For the past twelve years Paddock Publications has staged a summer golf extravaganza involving representatives from the twilight leagues.

The thirteenth chapter in this success story will be added Sunday when nineteen teams vie for honors at Golden Acres Country Club.

Seventy-six players are slated to tee off on the challenging Golden Acres course between 9:30 and 11:18 a.m.

FOURSOMES from the competing aggregations are made up on the basis of individual handicaps with no two players from the same team in the same foursome.

Low handicap group will tee off first in order to keep things moving smoothly and to make for more competition within the foursomes.

The tourney is strictly a team affair with a trophy to the winning team and medals to members of the first, second, and third place outfits. A dozen golf balls will go to low individual net player regardless of how his team finishes.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS has sponsored this tourney for 13 years. Bob Paddock, tourney promoter, formed the meet and now it is the only one of its kind in the area where league team leaders have a chance to compete with leaders of other loops on a handicap basis.

Fourteen champs in 12 years — that's the record of the Paddock meet where first place ties have occurred twice.

Whitton Realty of the Mount Prospect Tuesday division and Wulbecker Furniture of Rob Roy tied for the trophy in 1952. Roselle Bakery and Pines Motel hit the same tally in 1953.

THOSE TIES mean extra medals for the promoters, plus a coin-tossing ceremony to determine which name makes the trophy.

Last year Webber Paint of the Old Orchard Scratch league claimed top honors with a gross 326, net 298. The Scratch league entry in 1962, Colt Restaurant, carries one of the lowest team handicaps ever utilized in the tourney. A stingy 13.

By the time the fifth foursome goes off the tee Sunday, all four Colt Restaurant players will be on the course. Bob Kronn carries the lowest handicap in the 1962 tourney with a one and Dave Borgardt and John St. Germaine boast threes. Bud McKaig's six handicap rounds out the powerful Scratch league entry.

KRONN IS THE only one handicap player in the tournament, and Gordon Otto of Arlington Structural Steel joins Borgardt and St. Germaine as the three handicap performers.

Ted Pyren of the Pure Oil Tuesday league is a four handicap player and Everett Swanson of the Country Club Lounge and Liquors squad and Glen Adams of Phil's Pure Oil are the five handicap competitors.

Highest team handicap in the 1962 affair belongs to Team 11 of the Pure Oil Monday night division, marking the second straight year that this league has produced the high handicap squad. Team 11 will use an 83 handicap in the tourney.

COLT RESTAURANT'S 13 handicap is far and away the lowest total among the 19 entries with Arlington Structural Steel a distant second at 41. Five squads are bunched in the 40s.

Gunnell's Bowling Lanes of Mount Prospect will have two teams shooting for honors Sunday with the squads in both the Rob Roy Tuesday and Arlington Country Club divisions qualifying for the tournament.

Its difficult to determine any pre-meet favorite in a handicap affair, but there will be five entries from host Golden Acres and they could have something to say on such familiar grounds.

Golfers are requested to allow plenty of time for the trip to the meet so they will be sure to be there at the designated tee-off times. Missing golfers will disqualify their teams.

$50,000 Added Dash

Lindheimer Handicap On Saturday's Card

Another big week of racing at Arlington Park will terminate Saturday with the $50,000 added Benjamin F. Lindheimer Handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one and one-quarter miles.

Also in the spotlight this week was Wednesday's running of the $20,000 added Princess Pat Stakes, a six furlongs dash for two-year-old fillies.

Saturday's Lindheimer Handicap honors the late Arlington-Washington Park Executive Director, the man whose realized vision of "America's Finest Summer Racing" in Chicagotown firmly cemented Illinois' prominence in the American thoroughbred sport.

HIS CONCERN FOR the public, both in physical conveniences and comforts as well as in top-level competition, and his personal triumph in arranging the memorable $100,000 Nashua-Swaps Match Race of 1955 at Washington Park earned him a lasting place in the memory of racing patrons the nation over.

The Lindheimer Handicap will be championship encounter all its own Saturday. Its classic distance of one and one-quarter miles makes that a certainty. And the presence of Rex C. Ellsworth's brilliant Prove It, a multiple stakes winner and recent winner of his $102,100 to-the-winner victory in the July 14 Hollywood Gold Cup, lends additional class and zest to the contest.

There is some talk that the J.G.W. Stable's Ridan, though defeated by Black Sheep in the recent American Derby, may nominate and even start in the Lindheimer, though his status, as is his wont, has to be classified as "uncertain at best."

THE C. R. Mac Stable's Black Sheep is on the grounds gloating in his come-from-behind American Derby victory and just may challenge the older horses "at his distance."

Hasty House Farms doubtless will start either or both Porvenir II and El Loco, though both are essentially grass performers.

Porvenir, however, winner of the Round Table and Stars and Stripes Handicaps prior to this week's Lake Forest attempt, was a good third in the one and one-eighth miles Citation on the dirt at Washington Park two months ago.

Jacnot Stable's Oink is another possibility at the distance as are Mrs. T. C. Christopher's Equipoise Mile champion, Intervener, Preston Madden's Hard-hitting T.V. Lark and Mrs. Mary H. Hunter's Bluescope, the early sprint sensation here but who has been disappointing lately.

IN LAST Saturday's Pucker Up stakes Royal Patrice came from way back to overtake Darby Dan farm's Polylady and wrap up the top money of $39,300.

The Royal Charger three-year-old filly, ridden by Ismael Valenzuela, caught Polylady about 30 yards from the wire and crossed the line a length to the good in 1:48 4-5.

Royal Patrice was in sixth place after half of the race had been run with the early leaders Hushaby, Polylady, and Old Hat. But Valenzuela came wing-in into the stretch turn and moved up to challenge Polylady for first money.

ON WEDNESDAY OF THIS WEEK Inverness Golf Club near Palatine celebrated "Stan Arendt Day" in tribute to its popular golf pro: Stanley Arendt has served the club as professional for 36 years and since his 28th year with the club a special day has been held to show the respect which the members hold for this fine gentleman and sportsman. Stan has been so much a part of the club for so many years that to members and also among residents of the community he is "Mr. Golf." The title of "Stan the Man" used in speaking of the great St. Louis Cardinal player, Stan Musial, is because of his fine human qualities, consideration for others, high standards by which he conducts himself, and long period of service. The title "Stan the Man" could just as appropriately be used in speaking of our own Stan Arendt, a great guy in every sense of the word.

While Stan's health has been below par in recent years and he has delegated to others some of his responsibilities, he is still the top man at Inverness. He plays an occasional game of golf and scores about as low as he ever did and he takes pride in the development as a golfer of his youngest son, Jim. Recently Stan and Jim won the Chicago area father-son tournament. His oldest son Stan Junior, who was reported missing during the Korean War, holds the Inverness course record of 67. Jim, a high school junior this coming year, shot in the seventies occasionally as a member of Palatine's undefeated high school team last spring and shows real promise as a future professional golfer.

THREE OF THE GREATEST coaches of the past 50 years passed on in the same week and a 4th, Amos Alonzo Stagg, celebrates his 100th birthday this Thursday, August 16. Dean Cromwell 82, Matt Mann 77, and Robert "Dink" Templeton 65 are the trio of outstanding coaches and sports authorities who have passed from the athletic scene. Cromwell at Southern California coached 11 national track championship teams between 1909 and 1948. A total of 14 of his pupils broke world records in their events. He was coach of several Olympic track teams. Matt Mann coached Michigan swimming teams 1925 to 1953 and won 13 national championships and 16 Big 10 titles. He coached the Olympic team in 1952. Retired from Michigan in 1953, he went to the University of Oklahoma and directed 8 Big Eight championship teams before a heart attack ended a brilliant career.

"Dink Templeton graduated from Stanford in 1921 and immediately took over as head track coach until 1939 when he gave up coaching due to bad health and became a sports writer. He coached 3 national champs, 4 IC4A champions, and 2 Pacific Coast champs with a record of 77% victories in 19 years. He was a world renowned track and field authority.

SPORTS ILLUSTRATED had a fine article about Amos Alonzo Stagg this past week on the eve of his 100th birthday. Not only has Stagg lived longer than any other famous coach but he was one of the greatest ever to direct college football. He coached great teams at the University of Chicago and more important he was a developer of outstanding men. He has always been one of the finest examples for young men that the coaching profession has produced.

Stagg is in a nursing home declining rapidly in health but still has the spirit of a great competitor. Probably no man in the history of sports has maintained and taught a higher level of ideals or a stricter code of living than Stagg. He could have been an outstanding major league pitcher for he hurled Yale to 5 championship seasons but he declined a big league contract because they sold liquor in the ball parks. As a young man he contracted beriberi in his college days because of a poor diet in a struggle to make ends meet. Still Stagg, with his Spartan-like living has outlived all his contemporaries in sport. He is truly the "grand old man" of the sports world.

White Sox Handle Cards in Series

Behind the pitching efforts of Jack Byrnes and Joe Paretich the White Sox rolled to victory in the World Series of the Rolling Meadows Little League baseball program.

After falling in the opening game of a best-of-three set, the Sox bounced back for successive triumphs behind the slants of Brynes and Parsetich.

Byrnes celebrated his birthday Sunday with a nifty 3-2 triumph over the Cardinals, the National League champions. Parsetich was the man of the hour Monday as the American League champion Sox posted a 7-3 win.

Parsetich fanned 11 and walked only two during his effective stint. He allowed five hits.

The White Sox had won the American League championship in an exciting stretch dual with the Yankees.

One of the key figures in the Sox drive to the pennant and World Series was shortstop Jeff Jacoby. Jeff slapped out 13 home runs during the campaign, including one grand slammer, to pace both divisions.

Arlington, Waycinden Stop Royals

The Royals of the Rolling Meadows Pony League dropped two more games last week, losing 6-2 to the Arlington Browns and 9-8 to Waycinden Park.

Frueling had little trouble limiting the Royals to three safeties, and received adequate support from his teammates, paced by Hoppe who doubled for the game's only extra base hit.

Against Waycinden Park the Royals exploded in the first two innings for eight runs on eight hits, then struggled to hang on until the last half of the last inning when Waycinden pushed across the deciding run.

Though outscored, the Royals collected 13 hits to the opponent's seven.

BIG GUN FOR the losers was Mike Lebban who went four for four, including a pair of two base knocks and a homer.

Hundreaiser also smashed a circuit blast and Paters matched the set of doubles registered by Lebban.

Erlander was tagged with the loss.

IN PREVIOUS action the Hawks surprised the Royals 10-7 in the latest edition of the inter-city rivalry.

A throwing error in the final frame opened the door for four unearned runs in the final inning to give the out-hit Hawks the win by one run margin.

Sims was the winner for the Hawks, and Grunwald the losing Royal.

ON THE strength of Dick Anderson's one-hit mound effort the Royals stopped Waycinden Park 5-2.

Southpaw Anderson struck out 15 while picking up his fourth win in six outings. He also banged out a pair of singles and drove in the game's first run.

Elk Grove routed the Hawks 9-2 behind an 11 single attack.

Sparafore was forced to take the loss for the Rolling Meadows representative.

The Hawks scored both their runs in th final frame on Lebber's second triple of the contest.

Herigodt also tripled for the losers.

Rosters Complete As Classic Loop Eyes Opening Day

Unofficial rosters from the final four teams in the Paddock Classic Traveling League for 1962-63 were released this week with acceptance still required from the loop board of directors.

Four rosters already have been accepted and released by the board as the season nears opening day.

Competition will get under way Saturday, Aug. 25, at 6:30 p.m. Innovation planned for this season is joint competition with the Paddock Women's Classic league Nov. 10 at River-Rand and Feb. 2 at Beverly.

BOWLING FOR Moyle Construction of Country Lanes will be Herb Lohman of Lake Zurich 181; Frank Graff of Palatine, 187; George Radke of Mundelein, 187; George Sargent of Great Lakes, 193; and Roy Moyle of Carpentersville, 189.

Bowling for Pioneer Lanes will be Bill Moss, Jr. of Addison, 186; Roy Bobek of Crystal Lake, 185; Joe Feffer of Crystal Lake, 193; George Smith of Addison, 184; Bob Krisch of Elmhurst, 194; and Doug Prough of Carpentersville, 197.

Bowling for Hal Lieber's Bowlers Shop of Hi-Way Recreation will be Leroy Papineau of Arlington Heights, 189; Cas Dewitz of Chicago, 195; Irv Hahnfeldt of Palatine, 185; Lee Adams of Mount Prospect, 184; and Charles Johnson of Carpentersville, 188.

Bowling for Morton Pontiac of Beverly Lanes will be Ernie Koche of Roselle, 188; Ed Duff of Niles, 188; Al Valentino of Rolling Meadows, 186; Warren Walter of Arlington Heights, 187; and Dick Incrocci of Elk Grove Village, 182.

Red Sox Fade in Palatine LL Race

Last week the Palatine Little League American loop Red Sox made headlines by throwing the previously undefeated Athletics 13-4 and moving to the rail for what looked to be a dandy stretch race.

They split their next two scheduled games, the A's swept a pair, and the chaser was ridden right out of the race.

The results of the Athletic's contests aren't available, but here's how the Red Sox lost out:

They met the Yankees, a red hot outfit riding a four game win streak, in a game to decide the second best position in the race.

YANK PITCHER Wickersham allowed only two hits, his teammates slapped out nine, and the Red Sox were subdued 9-3.

It was that simple.

Earlier in the week the Red Sox kept up the illusion of a pennant race by dropping the Pale Hose 5-2 on the strength of Bettke's one-hit hill performance.

The winners scored four runs early and coasted home on a seven hit attack.

IN THE National League Minor division, the first place Dodgers won two of three, but still lost ground to the fast closing Cards who scored 56 runs in romping to a trio of victories.

The Dodgers started out the week by edging the Pirates, 4-3.

Two-hit pitching by Hayes was the backbone of the winning effort. He also struck out 14 Bucs over five innings in besting Shaw on the mound.

ABLE TO FIELD only eight ballplayers, the Colts were forced to forfeit to the league leaders, giving the Dodgers a cheap but necessary win.

But against the Braves, who had enough men to collect nine safeties, Dodger luck wasn't quite so good.

Tony Marceau laced two doubles, and Bob Sander poled a homer and three bagger to pace the Braves to a 13-7 win. Mark Visk was credited with the victory, while Steve Hayes was forced to take the loss.

IN OTHER MINOR division action, the Redlegs clobbered the last place Giants 15-9. Bill Loeding socked a round tripper for the Reds, and Simon and Weyenmeyer slapped doubles for the losing Giants.

The Mets improved their position with wins over the Cubs and Colts.

Against the Cubs, riding the top of the heap at the time, the Mets knocked eight runs across the plate in the opening inning and eventually won 15-5 behind Gary Glander.

A home run by Berry Vogel, Glander's battery mate, paced the Mets 15 hit offensive.

In the game against the Colts, D. Sweeney played all-round hero, cracking a bases loaded single in the last inning and going the distance on the mound as his team out-slugged the losers, 13-12.

Freshmen boys should bring a ballpoint pen with them at the time they receive the equipment.

Boys must be registered in school in order to draw equipment.

Phils Walk Away In World Series

Cracking out 12 hits and pushing 21 runs across the dish in four innings, the Phillies of Hoffman Estate's Little League made the American League World Series no-contest and belted the Indians 21-0 to take the series in two straight sets.

O'Malley, MacArthur and Bair hit for extra bases, O'Malley collecting four hits in five trips, to lead the Phil's bat barrage.

Winner Norton was extra sharp, giving up only three singles, but his toil was cut short when his teammates socked in 11 runs in the fourth frame.

Three pitchers were employed by the Tribe, but starter Richmonds, who only lasted two innings, was handed the tab for the loss.

Norton, in addition to recording a three-hitter, had two hits in three official at-bats, walked and scored four runs.

Adding to Indian woes were six miscues afield.

Arlington, Berwyn Meet In Net Match

The Arlington Tennis Club ended league play last weekend by splitting with Des Plaines and Riverside.

The Men's A Division ended the season in third place this year with a 4-3 record behind undefeated Des Plaines and second place Berwyn. The highlight of Arlington's season was the fine play of Bob Inman and Bill Thompson in both singles and doubles. Against undefeated Des Plaines only Inman and Thompson were able to win.

The local Men's B division was undefeated until Sunday when a rained out match with Riverside was resumed. Roger King and Chuck Close who had started their matches before the rain were not available this weekend and Arlington was forced to default two singles matches.

ONLY DON Johnson and Clarence Feiereisel were able to win as the team suffered its first loss.

This weekend Arlington and Berwyn, now tied for first, will play off for the championship on neutral courts. This marks the third consecutive year the two teams have ended league play in a tie for first place and required a playoff. With the series tied at one all, this promised to be a tough, close match. Earlier this season Arlington squeaked out a close 4-3 victory over Berwyn.

Arlington's juniors were unable to duplicate last year's undefeated season, and finished in fourth place with a 4-2 record. A strong Hinsdale team has replaced Arlington as champs.

Arlington's women finished strong and were able to salvage what looked like a mediocre season by beating both Des Plaines and Riverside last weekend. This gives the team a 4-2 record and a tie for third place in the league standings.

Looking on are Phil Theis (center), 307 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, and Sam Rauworth, pro at the Winston Golf Center. A special hole-in-one contest is under way with customers of the driving range having a chance to pick up golf merchandise in prizes in the competition that will run to midnight Labor Day. The hole is 50 yards downhill from the tee, and the first person to register a hole-in-one or the golfer who puts his shot closest to the pin in the nearly month-long competition will receive the first prize.

Big Weekend Ahead

Strom Posts Another Victory at Speedway

Defending champion Bill Strom of West Allis, Wis., won his third feature race of the season in an action packed show which produced four roll-over accidents plus an untold number of spins and collisions at the Waukegan Speedway.

Light sprinkles, falling at times from heavy overcast skies, kept the attendance down to only 1,850 persons, but those hearty fans were treated to a fine program.

Strom who started third row inside in the eighteen car field, lost little time in picking off early leader, Russ Reynolds of Racine, who had started on the pole and led for the first two laps. Strom took over on that point and was never again headed as he went on to average 49.15 mph. Ron Larsen, Racine, took second while Reynolds fell back to finish sixth, behind Paul Feldner, Colgate, (third) Ed Stillman, Milwaukee, (fourth) and Roger Otto, Elkhorn (fifth).

THE FOUR drivers who took tumbles included Tom Ketchum, Crystal Lake, in the sportsmen heat; Paul Howard, North Chicago in the sportsmen feature; Terry Vaughn, Milwaukee, in the modified semi-feature; and lady driver Virginia Grau of Wildwood, Ill.

Vaughn's flip was the most spectacular and the most damaging. He flipped end over end and landed halfway into the infield, when he ran over the wheels of Claude Potter's No. A-28 as Potter dove down in on him, while trying to avoid a collision with two stalled cars. Vaughn's car was nearly demolished but he walked away unscathed, due to the sturdy construction of the roll-over bars.

Action was also stopped in the Powder Puff Derby when Miss Grau flipped one complete on the second lap of the race. Besides a possible sprained wrist, she probably got the scare of her life in her short-lived career of stock car racing.

Howard's flip started in the infield when he was pushed off the track by other traffic and hit a rut, rolling one and three-quarter times. Ketchum also rolled just off the track on the main straight. Neither Ketchum nor Howard was injured.

ARLENE JOHNSON, Waukegan, repeated a victory of a year ago in winning the ladies event at an average speed of 43.06 mph. Bea Reynolds, Racine finished second, in a close race which saw both leading at times.

Tom Dill, driving the same car that Mrs. Reynolds drove in the Ladies event, walked off with top honors in the 12 lap sportsmen feature event when he beat out Libertyville's Jim Newland by a matter of inches at the light. The feature event was a rough and tumble battle for the entire distance, with only half of the 20 car starting field being able to finish.

Jim Sullivan, Kenosha, won top honors in the modified semi-feature race contested at 15 laps. He also won the first heat race of the night.

A BIG WEEKEND of racing is on tap for local area race fans, as the Waukegan Speedway plans its first Saturday, Sunday schedule of race events. For the first time in speedway history, track manager Mike Kaishian has planned a late model stock car race (1957 to 1962 models) for Saturday night, August 18, in a combined program with the ever popular sportsmen stock cars. Sunday night, August 19, the modified stocks will return once again for their 13th Sunday night program. The sportsmen will also appear again Sunday.

Headlining the Sunday night modified program will be Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee, the current point leader at the track; Bill Strom defending champion and second place man in the standings, plus a host of other top drivers.

DENNIS BURGAN, Zion, the point leader in the sportsmen division, will headline the Saturday night show for sportsmen, in his 1955 Studebaker. Burgan will also be one of the top drivers in the late model division, having entered a late model Dodge for the late model races.

Time trials both nights will start at 7:15 p.m. with the first of the race events getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The speedway is located on West Washington Street, between the Green Bay Road and the Skokie highway.

Higgins Shell Captures Lead In Golf Play

Last year's champions are working hard to show that winning the Hoffman Estates golf title in 1961 was not an accident

After trailing since opening day, Higgins Shell has taken the lead with two weeks left to play by defeating Roselle Ace Hardware 11-5 while Tony's Sinclair was knocking off the leading Kiczula Insurance five. Capt. Roy Jenkins led the way winning two points while Jim Gannon, Bill Ross and Bill McMahon swept three each from their match opponents.

The Roselle State Bank team started on the comeback trail by whipping Plaza Liquors, also by an 11-5 score. This was a "must" victory for the bank team, keeping them within striking range of the top team which incidentally will be their opponent next week. Capt. Roy Palmer came out of his scoring slump to card a sizzling 37 which pointed his team in the right direction. Jim Brewner added three to Roy's three and Hal Gillespie and Bill Hanson tallied two apiece.

BOB POWELL'S Snyder's Drug team stayed mathematically alive by fashioning a 10-6 win over Jupiter Cleaners. Bob swept three points in his match as did number two man Jerry Emrick. Herb Keesee salvaged a point while losing a match and Don Kolp emerged with two in his pocket. Snyder's currently hold the sixth spot, 19½ points behind the league leaders.

As mentioned earlier, Ray Larson's Tony's Sinclair team gets the credit for toppling Kiczula Insurance from the lead. Ray swept three, Paul O'Dea followed suit and John Warnock tallied two. Team low net added a point to give them nine and a half as compared to six and a half for Kiczula Insurance. In fifth, Sinclair is in a good spot to come out top dog in the following two weeks.

Roselle Color Center continued its winning ways and missed by a single point, the ascent from the cellar where they have been so long they care not to remember. Color Center slipped by Schaumrose Inn by a 9-7 score, Don Specht and Bob Mann following Capt. Chuck Pugh's lead in blanking their opponents three points to none.

TIGHTEST BATTLE of the day was waged for seventh place by Rainbow Inn and Harve's Foods with Rainbow coming out on top by a single point, 8½-7½. Unfortunately for Rainbow, a margin of one more point was needed to dislodge Harve's from seventh. Alternate Hank Styczyskowski tallied three to lead the team to victory with George Robb bringing home two and a half and Bill Bailey sweeping three.

Don't forget to mark your calendar for the Hoffman Golf Club dinner-dance on September 8, 1962. This affair is open to all members, active alternates, team sponsors and their wives. Further details will be made available as the date approaches.

Attention Palatine Harriers

All Palatine High School cross country candidates should report to the office of the Wood Street school to sign up for their physical examinations on either Friday, Aug. 17, or Monday, Aug. 20.

The first practice is scheduled for Monday, Aug. 27.

Handling the harriers this fall will be Joe Johnson of Missouri. Johnson replaces Gene Laulunen who left Palatine to take a similar coaching assignment at Riverside-Brookfield of the West Suburban Conference.

First Call For Arlington Cross Country

Attention all cross country candidates at Arlington High School.

The first meeting of harrier candidates — frosh through seniors — will be held on Wednesday morning, Aug. 22, at 10 o'clock on the Arlington High School track.

Each boy should have his athletic registration requirements completed before the first practice, head coach Russ Attis indicated.

Attis is hoping for a large turn-out at all levels. Each candidate should bring a gym uniform and combination lock to the initial practice.

Pelletier Places in Two Events

Michael Pelletier, 14, son of E. H. Pelletier, 510 N. Dwyer, Arlington Heights, finished "in the money" in two events last Sunday in the annual swimming meet at Illinois' Turner Camp.

Mike claimed a second in the 40 yard free style and third in the half-mile event in the Fox River at Algonquin, Ill.

Tom Lasky of Chicago won the 40 yard event with Ray Easton of Chicago and Tom Alles of Des Plaines finishing 1-2 in the half-mile competition.

Prospect Harriers To Report August 22 For First Drills

The initial practice for cross country candidates at Prospect High will be held Wednesday, Aug. 22, on the track at the school, according to head coach Dick Calisch.

Calisch, beginning his first year at Prospect after six seasons in the West Suburban Conference, announced this week that all candidates — freshmen through seniors — should report on the track at 2:04 p.m. Aug. 22.

Each candidate should have his registration completed with parents consent card and physical examination. A gym suit, shoes, and lock also are required.

CALISCH COMES to Prospect High School from Riverside-Brookfield where he served three years as head coach in cross country and track. He was head cross country coach and assistant in track for three years at Maine East before switching to R-B.

Calisch is a graduate of Chicago's University High School and the University of Illinois. He went to grad school at the University of Maryland.

At Illinois Dick finished second in the Big Ten pole vault with an effort of 14 feet. He was the National Junior AAU pole vault champion in 1950.

Salvage Third Place

Post 3 Eliminated By Bloomington Nine

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

Glen Ellyn is the best in uDPage, but Coach Don Burns' boys are only third best in Illinois, thanks to a scrappy diamond group from downstate Bloomington that unassisted knocked the locals right out of the State tourney at Woodstock, 9-1 and 5-0.

After romping through DuPage County Legion ranks and the sectional affair at Rockford in championship style, the area flag bearers journeyed to Woodstock for the State tournament last week, cruising on a four game win streak.

Then they collided head-on with that Bloomingtn team.

ACE DICK Watkins took the hill for Glen Ellyn, Mike Neal leveled his bat across the plate, and the Illinois Junior American Legion baseball championships were under way.

Six innings later, with the teams at a 0-0 standoff, the scene was repeated. Neal delivered a bases loaded single which scored Tony McGuire and Dick White.

Rival pitcher Bob Spahn reached Watkins for a triple, sending McQuinn and Neal across the plate. That was the end for Watkins and the beginning of the end for Glen Ellyn.

DAVE MULLER was brought in as new partner for Dave Palmer, crouching at the other end of the 60 foot six inch path.

The towering right-hander served up a single to Jim Wochner which sent Spahn skipping home from third.

Wochner advanced to second on Ordendorff's infield single, then scored on a base knock by McGuire. The pitcher's duel was now an 8-0 rout.

White capped the inning with a run scoring single to center. Bloomington had scored nine runs on eight hits and two errors.

GLEN ELLYN'S sole run was scored by backstop Palmer, who doubled to lead off the bottom of the last. With two gone and Palmer still lounging on second, Tom Hancock beat out an infield hit, Spahn threw the ball into the bullpen and Palmer chugged home.

Feeling more than a little mean, the Post 3 crew bounced back in its next two tests to eliminate Mt. Carmel 13-1 and Evanston 2-0.

Against Mt. Carmel the local entry used three pitchers. Dale Vicha, the slated starter, was relieved in the third by Muller, who gave way in turn to John Ringnald in the fifth.

Mt. Carmel starter Jack Boyd allowed the first six GE batters to circle the bases.

IN THE opening inning, which saw 14 Glen Ellyn batters dig in at the plate, Wingader tripled, Jim Liehr doubled, Tom Moeller singled, Jim Grateau tripled, and Bill Patterson, Dave Palmer, Dale Vicha, and Tom Hancock singled.

Muller, Liehr, Palmer, and Vicha all added two safeties to the winner's 13 hit barrage.

Saturday the DuPage champs took a 2-0 decision from Evanston with Dale Vicha's two-hit mound effort providing the backbone for the victory.

Vicha was backed up by a passable seven hit attack and good glove work from an infield that turned in three double plays.

ONE OF THE twin killings was a solo fashioned by second sacker Tom Wingader, who picked off a line drive deflected by pitcher Vicha and doubled the runner off first.

With two impressive victories under their belts, the Glen Ellyn Legion boys pointed for the championship game against Galesburg Sunday afternoon. But first they would have to overcome that Bloomington outfit.

Dick Watkins, who was the victim of a final inning blowup in his first outing against Bloomington, pitched the first five innings of the game which was to mean a championship berth for the winner.

But all the GE nine wound up with was a second slice of double elimination cake, as Bloomington blanked them 5-0.

WHEREAS THE first game could possibly be stricken from the record as a ball-booting fluke, hitting told the story in the finale.

Glen Ellyn mustered only four singles, while Bloomington cracked out 10 hits, one a double.

Bloomington took a 2-0 advantage in second inning on successive singles by Tony McGuire, Dick White, and Rod Brent, all with two men out.

Glen Ellyn shook their fists in the following frame when Wingader entered the batter's box with Hancock on second and Watkins on third.

THE TALENTED little second baseman laced a sinking liner to left, but the Bloomington left fielder snared it on a circus catch and flipped to the third baseman to double up Watkins who was half-way down the line.

In the fifth inning Bloomington coupled three singles and a ground rule double to add three more runs and cap the afternoon's scoring.

Glen Ellyn came up with another threat in the final inning, filling the bases to set the stage for a rip-roarin' rally.

Krick singled for the Post 3 outfit. Patterson, worked hurler Simmons for a 3-2 count before settling for a base on balls.

Palmer went down swinging for the second out, but Muller singled to right to load the bases.

HANCOCK TOOK his turn with the pole and lined the local crew out of the championship chase.

Bloomington found that it couldn't beat anyone but the DuPage entry, and bowed to a very powerful Galesburg squad 5-1 in the final Sunday. Glen Ellyn, on the strength of its two wins, ranked second in the tourney.

Galesburg advances to the regional tourney at Murphysboro, Ill.

RUNNING THIRD BEHIND two national champions in the A-B-C Production Race at Meadowdale International Raceway, the car of Lew Draper of Inverness blew a tire and slammed into a wall. Lew was uninjured, but he was too far away for a pit stop and failed to finish the race.

Mixed Doubles Tennis Tourney To Open Sept. 1

Entries are now being taken for Paddock Publications' Second Annual Mixed Doubles tennis tournament.

Scheduled for Sept. 1-2-3 at the Arlington High School courts, the tournament is open to all tennis players living within the area served by the newspapers.

The first tourney attracted 19 duos with Yvonne Foley of Mount Prospect and Bill Thompson of Arlington Heights capturing top honors. Larry Brown and Ruth Rees of Arlington Heights finished second.

ENTRIES FOR THE 1962 tournament will be accepted until 8 p.m. Thursday, August 30.

Anyone interested in entering the tourney or wishing further information should contact Yvonne Foley (CLearbrook 5-6307), Bob Sir (CLearbrook 5-7725), or Charles Close (CLearbrook 3-1334).

Although a majority of the entries in 1961 were from Arlington Heights, there were also competitors from Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove, and Palatine.

Tournament officials encourage participation from all towns in the Paddock Publications area and are also hoping for entires from DuPage County this year.

Trophies will be presented to the winners.

Leaders Impressive In Victory

Bruns Real Estate and Greens both posted convincing victories last week, and still remain tied for first place in the Arlington Sportsman's 16-inch softball league.

Bruns defeated the Waterman Pops 32-12, and Greens won over the Soft-Tees 19-9.

Able Electric won a close one from the Knights of Columbus 9-8, and the Elk Grove Dems kept their chances of first place alive by beating the Village 18-13.

Pioneer Softballers

Win 11 In Row, Wind Up On Top By Two

Pioneer Park won the championship of the park district softball league by registering two more victories.

Since losing their very first game to the High School 7-1, Pioneer has won 11 straight games and finished two games ahead of second place Hasbrook.

Pioneer assured themselves of first place by turning in a 9-0 victory over Dryden. Although Dryden lost, this was a morale victory for them, as Pioneer had won the previous meeting between the two clubs, 34-1.

Scoring six runs in the second inning on six hits and an error, Pioneer then coasted to their victory.

Big hit in the second inning was Bard Somer's two run triple.

MICKEY Wadzita had a perfect day at the plate with three singles, while Jim Jorgenson had the only homer, a bases empty blast in the sixth inning.

Dryden could get only three hits off pitcher Steve LeVan, one of those a triple by Herb Schneider.

In closing out the season, Pioneer sharpened up their batting eye for the upcoming all-star games by turning in the biggest rout of the season, 47-3.

EVERY MAN in the lineup had at least two hits, with Herb Irlbacker leading the parade by collecting seven. Mickey Wadzita had six, and Paul Rocca five.

Wadzita, Ed Johnson, and Brad Somers each homered for Pioneer.

Pioneer's biggest inning was the seventh when they pushed across 16 runs on 11 hits and three errors. Wadzita's three run homer was the big blow of the inning.

RECREATION managed to score all of their runs in the third inning.

After Moni Santos reached base on an error, Bob O'Brien singled, and Clark Sims tripled them in.

Sins then scored on a sacrifice fly by Ed Boraini.

Hasbrook finished up the season by posting victories over the High School and Virginia.

The win gave the Hasbrook five a 9-3 record and second place in the standings.

Playing the High School in a game that was to decide second place, Hasbrook came out on top with a convincing 11-6 victory.

Hasbrook took advantage of five High School errors and jumped off to a five run lead in the first inning.

Larry Strelow had the only hit of the inning, a single.

THE HIGH School fought back by scoring three runs in the second and two in the third, narrowing Hasbrook's lead to 7-5.

However, Hasbrook put the game on ice in the seventh inning when Rich Kanak hit a three run homer to climax a four run inning.

Terry Taege also homered for Hasbrook, a two run shot in the third inning.

Jim Bersheim led the High School attack with three straight hits. Greg Zachawieza had the only extra base hit for the High School, a triple that accounted for two runs.

Playing Virginia Park, once again Hasbrook wasted no time in scoring by pushing across six runs in the first inning.

AFTER Fred Wood reached base by virtue of an error, Mike Blassey and Terry Taege singled to load the bases.

Pitcher Eric Stein proceeded to help his own cause by hitting a grand-slam homer down the right field line.

Finishing off the inning with two more runs, Hasbrook coasted to a 12-0 victory.

Hasbrook's 13 hits, combined with Virginia's nine errors made this an easy victory.

WITH MIKE Blassey, Terry Taege, Rich Kanak, and Eric Stein leading Hasbrook with two hits apiece, Hasbrook continued its heavy hitting, scoring 50 runs while holding opponents to eight in the last four games of the season.

Eric Stein's effective pitching and Hasbrook's tight defense allowed Virginia only three hits.

But Hasbrook's infield of Taege, Blassey, Wood and Lee pulled off two double plays to knock out any Virginia threat.

Evergreen Park also posted two victories to put them in fourth place with a 7-5 record.

VIRGINIA, once again, was the victim of a good pitching performance and heavy hitting.

Mike Needleman pitched a near perfect game by allowing only one hit and no walks. Facing a minimum number of batters as Denny Herrity, the lone batter to reach first base, was doubled up in a double play.

Meanwhile, Evergreen's batters were hitting the ball all over the park and coasting to a 17-0 victory.

Van Ostermick had three home runs and seven runs batted in.

Tom Lundstedt had a perfect day at the plate with two single, double and home run. Tom's homer came in the first inning with two men on base.

Things were not so easy for Evergreen in their last game against Dryden, as they had to come from behind and win 7-5.

DRYDEN scored early by getting four runs in the first inning. After Glenn Tefko and Tom Corey walked, Keith Schneider then hit a three run homer.

Evergreen began to eat away at the Dryden lead, finally went ahead in the sixth inning by scoring three runs.

Climax of the inning was bases-loaded triple by Bruce Boult, his second triple of the day.

Van Ostermick's Homer and Tom Lundstedt's double accounted for Evergreen's other runs.

Phil's Posts Another Win, Holds Lead

Phil's Pure Oil produced another impressive victory last week as it overwhelmed Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. 9½ - ½, boosting its lead in the Tuesday division of the Mount Prospect Twilight league to 6-1/3 points.

The only mark the losing Electricians could tally was the half-a-point picked up by veteran Al Barco as he tied Glenn Adams in holes won in their match. Glenn picked up the remaining 1½ points for Phil's.

In the other individual matches, Art Hammerstrom had no trouble with Jim Foster and took two points with ease. Bill Christensen won two from Ken Shipley and added a bonus point to his total for gaining low individual net on a nice 40 gross, 33 net score. Ed Hendricks completed the rout as he knocked off Tom Taylor for two points.

Phil's final point came as they took low team net.

THE LOSS, their third consecutive one-sided defeat, dropped the unlucky Electricians far into last place.

Winkelman's Shell Oil continued in second place and with only three nights of league play remaining appeared to be Phil's only serious competition as they came in with a 6½-3½ victory over Wille Lumber and Fuel.

In third place, but over ten points behind the leaders, was Mt. Prospect State Bank who dropped a close 4½-5½ match to Kirchoff Insurance. Crowding the Bank for third place were Licht's Paint Store who squeezed out a 5½-4½ victory over Golden's Food Shop, and Annen and Busse Realtors who suffered a bad reaction from their clean-sweep of the week before and dropped their match with Keefer's Pharmacy 4-6.

Low scores for the evening were 37 for Clarke Robinson, a 38 for Walt Double and 39's for Jim Driscoll and Glenn Adams.

Birdies were reported by J. Driscoll no. 1, W. Double no. 3, K. Shipley no. 10, C. Robinson no. 12, P. Danna no. 13, R. Becker and H. Stech no. 15, and W. Christensen no. 18.

Team Standings August 7:

Beauty Salon Posts Another 59ers Victory

Frank's Beauty Salon won over Tri-City Ace Hardware 7½—6½ in the Hoffman 59ers Ladies Golf League at Golden Acres Country Club.

Howard's Family Shoe downed Snyder's Drugs 8 to 2, and Al's Gals trimmed Jupiter Cleaners 10-4.

Jupiter and Snyder's are now in a tie for fourth position.

The daily event was "high net," with winners Yvonne Badtke, Shirley Kramer, and Sharon Koppari.

Team standings are:

Frank's Beauty Salon	126
Howard's Family Shoe	108
Al Griffith's	104
Jupiter Cleaners	84½
Snyder's Hoffman Drugs	84½
Tri City ACE Hardware	77

2-Ball Mixed Foursome Event Winners Listed

A combined 2-ball Mixed Foursome was held by the Hoffman Men's League and the 59ers Ladies Golf League last Sunday afternoon, August 12, at Golden Acres Country Club.

Winners of the first place trophies were Dorothy Broadstock and Tony Montikas, who had a net of 35½. Second place runners-up, with a net of 36, were Gerry Conrad and John Olson, with a net of 37.

Low gross for the afternoon was shot by Marilyn Leonard and Roy Palmer. They came in with a total of 43.

Yields Only One Single In 2 Games

Dave Sander followed up his headline no-hitter over the Yankees last week with his sixth win of the season in Hoffman Estates Babe Ruth League, subduing the White Sox 7-4 in the loop's only reported action.

The Dodger hurler yielded but one hit, a fifth inning single by opposing pitcher Ron Liske.

Sander and Speigel socked two-base hits for the fast closing Dodgers.

Reiland Tops Blessing in Golf Feature

Scoring prevailed at Old Orchard's Scratch League last Friday but the best encounter was Bob Reiland's 34 against Bob Blessing's 37. The scores were not indicative of the match as Reiland won on the last hole when Blessing encountered tree trouble and lost three strokes to par.

Both golfers hit the long drive and Reiland was one-up on No. 1 with a par while Blessing evened the match on the second with a par. Pars for both contestants on no. 3 and birdies on no. 4 and no. 5 kept the match even.

Reiland's tee shot on no. 4 hit the cup and bounced 1 foot away while Blessing sunk a 25 foot putt. On the 400 yard 7th, Reiland sunk a 6 foot birdie putt to go 1-up but on no. 8 Blessing evened the match with a birdie 7 foot putt. Both golfers stood on the 9th tee, even, and 1 under par. Reiland's par 4 on no. 9 gave him a 1-under 34 and his 10th consecutive win for the season.

The Colt Restauranteurs proved their prowess with their golf tools as they gained six points over the 2nd place landscapers representing Deans. Main spearhead for the food connoisseur's point pickers were Bob Kronn and Mike Graft who dished up identical 35's over Old Orchard's back nine.

Kronn, with workmanship precision, birdied the 360 yard 11th with a drive, wedge and an 8-foot putt. He collected another on no. 14 when his explosion shot from the left trap stopped one inch from the cup, and on the 15th par 5 he duplicated the feat after his 2nd shot, a 2 iron, ended up in the left trap and his 3rd shot was again a sand explosion to within 12 inches of the pin.

BOBBY FALTERED momentarily on no. 18 but recovered by chipping in a pitch shot from off the green. Mike Graft's contribution for the Colts included an eagle 3 on the 480 yard 14th and a birdie on the 540 yard 15th. Mode of his 'par excellence' was not detailed but the 35's were beauts. Not as big nor as mighty with the stick is the Colt's 5 man "Bud" McKaig, but mighty as a point gatherer as the anchor man has 10 wins to his credit.

"Big Bill" Schwerin was another of the 35 shooter's as he gathered birdies on no. 14 and no. 15 with 2 putts on each. Tis said that "Big Bill" the no. 1 man on the Lohr Pharmacy team could have had a real round but missed an easy 4 foot putt on no. 10 and an easier 2 foot putt n no. 10. Schwerin was 2-under on the 18th tee but faltered to a bogey 4 and ended up with a 1-under 35.

Master craftsmen last Friday also included 35's by Al Greene of the 444 Printer layout and 36's by Clark Hendricks and Bockelman of Black's Funeral Home. 36's of note also were made by Stverak, Musser and "Pete" Peterson of the C.P. Floor and Wall team. Last but not least was the 36 by Ben Kronn of the Beverly Lane team.

SCHEDULE FOR FRIDAY
Front nine (2 vs 8) - (4 vs 11) - (6 vs 7)
Back nine (1 vs 10) - (3 vs 9) - (5 vs 12)

Gunnell's Holds Four Point Lead

Gunnell's still holds a slim lead in the race for first with Union Hotel four strokes off the pace in the Arlington Country Club Friday night golf league.

Low gross was shot by Grandstaff with a 37. Low net was a three way tie at 33 with Grandstaff, Torretto, Wilkerson sharing the honors.

Nation's Leading Bowlers to Vie At Hoffman Lanes

Hoffman Lanes, Higgins and Roselle Roads, Hoffman Estates, will host television's "Top Star Bowling" show, starting August 28.

The nation's leading professional keglers will vie for honors on the show that formerly was known as "Championship Bowling." It follows a King of the Hill format with the first two competitors still unknown.

Included in the competition will be such standouts as Mr. Bowling himself Don Carter; Tom Hennessy, Buddy Bomar, Steve Nagy, Harry Smith, Al Savas, Don Ellis, Dick Hoover, Bill Lillard and many others.

HOFFMAN LANES will present its initial round of competition on Aug. 28 at 1 p.m. Three rounds will be staged Aug. 29, 30 and 31 at 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m.

Labor Day brings three more shows to the area alleys and Sept. 4, 5, and 6 also are included in the TV headliner.

Jack Buck will serve as the announcer for this bowling spectacular.

HOFFMAN LANES has announced it will give 250 complimentary tickets to the public for each session.

Anyone interested in attending any one of the sessions should contact Harry Matthews, Hoffman Lanes, LAwrence 9-1500.

Kelter Realty Continues Climb In Rob Roy Golf

Kelter Realty continued their determined bid for the top spot in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night Golf League by drubbing L-Nor Cleaners 7 to 0. This timely victory coupled with the first place Gunnell's Restaurant 4 to 3 defeat at the hands of Ray Statz & Associates placed the Realty boys in a strategic spot only one point back of the pacesetters.

No. 4 man, Jim Campbell, gave the Kelter crew their big lift with a 44-7-37 for two of the seven points and with the other team members shooting fine steady golf the pay off was a maximum 7 point team win.

Berney Magneson continued his fine play of recent weeks and turned in a par 35-3-32 to capture low gross and net honors for the evening. His effort was a big factor in keeping the front running Gunnell's team from losing the lead they have held so tenaciously these many weeks.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS Pharmacy continued to be a threat to the leaders by trouncing C-P Floor and Wall Covering 6 to 1 and are only six points back with three weeks to go.

Bill Stroeben led Golf Rand Golf Center to a 5½ to 1½ victory over Borchardt's Restaurant with a 36-3-33 for low net match honors.

Kankakee Wins State LL Crown

MARION, ILL., (UPI)—Kankakee pounded out five homers to score a 13-0 victory over the Ralph Bemerle team of Chicago last Friday to win the Illinois Little League baseball championship.

Des Plaines won the consolation title with a 3-2 win over Herrin.

Kankakee struck fast, scoring eight runs in the first inning before a single man was out. Bill Schmidt hit a grand slam homer the first inning.

Keefer's Holds Lead; Sagadine Fires Top Round

Keefer's Pharmacy remained on top of the Friday Night Men's League at Mount Prospect Country Club last week with an 8.5—1.5 victory over Jim's Standard Service.

The pharmacists, who will represent the league in this Sunday's Paddock Inter-League Handicap tournament, were led for the second week in a row by Frank Sagadine, who turned in a 41-7-34 to capture three points. Joe Wylie added a 40-4-36 and Bob Tesmer a 44-8-36 to split four points.

Second place Arlington Camera picked up two-tenths of a point on the leaders with an 8.7-1.1 win over F.B.K. Realtors. The cameramen were paced by Bob Wegerer's 42-11-31 and Fred Garlock's 41-5-36.

THE PRO SPORT Center managed a 4.5-4.5 tie with the Mount Prospect State Bank to hold its third place slot. Jim Carter went down to the final hole before posting a 1-up victory over Don Odbert to lead the sport center squad.

Odbert turned in the night's low round with a 37. Carter had a 38, and Ray Felitto a 39. Wylie and Ken Sophie turned in 40s.

Birdie shooters included Carl Campbell on one, Carter on 10 and 15, Sagadine and Bob Arko on 13, and Odbert, Felitto, and Tesmer on 15.

The top match this week pits Arlington Camera against the Pro Sport Center in a battle for second place.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1962.

JUDICIAL ARTICLE AMENDMENT

Article VI

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Courts

The judicial power is vested in a Supreme Court, an Appellate Court and Circuit Courts.

Section 2. Administration

General administrative authority over all courts in this State including the temporary assignment of any judge to a court other than that for which he was selected with the consent of the Chief Judge of the Circuit to which such assignment is made, is vested in the Supreme Court and shall be exercised by the Chief Justice in accordance with its rules. The Supreme Court shall appoint an administrative director and staff, who shall serve at its pleasure, to assist the Chief Justice in his administrative duties.

Section 3. Judicial Districts

The State is divided into five Judicial Districts for the selection of judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts. The First Judicial District consists of the county of Cook. The remainder of the State shall be divided by law into four Judicial Districts of substantially equal population, each of which shall be compact and composed of contiguous counties.

SUPREME COURT

Section 4. Organization

The Supreme Court shall consist of seven judges, three of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and one each from the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Judicial Districts. Four judges shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of four shall be necessary to a decision. The judges of the Supreme Court shall select one of their number to serve as Chief Justice for a term of three years.

Section 5. Jurisdiction

The Supreme Court may exercise original jurisdiction in cases relating to the revenue, mandamus, prohibition and habeas corpus, such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review, and only appellate jurisdiction in all other cases.

Appeals from the final judgments of circuit courts shall lie directly to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases involving revenue, (b) in cases involving a question arising under the Constitution of the United States or of this State, (c) in cases of habeas corpus, and (d) by the defendant from sentence in capital cases. Subject to law hereafter enacted, the Supreme Court has authority to provide by rule for appeal in other cases from the circuit courts directly to the Supreme Court.

Appeals from the Appellate Court shall lie to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases in which a question under the Constitution of the United States or of this State arises for the first time in and as a result of the action of the Appellate Court, and (b) upon the certification by a division of the Appellate Court that a case decided by it involves a question of such importance that it should be decided by the Supreme Court. Subject to rules, appeals from the Appellate Court to the Supreme Court in all other cases shall be by leave of the Supreme Court.

APPELLATE COURT

Section 6. Organization

The Appellate Court shall be organized in the five Judicial Districts. Until otherwise provided by law, the court shall consist of twenty-four judges, twelve of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and three each from the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Judicial Districts. The Supreme Court shall have authority to assign additional judges to service in the Appellate Court from time to time as the business of the Court requires. There shall be such number of divisions, of not less than three judges each, as the Supreme Court shall prescribe. Assignments to divisions shall be made by the Supreme Court and a judge may be assigned to a division in a district other than the district in which such judge resides with the consent of a majority of the judges of the district to which such assignment is made. The majority of a division shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of a majority of the division shall be necessary to a decision of the Appellate Court. There shall be at least one division in each Appellate District and each division shall sit at times and places prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court.

Section 7. Jurisdiction

In all cases, other than those appealable directly to the Supreme Court, appeals from final judgments of a Circuit Court lie as a matter of right to the Appellate Court in the district in which the Circuit Court is located, except that after a trial on the merits in a criminal case, no appeal shall lie from a judgment of acquittal. The Supreme Court shall provide by rule for expeditious and inexpensive appeals. The Appellate Court may exercise such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review. The Supreme Court may provide by rule for appeals to the Appellate Court from other than final judgments of the Circuit Court. The Appellate Court shall have such powers of direct review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

CIRCUIT COURTS

Section 8. Judicial Circuits

The State shall be divided into judicial circuits each consisting of one or more counties. The county of Cook shall constitute a judicial circuit and the judicial circuits within the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Appellate Districts, respectively, shall be as established from time to time by law. Any judicial circuit composed of more than one county shall be compact and of contiguous counties.

There shall be one circuit court for each judicial circuit which shall have such number of circuit and associate judges and magistrates as may be prescribed by law; provided, that there shall be at least twelve associate judges elected from the area in Cook County outside the City of Chicago and at least thirty-six associate judges from the City of Chicago. In Cook County, the City of Chicago and the area outside the City of Chicago shall be separate units for the election or selection of associate judges. All associate judges from said area outside the City of Chicago shall run at large from said area, such area apportionment of associate judges shall continue until changed by law. There shall be at least one associate judge from each county. There shall be no masters in chancery or other fee officers in the judicial system.

The circuit judges and associate judges in each circuit shall select one of the circuit judges to serve at their pleasure as Chief Judge of such circuit. Subject to the authority of the Supreme Court, the Chief Judge shall have general administrative authority in the court, including authority to provide for divisions, general or specialized, and for appropriate times and places of holding court. The General Assembly shall limit or define the matters to be assigned to magistrates.

Section 9. Jurisdiction

The Circuit Court shall have unlimited original jurisdiction of all justiciable matters, and such powers of review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

SELECTION AND TENURE

Section 10. Election or Selection

All of the judges provided for herein shall be nominated by party convention or primary and elected at general elections by the electors in the respective judicial districts, judicial circuits, counties, or units. Provided, however, the General Assembly may provide by law for the selection and tenure of all judges provided herein as distinguished from nomination and election by the electors, but no law establishing a method of selecting judges and providing their tenure shall be adopted or amended except by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House, nor shall any method of selecting judges and providing their tenure become law until the question of the method of selection be first submitted to the electors at the next general election. If a majority of those voting upon the question shall favor the method of selection or tenure as submitted it shall then become law.

The office of any judge shall be deemed vacant upon his death, resignation, rejection, removal or retirement. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of judge, the vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term by the voters at an election as above provided in this Section, or in such other manner as the General Assembly may provide by law as set out in this Section and approved by the electors. Whenever an additional judge is authorized by law, the office shall be filled in the same manner as in the case of a vacancy.

Section 11. Retention in Office

Not less than six months prior to the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office, any judge previously elected may file in the office of the Secretary of State a declaration of candidacy to succeed himself, and the Secretary of State, not less than 61 days prior to the election, shall certify such candidacy to the proper election officials. At the election the name of each judge who has filed such a declaration shall be submitted to the voters, on a special judicial ballot without party designation, on the sole question whether he shall be retained in office for another term. The elections shall be conducted in the appropriate judicial districts, circuits, counties and units. The affirmative votes of a majority of the voters voting on the question shall elect him to the office for another term commencing the first Monday in December following the election. Any judge who does not file a declaration within the time herein specified, or, having filed, fails of re-election, shall vacate his office at the expiration of his term, whether or not his successor, who shall be selected for a full term pursuant to Section 10 of this Article, shall yet have qualified.

Any law reducing the number of judges of the Appellate Court in any District or the number of Circuit or associate judges in any circuit shall be without prejudice to the right of judges in office at the time of its enactment to seek retention in office as hereinabove provided.

Section 12. Appointment of Magistrates

Subject to law, the circuit judges in each circuit shall appoint magistrates to serve at their pleasure; provided, that in Cook County, until and unless changed by law, at least one-fourth of the magistrates shall be appointed from and reside in the area outside the corporate limits of the City of Chicago.

Section 13. General Election

As used in this Article, the term "general election" means the biennial election at which members of the General Assembly are elected.

Section 14. Terms of Office

The term of office of judges of the Supreme Court and of the Appellate Court shall be ten years and of the circuit judges and associate judges of the Circuit Court six years.

Section 15. Eligibility for Office

No person shall be eligible for the office of judge unless he shall be a citizen and licensed attorney-at-law of this State, and a resident of the judicial district, circuit, county or unit from which selected. However, any change made in the area of a district or circuit or the reapportionment of districts or circuits shall not affect the tenure in office of any judge incumbent at the time such change or reapportionment is made.

GENERAL

Section 16. Prohibited Activities

Judges shall devote full time to their judicial duties, shall not engage in the practice of law or hold any other office or position of profit under the United States or this State or any municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, and shall not hold office in any political party. Compensation for service in the State Militia or the armed forces of the United States for such periods of time as may be determined by rule of the Supreme Court shall not be deemed "profit."

Section 17. Judicial Salaries and Expenses

Judges and magistrates shall receive for their services salaries provided by law. The salaries of judges shall not be diminished during their respective terms of office. Judicial officers may be paid such actual and necessary expenses as may be provided by law. All salaries and expenses shall be paid by the State, except that judges of the Appellate Court for the First District and circuit and associate judges and magistrates of the Circuit Court of Cook County shall receive such additional compensation from the county as may be provided by law.

Section 18. Retirement, Suspension and Removal

Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article relating to terms of office, the General Assembly may provide by law for the retirement of judges automatically at a prescribed age; and, subject to rules of procedure to be established by the Supreme Court and after notice and hearing, any judge may be retired for disability or suspended without pay or removed for cause by a commission composed of one judge of the Supreme Court selected by that court, two judges of the Appellate Court selected by that court, and two circuit judges selected by the Supreme Court. Such commission shall be convened by the Chief Justice upon order of the Supreme Court or at the request of the Senate.

Any retired judge may, with his consent, be assigned by the Supreme Court to judicial service, and while so serving shall receive the compensation applicable to such service in lieu of retirement benefits, if any.

Section 19. Judicial Conference

The Supreme Court shall provide by rule for and shall convene an annual judicial conference to consider the business of the several courts and to suggest improvements in the administration of justice, and shall report thereon in writing to the General Assembly not later than January thirty-first in each legislative year.

Section 20. Clerks of Courts

The General Assembly shall provide by law for the selection by the judges or election, terms of office, removal for cause and salaries of clerks and other non-judicial officers of the various courts; provided that a clerk shall be selected or elected for each Appellate Court District.

STATE'S ATTORNEYS

Section 21. Selection—Salary

There shall be a state's attorney elected in each county in the year 1964 and every fourth year thereafter for a term of four years. No person shall be eligible for such office unless a citizen and licensed attorney-at-law of this State. His salary shall be prescribed by law.

SCHEDULE

Paragraph 1. This Article and Schedule, with the exception of Schedule provisions expressly authorizing or directing earlier action, shall become effective on January 1, 1964, hereinafter called the "Effective Date." After the adoption of this Article the General Assembly shall enact such laws and make such appropriations and the Supreme Court shall make such rules as may be necessary or proper to give effect to its provisions.

Paragraph 2. Except to the extent inconsistent with the provisions of this Article, all provisions of law and rules of court in force on the Effective Date of this Article shall continue in effect until superseded in a manner authorized by the Constitution.

Paragraph 3. Until changed by law, (a) The Second Judicial District consists of the Counties of Jo Daviess, Stephenson, Carroll, Ogle, Lee, Winnebago, Boone, McHenry, Lake, DeKalb, Kane, Kendall, and DuPage; the Third Judicial District consists of the Counties of Mercer, Rock Island, Whiteside, Henry, Bureau, LaSalle, Grundy, Stark, Putnam, Marshall, Peoria, Tazewell, Will, Kankakee, Iroquois, Henderson, Warren, Knox, Fulton, McDonough, and Hancock; the Fourth Judicial District consists of the Counties of Adams, Pike, Calhoun, Schuyler, Brown, Cass, Mason, Menard, Morgan, Scott, Green, Jersey, Macoupin, Sangamon, Logan, McLean, Woodford, Livingston, Ford, DeWitt, Macon, Piatt, Moultrie, Champaign, Douglas, Vermilion, Edgar, Coles, Cumberland, and Clark; and the Fifth Judicial District consists of all the counties south of the Fourth District; and

(b) the existing judicial circuits shall be continued.

Paragraph 4. Each supreme court judge, circuit judge, superior court judge, county judge, probate judge, judge of any city, village or incorporated town court, chief justice and judge of any municipal court, justice of the peace and police magistrate, in office on the Effective Date of this Article, shall continue to hold office until the expiration of his term, as follows:

(a) Judges of the Supreme Court shall continue as judges of said court.

(b) Circuit judges shall continue as circuit judges of the several circuit courts.

(c) In Cook County, the judges of the Superior Court, the Probate Court, the County Court, and the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court of Chicago shall be circuit judges; the judges of the Municipal Court of Chicago, and the judges of the several municipal, city, village and incorporated town courts shall be associate judges of the Circuit Court.

(d) In counties other than the county of Cook, the county judges, probate judges, and the judges of municipal, city, village and incorporated town courts shall be associate judges of the Circuit Court.

(e) Police magistrates and justices of the peace shall be magistrates of the several circuit courts, and unless otherwise provided by law shall continue to perform their non-judicial functions for the remainder of their respective terms.

(f) The provisions of this Article governing eligibility for office shall not affect the right of any incumbent to continue in office for the remainder of his existing term pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph. For the remainder of such existing term, the provisions of this Article concerning prohibited activities shall not apply to a judge of a county, probate, city, village or incorporated town court, a justice of the peace or police magistrate.

Paragraph 5. On the Effective Date of this Article,

(a) All justice of the peace courts, police magistrate courts, city, village and incorporated town courts, municipal courts, county courts, probate courts, the Superior Court of Cook County, the Criminal Court of Cook County and the Municipal Court of Chicago are abolished and all their jurisdiction, judicial functions, powers and duties are transferred to the respective circuit courts, and until otherwise provided by law non-judicial functions vested by law in county courts or the judges thereof are transferred to the circuit courts;

(b) All the jurisdiction, functions, powers and duties of the several appellate courts shall be transferred to the Appellate Court provided for in this Article, in the appropriate district.

(c) Each court into which jurisdiction of other courts is transferred shall succeed to and assume jurisdiction of all causes, matters and proceedings then pending, with full power and authority to dispose of them and to carry into execution or otherwise to give effect to all orders, judgments and decrees theretofore entered by the predecessor courts.

(d) The files, books, papers, records, documents, moneys, securities, and other property in the possession, custody or under the control of the courts hereby abolished, or any officer thereof, are transferred to the Circuit Court; and thereafter all proceedings in all courts shall be matters of record.

Paragraph 6. Each clerk of court in office on the Effective Date of this Article shall continue to hold office, until the expiration of his existing term as follows:

(a) The clerk of the Supreme Court shall continue in such office.

(b) The clerks of the several appellate courts shall continue as clerks of the Appellate Court and shall perform such services as may be prescribed by order of the Supreme Court.

(c) In Cook County, the Circuit Court shall by rule designate one of the clerks as clerk and the others as associate clerks to perform such services as may be prescribed by rule of the Circuit Court.

(d) In judicial circuits outside Cook County, the clerks of the circuit courts in their respective counties shall continue in said offices, and the clerks of the other courts of record shall be associate clerks of the circuit court in their respective counties, shall perform such services as may be prescribed by rule of the Circuit Court and shall continue to perform other duties prescribed by law.

Paragraph 7. On the Effective Date of this Article, the bailiff of the Municipal Court of Chicago shall continue in office for the remainder of his term, and he, his deputies and assistants shall perform such services as may be prescribed by rule of the Circuit Court.

Paragraph 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8 of this Article, masters in chancery and referees in office in any court on the Effective Date of this Article shall be continued as masters in chancery or referees, respectively, until the expiration of their terms, and may thereafter by order of court, wherever justice requires, conclude matters in which testimony has been received.

Paragraph 9. Until otherwise prescribed by the General Assembly, the cases assigned to magistrates shall be those within the jurisdiction of justices of the peace and police magistrates immediately prior to the Effective Date of this Article.

Paragraph 10. Notwithstanding the terms of office provided in this Schedule and unless otherwise provided by law, of the twelve judges of the Appellate Court initially elected from the first Appellate Court district pursuant to Section 10 of this Article, four shall be elected for a term of ten years, four for a term of eight years and four for a term of six years; and of the three judges of the Appellate Court so initially elected for the Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Judicial districts respectively one shall be elected for a term of ten years, one for a term of eight years and one for a term of six years.

Paragraph 11. The Supreme Court shall assign judges of the circuit courts and of the Superior Court of Cook County to serve on the Appellate Court, in the Appellate Court Districts in which they respectively reside, from the Effective Date of this Article until the commencement of the terms of judges of the Appellate Court selected pursuant to Section 10 of this Article.

Paragraph 12.

(a) Those elected judges in office on January 1, 1963 shall be entitled to seek retention in office under Section 11 of this Article.

(b) The terms of all judges in office on January 1, 1963 expiring otherwise than on the first Monday in December in an even numbered year are extended to the first Monday in December after the general election following the date at which such terms would otherwise expire. For the purpose of application of any laws providing for an increase in judicial salaries, every judge whose term is thus extended shall be regarded as commencing a new term on the date prescribed by prior law for the election of his successor.

(c) Judges in office on the Effective Date shall not be subject to compulsory retirement at a prescribed age until after expiration of their then current terms.

Paragraph 13.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4 of this Article, elections on declarations of candidacy of judges of the Supreme Court in office on the Effective Date shall be held in the Judicial Districts established under Section 3 as follows:

(i) For incumbents from the former First and Second Supreme Court Districts, in the Fifth Judicial District;

(ii) For incumbent from the former Third Supreme Court District, in the Fourth Judicial District;

(iii) For incumbents from the former Fourth and Fifth Supreme Court Districts, in the Third Judicial District;

(iv) For incumbent from the former Sixth Supreme Court District, in the Second Judicial District;

(v) For incumbent from the former Seventh Supreme Court District, in the First Judicial District.

(b) The first vacancy in the office of judge of the Supreme Court which occurs in the former First and Second Supreme Court Districts, and the first vacancy which occurs in the former Fourth and Fifth Supreme Court Districts, and the vacancy which occurs in the former Seventh Supreme Court District shall be filled by the selection of residents of the First Judicial District created under Section 3 of this Article.

(c) The office of any judge shall be deemed vacant upon his death, resignation, removal, retirement, or failure to be retained in office pursuant to Section 11 of this Article.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article VI will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE VI

Explanation of Judicial Article Amendment

This amendment would give the state an integrated court system in which all judicial power would be vested in three levels of courts: the Supreme, Appellate, and Circuit Courts. In lieu of other existing courts there would be divisions of the Circuit Court—the only trial court.

The Supreme Court would consist of seven judges, as at present, but with three elected from Cook County and one from each of four districts in the remainder of the state. The boundaries of these districts, except for Cook County, could be changed from time to time by law. The Supreme Court would exercise administrative powers over the court system as a whole.

The Appellate Court would have five districts identical with those from which the judges of the Supreme Court would be elected. For the bulk of litigation the decision of the Appellate Court would be final.

The present Circuit Court districts would continue until changed by law. Each county would always have at least one associate Circuit Court judge. Justices of the peace and police magistrates would be merged into the Circuit Court as magistrates thereof until the expiration of their terms. Thereafter, the duties and functions of these offices would be performed by magistrates appointed by the Circuit Court, serving at the pleasure of the Court.

Incumbent clerks of all courts, the bailiff of the Chicago Municipal Court, and other non-judicial personnel will continue in office until the expiration of their terms. Thereafter, the General Assembly will provide for the selection, terms, removal, and salaries of such officers.

All salaries and expenses would be paid by the state and additional compensation may be paid in Cook County by the county.

All new and successor judges would be licensed attorneys at law. All judges would devote full time to their judicial duties. They could not be officers of a political party.

Judges who are incumbents on January 1, 1963 and thereafter would run against their record, and without party designation, rather than against an adversary candidate, in the appropriate general election. Any further fundamental changes in the method of election would require a two-thirds vote of both Houses of the General Assembly and ratification by a majority of the electors voting on the proposition.

The terms of those who are or will become judges or associate judges of the Circuit Court would be six years; the terms of judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts would be ten years.

Ordinance No. 243

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE VILLAGE OF ELK GROVE VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE RELATING TO PROPERTY KNOWN AS 30.384 ACRES AT THE NORTHEAST CORNER OF BISNER AND BIESTERFIELD ROADS BY PERMITTING THEREON A SPECIAL USE FOR A HOSPITAL AND RELATED USES

WHEREAS, the Board of Appeals of the Village of Elk Grove Village, sitting as a Zoning Commission at a public meeting duly called and held according to law (Appeal No. 62-1), considered the question of granting a special use for hospital and related uses on the real estate hereinafter described.

AND, WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, having considered the recommendation of said Zoning Board of Appeals, and the agreement of the petitioner that water and sewer lines will be run into the property at no cost to the Village and to dedicate such portions of Bisner and Biesterfield Roads as are shown on a plat of survey prepared by B. G. Gremley Company, order No. 621924, find and believe that the highest and best use of said real estate is that of hospital use and related uses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Elk Grove Village, Cook County, Illinois:

Section 1. That an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings; to regulate and limit the intensity of the use of lot areas, and to regulate and determine the areas of open space within and surrounding such buildings; to classify, regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified industrial business, residential and other uses; to divide the entire Village of Elk Grove Village into districts for the purpose of this ordinance; to fix standards to which buildings or structures shall conform; to prohibit uses, buildings or structures incompatible with the character of such districts respectively; and to prevent additions to and alterations or remodeling of existing buildings or structures in such a way as to avoid the restrictions and limitations lawfully imposed hereunder, and to provide penalties for violation hereof," passed and approved July 8, 1957, known as Ordinance No. 20, as amended, be amended by granting a special use for hospital use and related uses on the following described real estate:

The South 1,119.04 feet, as measured along the West line of the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section 32, Township 41 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian (except the South 264 feet of the East 165 feet thereof, and except the West 45.0 feet, as measured at right angles to the West line thereof and except the South 60.0 feet, as measured at right angles to the South line thereof), Cook County, Illinois, excepting therefrom the West 45 feet, as measured at right angles to the West line thereof, of the South 1,119.04 feet as measured along the West line thereof, and the South 60 feet, as measured at right angles to the South line thereof, except the East 165 feet thereof, all of the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section 32, Township 41 North, Range 11 East of the Third Principal Meridian, Cook County, Illinois.

Section 2. That said real estate as reclassified shall be subject to all the limitations and conditions placed upon properties granted a special use as defined in the ordinances aforementioned.

Section 3. That any person, firm or corporation who violates, disobeys, omits, neglects or refuses to comply with or who resists the enforcement of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined not more than One hundred ($100) Dollars for each offense, and each day that a violation is permitted to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 4. That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication, according to law.

PASSED this 13th day of August, 1962.

Lavish Dinner-Dance

Benefit Fete Is 'Sneak Preview'

A COCKTAIL PARTY preceded the benefit dinner and fashion show Saturday at Randhurst, sponsored for the Mount Prospect Chapter of Infant Welfare Society by The Fair Store, Carson Pirie & Scott Co. and Wieboldt's Stores, Inc. the three owners of Randhurst. Guests were treated to a gormet dinner, a fashion show put on by the three stores and dancing.

Couples Peek At Randhurst

by MELDA LYNN

No one word could be invented which can possibly describe the lavish Randhurst preview dinner dance put on Saturday night for the benefit of the Mount Prospect Center of the Infant Welfare Society.

Sponsored by the three major department stores which developed Randhurst, entire proceeds from gold invitations distributed by Infant Welfare Society members will go into its treasury to carry on the organizations philanthropic work.

The black tie event was hosted by The Fair Store, Wieboldt's and Carson Pirie Scott & Co. The three civic-minded stores provided a dinner beginning with champagne — followed by filet mignon and other gourmet foods, cooked according to extra special recipes.

THEN CAME petits fours. Most guests believing this was a wonderful end to a perfect dinner were delighted by an "encore" provided when waiters descended from the stairways of the terrace level leading into Carson's Floating Pavilion Restaurant bearing silver trays of flaming baked Alaska.

During dinner, guests were torn between a desire to give full attention to the superbly cooked and served dinner, while at the same time wanting to fully show their appreciation of the "Focus on Fashion" show featuring the latest fall fashions.

The show gave a glimpse of 53 different high fashion outfits in a tribute to "Fall in a Blaze of Glory." The show was divided into seven sections. First, "Enter Fall in a Blaze of Red Glory," "The Casual Elegant Look," "The Costume Takes Precedence," "The Spare Shapes of Fashion," "The Luxury of Fur," "Important Occasions," and "Enchanted Evenings."

PATRONS WERE able to be "in the know" about the latest fashion terms via an elongated "slim-line" three-folded fashion program. This added to the enjoyment of the guests and provided a thorough understanding of the fashions as they were viewed and also furnished a memento of the occasion.

All the fashions were from the various fashion departments of the three host department stores.

Before and after the cocktail hour, dinner and show, guests really previewed Randhurst — peeking into the shops in the Bazaar, the Concourse where the Tartan Tray Cafeteria and other service shops were located and giving exclamations showing they were eagerly awaiting the official opening of the center.

THEY WANDERED around various levels — inspected the tropical plantings, loving the chrysanthemums which gave a special fall feeling to the atmosphere — examining the sculpture, fountains and other points of interest which make Randhurst the most colorful, unbelievable (until you see it) center ever imagined.

Dancing followed the dinner and show in one of the sections of Carson's floating restaurant.

It was a lavish affair, probably the biggest event of the Mount Prospect Social Season. It was a thrill to residents who realized that the benefit was put on by Randhurst, which had proved, even before its doors were officially opened, what a tremendous asset Randhurst is now, and forevermore will be.

Arlington Hts. Pair Will Teach in Guam

by DOROTHY MEYER

Last fall an Arlington Heights school teacher, Mrs. Donald Paluch, watched a television program underscoring the sub-standard of living in some of our country's island possessions. Her first impulse was to want to do something about the situation and her husband's reaction to her impluse was, "Okay, let's." Sunday they left for Guam where they'll teach for two years in Tamuning, a village about two miles from Agana, the island's capital.

PACKING FOR A 2-year stay in Guam where they will teach mixed classes of American and Guamanian children in grades 7 through 12, are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Paluch, Arlington Heights teachers. Moved by a TV program which stressed the sub-standard of living in some of the islands, the Paluchs decided to offer their teaching services. (SF

Mr. and Mrs. Paluch have lived at 904 W. Maude for four years while teaching in Ridge and South Junior High schools, Mr. Paluch as a fifth grade teacher in the north side school and his wife as physical education instructor in the junior high school. In Tamuning they'll be teaching mixed classes of American and Guamanian children in grades seven through 12. Aug. 27 they'll begin an orientation week, just as they'd do if they were resuming classes in Arlington Heights.

THE TRANSITION from last fall's original impulse to last Sunday's actual deed was, of course, not so simple as it sounds. There were weeks of merely thinking about it, more weeks of seriously discussing the possibility of really "doing something," then the first step in February of this year when Mr. and Mrs. Paluch began writing letters.

They were advised by the Health, Education and Welfare Agency of the federal government to write to the local departments of labor and personnel in the capitals of whatever islands they wished to serve.

Since the television program dealt primarily with Samoa, the Paluches' first letter went to Pago Pago and successive ones to Agana and Honolulu. Samoa's need appeared greatest, Hawaii's least. Mr. and Mrs. Paluch weighed their own training and experience against the various demands, made a rather modest self-appraisal and decided they could best serve in Guam.

IN AN INTERVIEW Saturday Mrs. Paluch was asked if she'd be writing to anyone locally who could later be contacted for a possible follow-up story on their experiences in Guam. This reporter explained, "Arlington Heighters will like to know how you're doing." Mrs. Paluch, dark - eyed, petite and attractive, grinned and said, "Frankly I'd like to know too. Wish I knew today what I'll be writing in my letters home six months from now."

Asked if they'd had cold feet at any stage of their from-impulse-to-action progress, the teachers answered, "Of course, lots of times—but never a serious ease."

Although much of their immediate future is uncertain, Mr. and Mrs. Paluch do know that they'll experience radical changes; just two are higher temperatures and a lower standard of living. Guam's year-round temperature is between 70 and 90 degrees with a humidity to match. With their lower standard of living will be a salary to match.

Guam may not be good for them, but Superintendent of Schools Ralph Clabaugh says, "They're a fine couple. They're going to be good for Guam."

Garden Rows

Flower and vegetable gardeners often like to mark rows for their own convenience as well as that of visitors. Stakes aren't attractive, but paddles are.

Paddles, with a stake end to push into the earth, are made easily and inexpensively by sawing them from a panel of Masonite Tempered Presdwood, available at lumber yards. Scrap pieces may be purchased for this purpose.

Paddles can be just less than the width of the seeed package, which can be slipped on as a jacket for identification. If you prefer to label your rows otherwise, you can hand letter them or use a stencil.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Who? Me?

One of the nicest and most admirable things about me is my astounding ability to rise and shine when the occasion demands. Well, I may not always shine but I sure do rise. Higher than a kite. Just call me old shake, rattle and roll.

MARY

We were invited to partake of cake and coffee at the Governor's mansion. There were quite a snatch of us as I do not mean to give the impression that there was anything tete a tete about this. I mean, one went. One met the Governor. One had coffee and then one ogled the rooms. Which were very ogleable.

There we were standing, making chitchat with some friends,, when this female comes up to me and taps my arm. She then asks if I will do them the honor of pouring. Coffee. I almost leaped back four feet yelling, "Who? Me?," but caught myself in time. Trying desperately to act as though I poured for governors every week or so, I tottered toward the dining room in female's wake. To tell the truth, this was my first pouring job whether for a governor or the PTA.

This is where my true colors came to the fore. Let's face it. My nerves have had a peachy workout this year and are not exactly up to par. In fact, I found out that they are shot to pieces. Smiling glassily, I sat down in the place of honor and with hands shaking like leaves in a high wind, tried to turn the spigot. I got the coffee in the cup all right but the nasty problem arose as to how I was going to convey it to the waiting customer's plate without spraying it all over the state dining room. It was a fraught moment.

I sort of edged it over to the side of the large silver tray and looked appealingly at the fellow so patiently waiting. He couldn't seem to read me evidently thinking I was an old hand at this game. Finally, figuring that honesty is the best, and in this instance the only, policy, I asked him winsomely if he minded picking up his own coffee or did he prefer it in flying drops. To say the least, he was startled but came through like a little trooper and picked up his cup.

As time went on, and the coffee end of the table was terribly popular, I became quite adept at shoving the cups along the tray, then looking brightly at the people as if to say, "I've done my bit, now you do yours." To a man, they cooperated magnificiently.

I am pleased to say that after about an hour of pouring and shoving, I quieted to the point where I could lift a cup creditably. As I left, the Governor thanked me. I thanked the Governor. And, when we reached our car, we had a parking ticket. (SF

Shrub Damage by Canine Capers Can Be Minimized

Thousands of valuable evergreens, particularly juniper and arborvitae, suffer unsightly damage at this time of year because of canine capers. Fido would seem obsessed at times with the need to tell the rest of dogdom that "Kilroy was here."

Homeowners whose lowgrowing evergreens and foundation plantings sport ugly brown spots from these visitations are tempted at times to resort to extreme measures. Actually, however, it isn't necessary to banish your own Fido or sit with rifle cocked for the neighbor's pooch to come calling.

O. L. Follin, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says the problem can be met by the exercise of humane as well as judicious action. One is by the erection of tree wire guards which can be purchased at almost any garden supply store. Surprisingly, these fancy little fences do tend to discourage dogs from their depredations despite the fact that the guards are anything but dogproof in a physical sense.

SOME DEGREE of success can be obtained by the use of various dog repellents now on the market. All of these are predicted on spraying your shrubs with a formula that possesses a disagreeable scent —at least so far as the canine visitor is concerned.

Frequency of application will depend on weather conditions as well as on Fido's sense of smell. Generally, however, three or four applications each season are sufficient.

But a note of caution is in order! These spray materials are relatively safe for your plantings if used at the strength recommended by the manufacturer with the added precaution that they be not applied during the hottest hours of a summer day. Otherwise leaf burning may result.

Although juniper and arborvitae seem most susceptible, actually no type of evergreen is immune from this kind of canine damage. (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Darling of the Floor

Dear Peg:

Now begins the long wait, when three hours seem like a day. An orderly and a nurse just rolled Mother away on one of those table-top-carts. Although groggy and thick-tongued, she merrily waved her hand and grinned a goodbye, as if she were going to a ticker-tape parade instead of an operating room.

One of the reasons for our visit here, at this time, was to be with Mother when she underwent minor surgery. The poor dear has been in the hospital for a week taking all sorts of tests and a type of medication necessary before an operation of this kind. Her roommates have come and have gone, but all agreed that she was the most entertaining and thoughtful "neighbor" they had even known. Being the "live wire" that she is, she was bored with sitting and waiting after the first day here, so she asked me to bring all the snapshots she has of the grandchildren, in order to start making an album of them. But, running true to grandmother form, she spent more time talking about the children to anyone who would listen than she did pasting their pictures in a book.

The children call her everyday. Yesterday Patrick wanted to know when she was going to have the baby and come home to go fishing with him. Apparently, he thinks to have a baby is the only reason a lady goes to the hospital.

She has a lovely air conditioned room, bright and attractively furnished. There has been just one problem. A tiny night light, which shines over each patient's head on this floor, has not had the scheduled repair so that it can be put out. Irritated by the feeling that she was sleeping under a spotlight, Mother put her head at the foot of her bed the first night.

Around 3 a.m. a nurse came in, saw her and started to yank up the sides of her bed — evidently thinking that Mother was unaware of her position in bed and fearful that she might fall out. Mother told her to put the sides back down — she wanted to sleep that way, and furthermore, she had slept in a bed for 67 years and hadn't fallen out yet.

The nurse didn't like it too well. After all, it wasn't "customary." However, in the morning Mother explained her problem a little more politely and I'm happy to say that by now she's the darling of the floor.

My love,
Patty

Aqua and White Color Theme For Parson-Ewart Nuptials

An aqua and white theme which was carried out in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights July 14, was also used at a dinner for 85 guests in the Golden Acres Country Club to fete newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ewart.

The former Nancy Parson and Mr. Ewart were united in a 5 o'clock candlelight double ring ceremony by Rev. George Kincheloe that day. Following the dinner was an open house at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Parson, 645 S. Highland, Arlington Hights. The groom is the son of the R. H. Ewarts of Edmonds, Wash.

AMID THE white gladioli and white and aqua carnations, the organist, Mrs. Earl Auge, accompanied Mrs. Barbara Meyer of Cary, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." White ribbons decorating the pews lined the center aisle of the church, where Miss Parson was escorted by her father.

Wearing a pearl necklace given her by the groom, the bride was attired in an imported pure silk and alencon lace chapel sweep gown fashioned with alencon lace and pearls, fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. Lace and pearls were appliqued in front of the full skirt and a bus e topped the floating panels in the back. Her silk illusion two-tiered bouffant veil fell from a half hat highlighted with two pure silk pearl-trimmed cabbage roses.

A cascade design of white orchids and stephanotis surrounded the white prayer book was carried by the bride.

MRS. JANET FALL of Chi- aqua an dwhite theme by wear- cago served as her sister's ma- ing an aqua dress with bell- tron of honor and continued the shaped skirt, lace bodice and sabrina - length sleeves. She, as well as the similarly attired bridesmaids, Misses Valerie Wasmund of Des· Plaines and Patricia Mahler of Arlington Heights, had matching accessories and pill box hats with short veeils. Their aqua carnations and white roses were carried in a basket.

The biscuit-colored dress with lace top and full pleated skirt chosen by the bride's mother was accented with pink accessories and a pink cymbidium corsage. A white cymbidium corsage was chosen by the mother of the groom, who wore a mauve pink silk and lace sheath with pink accessories.

THREE ARLINGTON Heights residents, William McMinn as best man, and J. Larry Turnee and Edward Jirikowic as ushers, served the groom.

Following the dinner the newlyweds left for a 2-week honeymoon at the Seattle World's Fair. They are now at home at 645 S. Highland in Arlington Heights.

The new Mrs. Ewart, an Arlington High graduate, is employed with the Pure Oil Company in Palatine. Her groom attended the University of Washington at Seattle and is now stationed at the U. S. Army Nike Site in Arlington Heights. (Jenart

Larry Pearson Weds In Park Ridge Rites

Now living in Addison since their July 7 marriage are Mr. and Mrs. Larry P. Pearson. The bride is the former Charlene Fern Eckman, daughter of the Ray Eckmans of Park Ridge, and the bridegroom's parents are the Harold Pearsons, 522 Council Trail, Mount Prospect.

The wedding was performed by Dr. L. Gustafson at 4:30 in the afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Park Ridge. James Brockhouse was organist for the double ring rites.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a silk organza wedding dress with scooped neckline, long sleeves and a chapel train. The gown was trimmed with a lace panel down the front and a draped bustle of organza at the back waist. A frosted orange blossom headpiece held her French illusion veil in place, and the bridal bouquet was composed of white carnations, roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's only jewelry was a mother of pearl necklace.

POWDER BLUE was chosen for the bridal attendants' ensembles. Each wore a street length sheath dress of crystal crepe, in the soft blue shade, fashioned with a crushed cummerbund and a bow at the back of the waist. A circular headpiece, also in powder blue, and crescent bouquets of tinted blue carnations completed the attire.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Lucille Wilmette of Park Ridge, and bridesmaids were Joyce Eckman, the bride's sister, and Marguerite Wentzell of Des Plaines.

WITNESSING THE wedding festivities, the bride's mother wore turquoise silk organza and had a yellow cymbidium corsage. The groom's mother was attired in pale yellow with a similar corsage.

At the church altar with the bridegroom were Kenneth Knuth of Northlake as best man and Duane Eckman, the bride's brother, and Ted Feineis of Chicago as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet dinner reception took place for 150 guests in Habetler's in Chicago.

AFTER A 2-week honeymoon in Colorado the couple are now residing at 536 Michigan Court, Addison.

Both are employed, the bride at Middle States Telephone Co. in Park Ridge and the groom at Brunken Industries, Addison.

Peggy Teece Becomes Richard Chase's Bride

White bouquets decorated the altar of St. Theresa Church in Palatine July 21 when Peggy Teece and Richard Chase were united by Fr. Sullivan in a 10 o'clock double ring nuptial mass.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Keith Reynolds of New York, Miss Teece, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Teece, 249 E. Chicago Ave., Palatine, wore a silk organza floor-length gown fashioned with a scoop neck appliqued with alencon lace. The full skirt also had alencon lace appliques and the long sleeves came to a point. A 2-tier bouffant veil of silk illusion was fastened to a pillbox crown of alencon lace, leaves and pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses.

Muriel Kay Parker of Escondido, Calif., was her sister's matron of honor, attired in a yellow nylon over taffeta dress with bell-shaped skirt. The bridesmaids, Kathy Glynn and Theresa Wojlal, both of Palatine, had dresses identical to that of the matron of honor and all carried nosegays of white daisies.

Their headpieces were double yellow pearl bows which held short yellow pearl drops, gifts from the bride.

ALSO WEARING A yellow nylon dress was 3½-year-old Judy Sobb of Palatine, flower girl.

The groom, son of Arlington Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Chase, was attended by Wayne Pauley of Deerfield as best man and John Russell and John Marsala of Palatine as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Teece chose a pastel pink imported pure silk sheath with matching hat and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Chase, attired in a beige lace dress and pink hat, had a corsage of white gardenias.

A 2-WEEK honeymoon in Wisconsin followed the ceremony and a wedding breakfast for 125 guests at the Villa Moderne in Highland Park.

Guests came from New York, California, Connecticut, Indiana, Wisconsin and the Chicago suburbs.

Both of the newleyweds, who are making their home at 332 S. Rohlwing Road, Palatine, attended Palatine High, where the bride graduated in 1962. Mr. Chase is now employed at Rainsoft Water Conditioner Co., Wood Dale. (Jenart Studio

Chicago is New Home For Arlington Bride

Since her marriage July 28 and a week's wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells, Miss Ilene Hoppe, daughter of the junior E. Hoppes, 202 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, has become a Chicago resident. Miss Hoppe became the bride of Herbert Schmitt, son of the R. Schmitts of Chicago, in a 4:30 p.m. service in St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights.

THe newlyweds, both graduates of the University of Illinois, are making their first home at 5317 S. Kimbark. The bride, who was also graduated from Arlington High School, is employed by Cook County Public Aid and her groom is employed by the Institute for Computer Research at the University of Chicago.

Rev. Bartz officiated at the ceremony during which Myra Anderson, soloist, sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." Donna Siemro was organist. Mr. Hoppe escorted his daughter to the altar which was decorated with white glads and shasta mums.

THE BRIDE chose a full length gown with chapel train and her bouffant veil was held in place with a crown headpiece. White roses, lily of the valley and ivy made up her bouquet.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Nancy Haskins of Elk Grove Village and Miss Judy Smith of Glen Ellyn as bridesmaid. Both attendants were in yellow sheaths with overskirts and carried white shasta mums.

Mrs. Hoppe chose blue embroidered organza over a silk sheath while Mrs. Schmitt chose a pink silk organza sheath. Both mothers complemented their ensembles with corsages of white glamellias.

(Jenart Studio (S

Bob Daniels of Chicago was the groom's best man and Lawrence Hauser, also of Chicago was usher.

Following the service, 100 guests attended the 6:30 p.m. reception and dinner in Gunnell's Restaurant, Mount Prospect.

It's Acapulco Honeymoon For Palatine Man, Bride

A flight to Acapulco and Mexico City with a 9-day stay in those resort cities was the honeymoon for Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Lee Helms, who were married July 21 in First Methodist Church in Woodstock. The bride is the former Gloria Jean Sandgren, daughter of the Robert Sandgrens of Wonder Lake, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Helms, 203 N. Benton, Palatine.

Rev. Stanley Beck married the couple in the 6 o'clock double ring service, and John Monkman accompanied himself at the organ as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Vases of white flowers formed the setting for the ceremony during which Mr. Sandgren gave his daughter in marriage.

A floor-length white silk organza gown over taffeta was the choice of the bride for her marriage. It was fashioned with chapel train and with alencon lace trimming the bodice and the three-quarter sleeves. The same lace also trimmed the front of the skirt and a pearl and sequin crown held her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of white fuji mums and roses.

MRS. JEANNINE Wolff was matron of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Judy Sandgren, the groom's sister, Carol Helms, and Judy Anderson. All wore identical sheaths with bouffant overskirts, Mrs. Wolff's in a deep shade of blue and the others graduating in hue to a light shade of blue. They carried cascades of white fuji mums with deep pink, feathered carnations.

The bride's mother chose a beige silk organza sheath with cocoa brown embroidered bodice and Mrs. Helms chose a beige silk organza sheath with matching jewelry. Both mothers chose corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Jerry Segebrecht was the groom's best man and groomsmen were the groom's brother, Allen Helms, Dan Lamanski and Don Teegan. Ushers were Dick Sandgren and Gerald Wolff.

A BUFFET supper for 100 guests was held in the Wing 'n Fin Club after which Mr. Helms took his bride on their wedding trip. They returned home July 30 and are residing in an apartment at 212 Plum Grove, Palatine.

The bride, a graduate of Northern Illinois University, will be teaching second grade in School District 15, Palatine. Mr. Helms was graduated from Palatine High School and is employed by American Airlines at O'Hare Field. (S

Beware Unseen Light Rays

Protecting your eyes from invisible light is as important as comforting them from bright sunlight, particularly during long periods of exposure.

Properly designed sunglasses should eliminate the invisible rays of infrared and ultraviolet radiation, according to the Illinois Optometric Association.

These potent rays, which are used to dry paint, broil steaks, kill bacteria and produce a golden sun tan, are abundant even on days when visible light is not too bright.

CLOUDS, WHICH screen light rays, let through certain ultraviolet and infrared radiation — so don't be fooled by an overcast day.

If you are planning to spend a lot of time outdoors at the beach, on the lake or driving cross-country, quality sunglasses, especially those professionally prescribed of ground and polished glass, will save wear and tear on the eyes.

Excessive energy from unfiltered sunlight will cause squinting, tears and, if endured for several hours, will bring a reddening and irritation of the outer coverings of the eyes.

There is experimental evidence that such inflammation can reduce your ability to see at night.

MOST RECOMMENDED colors are a neutral gray or smoke color. Gray-green and brown ar also acceptable.

Filters such as red, blue, orange and yellow are not advised because they can seriously affect color vision.

Lenses should extend far enough out to cover the entire field of vision.

For people who wear glasses, the Illinois Optometric Association recommends the purchase of perscription sunglasses.

They will provide the right correction and more effective screening of sunlight.

Many optometrists advise against clip-on sunglasses because they fail to control light around the edges of the field of vision and are only partially effective.

Faith Samson and Groom To Make Home in Michigan

An exciting summer has unfolded for an Arlington Heights girl, Faith Marion Samson, with her July 28 marriage followed by a 3-week honeymoon to northern Wisconsin and Mexico and the prospect of teaching out-of-town in September. The bride and her bridegroom, Jon Carl Jacobson of Chicago, are both graduates of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, and both have been teaching in this area the past year.

The bride taught kindergarten in Maywood and the bridegroom completed his second year of teaching at Palatine High School. Their plans now call for the bride to teach first grade in Ypsilanti, Mich., in fall, the groom to enter the University of Michigan Law School. The couple will leave for Michigan the end of August to reside at 112 Koch St., Ann Arbor.

THE WEDDING ceremony took place in the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights with a reception following at Old Orchard Country Club.

Dr. William Jacobs of Aurora united the pair before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, carnations and mums. The bride entered the sanctuary wearing a white ballerina-length dress of chantilly lace over taffeta. Her veil of butterfly netting was held by a crown of imported orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy centered with a white orchid.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Parker E. Samson of 618 S. Burton Place, Arlington Heights, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobson of Chicago.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S sister, Dori Jacobson, was maid of honor at the candlelight ceremony, and wore a light blue taffeta dress with bell-shaped skirt for the occasion. She carried a basket of white carnations and red roses.

Serving as bridesmaid was Caroline Fyfe of Oak Park, and as junior bridesmaid, the bride's sister, Katherine Samson. Miss Fyfe was dressed identically to the maid of honor, and Miss Samson wore white organdy over light blue taffeta with a light blue satin cummerbund. Their flowers were the same as the maid of honor's.

The bridegroom had Tim Seidl of Cleveland as his best man, and serving as ushers were Herbert Busching of West Lafayette, Ind., and Charles Fyfe of Oak Park.

Witnessing the ceremony, the bride's mother chose a pastel flowered lace dress with white accessories and the grooms' mother a light blue linen dress with matching accessories.

Appearance Improved By Dividers

Since dividers usually are a prominent part of the floor plan, their appearance should be considered carefully. A distinctive and durable surface for divider walls, cabinets and screens can be achieved by using plastic-surfaced Marlite paneling. Easily handled planks and blocks of this material can be applied with adhesive to a framework or solid base.

Available in attractive colors and high-fidelity woodgrains, the panels will retain their beauty because they are protected by a baked plastic surface.

Easy Cleaning Of 'Rec' Rooms

Most homemakers agree that easy maintenance is of prime importance in a basement recreation room. An attractive and practical woodgrain recreation room can be planned by specifying Marlite planks, which have a washable plastic surface. In addition to being so easy to clean, the plastic-surfaced hardboard plans never need refinishing.

Protect Walls With Wainscot

Children aren't responsible for all stairway maintenance problems, but their mussy handprints and hard-to-remove shoe scuffs do create a problem in many homes. One of the most popular remedies for this problem is wainscoting with washable Marlite planks.

The planks, which come in plain colors and high-fidelity woodgrains, can be applied over the old wall surfaces. A damp or sudsy cloth will remove all evidences of hard wear. The paneling's tempered hardboard base will not split or dent from abrasions.

Premiere of Purple Dobbin To Benefit Infant Welfare

A premiere showing of a new shop is always exciting and when it is sponsored by a well known local charity group, the fun is doubled. With this in mind, the Palatine Center of Infant Welfare will team up with a new shop opening soon in Long Grove, The Purple Dobbin, to provide a gay evening Aug. 25 for husbands and wives at Inverness Golf Club.

After cocktails on the terrace, new fall fashions will be modeled by members of the Palatine Center of fant Welfare with Vic Caras commentator.

Mr. Caron, who lives in Old Town in Chicago, is not only a clothes designer himself, but also represents the California firm of Rudi Guernright, which is noted in the industry for its interesting and unique treatment of knit wear. Some of these high fashions will be featured in the style show.

STRACCI, another well known Italian designer, will attend th affair, also, as a guest of The Purple Dobbin Shop and will enjoy viewing some of his creations as they are modeled.

Immediately following this show, a lavish buffet will be served, with dancing promised for the latter part of the evening. But fun is not the only consideration of this gala event, for proceeds of this benefit will be used by the Infant Welfare Society to help provide health supervision by a professional staff for infants and pre-school children in low income groups.

CONSTRUCTION SITE of Long Grove's new women's apparel shop, the Purple Dobbin, provides background for Mrs. C. Bracke of Plum Grove Estates who will be one of the models Aug. 25 when Palatine Infant Welfare Center sponsors premiere of the shop. The gala benefit will also feature a lavish buffet and dancing, and will be held in Inverness Golf Club. Black organza was used to fashion this sleeveless, deeply ruffled coat which covers a slender sheath of the same material. Members of the Center will be models for the fashions. (S

Hang Utensils Right on Range

Since not all ranges are built-ins yet, many homemakers overlook a good bet. Why not store some of the most-used utensils where they'll be in the handiest place imaginable—on the unused outside end panel?

This location can be converted to utensil storage without damaging the range in any way or detracting from its appearance. Simply attach a panel of Peg-Board, suggests the Masonite Home Service Bureau.

Just get some small magnets from a hardware store and fasten them with contact cement to the back of a Peg-Board panel. Just be sure that there'll be 3/8" of space behind it for hooks to be inserted in the perforations. You might need first to attach some small pieces of hardboard and then cement magnets to them.

Prime and paint the Peg-Board panel colorfully.

New Treatment For Old Baths

One way to transform an old-fashioned bathroom into a modern unit is to give the walls a new kind of decorative treatment.

Give the walls the warmth of woodgrain paneling or the interest of attractive colors or patterns and be completely practical by using plastic-surfaced Marlite. The paneling, which is available at lumber dealers, has a baked plastic surface that is not harmed by moisture and other bathroom abuse. The surface is easily wiped clean with a damp or sudsy cloth.

Margaret Gillon Is Married On 'Family' Anniversary Date

July 28 was already the wedding anniversary date of Miss Margaret Susan Gillon's sister, her mother, and her grandmother, and now it will be Margaret's anniversary for on that date, in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, she became the bride of Roger D. Ahlgrim. For her parents, the Hugh W. Gillons, 410 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, it was the 34th anniversary, and for her sister, Mrs. Walter K. James of Park Forest, it was the sixth anniversary.

Still another, but more recent, family tradition was carried out when the bride wore the same 4-leaf clover and sixpence in her shoe that her sister had worn at her wedding six years ago.

Dr. Paul L. Stumpf officiated at the 7:30 p.m. candlelight service amid a setting of pink Sensation roses and sprays of ivy which overhung the altar rails. Mrs. Earle Auge was organist for the double ring ceremony and soloist, Miss Marion Widmer, sang "Through the Years," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Jenart Studio (S

THE BRIDE, escorted by her father, was given in marriage by both her mother and father to Mr. Ahlgrim, the son of the Walter W. Ahlgrims of Elmhurst. Her gown was of silk organza with fitted bodice and long, tapered sleeves. The square neckline was piped in Swiss lace and the full, floor-length skirt was accented with Swiss embroidery and organza bows. Her silk illusion veil was held by a cluster of imported waxed Stephanotis.

White roses and strands of ivy arranged on a Rainbow Bible were carried by the bride as well as an Irish linen lace handkerchief given her by a friend of the groom's family.

Miss Virginia Benz of Chicago was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Margaret Sandy Harris of East Moline, a former Arlington Heights resident, and Miss Jacqueline Genteman, also of Chicago. Junior bridesmaid was the bride's niece, Miss Lynda Rae Gillon of Toledo.

THE BRIDESMAIDS were in turquoise sheer over nylon with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their full skirts were accented with tiny satin bows and their turquoise circle veils were held in place by three tiny, satin matching bows. All carried nosegays, Miss Benz' with white carnations, pink roses and ivy and the others with white carnations, Garnet roses and ivy.

The groom's niece, Susan Marie Ahlgrim of Elmhurst, and the bride's nephew, Randal Paul James of Park Forest, both 6, were also in the wedding party. As flower girl Susan wore a white nylon sheer with turquoise bow effect carried out in detail on her dress and headpiece. She carried white carnations and pink roses.

The bride's nephew was ring bearer, and wore a white Eton suit and carried a white satin pillow with the rings.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Arthur B. Ahlgrim of Elmhurst and ushers were another brother, Robert. W. Ahlgrim of Wheaton, his cousin, Burton Mall of La Grange Park, the bride's brother, Hugh W. Gillon Jr. of Toledo, Robert Lindquist of Elmhurst and Ronald Hunter of Lombard.

A RECEPTION for 250 guests followed immediately after the service in the church's Fellowship Hall where Mrs. Gillon received in a dress of gray lace over rose satin and corsage of white carnations and pink roses. The groom's mother wore a Dior blue Italian silk dress which she had purchased in Venice on a recent European trip. Her accessories were in antique gold and her corsage was also of white carnations and pink roses.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip around Lake Michigan and stayed for three days in Michigan and Mackinac Island. Since their return they have been residing at 124 S. York Road, Elmhurst.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School and is completing her senior year at Elmhurst College this year. Her bridegroom was graduated from Illinois Wesleyan University and the Worsham College of Mortuary Science and is associated with Ahlgrim and Son Funeral Home in Elmhurst.

Nancy Mees

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mees, 408 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Nancy Ann Mees, to Robert Louis Creviston, son of former Arlington Heights residents, the Mark S. Crevistons of Centerville, Ohio.

Miss Mees attended the University of Illinois and was affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi social sorority. Mr. Creviston was graduated from the University of Illinois and was affiliated with Acacia fraternity. He will enter the armed forces in November.

A January wedding is planned.

Second Time Around

Mexico's Villages Offer Real Charm

BY JEANNE WELCH

Two weeks ago this column discussed a first trip to Mexico. For your second or third trip or, perhaps, in your search for a retirement home, you will probably want to get away from the more popular tourist areas to the lesser known towns and villages. There, prices are low and the real spirit of the people and of the country more apparent than in Mexico City or Acapulco.

One of the charms of Mexico is that one can find virtually all levels of accommodations—luxury, middle-priced and, for the ascetic, the very simple life at very low cost. Be sure, however, if you choose the latter, that you will really enjoy foregoing private baths, four-lane highways and other taken-for-granted conveniences. Don't commit yourself, sight unseen, to a two or three week stay in an off-the-beaten-path village. Sample one or two first.

IT'S A GOOD idea to develop your asceticism gradually, beginning with the middle-sized and middle-priced towns and using one as a base from which to explore the more primitive villages.

One good operating base is Merida, at the tip of Yucatan, where the mysterious Mayan civilization once flourished. There there are inexpensive hotels and comfortable guest houses and pensions. At Merida, willy-nilly, you'll develop an interest in archeology. A fine museum of early art is within the town itself and an easy bus ride or drive away are the great Mayan cities of Chichen, Itza, Uxmal, Kabah and Champoton, with their temples and pyramids dating from the fifth century. If you have mountain climber's blood you may enjoy climbing the pyramids. For me, once was exactly once too often.

From Merida you can fly over to one of the two Caribbean islands which are under the Mexican flag - Cozumel, and its small village of San Miguel. Most of Cozumel is pure 16th century, with grass streets where burros act as street cleaners by keeping the grass closely cropped. Don't be surprised if you encounter blond hair and blue eyes among the village senoritas. They are descendents of the 16th century buccaneers who found Cozumel just as delightful as its 20th century visitors do.

INQUIRE IN Merida regarding the current situation in accommodations on Cozumel. They are small hotels and guest houses. At the latter one usually shares the family bath.

Another gulf coast town where accommodations are better than basic is Vera Cruz where the old custom of the serennatta, the parade of the unmarried village girls around the square, is still carried on, to the accompaniment of band music. As Vera Cruz is a seaport, restaurants are supplied daily with wonderful seafood and watching the ships unload their cargoes can provide an hour's entertainment.

Just north of Vera Cruz is the smaller Tecolutla, with uncrowded white sand beaches and good fishing, both in the ocean and in the Tecolutla river.

YET ANOTHER gulf coast town, well known by tourists but still relatively inexpensive, is Fortin de Las Flores, with its famed gardenia filled swimming pool at the Ruiz Galindo hotel. Fortin is in the heart of Mexico's flower growing region and the lushness of its tropical blooms, including wild orchids, is beyond description. Fortin is a lively town offering many things to do, golf, horseback riding, bridge, bowling, all in an incredibly beautiful mountain setting.

In planning your Mexican trip consult your travel agent, the airline offices serving Mexico, your book store and the card catalog of your public library - THEN, "Vaya con dios." (T

Re-do Kitchens

A good basic decorative plan for a divided kitchen is a bright color in the food preparation area and a handsome woodgrain in the dining area. Homeowners can install this decorative theme without outside help by using plastic-surfaced hardboard, which can be put up over old walls. Called Marlite, it comes in attractive colors, woodgrains and decorator patterns.

Unearth Original John Deere Shop

GRAND DETOUR, ILL. (UPI) — The site of a blacksmith shop where John Deere built the first successful steel plow 125 years ago has been unearthed by archeologists.

A team from the University of Illinois found where the "plow that broke the plains" was developed, about 150 feet southwest of the old John Deere homestead.

DEERE'S STEEL plow allowed successful cultivation of the prairie soil in the midwestern farm belt. Until that time, tilling of the land after the sod was broken was almost impossible because soil clung to the iron plows then available and had to be scrapped with heavy wooden paddles every few steps.

Dr. Elaine Bluhm, assistant professor of anthropology, said she and her co-workers turned up bricks and stones which may indicate the outline of Deere's shop and manufacturing building.

She said they found the spot where the forge stood, ashen material, clinkers and a stone from the forge.. West of the building, the color of the soil indicated Deere ground and polished metal in the area.

A PRE-CIVIL war lock and some horseshoe nails were also found at the site, gradually covered by fill work over the years.

The find was announced to directors of Deere and Co. who came here to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the plow. Deeere founded the company, now the oldest major manufacturing business in Illinois.

Some Folks Honest

'Wayward Suitcase' Returned to Family

The James R. King family of 113 Waverly Road, Mount Prospect, returned from their California vacation last month, but one of their suitcases has just caught up with them.

The case of the wayward suitcase has the Kings believing that people will go to any lengths to be honest.

It all happened on a motor trip west. Driving along one of the notoriously hectic freeways, King noticed that other drivers were pointing at the luggage carrier on his car roof. After pulling over to the side of the road, the family discovered that a suitcase had slipped its moorings.

KING FOUND that it isn't easy to exit on a California freeway as he tried to retrace his route. The Kings looked, but there was nary a suitcase in the road.

"It contained all my son Jim's vacation clothes," Mrs. King said. Young Jim is 8 years old and a fourth grader at Westbrook School in the suburb.

"Since we had no identification on it, we never expected to see the bag or the clothes again," Mrs. King said. "But one day my husband was reading a newspaper published by the Northwest Suburban YMCA, and he saw an item about a lost suitcase," she added.

IT READ: "Found—one suitcase full of boys' clothing on Highway 17 outside of Los Gatos, California. Among the items was a Northwest Suburban YMCA t-shirt. Owner may secure more information by calling the YMCA."

The "more information" was a letter from Mrs. Cynthia W. Chittenden of Los Gatos, California that said she had found the suitcase on the highway. She discovered that the only clue was the Y t-shirt.

Mrs. Chittenden inquired at the St. Jose, Calif. YMCA about the location of the Northwest Suburban YMCA. After searching through Y records (there are over 1800 YMCAs in the United States), she was told that the Northwest Suburban YMCA is located in Des Plaines, Ill.

The wayward suitcase is home now. It's probably making plans for next year's vacation away from the family. (T

'This Is the Way We Wash Our Clothes...'

by BETTY AINSLIE

Ever been in a launderette, washerette or laundromat? A windowless space of yelling children, bouncing washers and whirling dryers — where it's at least ten degrees hotter indoors than out — but one of the greatest helps to vacation travelers since the invention of the station wagon.

Nearly every small town that nestles anywhere near a resort area will have a busy washing spot. It's as friendly and gossipy as the old time weekly clothes pounding gathering on the banks of the Nile must have been. On a vacation you needn't return home with stacks and sacks of dirty laundry, or you needn't burden yourself and the car with extra clothes to fill in the two weeks — no not with these handy clothes dunking spots available.

HERE YOU find a surprising number of men, some obviously retired and merely there seeing that the wife does the weekly wash correctly. They are interested in the inner workings of the change machine, soap dispenser as well as the washers and dryers. They are the ones who will give you information at your first puzzled glance. They know exactly how much soap and how many clothes for each machine, and are handy to bestow either sympathy to you or a sound wallop to the change machines after they have swallowed your money without a belch of nickels and dimes.

My contact with the self-service laundry shop was strictly limited to once when my own faithful clothes bouncer broke down and I streaked to a local coin laundry with a basketful of half washed dripping clothes. But now I've discovered them for a real friend on vacation.

IT'S AT THE vacation laundromats where you find the milling mobs. Here fathers away from daily toil for two weeks try to corral two or three noisy and nosey small ones, do the wash and give the wife a break to do a little vacation shopping in some of the shops nearby.

Armed with a plastic bottle of milk for the youngest, a pull or push toy for the next, a bagful of dirty clothes and a fistful of dimes he's ready to spend an hour or two exchanging dirty clothes for clean. One harassed husband had three small fry in tow. He spent his time trying to watch three machine loads of clothes, keep six inquisitive hands from opening washer fronts and six skipping feet from tripping the rest of the customers. He looked hot and unhappy when he declared, "Boy, will I be glad to go back to work. More and more I admire my wife by golly. Just how does she stand this all day?"

Everyone is friendly at the laundromat and no car would think of taking off for a day's trip from any cottage or cabin without the crammed, canvas laundry bag in the back seat.

MANY A morning my friends and I took off with the car for that day bristling with sacks, bags and boxes of soiled clothes. We'd planned a days shopping but could easily kill two birds with one stone. Arriving en masse we'd use two or three machines apiece providing we were there early enough to get them. Start some high finance transactions between us by borrowing and lending dimes, quarters or nickles — and then we could disappear for forty-five minutes of bargain hunting.

We'd return and load up a dryer with the contents of three washing machines (they are giant sized) drop in three or four dimes (thank goodness you didn't have to return every ten minutes to put in another dime) and let her rip, while we ate luneh or continued shopping.

Sorta nice to appease a husband, who had spent a day fruitlessly fishing, with some clean socks and shirts before I showed him my bargains.

AROUND THE university and college campuses are coin wash places making the cardboard laundry case of my youth a thing of the past, but kids do miss out on all the goodies that mothers used to tuck into that weekly case of clean clothes.

Diane and her roommate have the poor little man attendant at the near campus laundromat constantly charging around with his string mop. Seems the girls usually figure they need lots of soap to clean out Milwaukee grime, so they keep on adding the white detergent. When they return a half hour later they're always greeted by the little man, grim faced, vigorously flourishing his mop and the rest of the patrons clinging to the leeward store side as they slide from washer to dryer. But by now though the attendant meets them at the door, escorts them to a washmachine, measure out a half cup of detergent from their generous box, silently dumps it in and saves himself an extra floor scrubbing.

I've found a launderette is handy, too, if you have several loads of clothes to do and would like things clean and dry all at once. By filling several machines and later several dryers you can be in and out in an hour or so, where your home machine might take all day to accomplish the same task.

Anyway, housework is a kinda lonely business. You scrub, clean, dust, iron, cook, wash dishes and bake — alone. So it's a break in the monotony to join the group at the laundromat for a gab session through at least one of our household chores. (Soc

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

An Alice in Wonderland Party

The gardens are in full bloom, the weather pleasant and time for a little girl's birthday, and what little girl wouldn't like to pretend she was Alice and step into her next year through a looking glass?

INVITATIONS

On the back of tiny mirrors purchased at the dime store and decorated with paper roses, write the following verse:

Through the looking glass we will go
In the garden 'neath the trees,
Where the Cheshire Cat is beaming
Won't you come if I say please?
Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum, and the bunny
Will be there,
The Queen and Hatter say they'll join us
And you know they're quite a pair.

State time, date and ask that each child wrap the present for the birthday girl in pastel colors. As the guests arrive have cut outs of characters from Wonderland, in duplicate. Place one on the package and pin one to the guest's back. Do not let the guest see his picture as you will play Who Am I Later, as a game. As the packages arrive, hide them in the garden in not too inconspicous places. If you feel the child will have trouble locating them, tie a ribbon or string on each so that he may follow it to the package.

DECORATIONS

The table will be the only decoration plus the cake. Have a white linen or paper cloth, a tea pot full of lemonade, tiny sandwiches cut in the shape of hearts, clubs, spades and diamonds. Place a cardboard cat in a tree, grinning, of course. Sprinkle queens from old playing cards up and down the table. You may wish to use this motif for the paper plates, cups and napkins too.

The cake will be angel food or similar in shape. Frost in light yellow and place cut outs of characters all around or it can be a cake in the shape of a bunny.

This is simple as you use a 12x18 pan; cut off 8" from the top. From the 8 inch piece cut 4 inches from width so that a rectangle is formed. Place this on the lower edge of the cake, leaving equal space on both sides. Cut the remaining 8 inch section diagonally for the ears of the rabbit. Place straight edges on outside; frost in white, add pink eyes, nose and drinking straw whiskers. Cocoanut makes a fuzzy bunny.

For favors have tiny watches, mirrors, and wrap in pastel tissue paper with characters appearing again. You may be able to obtain books of cut outs or the story itself and give these as favors or prizes.

ENTERTAINMENT

The fun of the party is to play the games. The Who Am I game is simple. Each child merely asks the others Who Am I? The trick is to answer only yes or no. The child who finds out who he is first wins the prize. Then have a tiny glass bottle filled with water and each child can have a drop on a wooden spoon. This is the grow or shrinking potion.

Games are then played for tiny people - such as what could I walk under, etc. Then the game changes to how tall am I and what could I reach? Relays of through the forest or off for home, and then the opening and finding of the gifts to really top the activities.

Your little girl will add to the party by wearing a pinafore apron, knee socks in white, black patent shoes and her hair done up like Alice.

So you your Alice in Wonderland on her next birthday and the guests will not be Mad Hatter, pardon the pun, but have fun. (S

Area Women Represent State at GFWC Confab

Two local women represented Illinois at the recent 71st Annual Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Myron R. Hartley, 214 S. William, Mount Prospect, newly-elected Junior Director for the State of Illinois, and Mrs. Gordon T. Beckley, 737 S. Belmont Lane, Arlington Heights, Seventh District Junior Director, joined approximately 175 young women representing the 100,000 Junior Clubwomen of the General Federation to hear reports of accomplishments during the past two years emphasizing the administration's theme of "Responsible, Responsive, Citizenship."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS of the 10,000 federated junior clubwomen of Illinois in all five departments of work were recognized and honored by the General Federation. Accepted on behalf of Illinois were awards for participation in the Day in Court Project, Formation of Study Clubs on Latin America, Observance of World Affairs Day, Contributions to the Latin American Scholarship Program, emphasis on Individual Family councils, and contributions totaling over $30,000 to Scholarships for Teachers of Exceptional Children during the past two years.

Emphasized during the two days of Junior Sessions was 100 per cent participation of all junior clubs in the General Federation in the Community Improvement Program sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and the almost $12,000 contributed for Latin American Scholarships. Enough funds were contributed by the entire Federation membership during the past two years to bring 25 students representing nine Latin American countries, to 23 State Colleges and Universities.

ALSO NOTED was the more than $25,000 contributed to CARE for aid in Latin America; five million canaceled stamps collected for use by wounded veterans in veterans' hospitals, and the fact that junior clubs were instrumental in the administering of approximately 350,000 polio shots in this country.

Mrs. Hartley and Mrs. Beckley attended all six days of work and planning sessions.

Mrs. Hartley, remaining for the post-convention meeting of the state presidents and junior directors, heard plans for the new 2-year administration under the direction of Mrs. Dexter C. Arnold of New Hampshire, newly - elected General Federation President, and Mrs. James Scarbro of West Virginia, newly-elected General Federation Junior Director.(S

Week's Best Food Buys

This year's abundance of fresh produce starts to pay its bonus to grocery departments in the form of new-pack canned and frozen lines now reaching seasonal peaks, to become a major market factor this week.

Processors are reporting on the weekly University of Illinois consumer service food survey excellent flow of corn, lima and green beans, beets, peas, pickles, tomatoes and pears into supply channels.

MEANTIME, fresh fruits and vegetables reaching local markets continue to reflect expanding supply, better quality and lower prices for the major seasonal items.

Retail meats and poultry are basically steady and following current promotional paths leading into the last holiday of the season. Major deviations occurred at wholesale with pork cuts falling from ½ cent to as much as 2 cents in costs, and eggs climbing sharply 4 cents a dozen as scarcity of top-quality large-size becomes more pronounced.

This in turn firmed retail egg quotes.

THE U. OF I. concensus value list for the marketing period ending Aug. 18 shows: meats—sirloin, porterhouse and rib steaks, chuck roasts, ground beef, pork steaks, smoked picnics; poultry—turkeys, fryers; produce—potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, corn, green beans, peppers, pears, blueberries, plums, grapes.

Total meat supplies continue seasonally low, beef volume being best at steady prices. Live cattle, mostly light weights, held steady at week-ago lows, while heavier weights climbed ½ cent. At wholesale, the same pattern persisted except for chucks that quoted ½ cent higher.

Retail quotes reflected some wider ranges, such as blade cut chuck roasts 39-59 cents, round bone 49 cents on promotion, but mostly 75 cents, rib roasts 79-89 cents, rump roasts 79-89 cents, sirloin tip 89 cents-$1.09, round steaks 79-95 cents and sometimes 99 cents; sirloin 89 cents-$1.09, porterhouse 89 cents-$1.39.

TOTAL HOG supplies are short, but Chicago markets had the largest receipts. Even so, buyer interest was lagging, and live costs sagged ½ cent. At wholesale, this helped produce a sharp 2 cent drop on loins, and from ½ cent to 1 cent off on ribs.

Fresh butts cleared well at ½ cent higher quotes. At retail, portion cut rib roasts ranged 53-55 cents, loin end 65-69 cents, center chops 98 cents, fresh Boston butts 49 cents, steaks 59 cents, first line bacon 75 cents, second line bacon 59 cents, smoked butts 69 cents, and picnics 39-49 cents.

Hams began the price move-up on unsettled markets heading into Labor Day.

POULTRY markets were unsettled across the board, with weaker undertones noted. On balance, supplies leveled out at the cost points prevailing the last three weeks. Little change is noted at retail, fryers continuing mostly at 39-43 cents with some 29-cent birds on promotion, turkeys refuse to budge from the long-standing 39-49 cents even with some spot surpluses appearing in the new crop.

Retail eggs wiped out the 47-cent low of last week and reported 49-53 cents as the consensus range for shorter supplies of top quality grade A large.

CHICAGO PRODUCE prices are real cheap, with good quality predominating across spinach, radishes, cabbage, carrots, cucumbers, green beans, tomatoes, sweetcorn. Better supplied, too, are Brussels sprouts, cauliflower and beets.

Lettuce ranges more widely in price and quality. Top quality peaches are commanding top prices, but many other fruits are available at bargain levels as substitutes.

Melons generally will cost more in the coming week.

Major food retail prices hold at prevailing levels, perhaps on the brink of a decline as cost rises in supply channels come to an abrupt halt on generally improving supplies and buyer resistance.

As stores flag continuing steady competitive prices, perhaps to balance their recent low dollar returns, the University of Illinois consumer service notes these bargain buy opportunities, often selected for promotion, for the marketing period ending August 11:

Poultry—fryers and turkey; meats — beef chuck roasts, ground beef, pork steaks, picnics and smoked butts; produce—Cucumbers, sweetcorn, green beans, cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes, lettuce, pears, blueberries, cantaloupe, peaches and plums.

CHICAGO BUYER resistance to additional supply costs has been abundantly established against a background of greater livestock numbers due to arrive. The result, most wholesale beef and pork fell sharply. Cattle supplies in feed lots, readying for market, are 4 per cent over year-ago and the fall pig crop is the largest since 1943. Although most of these porkers won't be here until September, the knowledge of their coming helps put a damper on price bidding.

Eastern buyers, as a group, are the ones who paid more this week, their costs up ¼ cent. Local pork loins were discounted one cent, but fresh butts, ribs and fresh hams were up fractionally.

Lamb, never a major market factor, showed some spot cost increases during this period of cyclical small supply. Some spring lamb bid up ½ cent at live and 2 cents at wholesale.

IN A RELATIVE manner, as the red meats weaken, poultry leads off the value list despite the fact this line generally continues to price higher than during the disaster glut of a year-ago that put a good many producers out of business.

Turkey bargains are at least three weeks away even though some stores break with them this week. Chicago competitive turkey prices are in the 39-49 cent range.

More fryers are staying at home. Production, though heavy is below last year but exports are down, too, with the new European Common Market decisions. Also, many extra heavy fryers are reaching market, suggesting that southern growers held back too long for better prices. This sets the stage for a new round of 29-33 cent promotional birds while the unchanged general price level holds at 39-43 cents.

STEWING HENS are in short supply and roasting chickens are scarcer yet—the market on these being strong.

Grade A large eggs established a wider range, now quoting 47-53 cents, in a firm trend in this line. This is well below year-ago levels. The problem continues to center not around total volume, but rather insufficient quantities of high standard quality.

Most produce supplies now are well above the averages and seasonal volume continues to flood in. The better bargains are listed above. (SH

Seasonings, Garlic Gravy Add Interest

by LOIS SEILER

An exceptionally appealing and well-coordinated dinner menu has been shared with us this week by Mrs. Verne Whitnell of Arlington Heights. It features the American favorite, chicken, prepared country style, but with cosmopolitan seasonings.

Browned first in butter, the chicken breasts are baked in a savory garlic-flavored gravy seasoned with rosemary, parsley, green onions, celery and mushrooms.

"I like to serve either green beans or broccoli and a tossed green salad as accompaniments for this dish," Mrs. Whitnell said.

This good cook enjoys experimenting with salad dressings and has two in particular which are favorites. One is a zesty cheese dressing which can be made with either roquefort or bleu cheese and is seasoned with garlic and onion.

The other is a tasty French dressing which is beaten on low speed with an electric mixer for a half hour and will not separate in the bottle. "Either one is appropriate to serve with the chicken," Mrs. Whitnell said.

BECAUSE THIS is a hearty meal, she suggests a small but rich dessert: Filbert Confection Creams.

These tiny tortes or cookies are quite unique in preparation. A chocolate mixture is first cooked and then combined with toasted filberts, vanilla wafer crumbs and coconut. Packed into a 9-inch pan, it is then covered with a creamy peppermint icing. After chilling, semi-sweet chocolate is spread over the top.

This dessert is cut into small bars and stored in the refrigerator until served. It can be made days in advance, or can be prepared weeks ahead and frozen.

THE FILBERT creams are a delightful and different confection — attractive in appearance and delectable to taste. Mrs. Whitnell also recommends them as a dessert for a ladies' luncheon.

From the main dish to dessert, this tempting meal would please the most discriminating gourmet.

The Whitnells moved from Western Springs to their home at 433 S. Banbury in Arlington Heights four years ago. They have four children: Jim, 11; Jane, 10; Jeffrey, 6, and John, 3.

ALL LINED UP for a peek at their mother's latest concoction are Jim, Jane, Jeff and John Whitnell of Arlington Heights. Experimenting with salad dressings is one of Mrs. Verne Whitnell's favorite culinary endeavors and two of her specialties, a roquefort dressing and a French dressing, are being featured today. (SH

COUNTRY CHICKEN

1 cup flour
5 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
4 large chicken breasts, halved
5 tablespoons butter
4 teaspoons flour
1⅓ cups milk
½ clove garlic, diced
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon rosemary
¼ cup chopped green onions
½ cup diced celery
1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms

Combine one cup flour with salt and pepper in a paper bag. Shake chicken pieces one at a time in the bag to coat thoroughly. Brown chicken in melted butter in a large skillet. Arrange pieces in a 3-quart casserole.

Blend 4 teaspoons flour with the fat remaining in skillet to form smooth paste. Remove from heat. Add milk, garlic and salt and stir until blended. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches simmering point. Set aside.

Sprinkle parsley, rosemary, onion, celery and mushrooms evenly over chicken in the casserole. Top with prepared gravy and bake in a pre-heated, 350 degree oven, 45 minutes or until chicken is tender. Serves 8.

BLEU or ROQUEFORT CHEESE SALAD DRESSING

1 small clove garlic, sliced
1 tablespoon onion, minced
⅔ cup salad oil
2 ounces bleu or roquefort cheese
⅓ cup vinegar or lemon juice
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
Few grains pepper

Add garlic and onion to oil and allow to stand for one hour. Remove garlic and discard.

Cream bleu or roquefort cheese to a smooth paste and add flavored oil gradually, stirring constantly to keep mixture as smooth as possible. Add remaining ingredients and beat or shake in a tightly-covered jar until well-blended.

Yield: One cup.

FRENCH DRESSING

1 cup Mazola Oil
¾ cup white sugar
⅓ cup catsup
½ cup wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
5 garlic buds, cut fine
1 medium onion, cut fine
½ teaspoon paprika

Place ingredients in a mixing bowl and beat on low speed for one half hour. Store in refrigerator.

FILBERT CONFECTION CREAMS

1 cup chopped filberts
½ cup butter
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cocoa
2 teaspoons vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1¾ cup vanilla wafer crumbs
½ cup flaked coconut

Spread filberts in a shallow pan and toast in 350 degree oven for 5 to 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

In a saucepan combine butter, sugar, cocoa, vanilla, salt and egg. Cook over low heat until mixture thickens and becomes glossy.

Combine crumbs, filberts and coconut. Add to cocoa mixture. Pack evenly in a 9-inch square pan. Cover with the following pepperment icing:

⅓ cup butter
1 egg
½ teaspoon peppermint extract
2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
4 ounces semi-sweet chocolate

Cream butter. Add egg and extract and beat well. Beat in sugar until smooth and creamy. Spread over cookie base. Chill until icing is firm.

Melt chocolate over hot water; spread over peppermint icing. When partially set, cut into small oblong bars. Refrigerate until ready to serve. (SH

Chuck Steak Tenderized With Oil

Chuck steak is good economy and good eating, too. Many men prefer its flavor to more expensive cuts. But usually chuck steak needs tenderizing before barbecueing.

From the Spanish Olive Oil Institute comes this suggestion: in a skillet or saucepan place a quartered lemon, ½ orange quartered, 2 peeled sliced cloves of garlic, 2 whole cloves, one bay leaf and ½ cup Spanish olive oil.

Heat until rinds of fruit are brown. Meanwhile pierce meat all over with heavy skewer, pour hot oil over meat. Marinate 4 hours or longer at room temperature. This produces a tender, succulent steak. The olive oil marinade seals in meat juices and clings during cooking better than other cooking oils. (SH

Hay Fever Sufferer? Air Conditioner Aid

Uncle Sam sympathizes with hay fever victims.

So extensive and serious are hay fever and other allergies that the installation of an air-filtering air conditioner with a doctor's recommendation qualifies as a medical expense in figuring your income tax.

A 1955 ruling of the Internal Revenue Department (Internal Revenue Bulletin 1955-1) stipulates that "the cost of an air conditioner device, plus the operating expenses, less any resale or salvage value, constitute an allowable deduction as a medical expense subject to prescribed limitations, provided that the need for it is substantiated by evidence submitted to show that the device is used primarily for the alleviation of a person's illness and provided further the device does not become a permanent part of the dwelling and may be removed to other quarters."

IN SHORT, a statement from your physician substantiating his recommendation of an air conditioner to relieve a particular ailment is necessary.

Though many air conditioning devices now on the market can mechanically screen out up to 98 per cent of the pollen in the air along with other impurities, not all of them do.

If you buy an air conditioner mainly for relief from hay fever or other allergies, be sure the unit has a filtering attachment and is not just a cooling mechanism. Important too is following the manufacturer's instructions for keeping the filter clean.

Some confusion usually attaches itself to what size to get. Variables such as room size, exposure to the sun and insulation make a pat answer difficult. Consumers were originally oriented to horsepower, but ratings are now given in BTUs and amperes.

THE ELECTRIC Association of Chicago suggests the following guide when shopping:

For the average size bedroom, a unit of 7,000 to 8,000 BTU should do the job. This is roughly equivalent to the ¾ horsepower unit.

A 9,000 to 10,000 BTU unit is recommended for the average living room.

To air condition a 5-room home which has good circulation and insulation, the unit should be rated near 20,000 BTU.

Many of the smaller units available today operate on 115-120 volts and can usually be operated from an ordinary outlet. The Electric Association recommends that a separate circuit should be provided for intermediate size units and a 240-volt circuit for large units.

THE COST OF air conditioners has been dropping with increasing popularity. The cooling capacity you get per dollar has increased greatly in recent years which means more value for your money.

Operating costs generally run from about 2 cents an hour for small units to about 6 cents an hour for large units.

Speaking qualitatively or quantitatively, hay fever is no tempest in a teapot — as nearly 10 million Americans will testify.

Inasmuch as hay fever is noncontagious and thus non-reportable, there is no way to count precisely the red noses.

However, a sampling of chronic ailments reported in the 1961 "Statistical Abstract of the United States" (page 82) indicates that "asthma-hay fever" as a category claims 54.3 victims per thousand Americans.

This category ranks second only to arthritis-rheumatism among the chronic ailments surveyed. Among persons under 45 there are three hay fever-asthmatic sufferers for every victim of arthritis or rheumatism.

Hay fever is a most democratic affliction, striking in approximately equal numbers both sexes at all ages in city and suburb alike.

TRANSLATING statistics to the population of the 6-county Metropolitan Chicago area, we have among us up to 336,000 men, women and children who chronically suffer from hay fever.

Besdies federal assistance in the form of tax relief, local officials have tried to legislate against hay fever pollen. There is an ordinance requiring destruction of weeds in order to reduce if not ultimately eliminate the discharge of ragweed pollens into the air.

Medical authorities also say that Lake Michigan helps to wash some of the pollen out of the air. Nevertheless, there is enough pollen produced to keep the pollen count uncomfortably high through August and September.

Besides staying in a properly air conditioned room as much as possible and taking prescribed medication for relief, there isn't much you can do to combat allergy.

NOR CAN IT be prevented if you happen to be susceptible to certain pollens or spores.

Although allergic reactions happen to be a matter of individual chemistry, heredity can work against you. According to a leading Chicago allergist, you have a 30 per cent chance of contracting an allergy if you have an allergic parent. The odds against you are double—with a 60 per cent chance — if both parents are allergic. (S

THE LADIES RESTROOM IN Wieboldt's new store in Randhurst was previewed by three guests who attended the Mount Prospect Infant Welfare benefit party Saturday. The restroom is bound to be a conversation piece for the entire center with its ornate Victorian furnishings. Those who initiated the lounge included Mrs. John M. Remsen, Mrs. Stanley C. Amren, of Mount Prospect and Miss Fran Bruscato of Arlington Heights. (SF

Women's Facility Described As 'This Side of Heaven'

"It's the most magnificent women's restroom this side of heaven," said a judilant viewer of Wieboldt's women's lounge in Randhurst.

During a preview benefit dinner dance Saturday night at Randhurst for the Mount Prospect Center of the Infant Welfare Society, women guests were given an opportunity to peek at the ornate powder room.

It has been a conversation piece ever since details first leaked out about "what's to come at Randhurst." Now that it is finished and a few privileged ladies were given an opportunity to inspect it, the whole story can be told.

It's bound to continue to be a conversation piece forever. Why? Because there are not enough superlatives to describe it. Everyone, men and women as well, (on opening day—that is) will inspect the room which actually defies description other than through a personal eyeview.

The walls of the powder room, or entrance to the lounge, feature gold velvet panels on two sides and ebony glass on the others. The ceiling is a massive mosaic fashioned of handmade Italian ceramic tiles and each tile handset. The colors feature reds, golds, burnt oranges and a myriad of colors, all skillfully and artistically placed so as to form a breathtaking brilliant motif.

THE FLOORS are covered with handmade, handset gold Italian tiles.

In the center of the lounge room is a large victorian red velvet circular lounge. Red velvet poufs are in front of each makeup mirror. The mirrors are framed with lights.

In the center of the powder room over the circular lounge is a large crystal chandelier made to a special design in Italy.

IN THE INNER room where wash facilities are provided the floor is also tiled in gold. Three walls and the ceiling feature the same Italian mosaics as the ceiling in the powder room.

The fourth wall is paneled in mirror from floor to ceiling. The lavatory bowls are set in slabs of deep red marble. Faucets are gold plated.

The doors on the "commodes" are of solid rosewood with inlaid gold medallions.

EVEN THE mop closet, outside the lounge, had to be in keeping with the ornate victorian motif. The doors of the cupboard are solid walnut, real French antiques over two centuries old.

Nothing was spared to design the facility, which will be remembered, and visited, not always of necessity, but many times just to see if it's really true.

Most Important Profession Today Is the Homemaker

by MELDA LYNN

Time was when the lady of the house, with humor and affection, was often referred to as "that wiry little woman." It was she who often shouldered a gun beside her pioneer husband in search of food or in fear of savages. It was she who gathered harvest, fed a large family and often passing travelers, beat her laundry against the rocks in a stream, and bore many offspring. These were but a few of the tasks which challenged her ingenuity and developed her versatility. And she was often found out in field and forest or in the wooded fringes of towns and expanding settlements.

Marge

Today there are hundreds of thousands of trim, attractive matrons located in our suburban fringes with challenges just as broad and demanding as those her forebearers faced. She is today's "homemaker"—wife, mother, interior decorator, cook, family purchasing agent, housekeeper, confidante, chauffeure, often dressmaker, club and church woman, civic leader or worker, and even practical nurse. At the sound of her husband's "Dear, will you please . . ." or the sudden shout of "Hey, Mom, I need . . .," she may become almost anything one could name including zoo keeper of the family pet!

MUCH IS said of today's career woman, today's professional woman, today's woman executive, but what of the woman in the home whose career is making a home for the man she loves and the subsequent responsibilities it entails. She is a vital part of our economy and of our American way of life.

We must recognize this suburban woman for the competitive one she is. Is she not competing with her associates and contemporaries just as is her sister in business? It may not be competition for the dollar earned, to be sure, but it is competition for the development of her own natural resources and for the value her leadership means to her family and to its members' happiness, welfare, and social contribution in the years ahead.

TODAY'S homemaker must be a source of moral and spiritual strength to her family. It is her sense of right and wrong and her faith in the value of life itself that develops her family's character. If she participates in church and community life her family will fall into similarly stable patterns in the years ahead. The adage that a family that "prays together, stays together" is a worthy defense against the onslaught of broken homes and high divorce rates.

family? What of the matters of health, personal appearance, and general well being?

Today's homemaker must make her family's home a harmonious, attractive one in which to live. She must train her family in the ways of good health, good nutrition, and proper hygiene. She must set an example of good personal habits if she is to share them with her family. In return, she must be given the recognition that what she is doing is worthwhile and appreciated by those whom she loves and who love her.

IT IS IN an atmosphere of love, human warmth and affection, and respect that her family will develop values to carry through life. It is here that the wise and gifted homemaker makes her most valuable contribution. It is these human values early in life that combat insecurity and ultimate delinquency.

It is here, in addition to the many material things that demand her time, where today's homemaker can become a woman of distinction in a world where distinction matters so much! (SF

'Helpful Neighbor' Becomes a Problem

Dear Dr. Neuman:

My life is being made miserable by my next door neighbor, but she's such a nice person and she means so well, that I don't know what to do about it. She's a widow with married children who live far from here, and she's sort of adopted us as her own.

Because she's older and more experienced, she feels that she can advise us on how to do everything. Maybe her ideas are all right, but it just isn't the way we want to do things. My husband doesn't know why I get so upset, but he's away from home so much of the time, he doesn't have to listen to her as I do.

Mrs. F.

This is a most difficult situation to deal with because your neighbor is so nice and so well-meaning. Since she seems so interested in your welfare you can't help feeling guilty when you are annoyed and angry with her. A person like this puts you under obligation with her kind intentions. Before you realize it, you find yourself being dominated and controlled.

Experience has shown that people like this are often very lovely and want to make friends, but they don't know how to go about it except by trying to tie people to them. In the end they hurt themselves as much as anyone else, because the people they try to help finally can't stand it any more and turn against them. They will often tell you about how their best friends and even their closest relatives turned against them.

THERE ARE probably reasons why you find the situation especially hard, Mrs. F. In a way your neighbor, being older and the mother of married children, reminds you of your own mother. Many of the feelings we have toward our own parents get mixed up with our feelings about people who are somehow like them.

In growing up, we are often angry at our parents, as well as loving them. A child feels that it is dangerous to be angry with mother, because mother might leave him all alone. Since he needs mother, he hides his angry feelings even from himself. But the feelings are still there. Whenever a similar situation comes up, all the old feelings toward mother come out with even greater force because they have been held back for so long.

The problem becomes easier to handle when you can face up to your feelings honestly and without fear or guilt. Then you realize that you are not a child now, dependent on your mother, but an adult with judgment and the ability to make your own decisions. Then you can be friendly and pleasant to your neighbor, without falling into the pattern of letting her "take over" and then feeling angry and trapped.

Arlington Man Takes Bride In Full Military Wedding

The Chapel by the Sea in Newport, R. I. was the scene of a full military wedding July 7 in which Miss Marion Patricia Reardon, daughter of the John J. Reardons of Newport, became the bride of Lt. (j.g) John Stephen Robertson, son of the John A. Robertsons, 1110 W. Clarendon, Arlington Heights. Rev. John F. Biddle officiated at the 11 o'clock nuptial mass and a reception followed at the officer's club of the naval base at Newport. In traditional naval tradition, the couple passed from the chapel under the arch of swords held by the ushers, fellow officers of the groom.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco and a tour of the southern states, the newlyweds are living in New Orleans, where Lt. Robertson is attached to the U. S. S. Semmes. The groom is a graduate of Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass. and studied at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis where he was graduated with distinction in the class of '59. His bride is a graduate of Rogers School in Newport and until her marriage was on the office staff of Brooks Brothers in Boston.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a white bouquet taffeta gown with applique of alencon lace dusted with pearls on the fitted bodice and cascading over the front of the bell skirt. The gown also featured a rounded neckline and Dior sleeves and a full circular chapel-length train. Her imported alencon lace mantilla was held in place by combs, worn Spanish style, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis and gardenias.

Miss Suzanne Readon was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mimi Oliveria and Miss Patricia Quinn of Boston, Miss Sheila Robertson of Minneapolis and Mrs. James F. Reardon of New York City.

THEIR floor-length gowns were of jewel pink taffeta with pale pink organza overskirts and their headpieces were small crown wreaths of pale pink carnations and baby's breath. Their bouquets matched their headpieces.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reardon wore a rose beige taffeta dress with bodice of imported lace. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of powder blue poie de soie, also with bodice of imported lace.

Cornelius Robertson, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Lts. (j.g) Robert Gannin and Will Johnson and Brendon Maroney, Dennis Dubois, Michael Gambacorda and James McCornock, all serving with the Navy as ensigns. (S

Oscar Drolets Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pierre Drolet, 220 E. Cypress St., Arlington Heights, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary this Saturday morning, Aug. 18, at high mass to be sung at Our Lady of the Wayside Church by their son, Rev. Howard V. Drolet, director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine for the diocese of Marquette, Mich.

Fifty years ago Aug. 17 Oscar Drolet and Louise Marie Benanemi exchanged their marriage vows in St. Alphonsus Church, Chicago. Groomsman was the late Guy Henry of Arlington Heights and miad of honor was Catherine Buchholtz of Chicago.

SATURDAY THE Drolets will renew these marriage vows in the presence of their children and a host of friends. Witnessing this service, in addition to Fr. Drolet, will be the couple's other children, Robert P. Drolet of Libertyville, Richard G. Drolet of Arlington Heights and Sister Mary Dorothy Louise, BVM, a teacher at Our Lady of the Angels school in Chicago.

Until five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Drolet resided in Chicago. Mr. Drolet spent most of his business career as an accountant for the F. W. Woolworth company, but he was in the real estate business at the time of his retirement in 1954.

FOLLOWING THE anniversary mass, which will begin at 11:30 a.m., there will be an open house for the senior Drolets at the Arlington Heights home of the Richard Drolets, at 709 W. Rockwell. More than 100 persons, family and friends, are expected. Prominent among them will be the nine grandchildren of the jubilee couple. (Community Camera (S

Desk to Library

Arlington Heights Memorial Library has been a favored project of Arlington Heights Woman's Club for many years. The club has had an active part in helping the library since its founding and again this year, as in the past, has made a gift of much needed equipment to the library.

Miss Edith Lindsey, children's librarian, commented, "The new metal desk with its larger work area is greatly appreciated. This is especially true since the library is experiencing a very great demand for children's books this summer."

Mrs. D. L. Ewalt, head librarian, anticipates an even greater use of library facilities by young people when school reopens.

Donald Hinrichs Takes Bride in Connersville

Two graduates of the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago were married July 14 in a double ring service in the bride's hometown of Connersville, Ind. The bride is the former Alice Wick, daughter of the W. Howard Wicks of Connersville, and the groom is Donald Hinrichs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hinrichs, 204 W. St. James St., Arlington Heights.

The bride was graduated in '62 with a B. S. degree in home economics and the groom was graduated in '60 as a chemical engineer. He is now with the plastics division of Reynolds Metals in Grottos, Va. and he and his bride are now residing in nearby Waynesboro at 322 King Ave.

THE SERVICE was held in Trinity Episcopal Church at 3 p.m. with Rev. W. Faughman, a former chaplain at Illinois Institute of Technology, officiating. Vases of flowers and candelabra decorated the altar for the service during which Mr. Wick gave his daughter in marriage.

A white silk organza gown, embroidered with sheaths of wheat, was chosen by the bride. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, high bateau neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a floor-length skirt with back bustle bow. Her silk illusion veil fell from a Dior bow of silk organza and she carried Eucharist lilies with Pink Sweetheart roses surrounded by fuji mums. Pearl earrings and a pearl drop necklace, gifts from her bridegroom, were her only jewelry.

Her bridesmaids were in pink silk organza gowns over pink taffeta with white, front panels accented at the waistlines by pink organza bows. Their headpieces were pink illusion veils held in place by pink organza bows and they carried Sweetheart roses mounted on white lace fans.

A FORMER roommate of the bride, Mrs. Warren Jelinek of Chicago, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were another former roommate, Miss Judith Lonas of Barberton, Ohio and a Sigma Kappa sorority sister, Mrs. Clifford Anderson of West Lafayette, Ind.

Gene Simmons of Hazelwood, Mo. was his brother-in-law's best man and ushers were Clifford Anderson and Warren Jelinek.

Seventy-five guests from Arlington Heights, Chicago, Missouri, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana attended the reception held in the home of the bride's parents and 30 guests attended the dinner held in the Connersville Country Club. Mrs. Wick received the guests in a light blue sheath with lace bolero jacket and white accessories. Mrs. Hinrichs chose a printed blue silk with bolero jacket, white accessories, and both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

The newlyweds honeymooned on a week-long journey to their new home in Waynesboro, stopping at points of interest along the way. (S

JUDGING THE DWARF Japanese Bonsai trees are Miss Byr Setsman, Walter Eickhorst, Mrs. E. J. Hart, Prof. Kienitz, and Kaneji Domoto. More than 10,000 people are expected at the fourth annual Bonsai Show this weekend at Hill's Nursery in Dundee.

Egg-Using Campaign Begun by Merchants

Because low prices alone are apparently not stimulating egg sales to reduce surplus, many members of Super Market Institute will heed the call of the egg industry and the U. S. Department of Agriculture for "vigorous merchandising and advertising efforts" during the next few weeks.

Colorful in-store and window banners, unusual displays of eggs, accompanied by recipes for their use, will be part of the planned attack to remind Mrs. Housewife to serve more eggs, in more ways, at more meals.

An interestingly different dish, employing plentiful eggs, cheese, milk and butter, according to Kit Andresen, editor of Super Market Institute's monthly "Plentiful Foods Bulletin," is Cheese Egg Float.

FOR FIVE servings, melt 3 tablespoons butter in saucepan, blend in 3 tablespoons flour, add 1½ cups milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon onion juice, ½ teaspoon celery salt, stirring constantly over low heat until sauce boils and thickens. Pour into shallow buttered baking dish. Break 5 eggs and drop on surface; sprinkle with 1 cup grated sharp cheese (about ¼ pound).

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 15 to 20 minutes, or until eggs are done to desired firmness and cheese is nicely toasted. Serve on 5 slices of hot buttered toast.

Many super markets are also planning special promotions to aid in the movement of greater quantities of Florida frozen orange concentrate, California frozen lemonade, fresh California Valencia oranges and fresh California-Arizona lemons.

Also slated for the special attention of the country's food merchandising experts are turkeys, commercial and locally grown summer vegetables and fresh Southern peaches. The tremendous nationwide promotional efforts given to milk during June's dairy-month campaign are expected to keep all dairy products on the best-seller list during July.

Swiss Chard Cooks Quick

Swiss chard is one of those vegetables which once upon a time, when so many American families had a "kitchen garden" in the back yard, appeared on the table all summer long. It is easy to grow, and delicious to eat when prepared properly, but needs to be "rediscovered."

Like spinach, Swiss chard should be cooked until just limp, about 3 minutes after the water boils. A little extra water needs to be added to the pan (unlike spinach, it cannot be cooked simply in the water clinging to the washed leaves).

SPRINKLE WITH salt, keep an eye on the minute hand, and as soon as the leaves are limp but still bright green, drain off the water thoroughly, and at once add a tablespoon of Spanish olive oil, a dash of vinegar, and a grinding of black pepper.

Chop the leaves with a sharp knife; serve at once. P. S. Also good cold, as a "cooked salad."

STORKFEATHERS

Gregory Neil Maass is the name Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maass, 256 Edgeware Road, Elk Grove, have chosen for their third child. Born in Northwest Community Hospital Aug. 4 weighing 5 pounds 15 ounces, the new baby is the brother of James, 3½, and Kathryn, 6.

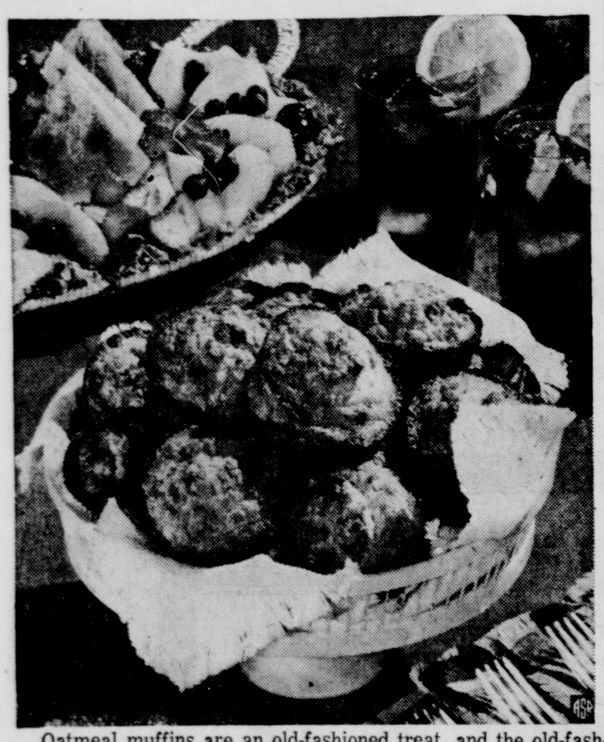
Nutritious Gems– Oatmeal Muffins



Oatmeal muffins are an old-fashioned treat, and the old-fashioned term "gems" is a fitting name. Try a light sprinkling of sugar over the tops as you take them from the oven, and make these muffins a dessert children will love.

For grownups, serve a side portion of cream cheese and whole strawberry jam — offer iced tea or coffee. The only mixing secret — mix just until the dry ingredients seen moist — do not beat the batter smooth.

Bake in a hot oven and serve hot. Oatmeal makes this type of hot bread richer in nutrients by adding its own whole grain protein, B vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, and essential minerals.

OATMEAL NUT MUFFINS

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 1 cup milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¼ cup melted fat or cooking oil

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into mixing bowl. Add rolled oats and nuts; mix well. Combine milk, egg, and fat or oil; pour into dry ingredients.

Stir just until all particles are moistened. Spoon into greased muffin pans (2¾x1¼ inches). Bake in hot oven (425°F) until lightly browned, 15 to 18 minutes.

Yield: 12 medium muffins.

Living Room, U. S. A.

Stand on top the tallest skyscraper in any big U. S. city, and strain your eyes toward the horizon. You will look across miles of upthrust concrete and steel. Your sight will skip across flat stretches of row-on-row bleakness. This is the asphalt jungle. Relieving patches of green may flick at you from here and there, signifying occasional parks that may be unsafe after dark. But at last your vision finds a belt of green, and as you turn full circle, you see it follows the horizon, encircling the entire city.

This is the suburbs, where we live. This is the green land of snug homes, of laughter in tree-lined streets, and across flower-bordered lawns. This is where America remains strong and good and predictable in an unpredictable age. This is where one-third of our people live today, and where more are moving every day. This is where there is room to live.

We are happy to be a part of our suburban community, to bear the unique responsibility of bringing you the news of the happenings, the achievements, the events that make our town the envied place that it is, in "living room, U.S.A."

Mt. Prospect Shoppers World Gala Opening Held Saturday

R. W. Jackson, president of Aldens, Inc., announced at a press conference last week that three New Shoppers World stores will open simultaneously on Aug. 15 at Lincolnwood, Mount Prospect, and across from Midway airport. This is the largest grand opening that Aldens has undertaken. It will add over ¼ million square feet of store area and provide facilities for over 2,500 cars. This will make a total of twelve Shoppers World stores in operation.

The Lincolnwood store is located at the intersection of Lincoln Avenue, Devon and McCormick Road. It is a one story 125,000 square foot structure with parking facilities for 1,000 cars.

THE MOUNT Prospect store is located at 201 W. Rand Road and covers an area of 63,000 square feet with facilities for 750 cars.

The Midway store is located at 5601 S. Cicero Avenue with a store area of 82,000 square feet with space for 625 cars.

A Shoppers World store will also be opened in the Saint Paul, Minnesota, area about October 1, plus three or four more stores next year, Jackson added.

"WE EXPECT Aldens' earnings for the second quarter to be the largest in the company's history," Jackson went on to say, "making the first half year earnings an all time high for a Spring season.

We do not have final figures as yet, but we expect our earnings for the second quarter to be about 46 cents per share against last year's 31 cents, giving us 78 cents earnings per share for the first half against last year's 54 cents. I believe Aldens'' earnings for the year will be better than $2.60 per share against last year's $2.15."

Banker to Attend Graduate School

Ronald H. Bishop, 587 Maple Lane, Elk Grove Village, assistant vice president of Citizens Bank and Trust Company, Park Ridge, leaves this month for two weeks' attendance at the graduate school of banking, University of Wisconsin.

This will be his first year at the school, which requires two weeks resident attendance each year for three years to graduate.

The School requires extensive extension work during the year in addition to the instruction received on campus.

Approximately 1,300 bankers from 40 states will be in attendance.

Bishop started at Citizens in 1959. He was appointed assistant cashier in 1960 and recently became assistant vice presitant in personnel administration.

Hasbrook Introduces Custom Split-Level

A unique sundeck that extends the indoor living area of the home into a secluded outdoor setting is one of the custom features of a spacious five-bedroom, three-bath split-level home to be introduced this week by Hasbrook Corporation in Plum Grove Countryside northwest of Chicago.

Other custom features of the 3,321 square foot Squire are a formal separate dining room; a large island-type kitchen with family dining space; a finished family room; a den; and an attached two-car garage.

The entire L-shaped home is designed to combine indoor and outdoor living for the family with maximum space requirements, at the same time providing a secluded and private way of life.

"Instead of facing the stret, the living and dining rooms look out onto the back lawn through a picture window and sliding glass doors," explained Hasbrook President Albert E. Riley.

LARGEST OF THE homes in Plum Grove Countryside by Hasbrook is this 3,321-square-foot Squire. Upper level has living room and sun-deck; formal dining room; island-type kitchen with dinette; two baths; and three bedrooms. Ground level has family room; den; two bedrooms; and the third bath. Attached garage and landscaped lot is included in price of $30,995. (BB

The rear-facing sundeck, which is reached through the sliding glass doors, both visually and physically extends the living room area to the outdoors. The sundeck offers a private terrace for sunbathing, relaxation, or entertaining, and provides a high-level view of the back lawn and garden.

On the home's first floor is the large family room, one bath, a den, and two bedrooms. All windows are above ground level.

In addition to the living room-sundeck on the upper level, there is a formal dining room, a large country-type kitchen with dinette, two baths, and three bedrooms.

The attached two-car garage is approached by a curved concrete driveway at the front of the house, giving it the L-shaped pattern.

Constructed of wood and brick veneer with insulation in walls and roof, the Squire is the largest of Hasbrook's seven architect-designed homes. It sells for $30,995, including a minimum 70 x 125 foot lot, seeded lawn, trees, and foundation planting.

The homes are complete with built-in electric oven-range, gas heat, gas water heater, concrete walks and drives, double-hung wood windows, vinyl asbestos kitchen and bathroom floors, and oak hardwood floors in other areas.

Conventional, FHA and VA financing is available.

Plum Grove Countryside is within the corporate limits of the city of Rolling Meadows, northwest of Chicago, with all streets, water, and sanitary facilities paid for.

The community is located on Highway 53 two miles North of the Rolling Meadows exit on the Northwest Tollway.

Model homes are open from 9 a.m. to dusk on weekdays, and from 10 a.m. to dusk on weekends. (BB

Three Years, 600 Homes

Hanover Builders Cite Sales Record

The successful home building team of Matt Teolis and Barney Dahl, who head up Hanover Builders, Inc., has announced purchase of its third farm in less than three years, crowning a sales record of over 600 homes, apartment buildings and shopping center in the northwest Cook County suburb of Hanover Park.

"We are pleased to announce that our new farm, purchased at a tremendous expense has also helped to make possible the building of a new 14-room public grade school at no increase in taxes to Hanover Park residents," said Teolis.

"The new farm has already been subdivided and recorded and has been submitted for VA and FHA approvals," he said.

"Coupled with our previous two subdivisions, our new land (to be known as Hanover Gardens) and our efforts of less than three years will have included the construction of 764 new homes, six apartment buildings totalling 96 two-bedroom units and a 16½ acre shopping center.

We have set aside almost 9 acres for public parks and five acres for the new school," he continued.

"Our new 80-acre farm will include 97 new homes to be built around the new school, 14 huge commercial lots (totalling 12 acres), including two gas station corners, and 32 industrial acres, to be subdivided at a later date," he said.

"One of the new projects soon to be undertaken on the new land, which includes the northwest and southwest corners of Irving Park (Rt. 19) and Barrington Road will be a 32-lane Bowling and restaurant establishment to be known as the "Hanover House," said Barney Dahl.

"Also a number of light industrials have expressed a strong interest in acquiring building sites in the new industrial tract."

"As soon as we complete our Hanover Park Estates and Hanover Garden projects, we intend to develop a 93-acre subdivision known as Hanover Park Terrace, located on the west side of Hanover Park.

"The project will include 16 commercial acres and 263 new houses

"In all, we have a building program lined up for the next two years of over 1,000 homes, plus commercial and industrial which will keep us very busy, indeed," said Dahl.

"We are clearing the decks right now by closing out our 1962 model homes and getting ready for new 1963 models, and, hopefully, the best years of our building history," said Teolis.

Hanover Park is located on the east and west side of Barrington Road between Irving Park (Rt. 19) and Lake Street (U.S. 20) about 17 miles northwest of Chicago. (BB

Pay Fast, Save

Unique Rent Plan For Apartment Dwellers

A novel prompt payment plan to give renters who pay their rent on time a bonus, is offered by Algonquin Park Apartments.

A savings of $10 per month, if you pay your rent by the second of the month, is being introduced by Kimball Hill.

Partly as a result of this prompt payment plan, rentals are the most moderate in the Chicago suburban area, ranging from $125 to $135, including heating, water, and gas.

"THERE IS no security deposit," stressed Hill, "and special arrangements have been made for monthly coupons in this unique prompt payment plan, the first of its type."

Kimball Hill, developer of Rolling Meadows, has announced the near completion of the first stage of the Algonquin Park Apartments in this northwest suburb.

The first group of buildings include 112 apartments with occupancy scheduled for Sept. 1 through November 15. The apartments have two bedrooms and feature custom kitchens, Hotpoint appliances, large closets, first floor with patio-backyards, and balconies on the second floor.

HILL EMPHASIZES, "Our apartments have special appeal to older couples and younger couples with young children. This low rental is custom-made for the future owner who wants to save now and still enjoy the benefits of suburban community facilities. Algonquin Park Apartments have been designed with these people in mind."

Algonquin Park Apartments are located at Algonquin Road (Ill. 62) and Wilke Road in Rolling Meadows.

They may be reached by taking the Northwest Tollway to Route 53 and turning east where Route 53 crosses Algonquin Road. (BB

SCHEDULED FOR occupancy sometime this fall, Algonquin Park Apartments have been designed especially to appeal to older people and young couples with children. The 112 unit apartment building is being constructed by Kimball Hill, builder of Rolling Meadows.

Among June Building Leaders

Wheeling Township led Cook County in building construction permitted in unincorporated areas during June.

A total of 67 permits were issued. That sum was evaluated at $1,275,100, largely due to three permits issued for construction of apartment buildings assessed at $349,600.

Other townships, and the number and valuation of permits issued include Elk Grove Township, 37 - $404,000; Palatine, 29 - $569,600; and Schaumburg, 6 - $139,200.

Late Survey Reveals Kids Pick Eat Spots

When American families eat out, 59.3 per cent of them let the children pick the restaurant, reveals a survey by the McDonald's chain of hamburger restaurants.

McDonald's, which numbers 380 units in 41 states and caters to the family trade, made a coast-to-coast study to find out what members of the family dictates where to eat.

Families throughout the U.S. were asked, "When you eat out, who in your family decides where to go?"

TRAILING FAR behind the youngsters as a decision maker was mother, who picks the restaurant in 18.6 per cent of American families.

In 7.2 per cent of families, the decision is made by both parents together.

Dad alone chooses a restaurant for the family in only 4.9 per cent of families, the McDonald's survey found.

"I guess it's unmistakable proof that children rule the roost in American families today," notes Ray A. Kroc, board chairman of McDonald's.

The McDonald's restaurant in Arlington Heights is at the corner of Northwest Highway and Wilke Road. (BB

Hill Nursery Hosts Midwest Bonsai Show

Nationally famous Bonsai expert and landscape designer, Kaneji Domoto, from New Rochelle, New York, has again been obtained by D. Hill Nursery Company, as lecturer and demonstrator for the fourth annual Midwest Bonsai show, to be held in Dundee Aug. 17-19, at the Hill Nursery Gardens, Corner of Routes 72 and 31.

Throughout the show, Domoto will lecture and demonstrate the ancient art of Bonsai culture.

He is best known for his New York and San Francisco World Fair Japanese gardens.

LAST YEAR'S show attracted over 10,000 amateur gardeners and plant lovers.

This year's exhibition will have many more entries and feature two classes of competition, one for the expert and one for the novice grower.

Awards will be made in many classes—both evergreen and deciduous trees will be shown.

The show is free to the public.

Exhibitors may contact Gay Laubsch, secretary of the show, at Hill Nursery Company, Dundee, or by phoning HAzel 6-3451.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS Gas Company has named James C. Snyder of Evanston district superintendent for the northwest suburban area. Communities under Snyder's service include Arlington Heights, Buffalo Grove, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg, and Wheeling.

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

There are many reasons for pruning shrubs; for removal of dead or diseased wood, for removal of over-lapping branches, to shape plants and to keep plants within bounds.

There are three major steps to pruning shrubs; Cut about about one-third of the canes to the ground. This will stimulate new growth from the base of the plant. If plants are pruned in this way every year, the growing top of the plant will never be more than three years old.

CUT BACK tall branches to control height of the plant. Remember, when cutting back branches, always cut to a side bud or branch.

Prune to keep the natural shape of the plant.

In order to avoid drastic pruning which usually ruins the appearence of the plant, it is best to prune a little each year.

Before pruning flowering shrubs, it is necessary to keep in mind how the plant flowers. Shrubs that bloom in the spring and early summer produce flowers on branches which developed the year before. These plants should be pruned immediately after flowering so that new branches can be formed for the next year's bloom. Examples of plants of this type are flowering almond, forsythia, flowering quince, lilac, mock orange, bridal wreath spirea, and weigelia.

Shrubs that bloom in late summer and fall produce flowers on new wood. These plants should be pruned immediately after flowering in the fall, or early in the spring, so that new wood has a chance to develop. Examples in this group are Rose of Sharon, honey suckle, butterfly bush, hypericum, and hydranges.

DRASTIC pruning is sometimes justified when plants get out of hand. With some plants, all branches can be cut to the ground, and new growth will develop from the base. If plants that flower on old wood are pruned in this manner, no flowers will appear the first year.

Shrubs that can be pruned to the ground are Japanese barberry, lilac, forsythia, privet, honey suckle, snowberry, and bridal wreath spirea.

Don't believe that old saying about the weather. You can do something about it.

A few well-placed trees and other plants can lower sizzling summer time teperatures as much as 15 percent. Windows on either the east or the west side of the house often present a heat problem. Trees placed here will block the sun's heat rays. They may also provide shade for your family car or for the backyard patio. Often patios absorb heat—and make the area warmer—if they're not shaded.

TREES planted on the southwest areas of the lawn provide a certain amount of "air conditioning" when summer breezes blow through the area. In addition shade from trees provides some psychological cooling. Pools of water give the same feeling.

In addition, vines on the house often absorb some of the heat that would otherwise come directly through the window. And if "stiff" breezes blow when the family is enjoying outdoor living, a windbreak will soften and channel breezes past the outdoor dining area. Planting time will soon be here. By placing trees and shrubs strategically, you can put summertime wind currents to work to cooling advantages. (BB

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Homeowner

F-B-K, Realtors

Many times during the week we talk to homeowners who are of the opinion that the real estate market is slow. They seem quite surprised when we tell them that it was never better. We would like to make the following statements:

1. There is no recession in northwest suburban real estate
2. There is no shortage of funds for financing either conventional F.H.A. or V.A. Loans
3. There are buyers looking for homes, and they will buy when they see one that they like and that is priced right.
4. Many homeowners have outgrown their present homes and need a larger one but are afraid that theirs will not sell.

We picture below some of our sales (either direct or in cooperation with other brokers) since June 1st. This is positive proof that we can sell your home if priced right.

When the market is active is the time to Sell
... also the time to Buy

PROVIDING A NEW direction in American Automobile styling is Studebaker's Avanti — a car of sophisticated design and elegance. To this is added the advantages of high performance and built-in safety features. Aerodynamically clean, Avanti introduces a new concept of fastback styling to the American automobile scene. Its 46-inch doors become an integral part of the body with the first cone and socket lock on any U.S. car. Avanti also is the first American car engineered from the start to take advantage of the rugged body materials so much used today in boats, planes, missiles and space vehicles. Its molded fiber glas body makes the car faster and lighter, stronger and safer, more durable and easier to maintain, quieter and vibration-free. (BB

Middie Trains for Amphibious Assault

Midshipman Second Class Neil A. Robertson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Robertson of 1110 W. Clarendon Road, Arlington Heights, is undergoing summer training in the techniques of modern amphibious warfare at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va.

He is one of more than 700 Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps (NROTC) Midshipmen representing 34 U.S. colleges and universities participating in the training, which is scheduled to end Aug. 1.

During the first two weeks the Midshipmen are trained in planning and executing amphibious operations.

The future naval officers will also be acquainted with the concept of vertical envelopment which employs both helicopters and armored landing craft to attack an enemy simultaneously.

NEIL A. ROBERTSON

Training will be culminated with an amphibious assault with a Navy underwater demolition team (frogmen) joining the middies. More than 2,600 pounds of controlled demolitions will be detonated to add realistic combat conditions to the assault.

Midn. Robertson is a member of the class of 1964 at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Local U.S. Air Force Unit Seeking 2,000 Career Men

The United States Air Force is presently seeking 2,000 men for training in over 450 career fields, from the country's midwest, during the month of August.

SERGEANT Billy G. Seale, local Air Force recruiter, said that the procurement figure 1937 men without previous military service was received from the Chanute Air Force base headquarter of the 3505th USAF recruiting group Monday.

This procurement drive will filter young men meeting Air Force qualifications into one of four training categories, electronics, mechanical, administration, and general. These categories head over 450 individual fields for which the Air Force offers complete training.

ALTHOUGH men with high school educations are preferred, a high school diploma is not required to enlist. However, all applicants must pass an entrance examination. Air Force personnel are able, through the service's education program to continue their education, to include obtaining a college degree.

Persons interested in the Air Force program may obtain more information by calling 392-1424 and arranging for a personal interview, or visit the Air Force Recruiting office located at 8 W. Miner Street, Arlington Heights. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. Other hours by appointment.

Deer Park Fair Soon: Spotlight on Art

Local artists will exhibit their works at the Deer Park Countryside Fair the weekend of August 25 and 26.

The art show will be one of the highlights of the two-day event to be held at the William Carlyle farm on East County Line Road, one mile east of Nothwest Highway.

Among the exhibiting artists are Edward Walaitis, a Deer Park resident, showing water colors; David Edmunds of Long Grove, who will feature oils and sculptures; Wayne Timm of Barrington, oils and sketches; Mrs. William Carlyle, also of Deer Park, exhibiting ceramics, and Peter Klinefelter, oils and sculptures.

Many of the works of art will be offered for sale.

A SHOWING of a number of moderately-priced antiques will also be on display at the fair and will be available to interested persons.

This extra attraction is being arranged by Mrs. Ronald Crawford, also in charge of rummage sale for the weekend event.

Mrs. Raymond Novak, in charge of the bake sale, reports that home-made candies will be offered at her booth in addition to cakes, pies, breads, and coffee cakes baked by residents of the area.

Members of the Deer Park Woman's Club, a group of women interested in assisting in the work of the village, are busy sewing and creating inexpensive holiday and miscellaneous gift items to be sold at the fair.

Deer Park comprises approximately three square miles located just east of Barrington.

The village of more than five hundred residents was formed almost five years ago to combat the uncontrolled and costly explosion-type housing developments.

Deer Park levies no taxes as a village, but through fund-raising events such as the fair raises monies to meet the nominal costs of operating the village government. (Bill

'West Side' Continues At Theatre

Herb Rogers' production of "West Side Story" moves into its second week now at the Music Theatre in Highland Park. Dorothy Dandridge stars as Anita in this award winning musical. "West Side Story" continues through Sept. 2.

With a libretto by Arthur Laurents that tells of love and warfare between youthful Puerto Rican and American gangs on the streets of New York, "West Side Story" boasts a musical score by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim.

"WEST SIDE Story" is the final production of the Music Theatre season. Nightly curtains for this musical are at 8:30 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday. Saturdays there are two performances, 6:45 p.m. and 9:45 p.m.

The Music Theatre is located at the corner of Lake-Cook Road and Skokie Highway in Highland Park. Reservations can be made by mail or by phone at VE 5-4040 or RO 4-7579. (Bill

Dixieland Season to Close at Shady Lane

With the close of the Summer Theatre Season at Shady Lane Farm comes the lively strains of Dixieland Music. On Friday, Sept. 14, owner Ray Curnow will open the gates to greet the foot-stomping Firehouse Dixieland All-Star band.

Bob Newton, leader and pianist, has gathered a lively group of Dixielanders featuring Gus Allen on drums, Joe Schneider on clarinet, Bob Ballard, trumpet, Harry Graves, trombone, and Earl Murphy on bass.

BEFORE THEY arrive, the Playhouse Barn will get a good going over to accommodate the lively patrons of the two-beat school. Every other row of seats will be removed to provide leg-room and a service area. The side door leading to the Hassafrass Lounge will remain in constant "Open" position.

Temporarily, this will be a Friday night feature with plans to extend this merry-making through Saturday and Sunday in the future. (Bill

Comedy for Tenthouse

"The Complaisant Lover," a comedy that explores the gay geometry of an amorous triangle, is coming to the stage of the Tenthouse Theatre on Aug. 21 for two weeks. Walter Pidgeon and Martha Scott co-star in the Chicago premier of this New York and London stage hit.

'The Complaisant Lover" is the final attraction of the season at the Tenthouse Theatre. It will run through Sept. 2 with curtains Tuesday through Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Saturdays there are two performances, 6:45 p.m. and 9:45 p.m.

Tenthouse Theatre is on West Park Avenue between Green Bay Road and Edens Highway in Highland Park. Reservations can be made by mail or by phone at ID 2-1160 or RO 4-7579.

His Paddock Paper

50-Year Subscriber 'Gotten to Like It'

Two or three years after he was married, J. Fred Meyer started his subscription with Paddock Publications because "the folks had always had one" and he had gotten to like it.

Meyer will have been married 60 years next Feb. 12, and has been a steady Paddock subscriber now for over 57 years.

After their marriage the Meyers moved to a 100 acre farm at the intersection of Schoenbeck and Palatine Roads and began their subscription to the Cook County Herald.

"The subscription price was $1.50 and Grandpa Paddock came for dues every year," Meyer recalls.

AFTER 29 years of farming he turned the 100 acres over to his son and moved into Arlington Heights, changing his subscription to the Arlington Heights Herald. Meyer and his wife have lived in the same house, 1022 N. Highland, for 30 years now.

In 1934 he was elected Wheeling Township assessor by a margin of 14 votes, and he served in that position for 12 years. About the same time, in 1933, he started selling DeKalb Hybrid seed corn.

"The year I started I sold 56 bushels," Meyer recalls, "and in 10 years I was up to better than 1900 bushels a year." After nine more years of tapering sales, his health forced him to quit that position.

"I WORKED UNTIL I was 78, though," Meyer says. "I'm 84 now, and I think I have had a full life." Open on the table in front of him during his conversation was the Herald's Page of Opinion.

The Paddock papers to which Meyer has subscribed for nearly three fourths of his life will continue to come, but now they are free of charge, as to any subscriber of 50 years or more.

Avoid the use of the word DOUBTLESSLY. DOUBTLESS is itself an adverb, and does not require the suffix "ly."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED
Access and excess. Accent "access" on the first syllable, and "excess" on the second syllable.

Heart Fund Workers Announce Results

Heart Fund volunteers in the surrounding area have announced the results of this year's campaign.

Leading community was Arlington Heights, which collected $5,500 for the 1962 campaign.

CHAIRMAN Roy D. Benson, 718 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, adds that the figures exceed the 1961 collections by $313.

Volunteers in Wheeling collected $739, according to the re-Cotterell, 10 Crescent View Terrace, Buffalo Grove.

Prospect Heights campaigners netted $979. Chairman Jackson B. Fisher points out that this is 122.4 per cent of their goal.

Major portion of the funds collected will be used to further research into the causes and possible cures for the various forms of heart and blood vessel diseases.

Few Women Doctors

Only six per cent of doctors in the United States are women. In the U.S.S.R. the figure is over 80 per cent.

Square Dance Club News

Dorothy Meyer — CLearbrook 3-2298

PALATINE SQUARES

The Palatine clubbers' annual warm-up dance is a reminder to everyone that the square dance season will be here before they know it. Club members invite all square dancers to join them Aug. 25, from 8:30 to 11 p.m. and get back in the swing before the summer is completely gone. Regular callers, Art Matthews and Don Finfrock, will share the mike that evening and, as always, do their best to make the warm-up dance "real cool."

The club's regular season begins Sept. 8 with enthusiastic plans for introducing as many guest callers as possible during the year. Club regular Art Matthews and guest caller Dale Manson will get the season started and on Sept. 22 guest caller Walt Niezabitowski will spell club regular Finfrock.

Guests are always welcome at this club's dances which are held the second and fourth Saturday nights of each month when the "Square 'em up!" call comes at 8:30 p.m.

NORTHEAST ILLINOIS JAMBOREE—

Nine square dance callers and one of the finest couples of round dance instructors in the area will be on hand for this free Jamboree to be held Aug. 25 from 7:30 to 11 o'clock in the newly opened Randhurst Center.

A tremendous dance program is promised by the committee which has booked Don Finfrock, Bob Kim, Nina and Tib Tibbetts, Dale Manson, Bob Lewis, Jim Stewart, Wally Paulson and Fred Douglas. Jerry and Dot Daniels, round dance instructors, are well known to the patrons of the Aragon Ballroom where they have been on the staff of instructors for many years. Their "Jerry Dots" are equally well-known to square dance clubs in the area.

The committee concludes their invitation to everyone with "Square dancing is truly 'the American dance' and has outlasted many fad dances that have come and gone throughout the years. Friendship, fellowship and good fun are the by-words of dancers everywhere who know the truth of the saying, 'A stranger is a friend you have not yet met.' "

Milady's Memos

BY HELEN HALE

Tangy Tidbits

Marinate canned or cooked asparagus spears in well-seasoned French dressing and serve on a bed of greens, garnished with sieved hard-cooked egg.

Toasted coconut and grated orange rind folded with whipped cream into drained fruit cocktail, then spooned into cream puff shells makes a fancy dessert in no time.

Brown pork chops on both sides and spread with soured cream to bake right along with peach halves which have been studded with cloves and sprinkled with brown sugar.

Helen's Favorite:
Nectarine Sundae Supreme
(Serves 8)

5 fresh nectarine, pared and sliced
1½ cup sliced fresh strawberries
¼ cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
2 tablespoons lime juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 quart vanilla ice cream
½ cup toasted flaked coconut

Blend together strawberries, peaches, corn syrup, rind, juice and extract. Chill for ½ hour. Serve over ice cream, then top with coconut.

A sweet and tangy sauce for French toast (waffles or pancakes) uses a can of quick-frozen orange juice, 1 juice can water, ½ cup honey and ½ cup chopped dates, simmered together for 5 minutes and served warm.

So delicious is this simple dip: ½ pint of sour cream, garlic powder, lemon juice and diced pimiento with instant onion and cayenne for seasoning and chopped ripe olives for texture interest.

Dates and pineapple added to shredded cabbage for slaw make an interesting variation.

Secretary Carpentier Lists Auto Violators

The office of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier has released the list of auto driver violators and penalties imposed, based on local court convictions and police reports.

Six area residents had their licenses revoked for driving while intoxicated. Labeled drunken drivers are Gerald L. Browning, 3202 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows; Richard D. Lincoln, 29 S. Walnut Street, Arlington Heights; Greegario Ramires, 111 W. Strong Avenue, Wheeling; Robert C. Abel, 40 S. Prospect, Roselle; John H. Davis, 350 Spruce Street, Bensenville; and Joseph A. Rauen, 12 Winchester Court, Roselle.

ERNEST L. Morgan, 1304 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, also was arrested for driving while intoxicated, but received a suspension only.

Permitting fraudulent use of a license cost Terry M. Betz, 415 Miner, Arlington Heights, the use of his own and driving privileges.

J. D. Guthrie, Route 3, Palatine, lost his license for displaying one not issued to him.

FORFEITING driving privileges as a result of compiling a record of three violations within a one-year period are Rosemary A. Acker, 317 N. Main, Mount Prospect; Charles D. Baney, 2103 Fulle Street, Rolling Meadows; Donald R. Colosimo, 19 N. Emerson, Mount Prospect; Charles F. Corrado, 201 S. Wilke Road, Arlington Heights; and John F. Heiman, 111 Walkefield Lane, Schaumburg.

Also Phyllis E. Lanham, 1143 Stratford, Arlington Heights; Susan McDonald, 215 W. Orchard, Arlington Heights; Ronald V. Platz, 1980 Valleyview Road, Northbrook; Charles K. Randall, 407 Highland, Mount Prospect; Arthur W. Simone, 346 Birchwood, Elk Grove Village; Ruth A. Stovall, 3603 Kirchoff Road, Rolling Meadows; William T. Wilkinson, 108 Ash Road, Roselle; and Loretta A. Young, 3 N 251 Cardinal, Addison.

Several drivers in the area were granted probationary permits to operate a motor vehicle following periods of suspension. These are Maurice T. Bolotin, 608 Gregg Road, Northbrook; Sidney Glick, 2620 Appletree Lane, Northbrook; Thomas A. Joerger, 2723 Woodland Drive, Northbrook; Michael McNulty, 2383 Bellevue Place, Northbrook; Mario Palazzolo, 1601 George Street, Arlington Heights; and Donald E. Swanson, 336 Sunset Lane, Wheeling.

'My Geisha' to Open At Catlow Theatre

"My Geisha," Paramount's romantic comedy about a famous Hollywood marriage that almost goes on the rocks in Japan, is the next attraction beginning Friday at the Catlow Theatre.

Filmed in Technicolor and Technirama, it stars Shirley MacLaine, Yves Montand, Edward G. Robinson and Bob Cummings. Yoko Tani, lovely Franco-Japanese, costars in the Steve Parker Production.

For the first time in her varied and successful career Miss MacLaine does an impersonation — that of a geisha girl. A geisha, translated literally, is "a person of the arts"—a demure, cultured, precisely trained entertainer adept in subtlety, delicate song, and the gentler arts of pleasing men.

THIS REPRESENTS quite a transformation for the leggy, blue-eyed, red-headed, tall, Scots-American actress whose laugh resembles the hoot of a small calliope.

Compressing the exuberant Shirley into the dimensions of a geisha girl would, therefore, seem to require not only a masterful job on the part of the make-up man, but a real acting accomplishment for the star.

In the film Miss MacLaine portrays a successful American actress married to a director who goes off to Japan to make an all-Japanese picture. All of his previous films have starred his wife and he is determined to make a name for himself on his own without the assistance of her big box-office name.

SHE, ON THE other hand, is just as determined to play the lead in his new film even if she has to masquerade as a geisha girl to do it. She succeeds in her purpose but almost loses her husband were it not for a few lessons learned in the course of acquiring her geisha-girl know-how.

Yves Montand, France's gift to America's female fans, plays Shirley's husband. Montand, who has appeared opposite such glamorous stars as Gina Lollobrigida, Ingrid Bergman and Marilyn Monroe, really hits the jackpot in "My Geisha" in that he gets to make love to two Shirley MacLaines — the one who plays his American star-wife and the girl of the title.

Edward G. Robinson, whose name adds distinction to any cast, will be seen as the Hollywood producer friend of the couple who finds himself very much in the middle of their tug-of-marriage.

BOB CUMMINGS returns to motion pictures after an absence of eight years during which he became one of the best-known television stars in America with his own "Bob Cummings Show." In "My Geisha" his role is a comic one, that of the actor who falls in love with his co-star, the geisha girl impersonated by Shirley.

"My Geisha" was directed by Jack Cardiff, who won an Academy Award for his picture, "Black Narcissus" and who photographed such fine pictures as "Red Shoes," "The Vikings" and "Fanny." The script is an original written by Norman Krasna. (Bill

NEW ROMANTIC TEAM of Shirley MacLaine and Yves Montand fom the comedy team in Steve Parker's "My Geisha" which opens Friday at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. (Bill CARY GRANT and Doris Day are teamed for the first time in "That Touch of Mink," which opens Friday at the Golf Mill Theatre. The theatre will present a special children's matinee Saturday, with cartoons starting at 1:30 p.m., the feature "The Secret of Monte Cristo" beginning at 3 p.m., and the program ending at 4:30 p.m. (Bill

OFTEN MISUSED

Distinguish between EXCEPTIONAL (out of the ordinary) and EXCEPTIONABLE (objectionable). Thus: "The child's reasoning power is exceptional, although I do find his lack of punctuality exceptionable."

Do not say, "His silence has got me very worried." Omit "got," and say, "very MUCH worried."

Do not say, "This is all the farther I am able to go." Say, "This is AS FAR AS I am able to go."

Distinguish between INCIDENT (an event or happening) and INSTANCE (an example). Thus: "There is one incident of the ride worth telling," and "Listen to this instance of his stupidity."

North-Cook 4-H Fair To Host Barn Dance

Little Heart Disease

New Mexico has the lowest death rate due to heart disease in the nation; New York State has the highest.

The old national barn dance with WGN will be broadcasting a Saturday night show Aug. 25 direct from Randhurst, the home of the 1962 4-H Club Fair.

Final arrangements for this appearance have now been made and Bob Atcher will be appearing on the show.

BOB ATCHER is a daily host to many radio listeners in our northwest suburban area as well as appearing regularly on the WGN Barn Dance shows.

Atcher is Kentucky born and has sung his way into the hearts of millions, with his special way of doing the old-time "story songs."

He is an excellent horseman, an expert marksman, and president of the Village of Schaumburg, where he now resides.

Long a favorite of radio and television audiences, he is a recording star for Capitol in the country and western fields.

THE FAIR itself will be held Aug. 23, 24 and 25 at the new Randhurst shopping center.

Over 100 head of livestock and several hundred small table and other exhibits will be on display.

Anyone visiting Randhurst during these three days will be able to see 4-H in action.

AGRICULTURAL exhibits showing the various phases of the agricultural business in our area will be also on display.

A program is being planned for each evening with entertainment for Thursday and Friday nights as well as Saturday night with the featuring of the WGN Barn Dance.

Judging of all 4-H projects will be held throughout each day, starting at 1:00 p.m. on Thursday and continuing through Saturday afternoon.

BOYS AND GIRLS interested in 4-H club work are urged to attend this important 4-H club event.

A special booth is being arranged by the older 4-H club members through their 4-H Federation.

All small table exhibits will be in the covered malls; livestock will be exhibited on the exterior of the building.

Space Feat May Hurt Schools

French Lick, Ind., (UPI) — A prominent American educator predicted here that the latest Soviet feat in outer space will have an unhappy effect on United States schools.

Dr. T. M. Stinnett, Washington, D. C., asistant executive secretary of the National Education Association, told Hoosier educators Monday to brace for a new wave of pressure as the result of the marathon travels of the two latest Soviet spacemen.

STINNETT addressed a three-day conference of the Indiana State Teachers Association which will continue through Wednesday. The fear that Russia is ahead of our country in the race to put a man on the moon will "undubtedly result in a fresh wave of pressure on our chools," he said.

"We will get heavy pressure, but little, if any, financial support," Stinnett predicted. He was critical of "this whole business of fear as the motivation for improving our educational system."

HE POINTED out that the fear-motivation is contrary to the American philosophy. Such an attitude belongs only to nations which "consider the child as a tool of government, the individual as a weapon of war."

Stinnett warned that "this kind of education is not where the strength of the country is coming from in the decisive years ahead."

Threatens Privacy

An orbiting observatory now being developed by the NASA will have the accuracy equivalent to that needed to observe the color of a person's eye from a distance of 40 miles.

Area Scouts Head For National Conference

Four explorers will represent the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the first National Explorer Delegate Conference to be held Aug. 26 to 30 at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Local delegates are A. Craig McDougall, 925 N. Patton, Arlington Heights, Post 32; Ronald Oas, 621 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, Post 32; Robert Sabey, 219 N. Maple, Mount Prospect, Post 55; and Robert A. Roth, 537 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, Post 57.

The young men were elected by District Explorer Cabinets as delegates to the National Conference, and will join 3,500 other delegates from over 500 Scout councils.

PRINCIPAL speakers for the conference are Donald W. Douglas, Jr., President of the Douglas Aircraft Company; Dr. Albert Burke, nationally known TV personality, teacher, lecturer, and economist; Dr. Warren Guild, a medical doctor, marathon runner and humorist; and Joseph A. Brunton, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

During the conference Explorers will have an opportunity to participate in 54 skill events covering the fields of service, physical fitness, and outdoor skills.

The events will include such activities as magic, square dance calling, oratory, safe driving, electronics, art, first aid, marlin spike seamanship, swimming, gymnastics, archery, and a logger's field meet.

AN "EXPLORADO" will be one of the top features of the conference with several hundred outdoor demonstrations of Exploring in action.

The National Explorer Delegate Conference has been planned by a conference committee composed of Explorers elected as representatives from each of the 12 Regions of the Boy Scouts of America.

W. L. Griffin, 1521 W. Oakton St., Arlington Heights, will accompany the delegation to Ann Arbor.

Griffin will be in charge of a clinic on Explorer unit money raising projects at the conference. (B8

Baseball Stars in New Movie

IT'S APPARENT that Doris Day isn't in agreement with the baseball umpire's call in this N.Y. Yankee dugout scene from "That Touch of Mink," laugh-loaded romantic comedy in which she stars with Cary Grant. From left to right are Roger Maris, the indignant Doris, Mickey Mantle, the perplexed Mr. Grant and Yogi Berra. The champion Yank stars play themselves in the film co-starring Gig Young and Audrey Meadows. In color — opening Friday at the Arlington Theatre.

Randhurst Opens Today in Mount Prospect

28 Acres of Shops Under One Roof

Randhurst, the world's largest shopping center under one roof, will open its doors to Chicago area shoppers at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 16.

Morning ceremonies will dedicate the merchandising giant and newest community servant. The colorful program will culminate painstaking planning and massive construction begun July 13, 1959, when three of the nations leading department stores — Carson Pirie Scott & Co., The Fair and Wieboldt's — formed the Randhurst Corp.

Randhurst is unique in structure and scope. It combines Chicago's most complete shopping center with such extras as accommodations for medical, dental and other professional services, as well as meeting rooms for community organizations.

Randhurst covers a 100-acre site in Mount Prospect at the major intersections of Rand Road (Rt. 12), Elmhurst Road (Rt. 83), Foundry Road and Euclid Ave. It is readily accessible—only 22 miles from Chicago's Loop in the heart of a tri-county trade area. It will serve nearly 30 Chicago suburbs and attract buyers from throughout Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin.

RANDHURST is at once sprawling and compact, functional and beautiful. The center proper contains 1,200,000 sq. ft. A 60-acre parking lot area for 7,500 automobiles surrounds the entire center. This arrangement will allow shoppers to park only a few feet from the store they wish to visit—saving time and energy and minimizing congestion.

Thirty acres of lush lawn and landscape encircle the parking area. Randhurst is based on a triangular design. Each of the three department stores is located at an apex of the triangle. Smaller stores and shops are strung along the periphery. At the triangle's heart, a magnificently domed four-level plaza houses a ring of professional suites, a pavilion restaurant, a bazaar of open shops and a concourse of service facilities.

ARCADE AREAS within the triangle are esplanades of tropical plantings, fountains and sculpture. Exotic palms set in mosaic glass planters are the backdrop for $100,000 in specially-commissioned sculpture. The garden atmosphere is complemented by a year-round controlled climate. Shoppers will move in an ideal 72-degree temperature no matter what the weather outside. A heating and cooling system that could serve 1,500 homes accomplishes the Randhurst climate control task. The Center provides lockers at its three arcade entrances so that patrons can shed outdoor wraps and stroll from store to store in complete comfort.

One-thousand speakers will play fi-fidelity music throughout Randhurst, completing the pleasant shopping atmosphere.

In its role as community servant, Randhurst affers space for up to 50 professional suites, a 300-capacity auditorium, smaller meeting rooms and the spacious arcade areas for use by community groups.

ON DEDICATION day, over 50 stores will be open for business. Included in this Grand Opening total are the three major department stores, Carson Pirie Scott & Co. will occupy nearly 200,000 square feet of space, The Fair over 154,000 square feet and Wieboldt's 185,000 square feet. All three department stores are three-level and carry full lines of merchandise. Randhurst is the only shopping center in America to offer three such full-line department stores.

Other famous names on the Randhurst roster are: Almer Coe Optical Co., Apple Basket Restaurant, Baker's Shoe Store, Baskin (opening in October), Benson-Rixon, Brautigam Florist & Gifts, The Card Shop, Carson's Resaurants: The Tree Top Restaurant, The Bird's Nest Cocktail Lounge, The Pancake Shop, Tartan Tray Cafeteria, Chandler's Shoe Store, Claire Hats, Cover Girl, Craft Studio, Dutch Mill Candies, Fabric Mart, Flagg Bros. Shoes, Florsheim Shoe Shop, Frank Jewelers.

DR. FRANK E. Grogman D.D.S., Hosiery Bar, Jewel Food Store, Joe's Barber Shop, Karpet Show Case, Kay Campbell's, Kinney Shoes, Kresge's, Lauter's, Le Petit Cafe, Le Rendezvous Snack Bar, Wm. A. Lewis, Lorsey's Fashion Accessories, Marianne Shops, Dr. Dwain F. Marquette D.D.S., Dr. John J. Napier, Chiropodist, Normans, O'Connor & Goldberg Shoes, Emery's Tailor Shop, Randhurst Bank, Randhurst Camera Shop, Randhurst Beef Center, Randhurst Heel Bar, Randhurst Key Shop.

Randhurst Music Center, Randhurst Tie Rack, Maurice L. Rothschild, Singer Sewing Center of Randhurst. Stuarts, Sun Self-Serv. Drugs, Tedd's Sportswear, Walton Rug & Furniture Co., Wards Auto Service, Wieboldt's Tire Centre and Youthful Shoes.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT and Company's new Randhurst store brings the company's total retail units to 28. Carson's is one of the three major department stores to open the center. (RS

Carson's Randhurst Store Brings Chain Number to 28

The opening of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.'s new Randhurst store will bring the company's total retail units to 28.

The new Randhurst store is a far cry from the modest beginning of this great firm. Samuel Carson and John T. Pirie, the first two partners, came to New York from Ireland in 1854 and worked briefly in Peru and LaSalle, Illinois.

After careful consideration, the thriving railroad town of Amboy, Illinois was selected in 1854 as the location for the new firm of Carson and Pirie, dealing in "Ladies' and Gentlemen's Dress." The first day's sales were $40 and the outlook seemed bright to the two young merchants.

AFTER A SERIES of rapid expansions and several moves to larger quarters, Carson and Pirie were joined in 1856 by two friends from Ireland — George and Robert S. Scott.

Within four years of the Amboy opening, four branch stores had been opened in nearby Illinois towns, making Carson's one of the first group of chain stores in the United States.

IN 1864, CARSON'S wholesale division was opened at 20 Lake Street in Chicago. The first Chicago retail store was opened in 1867 at 136 Lake Street.

After salvaging much goods from the Chicago fire of 1871, Carson's experienced an even greater growth, marked by their new and revolutionary building in 1904. This building was one of the first to utilize the skyscraper principle of steel and masonry construction.

THE CARSON Pirie Scott & Co. of today consists not only of the 28 retail divisions, but a contract division and a wholesale floor covering division which has branch offices and warehouses.

A subsidiary, International Airports Restaurants, operates the world's largest airport restaurant facilities at O'Hare International Airport, and will also operate restaurant facilities at Randhurst.

Randhurst Name Based On Location

Perfect location provided the original and impressive name "Randhurst" for the $20 million center. "Rand" came from Rand Rd., Route 12. "Hurst" from Elmhurst Rd. The 100 acre center is situated at the northeast corner of the intersection of Rand and Elmhurst Roads in Mount Prospect.

RANDHURST is bounded on the north by Euclid Avenue and on the south by Foundry Road.

Randhurst is 22 miles from Chicago's loop and is less than 15 minutes driving time from O'Hare International airport. It is also within a few minutes of Northwest Expressway and the Northwest and Tri-State tollways. So wherever you are Randhurst is never very far away.

Randhurst Is Family Center

Randhurst is the family's center. Developers of the largest shopping center under one roof had all the family's needs in mind. So it was only logical to include complete facilities for medical and other professional offices.

INTEGRATED into the architectural masterpiece for this special purpose was the professional terrace. It is located on the upper level surrounding the dome and opening onto the Galleria—the Central Plaza of Randhurst.

Space for up to 50 professional suites have been arranged in a ring. Each are 32 ft. deep, extending from the balcony to the outside walls of the upper level. All service facilities in the climate-controlled offices will be recessed.

Office suites are accessible from the mall area by three flights of stairs and a passenger elevator serving only the professional area.

Sculpture, Exotic Plants Too

Spacious Arcades, Fountains Create Distinct Atmosphere

Three spacious arcades appointed with fountains, exotic palms, flowers and $100,000 worth of sculptures create the distinctive atmosphere of Randhurst.

Randhurst's triangular shape places the three main department stores, Carson Pirie Scott & Co., The Fair and Wieboldt's at each corner of the center. Other shops are located along the periphery of the triangle. At the center of this roofed merchandising giant is the domed plaza.

The three arcades surround the plaza and provide the setting for the numerous store fronts. The arcade design allows shoppers a maximum of shopping with a minimum of walking. Paths criss-cross the gardens so that moving from one end of the center to another is a quick and pleasant stroll.

BECAUSE RANDHURST is completely enclosed, the entire center's climate is controlled for shopping comfort. Moving from store to store, one is not greeted by alternate blasts of hot or cold air. The entire center's stores, shops and arcades are maintained at a pleasant, seventy-two degrees for a new and up-to-date approach to shopping center conveniences.

Near entrances to the arcades are gaily colored lockers designed so that shoppers can shed heavy outer-ware and bundles, and shop with carefree comfort.

Each of the arcades has space so designed that various civic and social groups can plan parties and dances in the courts in garden settings for more than a thousand people

11 Randhurst Stores Especially for the Men

Looking for men's clothing? You're bound to find what you have in mind in one of the 11 stores and departments expressly for the male at Randhurst.

Father and son are very much in the Randhurst merchandising picture. Planners of the largest shopping center under one roof have leased thousands of square feet of merchandising space just for the men's clothing and accessories.

SPECIAL MEN'S departments at Carson Pirie Scott and Company, The Fair and Wieboldt's will cater to a complete line of men's needs.

In addition men's full-line departments will be found in Baskin and Maurice L. Rothschild.

Two men's specialty shops at the center will bring top brands and up-to-date fashions for the discriminating male shopper. Benson-Rixon will operate an 8,000 sq. ft. store, while Lauter's will fill 4,000 sq. ft. with a variety of men's merchandise.

THE RANDHURST Tie Rak will offer a variety of neckwear, a tie to suit every taste.

For shoes, the Randhurst male shopper can look to the department stores or to Flagg Bros., The Florsheim Shoe Shop or Kinney's.

Randhurst Plans No Easy Task

Planning Randhurst was such a detailed operation, it took two large blueprint firms just to make the blueprints for the operation.

In the past four years, thousands of sheets have been made of the master copies kept on file in the architect and engineers' offices.

THERE ARE 50 complete sets of the blueprints in circulation at all times for use by the hundreds of workmen who must execute the plans. These sets get weekly changes just as the master copy does.

The $20,000 blueprinting job was done by Gordon Crowfoot Co. and the Huey Co., both of Chicago.

THE SPACIOUS MALL in Randhurst creates a distinctive atmosphere with its tropical plantings, sculpture and objets d' art. The above scene shows three levels in the center. (RS

Wieboldt's Randhurst Store Eleventh in Company's History

WIEBOLDT'S STORE IN RANDHURST is the 11th store in the Chicago area. William A. Wieboldt founded the first store in 1883 on Grand Avenue near Ashland. The antique buff will be thrilled with the many authentic antique art objects used as decor in all areas of the new store.

Wieboldt's is proud to be one of the three dominant stores in Randhurst which is the largest air conditioned covered mall center in the country. Wieboldt's will be a complete department store including a large super food market.

Wieboldt's - Randhurst is the 11th store in their group in the Chicagoland area — the two previous at State and Madison and Lincoln Village were added in August 1960 when Wieboldt's acquired Mandel Brothers.

Although the development of shopping centers insuburban or outlaying areas is usually thought of as a relatively new concept in merchandising, Wieboldt's was founded on this very principle of neighborhood shopping.

William A. Wiebolt founded the first store in 1883—a 25-foot front general merchandise store on Grand Avenue near Ashland, in Chicago. By 1897 he was located in his own new four-story building at Milwaukee Avenue near Paulina, in what was then the largest department store outside of Chicago's Loop.

"TIME HAS BEEN good to us," Werner A. Wieboldt, chairman and eldest son of the founder, said today. "To this day, I feel that my father's business philospohy had a whole lot to do with our expansion. My father was always convinced that friendly service more than anything else—would bring us success."

"Through the years, that seemingly simple business code has brought physical expansion and increased business volume, but we have never let bigness let us lose sight of neighborliness and friendly service."

THE SECOND Wieboldt department store, at Lincoln and Belmont avenues in Chicago, opened in 1912, and was followed by the store at Ashland and Monroe, in Chicago, in 1925. In 1929, Wieboldt's moved out to Evanston and in 1950 opened a new and enlarged store in that community. The fifth store at 63rd and Halsted streets, Chicago, was opened in 1930, and the Oak Park-River Forest store in 1937. The store in Harlem-Irving Plaza Shopping Center was opened in May 1957, and the store in the Meadowdale Shopping Center, Carpentersville, was opened in November 1959.

RANDHURST PROVIDES community rooms for meetings for large and small civic groups. Above is a view of one of the rooms set up for a civic meeting.

Community Groups Interest Randhurst

Randhurst was designed with community interest in mind. Clubs and groups will find a place to meet and hold almost any type of gathering in the world's largest shopping center under one roof.

From lavish dinners for thousands of persons to just a handful for a business meeting. Randhurst has just the right place to accommodate these groups.

THE RANDHURST courts and arcades with their fountains, sculpture collection, and exotic landscaping are available for luncheons, dinners, dances, fashion shows, and parties to community groups. Thousands can be accommodated in the arcade areas alone with no worry of weather to spoiling their plans.

For groups of 300 or less, an auditorium has been built into Randhurst. Located on the lower level near the Tartan Tray cafeteria, the auditorium is adaptable to catering service for groups of such size.

ANOTHER LARGE meeting room is just off the auditorium section. This room is just right for groups of 100 or less. It can be sectioned off into two rooms for less than 50 people if the occasion calls for smaller space. These rooms are also equipped for catering service.

Reservations for the Randhurst community facilities can be made by writing or calling the Randhurst Merchants Association office, 999 Elmhurst Road, Mount Prospect, 259-0500.

Ribbon Cutting Rite Set For Randhurst Jewel Food Store

Ribbon Cutting for the new Jewel Food Store in Randhurst will take place at 9:45 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 16. The store will open at 10 a.m. on that day.

The new store will offer a complete variety of food services. Among the special features will be an old fashioned sausage shop, which will offer over 100 varieties of sausage from the famous Weisel Sausage Co. of Milwaukee, as well as imported and domestic hams, Danish, Italian, Dutch, German and Kosher meats and cheeses sliced to order.

This shop will be equipped with 10-foot refrigerated case 2-door reach-in cooler. A rotisserie will barbeque chickens and spareribs. Whether it's fixings for lunchtime sandwiches, a buffet supper or quick dinner, Jewel customers will find the old fashioned sausage shop a most convenient place to shop.

ANOTHER SPECIAL feature is the Jewel pastry shop. This modern, self-service department will feature over 150 varieties of specialty pastry and bread items of the highest quality from Jewel's own pastry bakery. Included will be a large selection of breads, rolls, cookies, pies, donuts, sweet rolls, coffee cakes, layer cakes, cupcakes and a host of other dessert items. A special feature of the shop is that many of the pastries will be frozen at the peak of freshness, the moment they leave the oven, and sold from a specially designed frozen pastry case.

With this feature, complete selections of pastry are available at all times and even decorated cakes are available. A hostess will be on hand at all times in the department to assist customers in their selection and to take orders for special items.

FOR THE convenience of customers, a complete red wood paneled Patio Shop offers a variety of ready-prepared foods for complete meals including a full line of salads, hot foods warmed by an infrared table, fresh baked pies, and the finest barbequed chicken and ribs from a built-in rotisserie. Another service of the department will be party snack trays made to order and fancy hors d'oeuvres along with a complete banquet service for 50 to 500 people.

Fresh fruits and vegetables in all varieties to satisfy all tastes and needs are found in the colorful produce section identified by a large awning.

The large frozen foods section is decorated in pale blue and white.

THE ENTRANCE to this unique, completely air-conditioned store is located in an arcade of the shopping center. Two conveyers within the store will facilitate convenience in bringing customers groceries to their cars. A gate with a large Jewel oval above it decorates the entrance to the Jewel Food Store. The checkout area is covered with an over-all canopy. Convenient free parking will be provided in the shopping center parking lot.

Opening day the store will feature free flowers for the ladies. A clown will have balloons and lollipops for the children. Store manager Ed Thuy and Market Manager Art Hagen will be on hand. (RS

Randhurst Tower a Landmark

Giant Golf Ball Houses 150,000 Gallons of Water

The Randhurst water tower at the southwest corner of the 100 acre shopping center is a landmark and an integral part of the center's operation.

Resembling a giant golf ball standing on an equally giant tee, the white base and ball tower 150 feet into the Mount Prospect sky.

THE TOWER'S function is as impressive as its stature. It houses 150,000 gallons of water supplied to Randhurst tenants for domestic and fire protection purposes.

The center draws its water supply from the village of Mount Prospect system, buying at regular commercial rates. The water is then softened by Randhurst's own system before reaching tenants.

The water system developed for Randhurst would supply the average needs of a community of 15,000 persons. The 10 inch water mains linking Randhurst to the Mount Prospect service was designed, built and paid for by the shopping center. It has been turned over to Mount Prospect as public property.

THE 1500 FOOT deep Mount Prospect well on the Randhurst property pipes water into the village system.

Within the triangular center more than a mile of sprinkler system has been installed for fire protection. The sprinkler system is less than one tenth of the 12 mile maze of pipes which twist underground through the 100 acre site for water, sewer, and drainage systems.

The drainage system draws rain water and melting snow from the flat Randhurst roof and center's 60 acres of parking lot. The collected water moves through two disposal systems without a chance to collect at Randhurst or anywhere within the surrounding area.

Almer Coe Optical Co. Opens Randhurst Store

Almer Coe Optical Co., whose newest store is located in Randhurst, Mount Prospect, was founded in 1886 when the firm's namesake opened Chicago's first optical retail establishment. A store and laboratory for processing lenses to eyeglass prescriptions was established at 65 N. State St.

SINCE THAT TIME the company pioneered in developing several types of corrective lenses in use throughout the country, and the public's attitude toward glasses has undergone a series of changes.

In the early days eyeglasses were considered similar to crutches. They were worn only when a person's vision was so bad that glasses became a necessity to his existence.

Then they became a sign of intelligence. People in the professions and the business world wore them to impress their clients.

accessory to people's dress and have an important cosmetic effect on appearance. Almer Coe fashion consultants assist men, women and children in selecting eyeglass frames that will enhance their looks. In many instances they are serving the fourth generation of customers. The long list of distinguished patrons include Mrs. Potter Palmer, Lady Henry Somerset, Jane Addams and Cyrus McCormick.

In the early 1900s the Almer Coe store was moved to Wabash Ave. In 1946 it was relocated at 10 N Michigan Ave. to keep pace with increasing business.

Other Coe stores also are located at 1629 Orrington, Evanston; Old Orchard shopping center, Skokie; Oakbrook Center, Oak Brook. Like the others, they specialize in fitting contact lenses.

Randhurst Shops Can Outfit Area Women from Tip to Toe

Randhurst brings to the women of Chicago the largest fashion collection under one roof. Nineteen stores—including three full-line department stores will outfit milady from head to toe.

Glamour at Randhurst isn't limited to the merchandise. The woman shopper will move in an exotic garden setting. From the women's section of the department stores to the eye-catching store fronts of the specialty shops, Randhurst is in tune to a woman's good taste.

With its variety of shops and departments Randhurst will sound the last word in fashion elegance. Women will find a variety of price ranges along with a giant clothing selection.

Carson Pirie Scott & Company, The Fair and Wieboldt's—Randhurst's three full-line department stores — will carry women's coats, dresses, sportswear, lingerie, shoes, hats and accessories. Anything that a woman could want will be found under the Randhurst dome. Wm. A. Lewis, nationally known women's clothiers will bring its chic "Wm. A. Lewis" look to Randhurst shoppers. The store will occupy 8,500 sq. feet in the center.

Another fine specialty shop, Stuarts will open a store devoted to the fashion conscious woman. Marianne Shop and Norman's are among the centers fine array of women's stores. Cover Girl Lingerie Shop will cater to those "unmentionables." The Randhurst shopper will find a complete line of feminine sportswear at Kay Campbells and Tedd's.

Shoes will be available in a complete range of styles and prices. In addition to the shoe departments in the department stores, Bakers, Chandlers, Florsheim Shoe Shop, Kinney's, O'Connor & Goldberg and Youthful Shoes have stores at Randhurst.

Baskin Store for men and women will offer several departments especially for the ladies, as will Maurice L. Rothschild, family clothing store.

Claire Hats will bring the latest headwear to the center, while Lorseys, known throughout Chicagoland, will present a full line of handbags.

Famous U.S. Sculptors Exhibit Works at Center

Those who appreciate the arts will find a wealth of enjoyable things to view at Randhurst.

Under the direction of Randhurst's architect, Victor Gruen, some of the most famous sculptors in America were commissioned to create special works of art for a permanent display of sculpture in Randhurst's malls and Galleria.

THE DOME sculpture, consisting of 78 separate figures in pre-cast concrete just under the interior of Randhurst's dome were done by Vern H. Walt of Los Angeles, California.

Another Californian, Greg La Chappela did a huge eliptical disc, also for the Galleria.

HAROLD L. KERR of Palatine, Illinois, created a bronze sculpture called Migration, which indicates birds in flight. It is located on Randhurst's mall level.

The unique life-size horse and other animals seen in the malls are the work of Julie MacDonald of Pasadena, California, and are carved from Portland limestone.

A work in bronze by Arthur Mayfield Kraft of Kansas City, Missouri, may be seen in the malls as well as special water fountains by John Gilcrest and George W. Hall of Corona Dee Mar, California.

THE FAIR STORE'S FIFTH and newest branch is located in Randhurst. The history of the Fair store began 87 years ago when the company's founder E. J. Lehmann opened the first store in 1875. Above is a view of the new Randhurst Fair Store.

Fair's New Randhurst Store Milestone in Company History

The Fair store's fifth and newest branch at the new Randhurst in Mount Prospect, will exist largely because of principles laid down 87 years ago by The Fair's founder.

Back in 1875, E. J. Lehman started out with a 16-foot-wide wood building just north of Adams on State Street — and some firm ideas about how to do business.

Turns out they're still good ideas — so good that The Fair today, under the direction of J. P. Hansen, the store president, still practices them faithfully.

LEHMAN'S FIRST idea was that the store should supply "everything for everybody under one roof"—and at moderate prices, tailored to the needs and purses of the average American family. Dependable quality — that is, merchandise that would give good service, regardless of price—was another of his ideas. A personal interest in each customer was another.

Today, in spite of its growth to an 11-story, block-long loop store with four handsome, modern suburban stores, The Fair still prides itself on maintaining a friendly, personal interest in its customers' needs and problems. It still shops for its merchandise on the basis of quality first—at a low price.

RANDHURST, The Fair's newest addition, will exemplify the most modern department store planning. Randhurst also becomes The Fair's fourth branch store; the others being Oak Park which opened in 1929, Evergreen in 1952, Old Orchard in 1956.

Fair customers can find everything from garden tools to baby bassinets, from work clothes to the latest fashions, for every member of the family, in every one of its five friendly stores.

Depicts Birds in Flight

Palatine Sculptor's Bronze Part of Randhurst Exhibit

by BILL HALLS

Included among the $100,000 in sculpture at Randhurst is Herald L. Kerr's "Migration," a sixteen-foot bronze depiction of birds in flight.

The 50-year-old Palatine Township sculptor was one of several noted American artists commissioned by architect Victor Gruen to create special works of art for the center's permanent mall display.

"Migration is a culmination of thought and consideration of several models I submitted," says Kerr.

He describes his work as "part welding and part engineering."

"I do art for people, not museums," Kerr says philosophically. "It's always gratifying to see a corporation exposing art where the greatest number of people can see it.

"I'M NOT OPPOSED to museums, but I feel art should have more public exposure.

"Randhurst spent nearly $100,000 on art. That's not a whim."

Kerr, originally from Park Ridge, moved to his studio-home at Rand and Dundee roads about 10 years ago.

He has been commissioned to do special sculpture for public buildings, churches, schools and is "well represented among the more important private collections."

One of his most important works is a 30-foot piece of forged aluminum, "Christos," an image of Christ at Columbierre College, Clarkston, Mich.

KERR'S FATHER, Robert Scott Kerr, was a painter. Kerr himself was educated at the University of Minnesota, St. Cloud Teacher's College and the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis, Minn.

His wife, Jane, is a designer of mosaics. The couple have two children, Scott, 12, and Brian, nine.

The boys are not particularly interested in art." said Kerr. "We don't have any prodigies," he mused.

HERALD L. KERR, Palatine sculptor, gives "Migration" a few last minute adjustments before his work is finally installed in the permanent display at Randhurst. (RS

Satisfy Shopper's Taste Under Randhurst Roof

THIS IS THE INTERIOR of The Corned Beef Center, one of the seven restaurants to be opened today in Randhurst. The motif of this particular specialty restaurant is that of an old coach house.

From the gourmet to the busy shopper everyone will find their tastes satisfied under Randhurst roof.

A variety of seven fine eating establishments catering to informal and formal dining will be at the Randhurst shopper's disposal.

FOR AN ELEGANT luncheon or dinner in the exotic atmosphere of the domed plaza at the heart of the Center you will find a Floating Restaurant operated by Carson Pirie Scott & Co. plus The Tree Top Restaurant and The Bird's Nest Cocktail Lounge. These establishments are suspended above the festive bazaar, a set of festive open shops in a garden setting.

While customers dine, they can enjoy the fountains, gardens and sculpture harmoniously blended in the Randhurst decor.

FOR MORE INFORMAL dining, the Apple Basket Restaurant and the Pancake Shop will accommodate Randhurst customers. For those who enjoy the convenience of a cafeteria, the worm-wood paneled Carson's Tartan Tray Cafeteria on the lower level will fill the bill.

With the flavor of an old Coach House, Randhurst Corned Beef Center will offer pleasant dining and doubles as a delicatessen.

For a quick snack, Kresge's will offer a food department within their store.

Single Goal of Randhurst— Center of Unequaled Services

As the Randhurst dome rises from a triangular mass of stone and concrete, it is the symbol of the Randhurst theme: A single goal—a shopping center of unequaled services—through the efforts of three nationally distinguished department stores. It is the first time three competitors have joined to produce one shopping center.

THE TRIUMVERATE officiated at dome stone ceremonies March 1, 1962. The three stores which occupy the corners of the triangular shopping center will open tomorrow.

The symbol of unity, the white dome, rises 64 feet into the Mount Prospect skyline. The center of attraction, as well as the center of Randhurst's structure, the area immediately below it is completely open. Sunlight filters through stained glass set in modern stone sculpture into a plaza—the Galleria.

FOUR LEVELS open on to the Galleria. The upper level is devoted to professional offices, which provide complete medical, dental and professional services.

The pavilion level is anchored to six steel columns supporting the dome giving it an appearance of a floating platform. A spacious restaurant, cocktail lounge and informal coffee shop occupy the level. A special area has been set aside for events such as fashion shows, arts and crafts exhibits and concerts.

DIRECTLY BELOW the pavilion is a unique bazaar. Its red brick floor provides the backdrop for the colorful atmosphere of open shops.

The fourth level is the concourse which accommodates all service shops, beauty shop, barber shops, cleaners, repair services and public restrooms.

This level also houses a cafeteria, auditorium and meeting rooms.

Vast Randhurst Underground Serves 'Out of Sight' Work

Every production has its backstage crew and Randhurst, the largest shopping center under one roof, is no exception.

Backstage at Randhurst is underground. A service tunnel providing 10,000 sq. ft. of loading dock winds its way beneath the 1,200,000 sq. ft. of stores above. Allowed are 100 trucks daily to deliver their wares and pick up merchandise, food, and equipment needed in the giant center's operation.

A LABYRINTH of pipes and ducts are exposed in the ceiling of the tunnel. Through this maze of lines, heat, light, power, and air conditioning are conveyed to the stores above.

The service tunnel is wide enough to allow two trucks to pass. It follows a mile triangular path around the underground core of the center. Special access driveways to the tunnel are provided for the trucks to eliminate their traveling the driveways and parking lot area reserved for customers.

THE SAFETY and convenience were the primary motives of separating the shipping and receiving traffic from pedestrian and automobile traffic. In addition, the noise and exhaust from the trucks will not ruffle shoppers.

The service tunnel is the basement operation for Randhurst. It has been used during the construction stage to bring building materials into the triangular center. In the past few weeks, merchants' trucks have ridden its course to stock the three full-line department stores and the many other specialty and service shops and professional offices.

Traffic control in the tunnel is accomplished by a modern automatic system of warning lights. The vehicles move one way.

Randhurst Alarm System Giant Electronic Control

The old town crier would be mighty proud to see his electronic age descendant in the new Randhurst.

Centuries back when folks wanted to be assured of their security they relied on the wail of the crier—"Ten o'clock and all is well."

TODAY, DEEP in the heart of the Randhurst is a giant electronic control board. Its indicator lights flash at 100 positions. Instantaneously it sets off an electronic typewriter that banks out a message. This is the Randhurst "watchman."

Every door in Randhurst is wired to the central electronic watchman. Each has a code number and its own light station on the giant board. If the last man to leave Carson's, for example, forgets to lock one of the doors at the Carson entrance, the electronic watchman will light up. The typewriter will indicate the code number of the door that is open.

THE DOOR CAN be locked quickly once its location is noted.

Checking all the locks just once a day for Randhurst—world's largest shopping center under one roof—would be more than a fulltime job for any one human watchman. But is is accomplished continuously by the electronic watchman.

This special Randhurst system was installed and designed expressly for the center by Notifier Electric Co. of Chicago.

Magnificent Randhurst Result of Executive Leadership Ability

A wealth of executive leadership was available for the building of the world's largest shopping center all under one roof —Randhurst.

THE CENTER is wholly owned by Randhurst Corp. The center will be operated by Randhurst Corp. which is equally owned by the center's three department store tenants; Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Wieboldt Stores, Inc., and The Fair.

Representing the department stores on the board of directors are: John T. Pirie, Jr., chairman of the board of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Frederick J. Price, Sr. vice president of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., James F. Tobin, president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., Arthur K. Muenze, vice president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., Charles J. Kushell, Jr., vice president of Montgomery Ward & Co., and J. P. Hansen, president of the Fair.

JOHN A. BARR, chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward and Co., earlier served on the Randhurst Corp. Board of Directors.

During the years of planning and building of Randhurst a special planning committee met regularly. This committee consisted of Harold R. Spurway, vice president of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., S. J. Fosdick, vice president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., George M. O'Neill, vice president and general manager of Randhurst Corp., and Thomas M. Green, vice president of Montgomery Ward & Co.

A SPECIAL leasing committee was in charge of leasing Randhurst retail and office space. This leasing committee consisted of Harold R. Spurway, vice president of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., John T. Pirie, Jr., chairman of the board of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Arthur K. Muenze, vice president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., and George M. O'Neill, vice president and general manager of Randhurst Corp.

Officers of Randhurst Corp. are Harold R. Spurway, president, George O'Neill, vice president, W. A. McAdoo, vice president, Arthur K. Muenze, vice president and treasurer, W. E. Saunders, secretary, Donald J. Gralen, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, and H. E. Haynie, Jr., assistant secretary.

Operational staff members are headed up by O'Neill and number nearly 40.

RICHARD LANE, age 6 wasn't too sure his fingers would make a good print in the cement at Wieboldt's new store in Randhurst Center. The cast on his broken arm did not prevent him from taking part in the "Hands of the Future" program, where youngsters from the area pressed their hands in wet cement to be preserved for posterity in the entrance of the new store. Helping Richard, who lives at 709 Greenwood Dr., Mount Prospect, was KoKo the Clown and Bill McGuillan, cement contractor.

Long Wait for Randhurst Opening Ends

Giant Center Greets Public

by BILL HALLS

For several months now, many northwest area housewives have put off major item shopping with a patient "we'll wait 'til Randhurst opens."

Today the wait ended. Thousands of shoppers streamed into the 28-acre delta-shaped regional shopping center, entirely enclosed under one roof.

It cost $21 million to build, but as the cash registers began to ring up sales, the deficit began to decline. Officials expect to gross $61 million the first year, $98 million annually by 1970.

Called the largest enclosed shopping center in the world, Randhurst is a cooperative development of three major department stores, Carson Pirie Scott and Co., The Fair and Wieboldt's.

THE THREE stores each occupy a corner of Randhurst's unique triangular design, and together make up Randhurst Corporation which operates the retailing colossus including 90 other shops and services.

The center represents the latest concept in advanced retailing, a product from the fertile brain of Victor Gruen and Associates, a Los Angeles firm which has gained world-wide recognition since it was organized in 1938.

The firm designed J. L. Hudson's mamouth Northland Center in Detroit (1954), and Dayton's Southdale Center in Minneapolis (1956). The latter was the first completely enclosed retail center.

Randhurst combines the best features of each, and many new concepts, all designed to ease the shopper's burden.

Located in Mount Prospect, Randhurst is easily accessable. It is 22 miles from the Loop, located at Rand and Elmhurst roads. Adistinctive landmark is the water tower, rising 150 feet into the sky. It holds 150,000 gallons, enough to supply average needs of a community of 15,000.

There is 72 acres of black-topped parking lots for 7,500 cars. Color-keyed lockers have been installed near the three main entrances so shoppers can store coats, hats, boots and parcels.

A CONSTANT temperature of 72 degrees is maintained inside the center to insure comfort the year - around.

The controlled temperature allows plant life from exotic palm trees to chrysanthemums, mostly arranged around a central plaza under a 64 foot dome. The area immediately below the dome is completely open, allowing sunlight to filter through hand-stained glass set in modern pre-cast concrete.

Below this, geometric pillars that support the dome surround a "floating" restaurant, one of seven in Randhurst.

There is also a cocktail lounge and coffee shop for weary shoppers to relax and enjoy $100,000 in art, including fountains and sculpture.

The unusual restaurant is on the third of four levels under the dome which form a "Galleria." The upper level is devoted to professional offices which provide complete medical, dental and professional services.

Directly below the pavilion (third level) is a unique bazaar with a red brick floor leading to colorful "kiosks" or small open shops similar to those found in northern Europe.

The fourth level accomodates beauty and barber shops, cleaners, rest rooms and other service shops.

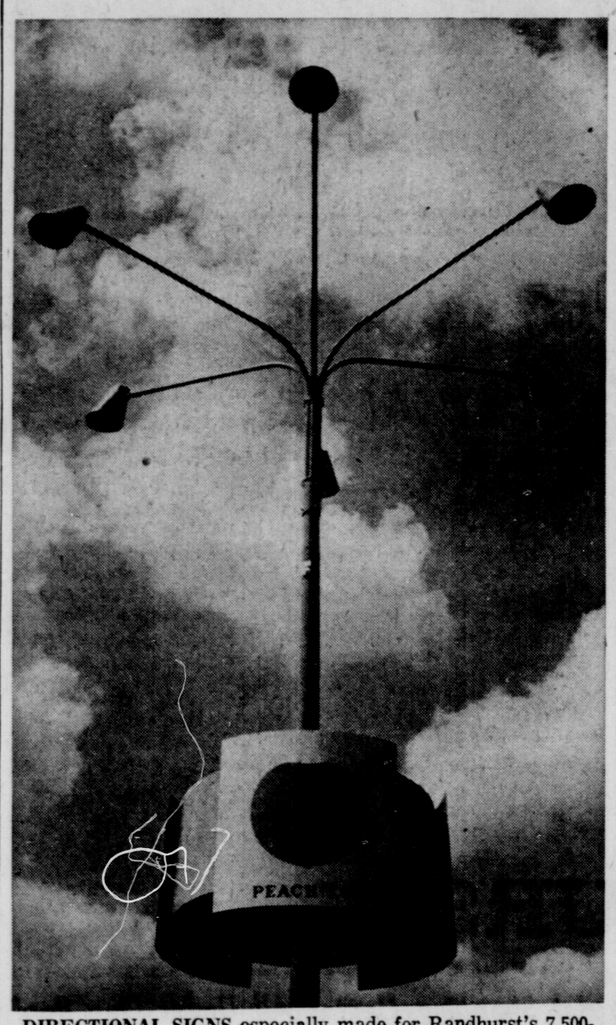
THIS LEVEL also houses a cafeteria, auditorium and meeting rooms.

There are no doors in the normal sense inside Randhurst. Colorfully painted grills slide across entranceways when it's time to close up.

The ladies' restroom in Weiboldt's is noteworthy for its elegance. The store spent $60,000 for furnishings, including imported marble basins and mosaics.

IN ALL, THE giant retail outlet that is Randhurst is 46,000 yards of poured concrete, 2,000 tons of structural steel; 4,400 tons of reinforced steel, and 35 tons of building stone.

From all this, Randhurst officials estimate Mount Prospect will gain $500,000 in sales tax revenues annually.



DIRECTIONAL SIGNS especially made for Randhurst's 7,500-car parking lot were designed to ease shopper's burden. Instead of usual directions; Lot A, Row B, section 482, the Randhurst lots are divided into simulated fruit groves. Lots are designated simply as Peach lot, Orange lot, or Apple lot.

Carson Pirie Scott Motif Has 'Country Elegant' Air

To the expanding chain of suburban stores encircling the Chicago area, Carson Pirie Scott & Co. announces the addition of its newest and largest branch store — Randhurst in Mount Prospect which will open officially with Randhurst, Thursday, Aug. 16.

Randhurst itself, most unique in its design, is the largest shopping center under one roof in the world. The entire center is enclosed — heated in the winter and air-conditioned in the summer. The Carsons store is built on three levels, and covers an area of 200,000 square feet. This new modern store will support the largest selection found outside Carsons State Street store from home furnishings to fashions.

The store as a whole gives the feeling of country elegance, with floors either covered in light rubber tiling or deep pile carpeting. Each department is given a color theme in a whitened yet fresh vibrant shade. The fixture, a heavy center beam with slender branches extending from it, remains the same throughout the store, but varies in interpretation with every department, i.e. in the men's store the beam is a dark wood and the sprigs are of burnished brass, in the China and Glassware department, the center beam is blue with white sprouting branches.

THE FIRST floor or middle level opens out to the center mall by a mere expanse of air alone — there are no doors leading to the mall area. This level includes the largest sportswear area, done in a vibrant blue with the display nitches topped with thatched rooms; a complete men's and Boy's Store, decorated in red, with rough textured dark wood pillars and paneling, heraldic accessories and red carpeting; men's, women's and children's shoe department, which carries a brown color theme from mahogany paneling and a hand-stencilled mural in silver and gold to whimsical brown monkeys swinging on a bright orange wall, a notions and card department; all fashion accessories and small wears; and an unusual and dramatic junior department — a solarium completely enclosed on three sides by 6 ft. plate glass walls, carried out in Gingham blue and Pecky Cypress.

The escalator to the 2nd floor or the upper level leads to the fashion apparel area, centered by a circular North Room (designer dresses), carpeted in blue and highlighted by an unusual light fixture, singularly inconsistent with the others — a circular cluster of individually lighted bottles. The beauty salon and children's and infants' apparel are also on this floor— the children's departments are laid out in one continuous bank from the Layette Shop to the Teen department and the color theme here is carried out in citrus colors of orange, lemon and lime with fantasy houses painted on white walls and pillars.

THE LOWER level includes all home furnishings areas, plus a toy department and a complete budget apparel annex of 20,000 square feet.

The center dome area adjacent to the Carsons store and all the stores, contains a Carson Pirie Scott & Co., restaurant, cafeterie, cocktail lounge and coffee shop. An auditorium and private dining rooms are also located in this area.

Sixty-Acre Parking Lot For Randhurst Customers

Parking will be a pleasure at Randhurst. Extra wide stalls arranged at 55 degree angles allow customers to drive into a space with one turn of the wheel.

Randhurst's 60 acres of asphalt parking area accommodates 7500 automobiles at one time. In the future the parking lot can be expanded to hold up to 10,000 cars.

PARKING LANES circle the rim of the triangular-shaped shopping center. Because of the design, shoppers will be able to park at a close walking distance to all stores.

Entrance and exit safety are provided for by special "Randhurst" lanes on Elmhurst, Rand, Foundry and Euclid Avenue.

The parking lot is divided into seven sectors. Each parking area is easily identified.

For evening Randhurst shoppers, 90 30-ft. light towers will provide a bright, safe parking area without harsh or offending glare. The arms of daylight are each powered by six 300-watt incandescent light fixtures.

THE PARKING area has been planned with the temperature in mind too. Fifty-eight tree islands create a park-like atmosphere planned by landscape architect Franz Lipp. These planting islands are introduced to soften the large paved areas and give Randhurst a pleasant setting as seen from the approaches and surrounding roads.

Silver Maple, Silver Poplar, Honeylocust, American Linden, Green Ash, and Native Crabapple are the varieties chosen for durability and minimum maintenance. The 150 trees range from 18 to 30 feet in

George M. O'Neill Heads Randhurst Staff

Is Vice President, And General Manager

George M. O'Neill heads the Randhurst staff and is Vice President and General Manager of the world's largest shopping center under one roof.

O'Neill's operational and supervisory staff number nearly 40 persons including executives, supervisors, office personnel, engineers, maintenance and protection forces.

A thirty-nine-year-old native of Charleston, S.C., O'Neill has actually been general manager of Randhurst since 1959. He has guided it through planning and construction stages and now coordinates the great merchandising venture and because of their high regard for his abilities, the members of the Randhurst Merchants' Association recently reelected O'Neill as president of their association.

A RESPECTED leader in the shopping center industry, O'Neill was one of the first trustees of the International Council of Shopping Centers.

Robert J. Flynn will serve as assistant general manager. He will assist O'Neill in the administration of the center.

GEORGE M. O'NEILL

THE MANAGEMENT staff is responsible for promotion, maintenance and over-all operation of the center.

Heading the promotion department is Charles W. MacKenzie. His office is in charge of the coordination of advertising for the center's three department stores and other specialty and service shops. He also handles public relations and special events for Randhurst and is Assistant Secretary of the Randhurst Merchants' Association.

PROJECT ENGINEER for Randhurst is Roy C. Oliver. His behind-the-scenes work involves the physical plant, the giant climate control system which will warm the largest center under one roof in winter and cool it in summer.

The water supply operations, electricity and plumbing are a few of the areas Oliver's staff maintains.

Duane F. Garrison is security chief for Randhurst. He heads a special police force that will provide complete security and traffic control, utilizing the most modern equipment available.

THE RANDHURST policemen will be on the alert for customer problems and in most cases, be able to straighten out any difficulty in a matter of seconds.

Ground maintenance of the 100 acre center will be under the supervision of A. Dudley Carmichael. In addition to the sixty acres of parking lot, thirty-one acres of landscaping and its fifty-eight landscaped islands, and the surrounding Randhurst lawns, Carmichael's department will maintain the indoor malls, executing garden care and cleaning.

Randhurst Keynoted By Specialty Shops

A host of specialty shops round out the merchandise offerings at Randhurst with family shopping being the keynote. Stores to serve specific family needs have been included at Randhurst.

Food shoppers will find a huge Jewel Food Store. Sun Self Service Drugs will offer complete perscription service as well as other drug store merchandise. A big Kresge variety store will await the entire family. Two other service shops, Wiebolt's Tire Center and Wards Auto Service are located on the fringe of Randhurst's huge parking lot.

OTHER SPECIALTY stores to fill family shopping needs will be: Almer Coe Optical Co., Brautigan Florist and Gifts, The Card Shop, Craft Studio, Dutch Mill Candies, Emery's Tailor Shop, Fabric Mart, Frank Jewelers, Lorsey's Fashion Accessories, Randhurst Bank, Randhurst Camera Shop, Randhurst Heel Bar, Randhurst Key Shop, Randhurst Music Center, Singer Sewing Center of Randhurst and Walton Rug & Furniture Co.

COLORFUL LOCKERS IN various sizes and shapes are available in all arcade entrances at Randhurst where shoppers may leave their bundles, coats, hats, boots or whatever they want so they can enjoy carefree shopping in the center. Randhurst is climate controlled so winter wraps can be discarded when inside.

Weather No Problem

Randhurst Climate Control Provides Year 'Round Comfort

No matter what time of year you come to Randhurst it will be a comfortable 72 degrees. The multi-million dollar shopping center, world's largest under one roof, has a year-round controlled climate.

WHAT COULD be nicer than carefree shopping in a spring-like atmosphere? The Randhurst planners decided to truly construct a center with the shopper's best interest and comfort in mind. No more dodging raindrops while moving from store to store or experiencing alternate icy and hot blasts during the winter months. No umbrellas to lug or hot boots to wear because lockers are provided just inside the Randhurst arcades. No more hot shopping trips that take the spark out of what should be a wonderful family excursion.

The special Randhurst heating and cooling system was designed by Robert F. Hattis Engineering Co. of Skokie. It will warm the 1,200,000 sq. ft. center in winter, cool it in summer and either warm or cool it during the unpredictable fall and spring months.

MILES OF PIPES and ducts wind underground through the center to accomplish this engineering masterpiece. The system moves 700,000 cubic feet of air per minute from the Randhurst ventilating fans.

The heating system was installed by Economy Heating and Plumbing Co. At its heart are three hot water boilers, 12 feet in diameter and 25 feet long, and two 600 horse power steam boilers.

This combination heats the air for the center, supplies 25,000 gallons of hot water to the stores, heats 2,000 gallons of fuel oil that the boilers use daily and supplies steam and hot water to Carson's Restaurants and cafeteria.

THE THREE LARGE oil fired boilers use fuel oil of a tar like consistency that will be stored in two 30,000 gallon underground tanks.

The cooling system was furnished and installed by the York Corp. Fluor Products Co. provided the cooling towers.

Chilled water is pumped throughout the center at 45 degrees and returned at 65 degrees. The system's capacity is 5600 tons. The condensers, chillers and pumps are located in the central plant. Twelve induced draft cooling towers are located on the roof above.

Randhurst's cooling and heating facilities could serve over 1500 homes.

Convenience to Shoppers Offered Through Lockers

Randhurst not only opens its doors to comfortable shopping climate, but, if you wish, it takes your hat and coat, too.

At each arcade entrance to the fully enclosed shopping center, a colorful array of lockers in various sizes and shapes are available for the Randhurst shopper.

CONVENIENTLY sized lockers are located in each of the three arcades. Turquoise, olive, and orange are among the bright colors of the built-in steel compartments. The arcade entrances adjoin the three major department stores—Carson Pirie Scott & Co., The Fair, and Wieboldt's. These stores are conveniently located in the three corners of the triangular shaped center.

The hundreds of colorful lockers will provide space for coats, hats, boots, and bundles. This customer convenience will be especially appreciated during the colder months. Shoppers can come in out of the winter temperatures, take off their coats and shop in the 72° climate-controlled atmosphere of the center.

Welcome to...

RANDHURST

World's Largest Shopping Center All Under One Roof

As a 90-year resident of northwest suburbs, Paddock Publications takes pleasure in extending its welcome to a distinguished newcomer, Randhurst. The new suburbia makes inevitable major changes in retailing and marketing, changes reflected in the opening of such new developments as Randhurst.

Paddock Publications also reflects inevitable change — a dramatic innovation in communications, the new suburban press. Built upon a foundation of nearly a century of service, Paddock Publications recognizes its new position, its growing responsibilities. It is meeting the challenge of leadership by improving editorial content and newspaper readership, by giving its communities new and better newspapers, by providing advertisers with an increasingly potent sales medium, by bringing new depth and breadth to suburban journalism.

The family which prefers suburban living to city life is primarily interested in homemaking, family and neighborhood living, community development — local interests which concern the suburban newspaper and which other media cannot serve. Paddock Publications is the only effective contact with this exploding $372 million northwest suburban market; it is the only communications medium which can provide the information and leadership necessary to help the split-level dwellers understand, appreciate, and adjust to a different mode of family and community life. Evidence of this growing influence and leadership is shown by more than 35,000 families who now depend upon a Paddock newspaper for accurate, incisive suburban journalism.

Welcome, Randhurst, to northwest suburbs. You'll find our people proud, perceptive, practical, fun-loving. These are our readers; this is your market. This is our community. We welcome you in your desire to join with us in a common effort to make this a better place in which to live, to work, and to shop.

Welcome!

The Way We See It

Giant Randhurst Is A Welcome Addition

In terms of physical girth alone, Randhurst — which opens its doors to the public this Thursday, Aug. 16 — is a goliath. Billed as the largest shopping center in the world under one roof, it hosts 1,200,000 sq. ft. of floor space.

For those who favor a more rural description, this means 28 acres of stores and services under a single roof.

Other figuratively impressive facts show that this colossus contains 46,000 yards of poured concrete, 2,000 tons of structural steel, 4,400 tons of reinforcing steel and 35 tons of building stone.

Built at a cost of $21 million, Randhurst will feature three major department stores which form the apexes of the triangular-shaped center located on the northeast corner of Rand and Elmhurst Roads in Mount Prospect.

In the center of the complex is the spectacular "Galleria," whose domed plaza contains four levels of service. The upper level will support professional offices of doctors and dentists; the pavilion features a circular restaurant, one of seven, that "floats" between the ground floor and the mezzanine between geometric pillars that support the center dome; the bazaar has many small open specialty shops; the concourse accommodates all service shops such as beauty parlors, barbers, cleaners and repair services.

All told, there will be 90 shops and services available for the shopper. There are 72 acres of blacktopped parking lot to hold up to 7,500 automobiles. A half mile underground is laced with lanes for pickup and delivery trucks.

Emphasis on the aesthetic has not been neglected. The galleria includes fountains, plants and $100,000 worth of sculpture, including one by Harold Kerr, a Palatine sculptor. A cast concrete, sculptured screen, inset with modern stained glass windows in the galleria competes for attention with the huge center dome through which sunlight filters. More than $60,000 has been spent importing marble basins, mosaics and gold-leaf outlines for the Wieboldt's ladies restroom.

There has also been an awareness expressed of community concern. A community meeting room, which will be made available to the public, occupies a place in the galleria along with an auditorium. Randhurst has also contributed $200,000 to road improvements undertaken along Rand and Elmhurst Roads.

Sales are expected to reach $61 million during Randhurst's first year of operation. By 1970, it is anticipated that the sales volume will swell to $98 million.

For Mount Prospect, this translates to mean the securing of half a million dollars in sales taxes annually from the giant center. The Feehanville Elementary school system, the Wheeling Park District, and High School District 214 will also be beneficiaries of such a tax bonanza.

Randhurst's presence here can be considered as one of mutual benefit. Its recognition of the northwest suburban area as a retail shopping outlet is obvious. Its contributions to the northwest suburbs should also be apparent. We welcome them to this bustling, booming area, and wish them every success.

Back to School?

The usual flourishes which accompany the movement back to school have begun. There are the outfittings for new clothes, as summer growth cycles have made last year's obsolete.

There will be a touch of melancholy invoked by the waning summer, modified by the exciting prospect of returning to the classroom and old and new faces among classmates and teachers.

In preparation for the coming semester, others have been feverishly at work. Their activities and concern for school curriculums have been making occasional headlines.

In Princeton, Wis., for instance, George Orwell's novel, "1984," which deals with totalitarian government and thought control, has been banned from the classrooms because it was declared by citizens at a local school board meeting to be "not proper reading" with "objectionable plots."

After banning the book, electors voted to have a pamphlet entitled, "Who is tampering with the soul of America?" distributed to teachers and pupils.

This view is apparently shared in Texas where curriculum watchers are as abundant as long-horned cattle. The Texas House of Representatives Special Legislative Committee on Textbook Selection has held at least seven hearings this year in different cities.

Witnesses supporting the textbook purge have attacked not only Orwell's book but such works as "Andersonville," MacKinlay Kantor's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel of the Civil War; "The Grapes of Wrath," John Steinbeck's classic; "Of Time and the River," one of Thomas Wolfe's enduring works; "Brave New World," Adlous Huxley's compelling prophesy; "Marjorie Morningstar," by Herman Wouk, author of "The Caine Mutiny," and others; and "The Catcher in the Rye," J. D. Salinger's most notable effort.

Even "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" and "Tarzan" books have been under fire in some Texas communities.

Witnesses who find these works objectionable have asserted that "a militant atheism is being covertly insinuated into the curriculum of the public schools."

One of the leaders of this viewpoint, J. Evetts Haley of Texans for America, states that "The stressing of both sides of a controversy only confuses the young . . . until they are old enough to understand both sides of a question, they should be taught only the American side."

This is curious reasoning. Just what is the "American side" in our pluralistic society? Mr. Haley's statement implies that there is only one side. It is a fair assumption to say that "his" side is the "one" side, the "American" side. Is having a self-appointed custodian of a monolithic viewpoint consistent with the American tradition? Or does it sound strangely like the reasoning of a member of some politburo?

According to "The Christian Century" magazine: "No textbook can be used in (Texas) public schools unless its author files an oath avowing that he is not a Communist." If the author is dead, the publisher must file one on his behalf.

Against this absurb stand, it is well to read and remember the testimony of Rev. Brandoch Lovely of the First Unitarian Church of Austin, who said: "Our schools and textbooks must not become the official source of misguided piety nor half-informed and shallow patriotism . . . (they) should educate, not indoctrinate, liberate, not enslave, expand, not diminish those powers of the mind and the understanding of truths which have brought into being in this free land unity without conformity of thought or opinion."

Who, indeed, is tampering with the soul — and mind — of America?

Critic's Corner

Public Asks Protection

by CHARLES HAYES
Executive Editor

It took the tragic case of the sleeping pill-tranquilizer thalidomide to bring home to the American people the extent to which new drugs are rushed into use without sufficient testing to bring warning of their harmful side effects.

Even now, long-approved drugs are coming under suspicion as possibly — and in some cases — probably responsible for serious conditions quite apart from those for which they were taken.

HAYES

RECENT EXPOSES have awakened and shocked the American people and generated public pressure for government protection in this field. Such pressure should help to counter the enormous pressures of the powerful and highly competitive drug industry on the federal government to license new drugs for public sale.

The Food and Drug Act was passed in 1906, overhauled in 1938, and has been revised in various ways since then. The proposed amendments now under consideration are second only in scope to the remodeling job of 1938. They are recognized, especially in light of recent developments, as urgently needed to screen the tremendous flood of drugs pouring on the market.

Specifically, the new regulations would require that:

—The FDA be put on notice and given the full details about the distribution of drugs for investigational use; —Clinical investigation be based on adequate preclinical studies to assure safety; and —The clinical investigations themselves be properly planned, executed by qualified investigators, and that FDA be kept fully informed during the progress of the investigations. If a substantial doubt develops as to the safety of a drug during the clinical tests, the FDA and all investigators using the drug would be notified immediately. If necessary, the trial would then be halted by FDA.

IN ADDITION to regulatory changes, there is also a need for federal legislation to protect the public against false advertising claims and against the tremendous sale pressures from competing manufacturers.

The pill business is big business—and getting bigger all the time. It has been estimated that false and misleading advertising causes the American public to spend more than a billion dollars a year on foods, drugs, and lotions that have no real benefit. Hardly a week goes by without an expose by the FDA.

A significant segment of our population swallows quack ballyhoo and the newest pills —pills for pepping up, slowing down, thinning out, relief from tensions, and so on.

RESPONDING to this need for public protection, Congress is considering legislation which is chiefly concerned with the marketing of drugs and cutting their costs.

Recently - introduced measures would require drug producers to prove their products were effective as well as safe. Their advertising would have to describe possible harmful effects of the drugs. Drugs would have to be labeled with the general name of the product rather than just trade names. In addition, the FDA would get authority to quickly remove from the market an approved drug later found to constitute an "imminent hazard."

It is to be hoped that the public will continue to voice its support of Administration and Congressional measures designed to give the FDA more authority in the inspection, approval, and control of drugs. At stake is the health and welfare of an entire nation.

Navigational Aids?

School Names 'Drab'

by BOB CUMMINS

Why aren't schools named after people?

The drab reality in many of our suburban areas is that new schools are being named after points of the compass.

Maine Townhip now has its East and West high schools and is going to work on its South. Niles Township also has its East and West, and it is heading North.

At least there can be no doubt as to what the fourth high school will be named. And the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth.

The ninth one should be interesting. Maine Township High School North-Northwest will certainly be a novelty. It will sound like a school for navigators.

The most magnificently uninspired naming yet on record has resulted in Thornton Fractional North and Thornton Fractional South.

When school boards aren't giving out with directional signals, they are naming schools after the street out front. Likely as not, this turns out to be the name of the subdivider's niece, nephew or cousin.

The category of people deemed worthy of having a school named after them is woefully narrow.

Only a small minority of the nation's presidents have made a dent in this field. Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson were honored times without number. Roosevelt was doing real good until FDR came along and loused up the name for most school boards. The other presidents never got off the ground.

Longfellow has done well among the poets. A few of the more daring school boards will go for Whitman. Robert Frost looks like he has a wonderful future in this field. Carl Sandburg has hit it big since he stopped writing poetry.

A DEEP BOW should go to Wheeling for naming their school after a fine writer who also happened to be a socialist and drank bucketfulls.

Jonas Salk was a godsend to the less venturesome. Here was a man who did something great and remained noncontroversial.

That's the rub. Few people do anything worthwhile without becoming controversial.

I herewith submit my list of persons who have accomplished something distinctive in their chosen field of endeavor.

ARNOLD TONYBEE, Harry Truman, Brooks Atkinson, Norman Vincent Peale, Charles Boyer, Morris B. Sachs, Fats Domino, Sammy Esposito, William G. Stratton, Tom McShane, Gene Autry, G. L. McElroy, Arthur E. Simmons, Arlene Francis, Randy Sandy, Billy Sol Estes, Diem Bien Phu, C. O. Schlaver, John Hoellen, Dorothy Lamour, Dorsey Conners, Ismael Valenzuela, Loretta Young, Moose Krause, the Everly Brothers, Parker Ekren, Moise Tshombe, Winthrop Rockefeller, Marion E. Burks, Lawrence Welk,, Joe Schneller, Preston Bradley, Spring Byington, Samuel Witwer, Haystacks Calhoun, Carmen Cavallero, Reinhold Neibuhr, Debbie Drake, Jose Tartabull, Ahmed Ben Bella, Margaret Chase Smith, Soupy Sales and Gabriel Heatter.

I'll admit some of these people may be controversial, but if the school boards have any gumption they will toss such objections aside.

GOP Candidate

Urges Assault On Vote Fraud

(UPI) — Elroy C. Sandquist Jr., Republican candidate for Cook Cunty Judge, Tuesday proposed a three-pronged assault against potential vote fraud.

Sandquist, in remarks prepared for delivery before the Illinois Election Laws Commission, said a series of amendments enacted at the 1961 session of the legislature "could cover up — in fact offer an inducement for — major attempts at fraud."

SANDQUIST initiated the recount proceedings in Cook County in the aftermath of the 1960 presidential election. He urged that elections in Cook County be under the control of a single board, that the board be non-partisan as distinguished from bi-partisan, and that the board's employes be placed under civil service.

In his criticism of legislative amendments on vote recount procedures, Sandquist said that one such amendment "lulls you into a false sense of security."

"It outlines a recount procedure which could easily have been followed in the 1960 recount, and essentially was," he said. "Yet, the same kind of arrogant political ruling which threw out the contempt cases which followed that recount could be applied again."

Sandquist also rapped increased assistance to voters as leading to "a breakdown of our entire voting system.'" He said that only the blind and those with obvious physical disabilities should be eligible for aid.

"IT IS NOT unlikely that much of the present assistance to voters has become to the voting machine what chain voting was to paper ballots," he said. "It permits someone to make sure a person votes the way he wants that person to vote."

Sandquist said that under a new "95 percent requirement," in voting machine districts, a candidate cannot conveniently challenge his opponent unless he is within 95 percent of his opponent's vote, or in effect within 26,000 votes for each million votes cast.

"My knowledge of Chicago election history would indicate that for each million votes a 26,000-vote manipulation, more or less a required, is not an unreasonable goal," he said. "As a matter of fact, it now becomes an essential goal . . . a sort of haven.

"IT WOULD not take more than a handful of illegal votes from each of our 5,000 precincts to bring about what appears to be a convincing victory — a victory that will prevent a discovery recount — and I for one am not going to rest easily until some changes have been made," he said.

'Coddled Kids' Not A Thoughtful Study

By MARTIN E. MARTY

"Suburbia's Coddled Kids" by Peter Wyden (Doubleday, $3.50) will no doubt receive a good deal of attention in the suburbs. If you read the author's article in the Saturday Evening Post, don't bother to pursue this book.

It is not much longer than a full-length Post article. It reveals no new and profound research. Wyden picks up a very important subject and handles it unimportantly.

The dust jacket of the book calls it "a thoughtful, witty, disturbing study of middle-class suburbia and its coddled, babied, and over indulged children." It is none of these.

MARTY

It is not thoughtful: it consists of reportage of other people's research. In place of profound thought it consists of strung-together anecdotes. It is not witty. It is not disturbing: the author takes away the sting at the beginning and end by saying, in a sense, "Aw, really, I didn't mean it. The kids are going to turn out all right." If so, why did he bother to write the book?

Again, if so, can he prove it, after indicting the way they are being brought up? No doubt Wyden is smart enough to know that suburban housewives, challenged about the ways they are bringing up children, are as communicative as was Nikita when he pounded his shoe on the table. Only they throw theirs at the critics.

FORTUNATELY, since I have children, I am not an expert on this subject. It is equally fortunate for me that I am not called to offer something new in the matter. But I would like to voice the complaint many a reader must have after reading still another book like Wyden's.

What the author fails to do is to arch profoundly our motives: why do we bring up our children this way? What can we do about it? Have we any good reasons to stop coddling and to produce some fiber?

Are we producing some fiber and don't know it? Wyden constantly acts as if he is saying, "You won't believe me . . ." as he cites another hair-raising example of coddling.

Well, Mr. Wyden, I believe you. So will most parents, most schoolteachers, most observers. We may not take as much pains to string together so many instances.

BUT WE DO know our children have it easy; they live in a world of illusions; they receive more presents than they should; they are forced too soon into an adult world. But what do we do about it?

Wyden suggests two or three little "first aid" answers at the end. We need more. For the first time a free society produces an economy in which the majority of people are relatively prosperous. (One of the suburbs he studies is Streamwood, Illinois; Wyden shows there that "coddling" is not the problem only of the wealthy suburban areas).

Relative prosperity, relatively guaranteed comfort, islands of distance from the uglier realities of this world are built into the system.

AT THE SAME time, the system might provide an imaginative generation with means not to run away from the world but to serve it.

I am waiting for the authors who will take pains to write something thoughtful, witty, disturbing about the subject. I have to go now; the kids want coddling and I haven't seen them for days.

Quotoons

If you want to make life most interesting, use the success of gaining one height to storm another higher up.

The hardest person in the world to convince are those who ask you to try and convince them.

The severest criticism of my work always comes from the person I love most—my wife. I guess that is why she is the best helper I have ever had.

Ashamed for Team Backers

Last evening I witnessed the baseball game between the Bensenville Little League All Stars and the team from Lisle. Both teams played well and exhibited excellent sportsmanship. The Lisle team won simply because it played a good brand of baseball.

However, two Bensenville spectators (women) gave an excellent performance of spite and hate for the Bensenville manager, his wife and the players (all except the son of one of the women).

They accused the manager of deliberately making the team lose although he had little control over the loss.

They berated him ummercifully and certainly made me feel ashamed because of the image they were creating of my townspeople in the eyes of the Lisle spectators and officials from Glen Ellyn.

I HOPE the people of these two towns will excuse them and realize that the majority of our citizens are good sports and proud of all the Little League participants.

Voice Concern Over Columns

"One of the functions of the press is to serve as a source of news and comment which is not available through any other media."

On a radio program called "Viewpoint" several weeks ago, words to this effect were spoken by Editor Charles Hayes during a discussion with the editor of the Sun Times. We felt privileged and also very warmly encouraged to hear about the growing responsibilities of the Suburban Press.

IF EVER we felt like jumping on a bandwagon, now is the time. We, too, have felt a deep sense of loss as well as an enlarging concern over the missing columns of Dick Hoffman. What we sincerely believed to be "words of wisdom" cannot be presented to us suburbanites by any other media than the press.

Certainly Dick Hoffman's columns were not always soothing to our nerves. On the contrary, they pricked or literally jabbed the consciences of most of us at times when we needed to be lifted out of an apparent complacency — stimulating thought, arousing more than a superficial awareness of the world outside and thereby encouraging constructive action.

WE AGREE wholeheartedly with reader Sloan Simpson from Palatine in her (his?) letter to the Fence Post last week, as well as with others who have expressed concern over the absence of his articles. We also "like you the way you were," and the way you were included Dick Hoffman's deep concerns for humanity translated into good copy!

Your Newspaper Best There Is

Thank You, Friend—
My Paddock Paper

It seemed strange to me, at first to even consider writing a thank you letter to a newspaper. But then as I gave it more thought it just seemed natural. After all I do thank my barber, my mailman, my supermarket cashier and all of those others who daily or weekly provide me services I enjoy and for which I am honestly thankful.

Thus it is within reason, or rather not unreasonable, that I wish to say thank you to my weekly newspaper, my Paddock paper, for the multiple pleasure I have obtained from its issues.

There is a definite need for a weekly community newspaper, and yours is the best. I don't just mean best locally, but best of all that I have read throughout my moves and transfers across the country.

FIRST YOUR publication introduced me to the community and in turn the community to me. The depth of your local coverage is amazing. Even the relatively small subdivision in which I life (Arlington Vista) rates a by-lined column on the doings of my neighbors. Your coverage of the masthead area is both complete and censured only by conscience.

And your editorial page: well, it's honest. Although I have on occasion disagreed with its postulations, I have to acknowledge that it never pussyfoots or mugwumps. When you Paddock folks take a stand all of your readers know your position. I think that's good, too, because today so many publishers either can't reach a decision or just can't call upon themselves or their papers to take a decisive stand.

Your classified section is terrific! In offering my children's outgrown bicycles for sale our phone rang for two weeks and the calls totaled over 50 inquiries.

So, Friend, please accept my sincere thanks for a job you are doing so well. I hope that success will not change you nor continued growth constrict you. Just stay as swell as you are.

Newspaper Has Delayed Kick

The gentle breezes just wafted into my living room the very fragrant aroma of mosquito spray, and it reminded me of your lengthy articles about mosquito control and who killed Cock Robin?

This series of articles really touched my heart almost as much as your very choice selection of books.

While I'm sitting here in my sick little kitchen, I can always think of the poor little mosquito being pursued by all you modern Buck Rogers he-men.

THE INNOCUOUS little article "Quite Contrary by Mary" is another delightful little gem of nothingness. This girl really has problems — to pay or not to pay at Santa's Village — could offer a few choice alternatives. Has anyone sent her a crying towel recently?

I'm in a bit of a quandary — what with all this vacation advice — did you ever have the feeling that you were being pulled in four different directions? I found that I couldn't quite make it to Door County, Wis., via the Skokie lagoons on the local filtration plant, so guess I'll put on my gloves and work in the garden.

Martin E. Marty — now who dreamed that one up? He sounds like an interesting person, and I ain't met up with any lately. People, that is. Haven't found one book yet that he's recommended that hasn't sounded interesting.

JUST NOTICED I even clipped out How to Build a Weathervane — or which way is the wind blowing? If there's anything I need it's a colonial touch to my home, and there's nothing more relaxing than whittlin' away at an old weathervane. Tell me, has this boy tried spittin? Used to do that in Mount Idy.

Well, you all, it's high time I was off to that canoe trip. The outdoor type, that's me. Tally ho, who knows, I may become the Mrs. Calabash of the Herald.

Bless you for your scintillating, sparkling paper. It's like drinking a glass of ginger ale with a delayed action.

Mechanic Story Earns Applause

Just a note to say how much we appreciate the fine work done by one of your staff writers, Lee Sechler. His story on the mechanics training program at O'Hare Field was very well written and certainly told the safety story. We are circulating this article throughout our system. I am sure it will evoke considerable comment.

Again, thank you for your continuing interest in United Air Lines.

Letters to the Editor

Present Railroad Crossings 'Frustrating and Dangerous'

I wrote the letter that follows several weeks ago and then layed it aside without mailing it. The poignant editorial that appeared in the Mount Prospect edition of your paper, following the railroad crossing death of a man from this community reminded me of the need for action rgarding the railroad problem before further lives are lost.

I'm certain I'm not the first one who has written a letter of complaint about the railroad crossing situation in downtown Arlington Heights. However, my experience and that of countless other drivers that Saturday afternoon was significantly serious to warrant again bringing it to the attention of all: citizens, police, railroad officials and merchants.

I was driving northwest on Route 14 between Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights. I had noticed a short eight car freight train standing just Southeast of the main Arlington Heights business center as I approached. When I reached the intersection where I wanted to turn left into town to do my shopping, the left lane was on a permanent red light since the railroad gate was down, signaling the approach of a train.

After a lengthy wait, I was able to pull out of this lane into the outside lane and proceed to the next intersection. There the gate was still down but I was able to turn left into the line waiting to cross the tracks.

Cars there were circling around the gate crossing at their own risk. The risk really was great since it was raining and visibility was extremely poor. I intended to wait the gate out but the blast of horns behind finally reached a point where I risked the life of my family by circling the gates too.

I KEPT thinking of the usual railroad explanation at the time of a train-car collision . . . "the signals were working perfectly." About ten minutes later I had to repeat my experience of waiting a seemingly imterminable period for the chance to risk everything to get back across the tracks, while the signals continued to foretell the approach of a train that showed no sign of passing. During this period of time described, I did not see either a railroad employee or a city policeman.

I'm sure everyone can site a similar experience of their own. My personal reaction to this is that with the growth of surrounding shopping centers, my trips to town will be reserved for real emergencies. It's unfortunate that this attitude is necessary because the downtown area has many fine stores and provides valuable services, and is as well a source of financial benefit to the community.

I THINK everyone appreciates the advantages of commuter railroad service but the question remains . . do we want the downtown area turned into nothing but a large depot. That will be about the only use of the downtown center unless means are taken to correct this situation. In this sense, Arlington Heights and similar communities need to undertake their own form of urban renewal and formulate a plan for greater safety and efficiency in the operation of the present extremely dangerous and frustrating railroad crossing.

To your editorial suggesting the need for a joint effort by groups of communities to work out this problem, I can only add "Amen." Let's not wait for the next "accidental" death before starting.

Noise Muffling Not Dangerous

That's a very interesting column (by Joan Lorenson) in the Aug. 9 paper about the noise situation.

You make an excellent point—one that I've thought about often, but which, to my knowledge, has not been made before. That is, the two perspectives from which one traveler might view the power (and noise) of a jet: from his chair on the lawn, and from his seat in the cabin.

Although it's presumptuous of me, may I add just a point or two? For one thing, the turboprops (these are the Electras, Viscounts and F-27s, which have jet or turbine engines harnessed to propellers) and the turbojets (the 707s, 990s, 880s, DC-8s, etc.) are really the "conventional" planes today — for trips to New York, Boston, Washington, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and many, many other cities. The older propeller-piston planes (DC-7s, DC-6s, Constellations, Convair 240s, etc.) are still in use on many routes. But the conventional mode of air travel today is via turbojet and turboprop.

MAYBE I DRAW the wrong inference from the statement that the gentleman "postponed his business trip one day so he could jet to the east coast." But sounds as though the jet schedules are less frequent. Actually, he'd have a harder time today getting a piston flight to the East Coast, and then only if the plane made several stops, which he wouldn't want. All of our 15 nonstop flights to New York are jets, all five flights to Washington are turboprops, all nonstops to Boston are jets, and so on. The pattern is about the same with the other airlines operating to the east. Same thing to the west and south.

On the Idlewild accident of March 1, there is absolutely no evidence that noise procedures played any part at all in the accident, cause of which is still undetermined.

More important, if the noise abatement procedures in any way cut the margin of safety, no airline would operate under such procedures, nor would the Federal Aviation Agency allow such operations.

On the subject of American's jets, our entire fleet has been equipped with fanjet engines — forward fan Pratt & Whitney engines on our 707s and aftfan General Electric engines on our 990s. The program, including modification of many of the 707s cost nearly $50 million. The older turbojet (as opposed to the turbofan) engines, which we once used and which most other airlines still use, are equipped with noise suppressors. The suppressors cost the airlines a good deal of money in extra fuel, but each engine still generates a tremendous amount of power—11,000 to 12,000 pounds of thrust, depending on the model.

THE FANJET engine does two things at the same time: it cuts noise very substantially, but it also provides a great deal more power — 16,000 pounds of thrust for the General Electric engine and 17,000 pounds of thrust for the Pratt & Whitney. So you not only get a quieter engine, but a more powerful one with the fans. They put more air to work but exhaust it at less velocity. They do not need suppressors, and so they have none.

With the fanjets, the exhaust noise level is so low that you hear instead the noise of the compressor itself — the working part of the engine. In order to muffle this noise, we have spent an additional $1,800,000 for "hush kit" installations. These do not reduce power at all.

League Backs 'Blue Ballot'

I wish to commend Paddock Publications and John Burgermeister on the thoughtful summary of the "Blue Ballot" Judicial Amendment in the Aug. 9 issue of the Herald. The League of Women Voters of Illinois has been working since 1949 for an improvement of the Illinois judicial system.

We fell that court reorganization, a judicial administration system and tenure for judges, as provided by the proposed judicial article, are really great reforms. The Blue Ballot deserves the support of every citizen of Illinois.

May I remind residents of Arlington Heights and the surrounding areas that in order to vote on this important issue in November, they must be registered.

Registration is open through Sept. 17 at the village hall for residents living within the village, and at the township hall for residents of unincorporated areas. A resident may be qualified to vote if he has resided in the state for one year, in the county for 90 days and in the precinct 30 days. For further information, phone CL 3-3430 or HE 7-0785.

PTA Article Needs Reading

I have just finished reading an article in the May 1962 issue of "Better Homes and Gardens" about PTAs.

After watching my wife going through the motions, it occurred to me that this is a thought-provoking article that should have wider circulation.

I would invite your attention to this article for its possible use in a future edition of the paper.

Editorial Was 'Gratifying'

I just moved into Addison from Washington, D. C.

I purchased the Thursday, Aug. 2 edition just to see what it was like. I wonder of you can imagine my gratified surprise at your lead editorial on the "Right of Dissent."

I am extremely anti-communist — but in an intellectual sense, and I would like to see my country fight communism by being militantly democratic.

So again I want to congratulate you on the wisdom expressed in your lead editorial.

Carbon Copy Press Rapped

Northwest suburbanites already are saddled with the four innocuous Chicago daily newspapers, each a master at holding only "safe" opinions, each a carbon copy of the others.

That another newspaper would try to imitate these four faceless wonders, and grovel for space in the same cramped corner of the ideological spectrum from which these four elaborate on their second-hand thoughts, is, to me, inconceivable.

Yet, as three readers noted last week, there are indications that Paddock Publications is doing just that.

Item: after a series discussing the problems of the aged, the recent editorial opposing medicare.

ITEM: IN A paper that in thing new on its editorial page, tire page to a speech by General Douglas MacArthur. (Isn't it because we can read patriotic the past strived to say some-the devlotion of almost the en-utterances anywhere that the patriotic speech today has the same monotonous effect as a too-often played record.)

Item: the disappearance of Dick Hoffman's column.

I hope that the above does not indicate a loss of nerve at Paddock's. And, admittedly, it is rash to base any such judgment on this scant evidence.

BUT, I WOULD be disappointed if a paper started playing its readers for fools, when in the past it has indicated that it would sooner stimulate than satisfy, look for truth first and profit second.

I cannot think of wiser advice for a public servant that Walt Whitman's words:

"Piety and conformity to them that like, peace, obesity, allegiance, to them that like . . . I am he who walks the States with a barb'd tongue, questioning every one I meet, Who are you that wanted only to be told what you knew before? Who are you that wanted only a book to join you in your nonsense?"

Spray Series Shows Courage

Knowing that I am against all the spraying of our foods, DDT fogging programs and what have you, my daughter-in-law, who lives in Arlington Heights, sent me an article you have in your July 12, 1962 issue "Deluge of Charity Drives May be Worthless." Let me congratulate you that you have the courage to bring that article, written by Tom Edwards.

Is there any possibility to get the whole series, since this was the fourth in a series? And how much would that cost me? Hoping to hear from you and that those issues are still available, I remain,

Measuring the audience

The performer who is more interested in the size of the audience than in the number of curtain calls spends most of his time looking for work.

The successful performer recognizes that only effective efforts build responsive audiences. He seeks applause.

The same might be said for newspaper editors.

We must serve and satisfy the editorial needs and interests of people in our area. The validity of this circulation audience and the applause readers give us is registered by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC-audited paid circulation facts measure readers response in such terms as how much they pay to receive copies, how many copies they buy, where they live, and how their copies are delivered.

As a member of this independent circulation auditing organization, we recognize the power of reader confidence — that they have chosen to be a member of this paying audience of their own volition, and that they will continue to do so only as long as we effectively serve them.

For advertisers, the significant differences between counting the audience and measuring the applause is reader response.

SALLY'S FLYING SCHOOL

— Club Plan — Elementary & Advanced Courses

Sally's Flying School, after fifteen years at the same location, are now in their new, improved quarters on Milwaukee Ave. (just one block north of the Stop Light at Willow & Palatine Roads), PalWaukee Airport). Sally conducts an excellent Flying School, offering elementary courses for beginners and advanced courses in the latest type planes. Comprehensive courses are offered to those who desire to adopt aviation as their vocation. The staff of instructors are experienced pilots who also possess the ability to teach. Students are taught every phase of flying, both theoretical and practical, including instrument training for Blue Seal license.

ASK ABOUT OUR CLUB PLAN! The Club was formed to bring the cost of flying to the financial level of "Mr. Average Man" who would like to fly but is under the impression that it is beyond his means. We believe we have found the solution to bringing flying down to the cost level where everyone can afford it.

Rates are as low as seven dollars per hour, Minimum Club cost for Private License, 40 hours including Club Membership and six months dues . . . $392.00.

Good fellowship, a desire to learn how to fly, the ability to listen to an instructor, and the characteristic of being careful of the School's property, is all that is asked of you. The Club is the place for you to have fun . . . and learn to fly.

The friendly atmosphere that exists at Sally's Flying School affords students every facility to become qualified in the shortest time possible, consistent with thoroughness and safety.

You'll have to go a long way to beat flying as a recreation. You'll really like it. But it's more than a wonderful sport. When you can fly your own plane, and nearly anyone can learn—you can save valuable time and money on business trips, you can reach distant fishing, hunting or vacation spots more quickly—and more often. If you've never flown, or if you've only flown as an airline passenger, you have something wonderful to look forward to when you take your first demonstration lesson with us in the quiet comfort of our modern planes. The neighborhood, the surrounding countryside will take on new beauty, new interest. And remember, you're never too old.

Many of the most prominent people in the nation own and fly their own planes, and operators of private planes are growing in number by leaps and bounds . . .

Steve's History of Hospitality dates back to about eight years ago. Recently he started to make plans to build a Dining Room and Cocktail Bar in connection with the original installation that would boast every comfort and efficiency. This ambition has finally been realized, as you can see when you enter, just beyond the entrance to the original dining room is a wide doorway leading to the new Cocktail and Dining Room, containing an attractive Bar which invites guests to relax and enjoy expertly made cocktails before dinner. In this handsome room, paneled in attractive shades of Oak or Walnut, matching furniture, Air Conditioned, and Lighted by a Beautiful, Artistic Lighting arrangement.

Each day there is a feature dish, AND PRICES ARE MODERATE. Specialties of the house are Broasted Chicken, Barbecue Ribs, Golden Brown Shrimp and last but not least, Infra Red Steaks!

Steve's Restaurant is open on weekdays from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m., Sundays till 10 p.m.

The well stocked bar offers both American and Imported Beverages. There is free parking for patrons on the adjoining lot.

When you step from outside on the hard pavement to inside on the rich wall-to-wall carpeting, the change is stimulating, interesting and romantic. Your eyes are met by the dim atmospheric, congenial cocktail table look. Your ears are met with the cool strains of relaxing music. You are served by smiling, pleasant and attractive waitresses with your favorite sparkling drink and food prepared for lovers of good food, and no matter what time you arrive, you will find people enjoying themselves, at . . .

CORRUGATED SALESMAN

We need one of the VERY BEST corrugated salesmen in the Chicago area to sell for us now, and advance into management within one year. If you have corrugated product knowledge, a sales personality, and are willing to work hard, we can offer you the greatest opportunity that you could find in our industry. Age 30-45 with 5-20 years experience. We can only consider a proven successful container salesman who has a strong desire to advance his career!

We are a young, dynamic, and successful integrated company who believe in PEOPLE. In 1955 we built a Kraft mill in Oregon and presently have several corrugated container plants on the West Coast. We're expanding now to the Midwest, and have established a sales office in Chicago. We will break ground within 30 days for our new, efficiently equipped plant in a Northwest suburb of Chicago.

You can be one of our first salesmen and become a key factor in building our organization from the ground up! This is a tough, but very satisfying and rewarding type of challenge.

If you'd like to sell in a pleasant atmosphere, where quality, service, trust and confidence prevail, and PEOPLE are considered most important — then we would like to talk with you.

Write or phone. Your inquiry will be treated in ABSOLUTE CONFIDENCE.

From E. M. Newhall, Loma, Montana: "And I remember people had a rough time in South Dakota for many years. The main fuel was hay twisters with a few buffalo chips to help out. Father used to cut slough grass just to be made into twisters and as a boy that was one of my chores—to make twisters each day so we could have a fire the next day.

Then there was the sorghum we used to grow—one of our neighbors had a little mill with some rollers in it and a sweep they hitched a horse to, and as the horse went around one man sat inside the sweep by the rollers and put the sugar cane stalks in and as they went through out came the juice. My father cooked the juice into sorghum and it was good sorghum—the sorghum barrels always had quite a lot of sugar in the bottom when we emptied them.

Father always grew some buckwheat which he took to the mill at Parker and had made into flour, so we had buckwheat cakes for breakfast, and believe me, they were good! We always broke some sod each year and that was a good place to grow sorghum, melons, turnips, and other things. All we had to do was plant whatever we wanted to grow and nature did the rest.

I remember when eggs were 4¢ a dozen, corn 6¢ a bushel, so cheap folks burned corn for stove fuel instead of selling it to get money. Then in 1900 things changed and we got lots of rain—corn came up to 50 to 60¢ a bushel.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz — Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 years ago - Aug. 16, 1902

Palatine: Wente Bros. have built up quite an ice trade in Palatine and vicinity. They furnish clear ice from their artificial lake which is fed by pure spring water. They make their deliveries with a new ice wagon painted white, and "Wente Bros. Ice Co." in black letters on the box. . .The Palatine Military Band will give their first annual picnic in Mrs. Meyer's picnic grounds, Plum Grove, Sunday, Aug. 17, both afternoon and evening, music by the band; also good music for dancing. G. W. Hall's circus exhibited in Palatine Thursday and gobbled up all the spare change.

Bensenville: The Firemen's Picnic last Sunday was well attended in spite of the rain. The Arlington Heights Fire Dept. was well represented quite a number of the boys coming here. The Bensenville Fire laddies will return the call in full force at the first opportunity. They cleared $112. The young people enjoyed the change of music.

Schaumburg: Quindel was pleasantly surprised by the large crowd who attended his dance Sunday night. He sold 189 tickets and about 25 kegs of beer. . .The rain Sunday spoiled the Old Settlers Picnic and knocked H. E. Quindel out of over $300 profits. He expected to sell 40 kegs of beer. If the weather had been fair, there would have been a big crowd and he would have realized $500; as it was he did fairly well.

Mount Prospect: The railroad made over $17 by stopping the Lake Geneva train here Sunday morning. . .The Elk Grove Cornet Band 18 strong furnished the music for the missions fest picnic at Crystal Lake last Sunday. The band wore their new uniforms when they went to the fest at Russell's Grove.

Elk Grove: John Martens has got the best crop of corn, second crop of oats and such big potatoes he can't dig them . . . Frank Schramm and force of men are busy hauling coal.

Arlington Heights: It looks as if the dog days this year would be on the water spaniel order . . . The Herald pays a regular salary to three Arlington Heights employes beside the editor who gets his board and clothes and leaves more money in town than he receives from it . . .It looks as if we are to have a short summer. The weather, fore part of this week was more like October than August. The temperature was 30 degrees lower than usual . . . Arlington Heights Military Band will give their second annual picnic in Meyer's park and pavilion Sunday, Aug. 24th, afternoon and evening. Six military bands, Palatine, Buffalo Grove, Des Plaines, Park Ridge and Jefferson Park, have been invited and are expected to participate and furnish music for this grand occasion. . . .The Heights saloon keepers have all been fixing up their places. All have telephones now. . . The Lawn Social given by the Christian Endeavor Society at the home of C. H. Fairchild Thursday was greatly enjoyed by a large company of young people. The supper, pie a la mode, was pronounced just the thing. Receipts, $10.50. . . Miss Sophie E. Kirchhoff, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirchhoff was united in marriage to Rev. Fred Zersen at St. Peters Lutheran Church Sunday, August 10. A procession of twenty teams, a dozen of the rigs being handsomely decorated, drove to the home of the bride where a sumptuous wedding feast was spread on long tables on the lawn under the trees. In the evening, the grounds were lighted by Chinese lanterns. . .

Itasca: The firemen's picnic was a success in spite of the rainy weather. They cleared over $100.00.

Palatine: Saturday Aug. 17th is the day when Palatine and her people will celebrate Palatine Day. It should not be confused with the usual picnics. It is a celebration in commemoration of the improvements which have been made in the town the past year and for the purpose of raising money to continue them. The picnic is given under the auspices of the Commercial Assn. The G. H. Thomas farm has been sold at $100 an acre . . . The oat crop in this section is exceptionally big. Henry Langhorst reports 60 bushels to the acre, and Fred Schrader over 50. . . Beef sold in Chicago this week as high as 11 cents. Many of the local farmers are considering giving up their dairies on account of the rules imposed on them by the city of Chicago. . . Palatine schools will open Monday, Sept. 2. The teachers engaged, their assignments and salaries are as follows: 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grades, Chester A. Wells, principal; $1100.00; Martha Lapham, Assistant, $700.00; Mary M. Mullin, $650.00; 6th and 7th grades, Betty Bollman, $650.00; 4th and 5th grades, Cora Bergman, $550.00; 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades, Grace Van Horn, $600.00; Myrtle F. Race, $650.00; and M. Sneible, Janitor, $450.00. . . Thomas McCune, owner, will auction 42 lots, on August 24, at 1 o'clock, p.m. These are situated on the two main streets, Dunton and State Road. U. A. Reese will be Auctioneer. . . Timothy Forrest Bradley, born June 19, 1847 in New Hampshire, died Aug. 13, aged 65 years. He was well known in this vicinity, having been the first to introduce the Percheron horse here. Mrs. George Behrens, nee Alvina Meyer, born in 1880 in Arlington Heights, died Aug. 6. . . Linne E. Wheeler, eldest son of Mr. E. B. Wheeler, died August 12, leaving a wife and five young children at their home in Burbank, Calif.

Arlington Heights Contractors and Builders are famous near and far for their ability and integrity, Wm. M. Meyer & Son, who employ about 20 men, had the contract last year to do the mason work on the new Presbyterian Church here in Arlington. This year they were the lowest reliable bidders and were awarded the contract to build the fine new school house at Palatine. . . John Schulenburg employs 19 men. He built the new Mt. Prospect National Bank building, also the People's State Bank at Arlington Heights last year. This year he built the large new stone and brick milk bottling factory at Itasca, the new Catholic Parochial School house at Buffalo Grove and the large two-story brick hardware store building with concrete basement at Mt. Prospect. . . H. G. Meyer and sons have many good contracts every year.
